The situation arose from a variety of unforeseen problems in generating equipment both in Alberta Power Limited and Calgary Power Ltd. installations, compounded by the uncontrollable delay in the construction of the third generating unit at Sundance.
We're back in business again, thanks to all of you.

Council hired John Werth to read water meters in the village every second month, and decided that bills for water, sewage, and garbage would be sent out to taxpayers six times a year. Mr. Werth will also relieve the village's foreman at the sewage treatment plant on weekends and holidays

Satellites take over Beaverhills top spot

Tofield Satellites attained undisputed claim to first place in the Beaverhill Hockey League by scoring a 6-4 victory over second place Lamont Nuggets last Sunday in Tofield

A discussion was held concerning a proposed "Meet the Teachers" night. It was the feeling of those present that this event be combined with Education Week observance Education Week for 1976 is set for March 1 - 7. This particular week poses a problem for Beaver County as the teachers' Convention is Mar 4 and 5. A definite date for Education Week observance in Tofield will be set at the General Staff meeting on Jan. 27

It was the consensus of the meeting that Tofield conduct its own individual survey re education somewhat in the manner of Report Card for Education as published in the January 15 issue of The Mercury.

Mrs. Anne Taylor, Tofield's representative on the Beaver Local executive, announced that an A.T.A. banquet would be held on Feb 21, in Holden

It was also announced that a Professional Development day was being planned for Feb. 20 for teachers in the County of Beaver.

Dobry wins Zone title

Doug Dobry of Viking won the Zone's men's curling championship during a 'spiel at the Tofield Curling Club, over the past weekend

Dobry went undefeated in five games during the bonspiel, winning both the 'A' and 'B' Events, thus eliminating an 'A—B' final. Members of the winning rink include, Doug Dobry, John Hunter, Don Halso, and John Anderson

In the 'A' Event, Dobry recorded victories over Wintercotton and Zarski of Camrose before stopping Albrecht of Ryley 7-4 in the finals.

Dobry then went on to beat Iowen of Camrose in the 'B' Event and took the crown by edging Muller of Strome 5-4 in an extra end in the 'B' finals. A total of 14 teams participated.

Dobry will now advance to the Northern Alberta finals.

This coming weekend, Camrose will host the Zone mixed championships while Daysland will be the site of the Zone's schoolboy playoffs.

Councils fill vacancies

Tofield will face an election to fill a vacancy on Town Council while Ryley filled its vacancy on Village Council by acclamation.

Nominations were accepted in Ryley last Wednesday, and when time had expired, only one nomination had been received.

Floyd Taylor, a teacher, was declared elected by acclamation, and will serve a two-year term of office, at which time, all seats on the village council will become vacant

Two candidates filed nomination papers in Tofield on Nomination Day, at the Town Office, on Monday

Filing as candidates were Jack Lampitt and Stan Volmer. An election has been scheduled for Monday, February 16th.

Beaver Society names officers

A pancake supper, in conjuction with the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society's annual meeting and membership drive, was held at the Ryley Community Hall on January 12th.

Chairing the meeting was president, Lorne Booth.

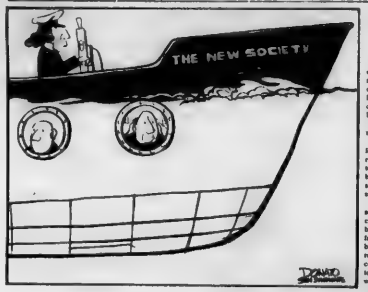
Members were brought up to date on finances regarding the heated swimming pool, under construction. Members were advised that volunteer work crews are needed each Tuesday and Thursday in order to finish off the interior walls so pool area may be insured.

The following slate of officers for 1976 were elected.

President, Howard Berke, 1st vice-president, Otis Phillips; 2nd vice-president, Gordon Teske, secretary, Gerald Pepper, and treasurer, Ray Cherbonneau.

Fifteen members were nominated to serve on the board, including representation from the school

Tentative money making ideas were discussed.



Co-operation or enforcement

Large parts of Alberta last Wednesday came about as close to a black-out as was possible, without actually suffering such a catastrophe, and on one of the coldest nights of the year so far. An almost incredible combination of circumstances found Calgary Power deprived of two of its major new generators, one at Sundance, the other at Wabamun, while Alberta Power lost two of its four generators at Forestburg, all at essentially the same time.

The way things developed, the utility companies engineered a brown-out, as they first of all dumped heavy industrial loads, cut out practically all street lights, eliminated non-essential use wherever possible, and broadcast repeated requests to users to reduce consumption as much and as long as possible.

As things developed, it worked, but more through luck, we suspect, than through the enthusiastic co-operation of the public. Despite urgent, repeated requests to delay use of electric stoves, dishwashers, block heaters, and other heavy users, and despite darkened streets, the public managed to curtail only five percent of its use, according to reports.

The way things worked, it was enough, but nobody could be sure how much or how little tolerance there was, when they decided to throw a switch on or off. And power company workers were biting their nails, it was so close.

We find it absolutely amazing that more people weren't sufficiently worried enough to keep some power coming that they wouldn't chop consumption almost to the minimum. After all, if the picture had been rather more severe, and if the voluntary chop wasn't enough, there were only two alternatives, one of which would be to overload the entire system and put it out of operation, or alternatively to have the utilities enforce limited use, possibly through switching certain areas out for limited amounts of time, with all the attendant difficulties this would impose.

Guidelines

Wage and price guidelines sound like great ideas, until it gets down to the actual application of things, such as the factor which enables a manufacturer or supplier of services to increase prices to meet costs. Of course, if the regulations didn't permit this sort of price escalation, people would immediately refuse to order something on which they couldn't recover cost, plus, hopefully, a little profit, so the public wouldn't be well served that way.

But it's a little shocking to see the effect of some of the recent utility price hikes, even though some of them have admittedly been a long time in coming. Like that of Alberta Government Telephones, for instance, where there has been no increase for several years, but now the rates are jumping by twenty, thirty or even more percent.

And while the Board of Public Utility Commissioners has approved increases in gas and electric charges of what seem to be limited amounts, we are hearing widespread complaints from customers comparing this year's bills with last year's bills, and finding increases of a hundred percent.

But the one that surprised us most, from a statistical point of view, was an increase of five hundred percent in the Post Office's levy on newspapers heading outside the country. From a practical point, in our own operation there are so few of them that it's not nearly so important as somebody's house heating bills, but . . . wow . . . five hundred percent! When the general suggestion for the rest of us is eight or ten percent! Even papers mailed within the country are facing huge percentage increases, as the Post Office struggles to reduce its operating deficits. Naturally, such increases are going to apply to other mail, too, with the result that ordinary letters, catalogues, flyers, magazines, just about everything, will shortly cost more to mail.

The results are fairly logical.

There'll be a cut-back on the amount of material being mailed, as the cost seems to outweigh the benefits, while that which continues to be mailed will cost more to people like subscribers.

Oh, to be able to raise prices five hundred percent, and know the customer couldn't complain!

Using jumper cables?

BEWARE!

Motorists who use "jumper cables" to start their cars are risking serious eye injuries, according to Dr. Frederick H. Davidorf, assistant professor of opthalmology at Ohio State University.

The following cases are among those he reports treating

1) A 30-year-old woman suffered a central corneal laceration requiring hospital care and intensive medical supervision. The battery exploded in her face while she was using jumper cables to start her car.

2) A 60-year-old man suffered secondary glaucoma (a diseased condition of the eye characterized by a hardening of the eyeball and farsightedness. 1) can result in blindness), and required surgery to repair a retinal hole caused by contusion (bruising) of the eye after his car battery also exploded while he was using jumper cables.

3) A 47-year-old man lost the vision in his left eye and suffered multiple facial lacerations requiring plastic surgery when a car battery exploded in his face.

Dr. Davidorf related these cases in a letter to the "Journal of the American Medical Association." "This letter is written to document the danger involved in using a booster battery to start a car. Charging batteries releases a mixture of hydrogen and oxygen gases that will explode with great violence if a spark or flame is brought too near," he explained.

The Ohio opthalmologist outlines the proper method of starting a dead battery with jumper cables

1) Connect one end of a cable to the positive pole of the discharge battery.

2) Then connect the other end to the positive pole of the booster battery.

3) Connect the second cable to the negative pole of the booster battery and the other end to the engine block of the vehicle with the discharged battery, as far away from the battery as possible.

4) After starting the car, remove the cable from the engine block first, then remove the other end of this cable from the booster battery. Disconnect the other cable, first from the newly recharged battery, then from the booster battery.

There is no reason why a small placard explaining the procedure could not be attached to a battery by the manufacturer, who is certainly aware of the frequency with which jumper cables are used, Dr. Davidorf pointed out.

Battery manufacturers are urged to add warning labels telling consumers that lead-acid batteries generate explosive gases and that cell caps should be removed while a battery is being charged. Owner's manuals provided by some auto makers also tell how to use jumper cables correctly.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA—(SF) — Things have gone badly wrong for the Trudeau government in the year just passed

Parliament opened in January with a triumphant Liberal Party, flushed with a renewed majority mandate, confident that once again Parliament, politics, and Canada were natural success Liberal fiefs

John Turner put through the budget which had caused the defeat of the minority government, and the Throne Speech talked of great things to come The universe was unfolding on predictable schedule once again although there did seem to be the odd things amiss with the economy

Finance Minister Turner and his colleagues embarked on their quest for voluntary restraint from business and labor, and when that didn't work, the government produced another budget in late June which it said was designed to snap the country out of the inflationary cycle

Parliament found itself sitting well into summer to deal with the June budget and diverse other pieces of legislation which were considered necessary before the vacation exodus could be allowed In spite of gathering economic gloom clouds, by late July Ottawa was still that aura of invincibility in Parliament's East Block

Then came the cracks. John Turner resigned and remained unfailingly silent while everyone guessed why he had quit. The government went into several weeks of shock because the dismay in the nation over Turner's departure truly surprised Mr Trudeau and his other ministers.

Trudeau came out swinging with his own finance minister — Donald Macdonald — and a program of price and wage controls, the very issue upon which the Liberals won their 1974 majority — only then they were fighting on the other side

There was also the smell of scandal around the government's head late in the year as the Party, for the first time in seven years of opposition, began producing documented evidence that the natives wasn't at the very best of hands. The government's goal late in the year was to hold off demands for a public inquiry until they could get to the Christmas recess

"PREVIOUSLY FROZEN" FOODS

Many of you may have seen the lable "Previously Frozen" on meat in the grocery store and wondered what it means. Agriculture Canada sends the following explanation.

Consumers have been seeing the label "previously frozen" in supermarkets for a year now. The labelling, required under government Food and Drug Regulations, applies to all unprocessed meat, fish or poultry which have been frozen then thawed for resale.

Sometimes only part of a food may have been frozen and thawed prior to sale. For example, ground beef may be made of partially thawed boneless beef and fresh trimmings. In this case, the words "made from fresh and frozen portions" should appear either on the food product label or on a sign adjacent to the food.

The purpose of the lable is to alert consumers that these products were previously frozen or made in part from frozen products and are not "fresh" in the usual sense. This does not imply that "previously frozen" means inferior in quality. In the case of ground beef, it's an advantage to use partially frozen meat as it keeps the meat cool during handling and grinding.

Thawed meat should be kept under refrigeration and used within a couple of days. If it is necessary to refreeze the meat, this should be done immediately after purchase. Cooking destroys harmful bacteria. Cooked meat may be refrozen and stored for approximately two months. Any meat with an off-odour should be discarded.

When shopping for meat, it's wise to pick up "previously frozen" foods last to avoid having them sit at room temperature. Fresh or thawed meat, fish and poultry are highly perishable and should be kept refrigerated.

Sawfly is back

The wheat stem sawfly, apparently absent from the prairies for 20 years, seems to be making a comeback, reports Agriculture Canada.

Western wheat growers used to know the sawfly only too well. Fields of wheat flattened by the insect were a common sight. But many farmers have forgotten about the sawfly, always hovering in the background ready to menace wheat stands.

The sawfly ceased to be a hazard when favorable weather conditions in the mid 1950's allowed its natural enemies - parasites - to multiply and almost wipe out the pest.

The only effective control in areas where sawfly infestations showed up this year is growing a solid stem wheat next year. The best available sawfly-resistant wheat is Canuck. Chinook has been grown for the purpose, but it is less resistant than Canuck.

If 15 per cent or more of a wheat crop was infested this year, control will be necessary in 1976. A 15 per cent infestation may increase to 90 per cent the following spring.

The female sawfly deposits her eggs inside the stem of hollow-stemmed wheat in June. The larva lives in the stem until the wheat begins to ripen. Then it moves to ground level and girdles the inside of the stem. The wheat falls to the ground and the larva seals the exposed end of the stem stub and overwinters underground inside the stub.

When a crop is infested with sawfly, the only solution is to swath early. This won't kill the insects, but it will save the crop.

Sawflies can be detected in a wheat field early in the season by breaking the stem of a plant. Telltale "sawdust" along the stem cavity indicates the presence of sawfly. Infestations are heaviest along the edges of fields.

Cattle market system "more equal" for some

Canadian Cattlemen were told last December that the present cattle marketing system does not provide equal "price justice" for all producers.

Speaking at the Candian Cattlemen's Short Course in Banff, Dr. Hu Harries of Edmonton stated, "the fellow without supplementary market information and a strong bargaining position is going to end up taking the low end of the price."

He added that the system "is properly suspect" when it leans on the producer who can least afford the time to study markets and least afford to take less than full value for his cattle.

A study that in some instances one producer received as much as $60.00 less for his animal as compared to the price received for a similar animal by another producer.

Dr Harries, a noted Alberta economist and former Member of Parliament, is a member of the Commission of Inquiry into the Marketing of Beef and Veal.

Referring to a southern Ontario research project recently completed by the Commission, Dr Harris told the cattlemen the study clearly shows there are very large differences between the bargaining ability of one producer as against another.

According to Dr Harries, the Commission study found that the greatest price to carcass value variability was in live-weight sales direct to packers and the lowest variability was for rail grade sales direct to packers.

He added that the study also revealed that average prices for similar cattle sold at the same time in different markets varied significantly and that the producers average prices were generally highest at the Ontario Public Stockyards and lowest at country auctions.

In presenting the cattlemen with tables showing the detailed price grade comparisons from the Commission study, Dr Harries pointed out that the purpose of the study was to evaluate the relationship between live cattle prices and carcass values and determine if factors other than transportation affected the difference in average prices at different markets.

The study covered 615 lots representing more lots representing more than 15,000 head of cattle marketed in southern Ontario to the Ontario Public Stockyards, auction markets and directly to beef packing plants.

Wheat farmers get adjustment

OTTAWA, January 5/'76—Wheat Board Minister Otto Lang today indicated that the total value of "deferred adjustment payments" now being mailed to prairie grain producers will amount to more than $45 million.

These adjustment cheques represent money that is owing to those producers who delivered grain to the Wheat Board before initial prices at the elevator were raised early last October, and who chose to defer receiving their initial payment until after January 1st, 1976.

Mr. Lang said, "These cheques, it must be understood, are only partial payment of the money owing to producers on the value of the grain they have already delivered to the Wheat Board early in the crop year before the initial price was raised at the country elevator. These cheques are in effect a retro-active payment to bring the initial returns into line".

The adjustment cheques associated with grain delivered at the lower initial prices on the "regular cash ticket basis" were processed and mailed to eligible producers in December of 1975 to qualify as income in that year.

Adjustment payments are triggered when an increase in the level of initial prices takes place during the course of the crop year which begins August 1st. The increases for 1975-76 crop year became effective last October 9th. Therefore, adjustment payments had to be paid to all those western producers who delivered wheat, barley or oats to the Board during that period of time when the initial prices were lower.

Under the terms of the Income Tax Act the producer has an option to receive his initial payment as income upon delivery of his grain (the regular cash ticket basis). Or, a producer may choose to defer receiving that income until into the taxation year following the year of delivery (the deferred ticket basis).

For this crop year, the Wheat Board decided to handle adjustment payments on the initial price level in two separate lots. Those payments associated with "regular cash ticket" deliveries were processed and mailed last December and those associated with "deferred cash ticket" deliveries are being processed and mailed now, to qualify for income only in 1976.

Mr. Lang said, "The income deferrment opportunities that were made available to producers two years ago have been instrumental in attracting greater deliveries of grain early in the crop year while allowing for more certainty in the business and tax planning opportunities for farmers".

The size of an individual producer's adjustment payment corresponds to the amount that the initial prices were raised last October 9th and the volume of grain he delivered. The initial price increases were $1.50 a bushel for Red Spring Wheat; $2.00 a bushel for Durum; 30 cents a bushel for Barley and 10 cents a bushel for Oats.

The $45.8 million is divided up among producers who delivered wheat, oats or barley to the Board in the early part of the crop year described. Less than one million is for oats and barley. 70% of the total goes to Saskatchewan farmers, 9 percent to Manitoba and 21 percent to Alberta.

The Minister cautioned that these cheques are not to be confused with the Final Payment cheques on the 1974-75 crop year which will be going out later in January from the Canadian Wheat Board.

HASTE MAKES WASTE

PRACTICE GOOD DRIVING HABITS AND SAVE FUEL

Gasoline efficiency can be increased up to 40 percent by improving driving techniques on typical stop-and-go routes. Here are some fuel-saving ideas.

Don't rev your engine. Accelerate smoothly.

Anticipate stops and slow gradually.

Moderate, steady speeds increase gas mileage.

Move with traffic flow. Don't change lanes constantly.

Reduce engine warm-up. Idle momentarily, then drive slowly for the first few minutes.

Idling a minute wastes more gas than restarting most cars.

Riding the brake as you drive wastes gas and wears out brakes.

Racing the engine before turning off the key is bad for the engine and mileage.

Carrying extra weight uses more gasoline. Check your trunk.

Haste Makes Waste. Slow down a little and beat the high cost of gasoline.

Bashaw to host Jr. Angus show

Bashaw will be the site of a national competition in July

The Bashaw Agricultural Society has announced plans for the holding of the first annual Canadian National Junior Angus Heifer Show which will be limited to competitors from six to twenty-one years of age.

Preliminary sanctions have already been received from the presidents of the Alberta Angus Association and the Canadian Angus Association. Full approval is expected to be forthcoming from both bodies in the immediate future, with no difficulties anticipated.

Officials of the Bashaw Agricultural Society, in announcing plans for the show, pointed out there are no similar shows of this kind, in any breed, anywhere in Canada, and as far as they could learn, only one such show is held annually in the United States.

As a result, officials are expecting to receive entries from all across Canada, and are also hopeful of attracting competitors from the United States.

If the show proves to be successful, the Agricultural Society plans on making it an annual affair, and will also conduct investigations into the possibility of hosting other major attractions. Officials feel that this show will put Bashaw, and Alberta, on the map.

Edna Felt and Willie Stauffer have been named as a two-person committee to handle all preliminary planning for the July show.

Classifications of competitions and other details are expected.

The Disfranchised

Recently in the House of Commons the postmaster-general was questioned by Arnold Malone, an Alberta Conservative, about the problems presented by the disfranchisement of many union members in the recent postal vote. Mr Malone was curious about the number or percentage of members who were denied ballots. He also inquired, more pointedly, whether criteria were being set down by the government which would establish what constitutes an acceptable strike vote. These and similar questions have certainly been on the minds of many people.

Indeed, Mr. Mackasey invited them by his widely reported comments before the announcement of the results.

The postmaster general's response was most surprising. He is not particularly interested in the number of disenfranchised.

"What I am interested in is the fact that they are all back at work and that from here on in we can have an active official post office and that the rank and file make certain that the collective agreement is respected by management and vice versa."

On the second point he said:

"In the short run those union members who were disenfranchised accidentally or intentionally have proper recourse under the constitution to stand up and be counted and to demand to know from the national executive why they were accidentally or intentionally denied the right to [illegible]

"If they learn to exercise their rights under the constitution, then the whole labor movement will not be tarnished unfairly by the action of a very irresponsible few."

For the better enjoyment of the short run, the government is apparently disposed to let sleeping dogs lie. This was not Mr. Mackasey's attitude on the night of the count.

"How," he then asked, "can I trust any count coming from the national office after what has happened?"

He also hinted at amendments to the act to give the public service staff relations board authority to conduct votes in such situations for federal employees.

By leaving the problem to the union membership, the government is now dodging responsibility. This ignores the rights of the third and innocent, party in the recent dispute: the general [illegible]

Mr Mackasey's indignation was wholly justified. In a close vote (and this was very close), the issue might well have been determined by the tactic of barring the door to members who had not even received notices of suspension.

The strike has now ended with no guarantees whatever of postal peace, either in the short or the long run. It is all very well to lecture the injured: to invite those who were denounced as "scabs" to seek a solution at risk of similar [illegible]

But the government cannot expect to duck out so easily. Many people were seriously injured. All were inconvenienced when the country went without its mails for 42 days. After being commended by Mr Mackasey for standing fast, as they did, they are entitled to better assurances than those now [illegible]

At the very least, the act should be amended to ensure honest votes. The postmaster-general was right in his initial judgment: he should not retreat from it, whatever the views of appeasing colleagues.

THE SKID

When your vehicle starts to skid keep your cool, advises the Alberta Motor Association. Don't slam on the brakes. Maintain a firm grip on the wheel. Take your foot off the accelerator and steer in the direction the rear of the vehicle is [illegible]

Don't over-compensate. When you feel the car regaining traction, straighten your wheels. But drivers should be prepared to handle a second skid in the opposite direction. This emergency is proof positive of the need to slow down in icy conditions because it is much easier to recover at lower speeds, says the AMA.

What is involved in living the adventure of the Christian Life? Is it all excitement, victory and freedom from problems and limitations?

Keith Miller and Bruce Larson have found that it isn't. After they became Christians, they encountered a whole cluster of difficulties—problems they hadn't expected and that weren't generally talked about. As they struggled to handle these issues, they discovered that often the official [illegible] didn't deal with the painful process of making decisions in these areas.

"Living The Adventure" comes directly out of the day-to-day struggle of the authors' lives. They share with us their discoveries as they have tried to answer pertinent questions.

New high in gas

Northwestern Utilities Limited, which provides natural gas service to Camrose and 150 other communities in north-central Alberta, including Edmonton established a new peak day for gas delivery during the 24-hour period ending 8:00 a.m. on Thursday Jan. 8. While it will take some time to confirm the exact amount of gas sent out over this period, the company advises operating data immediatley available indicates the system send-out was 950 million cubic feet per day during this period. This is a considerable increase over the previous peak demand of 790 million cubic feet per day which occurred Jan. 10, 1975.

Northwestern's associate company, Canadian Western Natural Gas Company Limited, which serves Calgary and communities throughout southern Alberta, also had a record send-out of 530 million cubic feet per day. This means the two systems combined to deliver almost 1.5 billion cubic feet per day over the Wednesday-Thursday period. Of this total, 570 million cubic feet was obtained under contracts from the gas export companies, Trans Canada Pipelines, Alberta and Southern, and Westcoast Transmission.

The heavy demand was a combination of cold weather and a need to supply additional gas for power generation as the province faced a temporary power shortage. The City of Edmonton power plants were operating to full capacity and in the south, the power plant in Lethbridge supplied by Canadian Western Natural Gas, was running at peak.

Gas supplied to the Edmonton Power plants was delivered in volumes in excess of 180 million cubic feet per day. Northwestern's ability to meet this heavy demand was possible with the additional gas able to be delivered through the 24-inch transmission line completed last year, bringing gas from the Homeglen-Rimbey gas processing plant south of Pigeon Lake. This line alone was delivering 225 million cubic feet per day over the peak period.

The two gas company systems are designed to meet the peak load expected, under a maximum heat requirement which would normally occur with temperatures below minus 40 degrees Celcius, with some wind.

Sask. newspapers copy good idea

A nationally-recognized program to honor courageous youngsters throughout Alberta, initiated by Calgary Power Ltd. 14 years ago, has been adopted in Saskatchewan.

R.D. (Tim) Finnis, co-ordinator of the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year project for Calgary Power, says newspaper editors in Saskatchewan will begin a series of awards in their province next year.

Mr. Finnis says the Saskatchewan Junior Citizen program will be sponsored by the Pioneer Life Assurance Company and the Pioneer Trust Company in co-operation with the Saskatchewan Weekly Newspapers' Association.

He said the Calgary Power awards, on which the Saskatchewan program is based, was studied for more than two years by Saskatchewan sponsors.

Since its inception in 1961, the Calgary Power Junior Citizen program has received commendation and support from HRH Prince Philip, former governor-general Roland Michener, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Senator Ernest Manning, former lieutenant-governor Grant MacEwan, Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhauer and Premier Peter Lougheed.

Master plan meets planned in March

The 5-year Parks and Recreation Master Plan conducted by the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board is well underway.

The purpose for this plan is to outline priorities for the development of recreation areas, facilities and programming for the next five year period. The towns of Tofield and Viking, the Villages of Holden and Ryley, and the County of Beaver which includes Bruce, Kinsella, and 20 other rural communities are all involved in this Master Plan.

To date all parks and facilities within the County have been visited. Also a complete inventory of program courses offered by the Regional Recreation and Parks Department has been compiled.

The Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board feel that one of the most important aspects of the plan is the feelings/opinions of the public at large.

To collect such opinions several public meetings are being arranged throughout the County.

Public Meetings have been established in the following [illegible]:

Tofield March 29
Viking March 15
Holden March 22
Ryley March 24
Bruce March 16.
Kinsella [illegible]
Koppernick March 3.
Bardo March 1

It is requested that concerns be in written form, so a copy can be left for further consultation.

Some subjects that may be considered are:

— Recreation program needs of your community.
— Recreational - cultural facility needs of your community.
— Where your community residents travel for use of larger recreation facilities such as arenas, curling rinks, swimming pools, etc...

This list is not by any means complete.

Shyba and Zarski win curling titles

Rinks from Holden and Camrose emerged with Zone curling championships over the weekend in bonspiels in Daysland and Camrose.

Holden won the Zone high school boys' crown while the Camrose foursome took the Zone mixed championship.

Colin McLennan of Killam who had won the Zone senior men's championship, in Holden earlier, gained a berth in the provincial finals when he won the 'B' Event during the Northern Alberta finals in Edmonton last week. Other members of that rink included Leo Kelly of Viking, Dr. Ken MacQuarrie of Camrose, and Mel Froehler of Viscount Schoolboys.

Holden took top honours and advanced to the Northern Alberta finals in Edmonton on February 5-7, when the team lost only one game during the Zone playoffs in Daysland on Saturday and Sunday.

Holden took a loss and dropped to the 'B' Event where they took top honours by stopping New Norway 11-7 in the finals. In the overall finals, Holden then whipped New Norway 10-2 to win the crown. New Norway had won the "A" Event when they beat Tofield 9-7.

Members of the championship team are Bill Shyba, Randy Fields, Roger Shyba and Darcy Edwards.

Eight rinks had entered the bonspiel. Entries came from Holden, Tofield, Bawlf, Daysland, Camrose, New Norway, Sedgewick, and New Sarepta Mixed.

Les Zarski's rink from the Rose City Curling Club at Camrose won the Zone title during a bonspiel in Camrose over the past weekend.

Zarski beat George Heck of Daysland in the finals to win his berth in the Northern Alberta finals, in Edmonton on February 12-14. Other members on the winning rink included Mary Lou Bedry, Murray Milne, and Molly Milne.

No other information was available.

Pony club plans "riding ring"

Dianne Henderson

On January 20th, the regular bimonthly meeting of the Hastings Lake Pony Club was called to order by the leader, Judy Hokanson, with 10 members present.

Lori Jorgens was chosen to run for Carnival Queen at the Tofield Ice Carnival.

It was decided to build a riding ring on the Hastings Lake Hill premises. For a fund raising project, it was decided to have a bingo and a barber raffle on February 13, at the hall, commencing at 8:00 p.m. Tickets for the raffle are available from Pony Club members, and the bingo tickets are available at the door on February 13.

Dianne and Marianne Henderson gave an informative lecture on rearing fever in horses.

Mrs. Jorgens and Mrs. Hokanson then gave a report about the Regional Pony Club meeting in Red Deer on Jan. 17th.

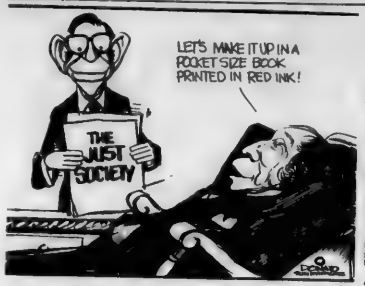
The meeting was then adjourned and lunch was served.

Imposing structure

Ryley may not be a very big centre, but, they are not limited in what can be accomplished in a big way.

At the present time, construction of an indoor swimming pool is proceeding smoothly with the result that, in the near future, residents of the area will be able to "go for a dip" on the coldest days.

—Camrose Canadian Newspaper



End of tradition?

Hardly anyone needs to be reminded that 1975 was International Women's Year, especially because these days so many people are decrying the lack of any really appreciable progress that seems to have been made.

But one thought occurs, regarding the sequel to IWY, which is 1976. And that, of course, is Leap Year.

Traditionally, Leap Year was supposed to be special for the ladies, since it gave them unusual rights in proposing marriage. And in certain countries, too, the custom was even legalized to the extent that specific laws described the penalties which must be paid by the unfortunate male who refused the suit advanced.

In these enlightened times, probably, with women claiming equal rights, they will be quick to disavow any interest or support for the special privileges of Leap Year. Or will they simply switch to an equal rights claim of all year, every year, instead?

Anyway, it still means the same thing to the astronomers, and the calendar makers, in that it helps balance the earth's cycles around the sun.

What else is new?

News that Eastern Canada wants coal from Alberta would have gladdened the hearts of Albertans ever since the province was formed, especially since Albertans, as far back as 1905, were struggling to open eastern markets for the product we have in such abundance here.

And news that they would like arrangements expedited, so our coal could arrive there in a hurry, would have been the cause for great rejoicing . . . that Ontario and Quebec had realized how important it is to Canada as a country to trade within its borders as far as is possible, and how important it may be in the long run, and in the national interest, to avoid the seeming attractions of short haul, cross the border purchases of products.

At long last, then, it's nice to be recognized by other Canadians and to have them anxious to purchase our coal. But then, suddenly, comes the explanatory note. In a United States short of energy, there are indications that all possible energy, and coal is part of that picture, may be required for domestic use, and its export may be forbidden. In other words, Ontario may be cut off from its traditional cross-border supplies. So suddenly it shows that interest in Alberta coal that we've tried so assiduously to develop over so many years. Too bad we didn't get smart many years ago and enlist the aid of the Americans in furthering our purpose.

Buying Alberta

Sixty-two thousand Albertans took advantage of the recent opportunity to buy shares in the Alberta Energy Company, which must mean that about one in every eight households is represented. By far the greatest proportion, more than fifty thousand, managed to afford one hundred shares or less, which means they represent something less than five million out of the seventy-five million dollars floated.

The whole issue was over-subscribed right in Alberta, with widespread distribution, both in rural and urban areas, throughout the province, which delighted the sponsors, of course, and gave the public the opportunity the government sought. However, it must be disappointing that so little is owned by so many.

The balance of seventy million was picked up by more than eleven thousand offers, and only those over twenty thousand dollars will be cut down and prorated by a fixed percentage. The figures don't spell out how many or how few shareholders hold the major number of shares, but it really must be comparatively few, since at least forty million dollars worth of shares must be held by fewer than three thousand out of all those sixty-two thousand shareholders. Of course, the provincial government still owns just over half of it all, and won't let go of its shares. So we all own at least a little bit. And anyway, the government tried to spread it around. It really couldn't do much more.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA + (SF) — The bi-lingual backlash has become a major fact of life here in the capital. Ottawa is a civil service town, and when you disturb the calm with an issue which has virtually every employee of the federal government, you've got a real storm.

Government policy dictates that every civil servant who deals with the public should be able to offer service in either English or French in designated bi-lingual districts. That gives you a choice of using either one person who is bi-lingual, or two people, each proficient in one of the two languages.

The policy also decrees that anyone in a supervisory job likely to have subordinates both English and French speaking should be bi-lingual. For departmental heads, directors, assistant deputy ministers, and deputy ministers, both languages are a must.

The latest step has been the creation of entire units within the civil service where French is the working language. If we're going to have English-only civil service departments, then we should also have French only departments.

Of course, the government, because Canada is by law a bi-lingual country. To work within the new French-only departments you need what the government calls "Native language ability in French." Few Anglophones can qualify. The determination of the government is to have a fair representation of French speakers in departments of all ministries of the civil service, representative of the nation's 28 percent Francophone population.

Because we live in a North American environment where knowledge of English is necessary for ambitious people, a great many talented Francophone Canadians learn English from childhood. Such is not the case with English speaking Canadians. Hence you'll find more bi-lingual French Canadians than you will bi-lingual English Canadians.

The result is that for more Francophone Canadians meet the language criteria necessary for senior civil service jobs, and a growing number of those top jobs are being filled by Francophones. Promotion for Anglophones is severely limited. That's part of the reason for discontent in Ottawa's Anglophone civil service establishment.

"The Happy Housewife"

"In the past I have read articles about how to raise kids and run a home that I feel sure were written by a fat bachelor in his mid-60's", writes the author, Elizabeth Baker.

Agree? Well, this one is different.

Here's a book in which a woman can see herself . . . and find God's answers for herself—answers she might be a long time stumbling across otherwise.

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Mount For Last Week:

Funeral services for the late Annie Oliver were held on January 6th, 1976 at Heinstocks Funeral Home. Mrs. Oliver, who had been in failing health the last while, passed away on January 3rd at the age of 95.

She was of pioneer stock, having come to Canada and Ministik in June, 1906, from Southend, Argyleshire, Scotland, with her 3 brothers, 4 sisters, and parents, the Matthew Ferguson family, settling on a homestead.

As she was not needed at home she worked for almost 12 years in Edmonton for the Rev. D. G. McQueen family at the first Presbyterian Church manse.

On March 1st, 1917 she was united in marriage with Charles Oliver at the manse, and came out with him to Ministik to reside on his homestead.

They had two daughters, Mrs. Pat (Margaret) Paterson and Mrs. George (Jean) Kleinschroth.

After the death of her husband in March, 1956, she made her home with the George Kleinschroths, where she enjoyed being with her grandchildren.

Besides her two daughters and husbands, she is survived by 9 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Her brothers, Andrew and Mathew, of Ministik and Tofield respectively, and two sisters, Mrs. Belle Edwards of Sherwood Park and Mrs. Jessie Wilson of RR 2, Tofield also survive, as well as many nieces and nephews.

Interment was in South Cooking Lake Cemetery, beside her husband.

An informal afternoon was enjoyed at the Arts and Crafts Centre on Thursday afternoon by 70 people.

Ideas are being sought as to what crafts are requested, to get started at.

Coffee and lunch was enjoyed and many ladies quilted on a quilt Mrs. Frank Dunn had set up.

Plans are well underway for the Valentine dance on Feb. 14th. The Shamrocks will be supplying the music.

The Ministik Mutual Telephone Co. executive met at the Claude Leach home on Thursday evening to wind up the affairs of the Mutual. Shareholders should soon receive payments of assets left, after A.G.T. took over this Mutual that served shareholders well in it's 40 years of operation.

A 12 game small electric appliances bingo will be held in Ministik Hall on Friday, February 6th at 8.30 p.m. Lunch will be served.

A second whist drive in a series of six will be held on January 30th at 8.30 p.m. Lunch will be served.

At the first whist drive held last Friday evening, 10 tables played. Winners were: Ladies' first - Gladys Gill, second - Louise Kyle; and consolation, Lorraine Davenport.

Men's first - Pat Paterson, second Lawrence Gill, consolation - Claude Leach. Betty Williams was convenor.

The January Community League meeting was held Wednesday evening. Karl Schwirchow, president, was most appreciative of co-operation shown when the new benches were built in the hall in time for Christmas.

Mrs. Margaret Jeske, convenor gave a most favorable report on the New Year's Eve frolic, while Therna Rogier, treasurer, gave her report on finances.

Mrs. Alex Pearice received the sad news, on Wednesday, of the death of a brother-in-law in Vancouver. She, along with her son, Norman of Ardrossan, daughters, Laverne Thor and Alice Barker of Edmonton, flew out Thursday to attend the funeral services on Friday.

Visitors with Mrs. S. George on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bill George, Valerie and Don Cheshire of Edmonton, Mrs. Paul Wiens and Cynthia of Sherwood Park, and Mrs. Wiens senior of Olds.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Club was held on January 14, with 12 members present.

Roll call was answered by each lady donating a tea towel to the hall. Requisitions were made to twelve charities. Reports were given on the annual children's Christmas party and concert. Election of officers took place with Mrs. Jim Roddick being returned for a second two-year term as president. Mrs. Frank is the new vice-president, replacing Mrs. Keith Williams, who is secretary for 2 years. Mrs. Andrew Ferguson remains as sick committee. Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth is lunch convenor for another 2-year term. Mrs. Albert Herricks remains as Roll call committee. Mrs. Pat Paterson is the retiring secretary-treasurer. Lunch hostesses were Mrs. Baden Bowerman and Mrs. Keith Williams.

An Apple A Day

Nothing can compare with a fresh, crisp apple for eating out of hand. Agriculture Canada says that there was an above-average crop in Canada so apples are a good buy right now.

Apples have a wide variety of uses. They can be served with any course, raw or cooked, hot or cold and are available in many forms - fresh, canned, frozen, and dried.

Apples are delicious unpeeled, diced or sliced in salads. Dip the slices in lemon juice to prevent browning.

The following are two different apple recipes for you to try.

Scalloped Turnip And Apples

4 cups cooked, sliced turnip
2 cups sliced apples
¼ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
½ cup buttered bread crumbs
Arrange 2 cups turnip in bottom of greased 6-cup casserole. Cover with 1 cup apples, sprinkle with half the sugar and salt, and dot with half the butter. Repeat layers. Cover and bake at 350 degree F. until apples are almost tender (20 to 30 minutes). Uncover, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and continue baking until apples are tender and crumbs lightly browned (about 10 minutes). Serve piping.

Apple Dumplings

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup shortening
⅓ to one-third cup ice water
3 medium apples, peeled, cored and halved
1 tablespoon melted margarine
¼ cup brown sugar

Combine flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Sprinkle with water and toss lightly. Form into ball and chill. Roll out to rectangle one eighth-inch thick. Cut in six squares. Place apple half in center of each square. Combine margarine and sugar and fill cavities in apples. Moisten edges of pastry, draw up the four corners and pinch edges together to seal. Prick pastry. Bake at 425 degree F until pastry is golden and apples are tender (25 to 40 minutes, depending on variety and size of apples). Serve warm. 6 servings.

Enjoy Canadian Apples.

Grey Cup champs to play in Tofield

by Grace Phillips

The 1975 Grey Cup champions are coming to Tofield on Wednesday, Feb. 25th, at 8:00 p.m.

To play hockey!!! No! Basketball instead.

An exhibition basketball game is arranged to be played with Tofield's own Senior Men's basketball team against the Edmonton Eskimos.

This event is being sponsored by the Tofield Students' Union. Further information will soon be available as to admission costs, ticket sales, and team members.

CURLING

David Sears, Barry Jones, Michael Warren and Doug Walker represented Tofield in the High School Boys' Zone Curling Playdowns in Daysland last Saturday. The Zone championship went to Holden. The Tofield boys won two, and lost two games. Josh Lampitt coaches the Tofield curlers.

WRESTLING

The Tofield wrestling squad distinguished themselves over the weekend at a wrestling meet at Bonnyville attended by teams from Bonnyville, Camrose, Vermilion and Sherwood Park.

Doug Epp and Dwayne Thede placed first by virtue of pins.

Participation in this event was a "first" for Tofield so the wins were very significant. Randy Reus coached the Tofield entrants.

Valentine Queen candidates named

Linda Jensen, Carol Erickson, Michelle Erickson, Rhonda Wiens, Debbie Price and Esther Wiens are the candidates for the Valentine Queen of the Tofield Junior High School. Tickets for votes for each of the girls are being sold by classmates. The winner will be announced and crowned at 3:15 p.m. on Friday, February 13, at the annual Valentine tea held in the school gym.

The Valentine tea has been an annual event in Tofield for many years. Proceeds from the tea have purchased sports' uniforms, cups and trophies, tablecloths, spoons and other necessities for the school. The public has always been most generous in its support of the tea which one band member described as "the first sign of spring."

The theme this year is "Lucky in Love"; appropriate decorations are in the process of construction. Lori Jorgens and Debbie Price social convenors are in charge of arrangements. Donna Haugen is supervising decorations.

Tofield hoopists are playing well

by Grace Phillips

The Senior Girls' basketball team of the Tofield School is in first place in the County of Beaver League and the Tofield Senior Boys are in second place (behind Ryley) as the basketball season draws to a close.

The Senior Boys hosted a tournament in Tofield on Dec 6, 1975 with participating teams coming from New Norway, Fort Saskatchewan, Camrose and Delburne. The latter two teams played in the final game which the Tofield coach, Larry Watson said was a "fine final for a finish." Delburne won the tournament with a score of 36 to 35. Voted the most valuable player of the tournament by coaches and referees was Terry Bond of Delburne.

The Senior Boys and Senior Girls toured to St. Albert on Jan 17 to participate in an invitational tournament. The Tofield boys were eliminated by St. Paul and Viking in two very closely matched games. Coach Larry Watson reports that the Tofield girls played exceptionally fine basketball, downing St. Paul and Viking but then losing out in the final to St. Albert, 39-31. The girls brought home a pennant in recognition of their endeavors. The girls' team is coached by Al Yarmosky.

In Junior High basketball, the boys are currently in first place, undefeated with only one league game left, this game will be played tonight in Tofield against Ryley. Erena Wiens is the boys' coach.

The Junior High girls are also in first place, but tied for that position as a result of two losses, one to Ryley and one to Holden. Floyd Irwin coaches the girls' team.

The annual County of Beaver Junior High Basketball tournament is slated for this Saturday, in Ryley.

Busenius resigns as Scout commissioner

Walter Busenius of Hay Lakes has resigned as District Commissioner of the Wildrose District Scouting Movement, a post he has held for some five years, in order to once again work directly with the boys and in particular with the Hay Lakes Scout troop.

Wildrose District Council accepted his resignation with regret at their meeting on Jan. 12th at Messiah Lutheran Church. Pastor Henry Haugen, Provincial President of Scouting Movement, expressed words of appreciation to Mr. Busenius for his great interest in the boys and their development. Everyone present gave Walter a standing vote of thanks.

Pastor Haugen was guest speaker at the meeting, which had 26 people in attendance, with 3rd Camrose as host. Rev. Haugen told his audience that there are 25,000 boys in Alberta alone involved in Scouting, along with 7,000 adults volunteering their time and efforts. Basically he said, the Scouting program is to give the boy a feeling of self worth, of responsibility, of achievement, and a sense of belonging.

As Acting District Commissioner, Walter Busenius reported having invested 12 Scouts at Hay Lakes. He again threw out the invitation to any boy wishing to go to the '76 Jamboree at Sylvan Lake this summer. Those interested are asked to register with Walter as soon as possible.

Mr. Busenius also has slides from the Jamboree in Norway that he is willing to show upon request.

Deputy District Commissioner, Jones Hall, mentioned having several meetings with Round Hill. He also congratulated New Norway on their new Beaver colony and Kingman on their Scout troop. He said that Wildrose now has five Beaver colonies, 12 Cub packs, seven Scout troops, and one Venturer group. Beaver Coordinator, Joyce Olson, said she had been investing Beavers at Perintosh and 4th Camrose.

Individual group reports show various activities. Kingman, along with their 13 Cubs, two leaders, and one assistant, now boasts eight Scouts with one leader and one assistant. They had an investiture night with their Christmas party.

Be ever watchful . . .

An open letter by Stan Schumacher, MP for Palliser, (Calgary Alberta, December 12) draws attention to the fact that villages and hamlets will disappear unless their residents prevent it. The issue in Mr Schumacher's letter concerns replacement of post masters and the short time provided to locate a suitable new postmaster. He notes that if a post office is once closed for any reason it is unlikely to be reopened.

The whole subject is really the use and usefulness of a trading centre. If the number of bonholders, or the number of registered addresses at a possi gets down to ten or twenty, it is fairly plain that maintenance of a service such as the post office or an elevator may be pretty expensive.

The prevention is vigilance and effort by the people who live in and close to a community. Organizations, activities and services go a long way to keep a viable community alive and well. Resentment, selfishness and neglect soon rot the fabric of community spirit.

Mr. Schumacher is right when he warns small communities to organize a new postmaster before the old one leaves or retires, a seven day opportunity is soon lost, and a post office may be closed that the effort should not stop and start with emergencies like postmaster replacement. Our rural communities need more leadership and participation.

Outdoor education popular in school

by Grace Phillips

Ninety-eight grade 7's and 8's in the Tofield School are enjoying something new in their Outdoor Education option this year. Their instructor, John Binden, has introduced cross-country skiing as a major part of the option.

The skis, boots, and poles have been purchased by the Tofield School and are rented to the students.

Mr Binden reports that, besides the intricate skills of balance and propulsion on skis, the students have been learning about the selection and care of ski equipment, its preparation for use and the various waxing techniques used for different temperatures and types of snow.

Much of the skiing done by the average person is of the touring variety, thus the students must know about some of the risks and problems involved such as frostbite, and hypothermia (lowering of body temperature.) Prevention of these problems through adequate preparation is of prime importance as well as the recognition of the problems as they arise, and the ability to deal with them when necessary.

Eventually there may be students who will become skilled skiers and competitors in racing. However, for now, the instructor and students are satisfied with the exercise in the fresh air, the fun of learning a new skill, and the opportunity to acquire a life-long hobby.

Around the town

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Huebert, their sons, Wally and Randy, as well as Myrna's mother and step-father, Lavanda and Art McLean, have just returned home from a holiday in Spain and North Africa.

John Blades took the outdoor education class to the Blackfoot Grazing Reserve for an afternoon of skiing last Friday.

Sixteen ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Wood on Saturday afternoon to help her celebrate her 80th birthday. Out of town guests were Mrs. Esther Majakey and Joan Clarke of Edmonton, and Lorena Francis of Viking.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Saltzman have as a guest this week, Jake's brother Ben, of Shickley, Nebraska. A family reunion was held Sunday afternoon in the Legion Hall.

Mrs. S. Pearson has returned from a trip to Phoenix where she visited her son, Harold and family.

"Number, please"

She was chief telephone operator in Tofield in 1924.

"But I'm not telling you my age - the people can figure that out for themselves," said retired operator Alice Ross, of 314 St. Albert Road last week as she dropped off at St. Albert's new phone Centre to try out the new equipment.

She "made a call" on an antique phone specially supplied for the occasion giving compliments to the young staff at the phone Centre.

"I think they're wonderful and efficient, but then young people today are very clever, smart and outgoing," she smiled.

Alice is well known to residents of the St. Albert district but to the people in Tofield she was always known as "Lorette," because they found it more convenient to call her by the last name of the previous operator.

Alice was in charge of the phones at Tofield for 22 years and reckons she and the other operators were pretty hot stuff. For in the 22 years that she was in Tofield, the town burnt down three times!

But Alice eventually left Tofield, not for being hot stuff. She was called back to the St. Albert area to look after her Mom and Dad who had taken sick.

She was away on a three month leave of absence for compassionate reasons which extended into seven years. By 1953 Alice was back working as PBX operator at the Allin Clinic in Edmonton where she worked for 12 years.

Now she's retired and seems to be enjoying her freedom.

Originally Alice came from Nova Scotia and was born in Halifax.

Russia can teach. . .and learn

In one single game, Philadelphia Flyers, the best hockey club in North America has proven itself best in the world by trimming the cream of Russia. Quite aside from the fact our best can beat their best, the series has proven that you don't have to hit other players over the heads to make the game interesting; you don't have to continuously dump the puck into the other zone, you don't have to clutch and grab throughout.

The progress of the USSR in hockey is phenomenal. It's just too bad the same progress hasn't been evident in human rights.

Anytime you have to erect a wall to keep people in . . anytime you have to invade satellite nations to keep them in line . . anytime you must control the media . . have secret police . . open persecution of ethnic groups and individuals . . plus controlling the travel of residents within their own country . . Anytime you have this [illegible] you know the system has failed.

The Russians have taught us much [illegible] how we can [illegible] hockey. It's just too bad they haven't taken the much more important things in life we have taught them and improved life for their masses . . by truly showing them the meaning of the word FREEDOM. Until that day comes, the USSR can never rightfully call itself a world power.

Handwriting on the wall?

If you pay cash in a store that accepts credit cards, are you being socked for the cost the store incurs in honoring other people's credit? The answer, according to the 350,000-member, non-profit Consumers Union (U.S. publishers of Consumer Reports magazine), is a resounding "yes". In a suit filed last week in Federal District Court in Washington, D.C., the Union claims American Express and a member bank of Bank Americard are violating federal antitrust laws by contractually forbidding member merchants to charge lower prices to cash customers. According to the suit, member merchants in the U.S. must pay a service charge of 2 percent - 8 percent of the sales price of an article to the credit card company, but they do not give an equivalent discount to the customer who pays cash. Why, Consumers Union wonders, should credit card users be thus subsidized? If it wins the suit, credit card issuers would be required to notify merchants that they can offer the discounts to cash customers, although the merchants would not be compelled to do so. According to the Centre for Law and Social Policy, a public interest law firm handling the suit, American Express and Bank Americard were selected as a sort of test case, because each represents a major type of card. Numerically, Bank Americard is the number two bank card in the U.S. with 26 million cardholders (Master Charge is number one with 32 million). Its Canadian version is Chargex, with 3.8 million cardholders. American Express was selected as representative of the travel and entertainment card. In Canada, the company has close to 3000,000 cardholders. Altogether, there are about 200 million credit card carriers in the U.S., about one per person. (In Canada, according to a recent estimate there are about 17 million). If the Consumers Union suit is won, however, the U.S. numbers may be reduced. With some credit card companies charging membership fees as well as interest, and with the loss of a 2 - 3 percent discount, it could prove expensive for customers to use [illegible].

Festival is moved

The Beaver Arts and Crafts Festival will be moved to Ryley for its annual presentation, this year scheduled for April 23, 24, and 25.

The decision to move the festival to Ryley from Holden was made at a meeting of the Beaver Regional Arts Committee, held on January 22nd.

Bertha Wimmer of Ryley was named to see if the Ryley Community Hall and the Ryley Legion Hall were available to be used for the festival. If these facilities were not available, it was decided to leave the festival in Holden.

George Baker was appointed to obtain adjudicators for this year's festival. It was suggested that he contact Bill Simon of Tofield for drama and Jim Westley of Viking for photography.

A few minor changes were made in the categories of competitions to be held at this year's festival.

Russia can teach. . .and learn

In one single game Philadelphia Flyers, the best hockey club in North America has proven itself best in the world by trimming the cream of Russia. Quite aside from the fact our best can beat their best, the series has proven that you don't have to hit other players over the heads to make the game interesting; you don't have to continuously dump the puck into the other zone, you don't have to clutch and grab throughout.

The progress of the USSR in hockey is phenomenal. It's just too bad the same progress hasn't been evident in human rights.

Anytime you have to erect a wall to keep people in . . . anytime you have to invade satellite nations to keep them in line . . . anytime you must control the media . . . have secret police . . . open persecution of ethnic groups and individuals . . . plus controlling the travel of residents within their own country . . . Anytime you have this . . . then you know the system has failed.

The Russians have taught us much about how we can improve hockey. It's just too bad they haven't taken the much more important things in life we have taught them and improved life for their masses . . . by truly showing them the meaning of the word FREEDOM. Until that day comes, the USSR can never rightfully call itself a world power.

New super for Miquelon Lake

Keith McDonald, an 11-year veteran with the parks division of Alberta Recreation, Parks and Wildlife, has been appointed parks regional manager for the east central region headquartered in Lac La Biche.

In his new position, Mr. McDonald, 32, will be responsible for all operations and development in the 15 provincial parks within the region.

The east central region, one of four park management units in the province, is bounded to the east by the Saskatchewan border, on the south by a line running west from this provincial border, passing near Coutfield. The western boundary extends from this point in a fairly straight line to Wood Buffalo National Park on the northern border.

A graduate of the advanced park management course from the provincial Hinton forestry school, Mr. McDonald served as a senior ranger in Garner Lake, Miquelon and Beauvais Lake parks before being promoted to district superintendent of the northern region in 1974.

Handwriting on the wall?

If you pay cash in a store that accepts credit cards, are you being socked for the cost the store incurs in honoring other people's credit? The answer, according to the 350,000-member non-profit Consumers Union (U.S. publishers of Consumer Reports magazine), is a resounding "yes". In a suit filed last week in Federal District Court in Washington, D.C., the Union claims American Express and a member bank of Bank Americard are violating federal antitrust laws by contractually forbidding member merchants to charge lower prices to cash customers. According to the suit, member merchants in the U.S. must pay a service charge of 2 percent - 8 percent of the sales price of an article to the credit card company, but they do not give an equivalent discount to the customer who pays cash. Why, Consumers Union wonders, should credit card users be thus subsidized? If it wins the suit, credit card issuers would be required to notify merchants that they can offer the discounts to cash customers, although the merchants would not be compelled to do so. According to the Centre for Law and Social Policy, a public interest law firm handling the suit, American Express and Bank Americard were selected as a sort of test case, because each represents a major type of card. Numerically, Bank Americard is the number two bank card in the U.S. with 26 million cardholders (Master Charge is number one with 32 million). Its Canadian version is Chargex, with 3.8 million cardholders. American Express was selected as representative of the travel and entertainment card. In Canada, the company has close to 3000,000 cardholders. Altogether, there are about 200 million credit card carriers in the U.S., about one per person. (In Canada, according to a recent estimate there are about 17 million). If the Consumers Union suit is won, however, the U.S. numbers may be reduced. With some credit card companies charging membership fees as well as interest, and with the loss of a 2 - 3 percent discount, it could prove expensive for customers to use [illegible].

Festival is moved

The Beaver Arts and Crafts Festival will be moved to Ryley for its annual presentation this year scheduled for April 23, 24 and 25.

The decision to move the festival to Ryley from Holden was made at a meeting of the Beaver Regional Arts Committee held on January 22nd.

Bertha Wimmer of Ryley was named to see if the Ryley Community Hall and the Ryley Legion Hall were available to be used for the festival. If these facilities were not available it was decided to leave the festival in Holden.

George Baker was appointed to obtain adjudicators for this year's festival. It was suggested that he contact Bill Simon of Tofield for drama and Jim Westley of Viking for photography.

A few minor changes were made in the categories of competitions to be held at this year's festival.

Puts railways in driver's seat

The President of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, E.K. Turner, says certain submissions to the Hall Commission suggest steps that would place railways "in the driver's seat" at the expense of farmers and rural communities. In a speech at Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, the Pool President suggested that implementation of proposals by United Grain Growers, Cargill, the Palliser Wheat Growers' Association and the rail companies would enable railways to determine where grain handling facilities would be located and the type of facility that would be built.

Mr. Turner added that improving efficiency of the grain handling and transportation system and reducing costs were "worthy' objectives as long as the total cost to producers in moving their product from the 'combine to the hold of the ship' are considered. He observed that the country elevator system has never failed in the movement of grain.

The Pool President referred to increases of something like 90 percent in Crowsnest freight rates during the past year which have not resulted in improved rail service. "If anything, it is worse than ever. Think what would happen if freight rates for grain were set free in this country," Mr. Turner said.

Freight rates and how they will apply is the central issue according to the Pool President who notes, that the Hall Commission can bring about a satisfactory solution, provided that they keep the welfare of the grain producer uppermost in their mind.

Votes favour power project

In a recent survey conducted in Tofield by 9 A Social Studies class, 49 percent of the people approached were in favor of the proposed Round Hill - Dodds Coal Project.

The project, jointly planned by Calgary Power and Canpac Minerals, will involve the expenditure of estimated $2.6 billion and the re-location of approximately 125 families.

Out of a total of 140 respondents 72 percent were against the project and 29 percent were undecided.

A further breakdown of the figures showed males tended to be more in favour of the project than females. 56 percent of the males surveyed were in favour of the project as compared to 42 percent of the females.

The survey showed, perhaps surprisingly, at least to the class' expectations, that more rural residents favoured the project by a margin of 2 per.cent.

The length of residence in the Tofield area had little effect on the responses. Approximately all the responses were the same no matter what the length of residence in the Tofield area.

With all due credit to the explorers, trappers, traders, missionaries and ranchers, it was the homesteader, the little men and the forgotten women, the hand that held the plow and swung the axe and the hand that rocked the cradle and cooked the meals, who brought greatness to the West and became the pioneers of this country.

Charity auction Feb. 7

The ninth annual charity auction, conducted by auctioneers throughout the province, will again be held by the Camrose and Killam Auction Marts to raise funds to help the work of the Association for the Mentally Retarded.

Beginning at 10 a.m. on Feb. 5th in Killam, and at 9 a.m. on Feb. 7th in Camrose, the sales will feature donated merchandise put up for auction with all proceeds going towards helping the retarded children in these areas.

Business places in Camrose are being canvassed for donations by members of the Association for the Mentally Retarded and by Camrose Auction Market staff. Donors are asked to leave their donations at the Auction Market this week, or if it is lucky, arrangements can be made to have it picked up.

Last year's charity sales netted a provincial record of $71,000, which the auctioneers and associates hope to top this year.

Ministk district news

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Several from district and area attended the Parliamentary Procedure clinic at the hall on Tuesday evening. Many felt, just to listen to Colonel Cormack co-founder of the Robin Hood School at Sherwood Park, with his wit and humor for a man of 82, was sufficient.

All members of the Arts and Crafts centre are invited to a general meeting on Sunday evening February 15 at 8 p.m.

Members will be acquainted with new facilities in the centre and to give their ideas on projects for the centre.

Several ladies were at the Craft Centre on Thursday evening to work on the quilt set up there by Neil and Frank Dunn, while waiting for projects and crafts to get underway.

At the next Community League meeting on Wednesday evening, February 11, the Strathcona County Fire Chief will give a very brief talk on smoke detectors.

The small appliance bingo to be held on Friday evening is convened by Mrs. Bruno Janke who has all plans completed.

Mrs. Joe Davenport, convenor of the second in a series of whist drives, held on Friday evening announces winners as Ladies' first, Angela Winder, second, Melita Wall, consolation, Josephine Wenger.

Gents' First, Gordon Kyle, second, John Vandermeer, consolation, Lawrence Gill who won out on a tie with Michael Nazichuk.

Nine tables played after which lunch was served by the ladies.

Third in the series will be on February 13th.

Miss Irene Dech of Edmonton was a Sunday visitor at the Keith Williams home while her mother, Dorothy, visited with Mrs. Jim Roddick.

Rev. George Rodgers supervising pastor of the Ministik charge conducted communion services at the United Church on Sunday.

Miss Theresa Bogner was a guest in St. Albert of Mrs. Jean Riley, whom she hadn't seen for some time.

How delighted many of us were to read the story in last week's "Mercury" of our old telephone operator, Lorette Ross.

Pupils of the kindergarten class of Ministik School, were treated to a tour of the John Vandermeer barn and feed lot, observing all the animals, followed by a sleigh ride by Bill Vandermeer, on Friday afternoon.

Final rites are held for Tofield's Queen

Funeral services for Mrs. Petra Stauffer were held in the Salem Mennonite Church on Saturday, February 7, conducted by her nephew, Rev. Paul Voegtlin and Rev. Harold Boettger.

In tribute to Mrs. Stauffer, a solo was sung by Arthur Klassen and a choral number was given by the Bardo group consisting of Norma Anderson, Berenice Heiberg, Olive Foshaug, Evelyn Foshaug, Leif Foshaug and LeRoy Fiszevik accompanied by Pat Litwin, this was followed by a number from the Men's Quartet of the Salem Church made up of Melo Stauffer, Doug Kauffman, Marvin Weber and Jensen Boettger. The latter group also sang "Beyond the Sunset" at the interment ceremony conducted by Rev. H. Boettger in the cemetery of the Siem Church

The honorary pallbearers were, Dr. W. H. Freebury, Dr. Walter Buck, Albert Hankdahl, Ivan Foshaug, Howard Stauffer and Arnold Swift. Active pallbearers were Kenneth Stauffer, Warren Stauffer, Duane Stauffer, Allen Holt, Stanley Yoder, and Dr. Jack Lerminen.

Following the interment, the ladies of the Salem Mennonite Church served lunch to the large number of friends of Mrs. Stauffer assembled for her funeral.

Though "Queen Petra" has gone from Tofield, her memory and her influence remain. One of the most active citizens of the community until her recent illness, Petra took a practical and efficient interest in all community projects.

One of the tangible reminders of Petra is the Tofield Centennial Park known to many as "Petra's park" because she, as Tofield's Centennial Queen, originated the idea of a park on Main Street as a Centennial project. Although the town accepted responsibility for the actual construction of the park, much of the planning, planting and maintenance were done by Petra. Her reward was a beauty spot in town.

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might," was a guiding principle for Petra. Her hands, and mind, found much to do. She belonged to, worked for, and was a charter member of many of the following groups. The Tofield Garden Club, The Tofield Historical Society, The Tofield Golden Age Club, the Tofield Community League, the Bardo Recreation Society, the Tofield Agricultural Society, the Mennonite Ladies, Sewing Circle, the Bardo Lutheran Church Women and the Bardo Cemetery Association. To all these groups, Petra gave her best effort, not as a duty, but for the privilege of serving her friends, community, and church.

Petra Lerbekmo Stauffer was born August 23, 1896. She was one of the first children to be born in the Norwegian settlement of Bardo, south of Tofield. A history of the Lerbekmo and Stauffer families may be found in "Pioneers of Bardo Alberta" by Magda Hendrickson and Ragna Steen. Petra's own recollection of her youth may be found in "Tales of Tofield" edited by Grace Phillips. (1969).

In 1917, Petra married Joseph E. Stauffer creating a strong bond between the Bardo Lutheran and the Salem Mennonite churches as she joined the latter church and served it faithfully the rest of her life.

Those "sunshine" laws

It used to be that discussion over the "sunshine law" referred to one over Daylight Saving Time, but that was more often referred to as the "fast time" law. More recently the sunshine law refers to the move adopted in most of the United States, where, by law, negotiations involving public funds must be conducted in public - - which means that the press can attend.

The principal was endorsed recently by the Westlock School Division, which heard the matter discussed at a communications seminar in Edmonton sponsored by the Alberta School Trustees Association. Arriving home, the Westlock trustees took the opportunity to adopt the same policy, at the first meeting following the seminar.

Their resolve was not long in being tested, for the very next morning they were scheduled to meet with the negotiator of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, representing some thirty of their bus drivers. The CUPE man asked for a recess, then didn't return to the meeting, and later commented that he had never heard of such a way of doing business.

On the other side, the board maintains it is not aware of any legislation which says they can't do this. Saying they're not trying to hassle the local, they are nonetheless adamant that negotiations will be carried out in public, in contrast to the closed door secrecy of recent years.

It will be fascinating to see how the board's resolve holds up, for obviously they're going to have to talk with other people a number of times about money affairs, too, and each time there may be resistance, for negotiating behind closed doors has frequently brought higher settlements than the open meeting situation would likely produce. The CUPE negotiator, incidentally, must be a very young man, for it's not so many years ago that most school board negotiations, including those over teacher salaries, were discussed wide open. And reported.

From the point of view of the public generally, such methods for arriving at expenditure levels seem highly desirable, and this is one place where we could well afford to copy a good idea from elsewhere. For one thing, widespread publicity attending such discussions might result in more reasonable opening positions than have often been seen in the past, with a consequent reduction of friction and easing of solutions.

What happens when discussions reach an impasse? Probably the same thing as now: a conciliator or a mediator is appointed, or a conciliation board, and while each team can move into committee to discuss their relative steps, the rest of the negotiation can continue to take place in public.

It would be far more difficult for one party to malign the integrity of the other unfairly, and the public would be in a far better position to judge the reasonableness of the arguments of either side. And the public, after all, can be a powerful ally for either side in a dispute.

Expropriation

Alberta's amended Expropriation Act has been in force for eighteen months now, but until a pamphlet was circulated recently by the Expropriation Board, we were completely unaware of a number of improvements which have been made. And we feel the lack of knowledge is not uncommon.

Basic, of course, to the Act, past and present, is the requirement to try to negotiate with the owner of land required by the government. If this fails, however, the owner has a number of new rights.

The owner now has the right to obtain legal advice and competent appraisal of the value of his property, with the costs charged to the expropriating authority. He may also accept the payment proposed without in any way prejudicing his right to claim additional compensation.

The Act also stipulates that the owner is to be awarded the market value of his property, and where appropriate, the cost of relocation and disturbance. Of special note is the "home for home" provision, which provides that where a residence is expropriated the owner is to receive an amount which will enable him to relocate in accommodation which is at least the equivalent of the accommodation expropriated.

The new Act recognizes a number of highly important features not the least being this last one. All too often, in the past, residents of older, sometimes run-down housing, were forced out with the niggardly sum their house was worth on the market, only to find they could hardly purchase a doghouse with the proceeds.

The new Act, which makes government far more responsible for the disruption of citizens, happily applies to all government agencies in the province, whether provincial or municipal.

Why Not . .

Rhodes scholars have several things in common. They are intelligent, show a wide range of interests, and often display unusual qualities of leadership. And they are also all men. But not for long. The Sex Discrimination Act soon to be law in Britain will effectively [illegible] Rhodes scholarships to males. The scholarships were established under the terms of Cecil Rhodes will. But this was made over 70 years ago and the British Parliament, while acknowledging the importance of respecting the wishes of the donor says that educational benefits should not be restricted to one sex. The Rhodes scholarships are for study at Britain's Oxford University and the British legislation will govern the awarding of scholarships in all countries whose scholars are eligible, including Canada. It is expected that women will be eligible to apply next year for the 11 scholarships (worth more than $4,000) allotted to Canada. Applications are to be submitted to the Canadian selection committee by Oct. 25, 1976 for those hoping to go to Oxford in the autumn of 1977. One ticklish problem for the selection committee will be how to assess women applicants in light of the criteria set down in Rhodes will. A bachelor Rhodes was not known as an admirer of women. He stipulated that successful applicants for this scholarships should display "fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports and qualities of manhood." Fortunately, however, he also included other qualifications, such as "literary and scholastic attainments ... qualities of truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and moral force of character" - which should give women abundant opportunity for consideration.

A good idea

Unlike their angry and militant brethren in Canada, much of U.S. labor appears ready to face the heavy 1976 bargaining year with relatively "moderate" wage demands and generally peaceful intentions, writes Hyman Solomon. If the outcome is anything like the prospect it could be more good news for highly competitive U.S. export industries which this year are piling up one of the greatest trade surpluses in U.S. history. But for Canada, it could mean greater pressure on Ottawa to make wage controls work and prevent further widening of the gap between Canadian and U.S. wage settlements. The growing wage-cost spread between the two countries and the inevitable danger this poses for Canada's trade competitiveness doubtless helped push the Trudeau government to impose its current price-income controls. Now Ottawa must reckon with the possibility that even if controls do restrain Canadian wage - settlements in 1976, they may not do much to narrow the existing labor cost gap with the U.S.

Canadian Comment . . .

by Peter Ward

OTTAWA — (SP) — In roughly two weeks, the progressive Conservative Party will have a new leader. The convention here in Ottawa is going to be watched with the same national attention as the Stanley Cup finals or the Grey Cup game. And the results will be far more important to the nation than either of the two annual sports spectaculars.

The list of candidates running for the Tory leadership is enough to exhaust an impatient reader in itself but that doesn't mean we must go out and bone up on the biographies of all the hopefuls to follow the game.

For Tory leadership-watching, a few educated guesses can shake the field down to less than half a dozen candidates who are likely to be still on the ballot when the first couple of votes have cleared the field.

Flora MacDonald will be one of the last five names on the ballot as will Paul Hellyer and Claude Wagner. I'd name Sinclair Stevens and possibly Brian Mulroney on the short list too, although Alberta's Joe Clark has been climbing fast recently.

Having decided on the short list the trick is to assess the bases of support within the party each candidate enjoys, and examine the ability of each to attract support from those who have dropped out in the early voting.

Jack Horner is a longtime Tory of right wing persuasion, who will have substantial support despite his name-calling of other candidates. I don't personally think Jack can win. Where will his support go? Wagner and Hellyer are closest to Jack's thinking. He'll throw Hellyer. Howard Grafftey, the third Quebec based candidate certainly won't toss support to Wagner. He could give it to either Flora or Mulroney depending on which one looks a winner. He could throw to Joe Clark if Clark makes a strong showing.

Having been through the exercise of assessing candidate strength, I pick the last three names on the ballot as Flora MacDonald, Paul Hellyer and either Sinclair Stevens or Joe Clark. I'm rating Hellyer highly because of the support he's getting from John Diefenbaker.

If I were a Tory, I'd be asking myself which one of those most likely winners would stand the best chance of beating the Liberal government in the next election. Too often that factor is forgotten in the heat of inter party rivalry at a leadership convention.

Control system

What might appear to be a complex system becomes relatively simple when its combined with a great number of automatic relays, valves, and switches. The artificial ice plant in the Round Hill Curling Club's rink will be fully under control with the highly engineered panel that was installed by Les Campbell (left) under the watchful eye of Alex Holowaychuk (right).

Holden Beavers snap long losing streak

On January 10, Tofield Satellites downed the Holden Beavers by a score of 8-5.

A real barn burner was played on January 13 with the Smokey Lake Imperials downing the Holden Beavers 5-4.

January 17, the Holden Beavers were beaten by Ryley Flyers by a score of 6-1. The lone Holden goal was scored by Murray Glasmer.

On January 20 the Holden Beavers travelled to Mundare but were beaten by the Sabres 9-5.

The Tofield Satellites whipped the Holden Beavers 12-3 on January 22, at Tofield.

The Andrew Aces downed the Holden Beavers at Andrew on January 24 by a score of 8-2.

January 27 saw the Holden Beavers at home to the Smokey Lake Imperials, but home ice didn't help this time, as the Beavers were defeated by a score of 9-2.

A spell of warm weather melted the Holden ice so that their January 31 home game had to be played in Tofield. The Satellites defeated the Beavers 16-3.

Well, it was a while in coming, but the Holden Beavers broke their losing streak by doubling up the Ryley Flyers on February 5th by a score of 6-3. The team played a powerful game, backed by the hot hand of their goalie, Wayne Bonack. After a close 1st period the game was tied 1-1. Second period opened with each team scoring singles, and then the Beavers poured on the steam by scoring 3 unanswered goals. The third period saw each team score one more time.

The Holden Beavers hockey team have ordered team jackets and invite their fans to buy a jacket and wear the Holden colors. The jackets are a chocolate brown with gold stripe trim. They are hip length and will have the club crest plus the buyers name. The jackets are made from fortrel and have a snap-out lining. Anyone interested in purchasing a jacket, please contact Joe Kozmarnisky, Lud Bonack, or Ken Chamberlain.

Lilt o' the pipes

Says healthy livestock pays

Canada's animal population enjoys the cleanest bill of health of any in the world, reports Agriculture Minister Eugene [illegible].

The results are reflected in human well-being. For instance, undulant fever, a disease contracted by drinking raw milk from brucellosis-infected cows, has almost disappeared. So have certain crippling bone and joint diseases, since Agriculture Canada's Health of Animals Branch began its bovine tuberculosis eradication program about 45 years ago. Eradication of bovine tuberculosis (which caused bone diseases in people) has prevented untold human misery and saved medical and hospital costs.

Canada's wildlife provides a reservoir for rabies. But because of the vigilance of the Health of Animals Branch, the incidence of rabies among people has been held to 10 cases in the last 50 years. The federal government offers free laboratory diagnostic services and free rabies vaccination clinics for pets in areas where rabies is a threat.

Although it costs money to maintain a healthy livestock population the Health of Animals Branch pays for itself.

The virtual elimination of bovine tuberculosis is estimated to save Canada's cattle producers $20 million annually. The reduction of brucellosis in cattle from nine per cent a few years ago to 0.2 per cent today has improved breeding and increased milk supply for an estimated saving of another $20 million.

For the past 60 years, Canadian swine producers have been free of outbreaks of hog cholera vaccine costs. The United States estimates the cost of living with hog cholera at more than $1 per marketed hog. Since Canadian swine marketings average eight million a year, this represents an annual saving of $10 million.

The estimated annual saving of $50 million from only three livestock diseases - tuberculosis, brucellosis and hog cholera - more than pays for the cost of the entire Health of Animals Branch, says the minister.

Odd ice

While this is supposed to be a curling surface, it doesn't quite look like its ready for action. Actually, what is happening is that workmen are putting the finishing touches to the installation of pipes for an artificial plant in the Round Hill Curling Club, bringing the club into the modern era of the roaring game

Globelhaus-Sen vows taken on January 3rd

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

A quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday, January 3rd, when Harriet Pearl Sen and Marvin Eugene Globelhaus, eldest son of George J. Globelhaus were united in marriage, in a double ring ceremony at Salem United Church by Rev. Seal of Vegreville.

The bride, charming in a pink chiffon gown, carrying a presentation bouquet of six long-stemmed roses, was attended by Darwyn Sen, the eldest son of the bride Mrs. Esther Globelhaus was organist for the occasion and William Globelhaus was usher.

A wedding supper was served in the church basement catered by the Salem United Church Ladies Aid. The head table was centered by a two-tiered wedding cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Mary Zwierschke, flanked with a vase of three long-stemmed pink roses at each side.

A toast to the bride was made by Alfred Fotheringham, of Prince George, B.C., brother of the bride, to which the groom ably replied.

A small get-together was held in the evening for about 45 close relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Globelhaus.

Out of town guests were from Edmonton, and St. Albert.

The happy couple spent a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii and are making their home in Holden.

ALL FOR LOVE

"Tomorrow is Saint Valentine's day

All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window,
To be your Valentine".

Ophelia's song
From Hamlet by W. Shakespeare

There are at least two saints after whom Saint Valentine's Day may have been named. One, known as "the lover's saint", was a third-century Italian bishop. In defiance of an edict of Claudius II, abolishing marriage, on the ground that it made for a restless soldiery, the good bishop secretly officiated a number of wedding ceremonies, was pitched into jail, and died there. Or (there are a couple of other versions of his end) he was burned at the stake, at the behest of a Roman senator who objected to his marrying the senator's son to the daughter of an impoverished miller, or he clubbed to death on a fishbone. The other Saint Valentine was beheaded in 270 A.D., for refusing to renounce Christianity. While awaiting execution, he is supposed to have dashed off a farewell message to his jailer's blind daughter, signed "From Your Valentine". How he expected a blind girl to read the note the story doesn't say.

As for the date of Saint Valentine's Day, that goes back at least as far as the old Roman Feast of the Lupercalia, when Roman boys and girls held a lottery to see who would be going around with whom during the ensuing year. (The Roman god Lupercus was a pastoral deity, a relative of the Greek god pan on his mother's side). By the fifth century, this practice had become so common in the Christian world that Pope Gelasius dedicated the fourteenth of February to Saint Valentine and proclaimed him the Patron Saint of Lovers, thus disposing of Lupercus. Italian soothsayers used to maintain, and maybe still do, that birds mate on the fourteenth of February.

The first written valentines appeared around 1400. By the middle of the nineteenth century valentines had become so ornate and expensive that they had practically to be taken as proposals of marriage. Comic valentines came into vogue around 1900. A favorite nineteenth-century valentine greeting was:

"You have got half a kiss,
I have got another
Lets us make a whole one, then,
By putting them together".

Sometimes today we express our valentine greetings with a special recipe.

This year you might make it:

CHERRY SMACKS

Temp: 350 degrees
1 cup sifted all purpose flour
¼ cup confectioner's sugar
½ cup butter
¼ cup sifted all purpose flour
½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, slightly beaten,
½ cup maraschino cherries, finely cut
½ cup coconut
½ cup walnuts, chopped

Sift together the flour and confectioners sugar and cut in the butter. Press mixture firmly into bottom of ungreased 11 x 7 or 9 x 9 inch pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 10 minutes. Sift together the ¼ cup flour, baking powder, salt and ¾ cup sugar. Add the eggs. Fold in cherries, coconut and walnuts, spread over partially baked dough. Bake, cool and cut into bars or squares. Time: 30 - 40 mins.

1952. Mrs. Stauffer moved to Tofield, building a modern home for which she did much of the actual construction. She also drove a school bus for several years.

Per her, as she often said, "Life began at 70" for in 1967 she was appointed by Mayor Dr. W.H. Pressbury to be Tofield's Centennial Queen, a post she fulfilled with charm and dignity. Dressed in her pink satin Centennial gown and tiara, she reigned over many functions during 1967. She also, out of her kindness and thoughtfulness for others, found time to visit hospitals, and senior citizens' homes in the Tofield - Camrose area. She also visited schools here and in Sherwood Park where she, a born story teller enthralled the students with her tales of pioneer times.

Guests were always welcome in her home. On her birthday, August 23, every year she held open house but the festivities often began before and ended after that day. She said "My birthday lasts a whole week."

Petra is survived by two sisters, Jennie Hakstad and Gertie Yoder, two brothers, Julius and Pete, a foster brother, Robert Bereciuk, Leonard, his wife Evelyn of Tofield, a daughter, Evelyn and her husband, Norman Stauffer of Edmonton. Ryley has rocket club

by Judy Hastings

Since the first week in January, Room 16 in the Ryley School has been the control center of the Ryley Elementary Rocket Club.

Three noon hours a week, 35 grade 4, 5, and 6 boys and girls and their supervisor, Roy Fairweather, are busily building and painting rockets.

Rockets are built from commercial kits with names such as Groove Tube, Sky Devil, Vector V, Javelin and MX—774. They range in size from six inches to over two feet. All engines are safety inspected and use solid fuel packs.

Eagerly awaited launches are well attended by rocket enthusiasts. Rockets may soar from 200 to 2,000 feet, depending on the model and engine size. The parachute recovery system, released by a delay charge from the engine, ensures the rockets may be reused. Rockets, once constructed, provide many hours of learning, excitement and fun.

Tofield School set for Education Week

Grace Phillips

"How do You see it?" is the theme of 1976 Education Week. The Tofield School sees this year's observance of Education Week as a combination of displays by classes and fun for everyone, no matter how young or how old.

Parents, grandparents, and friends of students are cordially invited to come to the Tofield School on Tuesday, March 2nd, at 7:00 p.m. to see the work of the students and to participate in the Fun Carnival planned by the Grade Ten class with Verley Astley and Bonnie Watt in charge. The grade ten students hope to make some money for the High School by sponsoring this event.

Entertainment for all ages has been planned. In the gym, the youngsters will be able to enjoy a fishpond, a talking robot, a gold mine, guessing contests, fortune telling, a funhouse, piggy-back rides and sponge throw. There will be no admission price for each event.

A bake sale and a sale of crafts will also be held.

In the library, adults will be able to play bridge, whist, or crib bage, according to their tastes. A charge of fifty cents will be made for playing cards.

It would be appreciated by the girls in charge if prospective card players would bring a deck of cards when they come.

Lunch will be served in the library. In the gym, a concession will be run, adding to the carnival atmosphere.

Development Day set for teachers

Anne Taylor

On Friday, teachers in the County of Beaver will be attending a Professional Development Day being held at the Ryley School.

In the morning session, after musical "greetings in rhythm and prose" by the Voice-A-Tiles, the teachers will be addressed by two speakers.

Dr. Lohan, Assistant Dean at the University of Calgary, hits on his topic "Structuring and Directing the Learning Process."

Mrs. Edith Tebbutt, Counsellor, Vegreville Health Unit, will speak concerning "The Relationship of the Home and the School."

Teachers will also have the opportunity to gather in small groups to discuss common interests and to make arrangements for further meetings should they feel a need.

After a buffet dinner at the Community Hall, Dr. Gannon will open the afternoon sessions. He will be followed by Bill Scott from the Beaver Business Bureau whose concern is "necessary for students as future citizens."

After coffee, Dr. Patterson, Director of Counselling, Clinical Services, University of Alberta, will talk to teachers about "More Effective Teacher-Student Communication."

This professional development day, jointly sponsored by the County of Beaver School Committee and the Beaver Local A.T.A., will be attended by teachers of kindergarten to grade XII.

Lampitt tops poll

Jack Lampitt is the newest member of council for the Town of Tofield. In an election held on Monday, Lampitt gained his seat on Town Council as he packed up 105 votes, as compared to 36 votes for his only rival, Stan Voltner.

Mr. Lampitt is the pace-principal of the Tofield School. His term of office will run until the fall of next year when all terms of office expire.

Midgets advance

Tofield Midgets will be meeting Dewberry in the Zone 2 midget 'C' hockey semi-finals after winning their first two rounds.

Tofield will host Dewberry on the Tofield Arena on Friday night in the opening game of the semi-finals. Game time is slated for seven o'clock. The second game in the series will be played in Dewberry.

Tofield defeated New Sarepta twice in the opening round by scores of 4-4 and 6-2 to win the round 11-6. Tofield's goals were scored by Randy Jeffery 2, Ed Donman 2, Doug Nachtigal 4, Wayne Olson, Doug McCleet and Warren Stauffer.

Tofield then met and defeated Andrassan by scores of 3-3 and 4-3 to win in that series 7-5. Scoring for Tofield were Rick Neufeld, Doug Nachtigal 3, Ed Donman 2, and Randy Jeffery.

Senior hoopists to go to 'Games'

Grace Phillips

Because the Tofield Senior Men's basketball team defeated the Kinsella Men's team recently, they are entitled to represent the County of Beaver in the Northeastern Winter Games to be held in St. Paul, Alberta on Feb. 27, 28 and 29.

The two-game, total-point series with Kinsella resulted in scores of 72-43 and 73-37 both in favor of Tofield; total points 145-80. Larry Watson is coach and manager, team members are Erwin Wiens, Curt Hastings, Kim Pearson, Robert Schaefer, Ed Wiens, Ken Nachtigal, Lyle Heiberg, Dave Francis, Daryl Reil, Brian Rude and Allan Dickson.

The Tofield Men's team now awaits their upcoming match with the Edmonton Eskimo basketball squad on Feb. 25 at 8:00 p.m. in the Tofield School gym. Advance tickets are nearly gone but, rush tickets are available.

At this date, the members of the Eskimo squad expected to play in Tofield are John Beston, John Partinger, Larry Highbaugh, Bob Howes, Mike Lambeau, George McGowan, Bob McLaren, Bayne Norrie, Dale Potter, Roger Scales, Bill Stevenson, Tom Towman, Charlie Turner, and Tom Wilkinson.

Jensen crowned Valentine queen

Grace Phillips

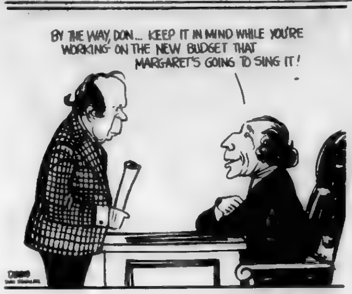
Linda Jensen, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Jensen, is the 1976 Valentine Queen of the Tofield Junior High School. She was crowned at the annual Valentine Tea on February 13, by Brenda Williams, the 1975 Queen. The other princesses were: Carol Erickson, Michelle Erickson, Rhona Wiens, Debbie Price and Esther Wiens. All the princesses received gifts with the Queen being awarded a special one.

Preceding the crowning of the Queen, J. C. Lampitt, vice-principal, introduced Melody Henriksen, president of the Big 3 Melody asked Jim Warner, vice-president, to introduce the rest of the executive.

Queen Linda drew the names of the winners of the door prizes. Mrs. Myrna Kondrat and Mrs. Krystal and the winner of the cross-country skies raffled by J Blades' outdoor education class, Nancy Newfeld. Prizes were awarded to Melody Henriksen and Wayne Borton for selling the most tickets which were votes for the six princesses. Lori Jorgens, social convener, presented Mrs. Phillips with flowers in recognition of her work organizing the tea.

Escorted by Jim Warner, Mrs. Anelli Wilkie cut the Valentine cake, saying she was honored by being asked to do so. The theme of the tea, "Lucky in Love" was depicted by letters on the gym walls and by the Disney-like characters made by the students. A giant silver heart-mobile, Valentine greetings made of flowers, appropriate table centres, and candy baskets completed the pink and silver color scheme chose for the tea.

Mrs. Penny Price, Mrs. Anne Friesen, Mrs. Mae Ferguson and Mrs. Isobel Rudachi assisted with the lunch.



Doubtful arithmetic

Some of the figures used in the recent report by the Alberta Land Use Forum make one wonder about the kind of information accepted and used by the three-man commission who spent some two years studying the situation, and interviewed literally hundreds of people in preparing their information.

The "average" figures used by the commission, for instance, make one wonder if there should not have been further investigation, or further breakdown.

Comparing the 183 corporate farms reported to exist in Alberta with the family farm, they found the average corporate holding was 3,840 acres, with an average capital investment of $359,301, whereas the average of all family farms was 739 acres, with an average capital value of $80,864. And these figures don't seem out of balance.

However, 78 of the corporate farms (averaging 3,840 acres, mind you) had total sales of less than $10,000 each per year while the other 105 averaged very nearly $200,000 each.

Figures are figures, and averages are averages, but when you're trying to prove something, surely those 78 farms should have been listed at least with a qualifier. Either they're tax loss operations of some well-to-do business or professional types, or there is some reason why they're hardly in business. But the $200,000 average for the others shows why so many farmers and farm organizations worry over development of the large corporate unit, or vertical integration.

Especially when the three man survey maintains that approximately 68,000 family farm units produced an average value of agricultural products sold amounting to $12,693.

That's gross income, not net.

Which is only slightly more than seventeen dollars production, (not profit) from each acre, from the poorest grassland to the richest rowcrop land, where fifteen acres is a big operation.

Undoubtedly there are many farm operations which produce less than this, and consequently much smaller profits for the farmer, but it does not seem logical that the provincial overall average should be so low.

We know that not all farms are in the big capital range, but production averages like these offer no support for the $50,000 combine, or the $40,000 tractor, and such machinery. Yet a great deal of it is seen, more than the figures would suggest. They should be scanned by the agricultural experts, to find the anomalies they contain.

Only a week

By the time this column is read next week we will already know who will be the leader of the Conservative party in Canada for the next several years. The guessing, the speculating, the handicapping, will all be over, and the delegates will have selected a new leader.

Unless, just possibly, the final ballot results in a split so nearly even that there will be two leaders.

Oh, there'll only be one with the title, of course, but if the vote is so close, the second man could very definitely be a major threat, and a major obstacle.

In this respect, one has to give a lot of credit to Bob Stanfield who recently assured a nation-wide interview he would not remain a major figure in the party's operations in future. . . . "one former party leader in the House at a time is enough".

It's been interesting watching the swings in various strengths as the contest moves on, and trying to gauge the probabilities. Of course, in this contest, especially, there are so many delegates still undecided that there is almost no way of making any prediction. Yet more and more we see some of the candidates dropping back, while Flora MacDonald, Paul Hellyer, Brian Mulroney and Joe Clark seem to maintain their stride, or forge ahead. And the significance of the youth vote, at least one third of all delegates, may favor the latter two very markedly.

Of course, a lucky break, an unlucky oversight or slip-up, an unusually able speech, or an inept one, all of these may have signicant impact on the way the ballots go. . .even the appearance that one candidate may be forging ahead of others may dramatically affect delegate reactions.

Voters across the country will be glad the party executive reversed its decision not to allow two candidates to run, because this is a decision for the delegates to make. We have no doubt they'll be the first two eliminated, but how much more satisfactory for the country as a whole to see it done that way, than through the party bureaucracy.

Look for a long drawn out function . . . it's going to get six ballots, at least. Our only dismay is the Battle River situation... too much influence was organized to get delegates who would back Jack Horner, and when he is eliminated, this support will be lost to other western candidates, probably in favor of Paul Hellyer.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — Canada is working up to a full scale Donnybrook over that series of interviews which Prime Minister Trudeau gave on the weekend between Christmas and New Year's. Already there have been calls for an election on the issues which he raised, and there is now a developing sense of alliance between business and labour to defeat [illegible].

The Prime Minister told us that we had all been bad children, trying to take more out of society than we had put into it, and although it might have been possible to accept the charge had government been included in the castigation, there is apparently very little sympathy in the country for the solution which Trudeau proposes.

He told us that the age of a new society is coming, and the death of the free enterprise system is upon us. We, the people - business and labour - are responsible for the failure of the free enterprise system, according to Trudeau, and consequently we're going to have to do things his way.

If we don't cooperate voluntarily, why, then, he'll legislate us into compliance.

What the PM promises is extremely frightening. His plans mesh with the Trudeau elitist philosophy, and they portend further massive government intervention in all aspects of Canadian society. His theory of government is simple: an intellectual elite should govern with the expertise of a huge technocracy backing it. Government should be responsible to the people from time to time.

That means Canadians get a say on how their lives are run only at election time, and once we put a government in office we should merely accept what the government decides - whether or not that government is performing in accordance with pledges made during one of those periodic election campaigns which are called by the Prime Minister "Conversations with Canadians."

The evidence of the past 12 months shows that the present government operates very much like a carnival showman. But the hand which moves the shells over the pea has become slowed with the overconfidence of too much previous successful fakery. The audience is not quite so rapt by the trick now, because there is a growing awareness that the showman is playing for keeps.

A majority of Canadians are against the killing of pluralism in our society; against extending total trust to any government - let alone a government which is sadly lacking in national management techniques.

Doubtful arithmetic

Some of the figures used in the recent report by the Alberta Land Use Forum make one wonder about the kind of information accepted and used by the three-man commission who spent some two years studying the situation, and interviewed literally hundreds of people in preparing their information.

The "average" figures used by the commission, for instance, make one wonder if there should not have been further investigation, or further [illegible]

Comparing the 183 corporate farms reported to exist in Alberta with the family farm, they found the average corporate holding was 3,840 acres, with an average capital investment of $359,301, whereas the average of all family farms was 739 acres, with an average capital value of $80,864. And these figures don't seem out of balance.

However, 78 of the corporate farms (averaging 3,840 acres, mind you) had total sales of less than $10,000 each per year while the other 105 averaged .ery nearly $200,000 each.

Figures are figures, and averages are averages, but when you're trying to prove something, surely those 78 farms should have been listed at least with a qualifier. Either they're tax loss operations of some well-to-do business or professional types, or there is some reason why they're hardly in business. But the $200,000 average for the others shows why so many farmers and farm organizations worry over development of the large corporate unit, or vertical integration.

Especially when the three man survey maintains that approximately 68,000 family farm units produced an average value of agricultural products sold amounting to $12,693.

That's gross income, not net.

Which is only slightly more than seventeen dollars production, (not profit) from each acre, from the poorest grassland to the richest rowcrop land, where fifteen acres is a big operation.

Undoubtedly there are many farm operations which produce less than this, and consequently much smaller profits for the farmer, but it does not seem logical that the provincial overall average should be so low.

We know that not all farms are in the big capital range, but production averages like these offer no support for the $50,000 combine, or the $40,000 tractor, and such machinery. Yet a great deal of it is seen, more than the figures would suggest. They should be scanned by the agricultural experts, to find the anomalies they contain.

Only a week

By the time this column is read next week we will already know who will be the leader of the Conservative party in Canada for the next several years. The guessing, the speculating, the handicapping, will all be over, and the delegates will have selected a new leader.

Unless, just possibly, the final ballot results in a split so nearly even that there will be two leaders.

Oh, there'll only be one with the title, of course, but if the vote is so close, the second man could very definitely be a major threat, and a major obstacle.

In this respect, one has to give a lot of credit to Bob Stanfield who recently assured a nation-wide interview he would not remain a major figure in the party's operations in future. . . ."one former party leader in the House at a time is enough".

It's been interesting watching the swings in various strengths as the contest moves on, and trying to gauge the probabilities. Of course, in this contest, especially, there are so many delegates still undecided that there is almost no way of making any prediction. Yet more and more we see some of the candidates dropping back, while Flora MacDonald, Paul Hellyer, Brian Mulroney and Joe Clark seem to maintain their stride, or forge ahead. And the significance of the youth vote, at least one third of all delegates, may favor the latter two very markedly.

Of course, a lucky break, an unlucky oversight or slip-up, an unusually able speech, or an inept one, all of these may have signicant impact on the way the ballots go. . .even the appearance that one candidate may be forging ahead of others may dramatically affect delegate reactions.

Voters across the country will be glad the party executive reversed its decision not to allow two candidates to run, because this is a decision for the delegates to make. We have no doubt they'll be the first two eliminated, but how much more satisfactory for the country as a whole to see it done that way, than through the party bureaucracy.

Look for a long drawn out function . . . it's going to get six ballots, at least. Our only dismay is the Battle River situation... too much influence was organized to get delegates who would back Jack Horner, and when he is eliminated, this support will be lost to other western candidates, probably in favor of Paul Hellyer.

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — Canada is working up to a full scale Donnybrook over that series of interviews which Prime Minister Trudeau gave on the weekend between Christmas and New Year's. Already there have been calls for an election on the issues which he raised, and there is now a developing sense of alliance between business and labour to [illegible]

The Prime Minister told us that we had all been bad children, trying to take more out of society than we had put into it, and although it might have been possible to accept the charge had government been included in the castigation, there is apparently very little sympathy in the country for the solution which Trudeau proposes.

He told us that the age of a new society is coming, and the death of the free enterprise system is upon us. We, the people - business and labour - are responsible for the failure of the free enterprise system, according to Trudeau, and consequently we're going to have to do things his way.

If we don't cooperate voluntarily, why, then, he'll legislate us into compliance.

What the PM promises is extremely frightening. His plans mesh with the Trudeau elitist philosophy, and they portend further massive government intervention in all aspects of Canadian society. His theory of government is simple: an intellectual elite should govern with the expertise of a huge technocracy backing it. Government should be responsible to the people from time to time.

That means Canadians get a say on how their lives are run only at election time, and once we put a government in office we should merely accept what the government decides - whether or not that government is performing in accordance with pledges made during one of those periodic election campaigns which are called by the Prime Minister "Conversations with Canadians."

The evidence of the past 12 months shows that the present government operates very much like a carnival showman. But the hand which moves the shells over the pea has become slowed with the overconfidence of too much previous successful fakery. The audience is not quite so rapt by the trick now, because there is a growing awareness that the showman is playing for keeps.

A majority of Canadians are against the killing of pluralism in our society, against extending total trust to any government - let alone a government which is sadly lacking in national management techniques.

The Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society held a board meeting on Monday with fourteen members present. Howard Berke chaired the meeting.

The indoor swimming pool is progressing favorably with most of the volunteer work completed. To raise funds, the society has planned a White Elephant Sale for April with the date to be announced later.

The annual fair will take place about the middle of August.

Order work on Kingman road

Work will start shortly on upgrading a portion of the Kingman road, north from Camrose, The Canadian learned over the weekend.

MLA Gordon Stromberg reported the announcement had come from R. H. Cronkite, to the highways department that the Minister of Transportation, Hon. Dr. Hugh M. Horner had awarded a contract to Tarapaski Construction Ltd., of St. Paul at a price of $336,780.

The contract covers work on secondary road 833, north of Camrose, from the Junction with secondary road 617, a distance of 4.03 miles to mile 12.21.

Twelve tenders were submitted on the project, ranging to a high of $579,906.70, although seven of the twelve bids were under $400,000.

Second lowest was that of Leduc Construction, Edmonton, for $352,121, making Tarapaski the clear winner.

Holden Beavers plan 'appreciation night'

On February 10, the Holden Beavers travelled to Lamont to play the Nuggets, and a bad road game losing 12-5. The Holden goals were scored by Andy Chamberlain (2), with singles going to Don Gabryah, Lyle Meyers, and John Campbell.

On February 12, the Beavers defeated the Andrew Aces by a score of 8 - 3. At the end of the first period, the teams were tied 1 - 1 and had played very well. Halfway through the second period the Aces scored the go-ahead goal, but Holden poured on the steam and scored three unanswered goals. The third period was a thriller with some brilliant goal-tending from goalie Wayne Benoch with Holden outscoring Andrew 4 - 1. The Holden goals came from John Campbell (4), Gary Meryk (2), with singles from Gord Kemernisky and Andy Chamberlain.

There are three games left, all home games. The final game is to be played on Saturday and will be "FAN APPRECIATION" night. We hope to have a tremendous crowd on hand as the players have a surprise planned for their fans.

Also, on Saturday, March 6th will be featured the big windup for the hockey season. The hockey management are planning a supper and dance at the Community Hall at 6:00 p.m. The whole community is invited, and tickets will be available at all the businesses in town.

Heads Pool

Charlie Quail, of Round Hill, was recently named president of the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool. He was elected to the office by the board of directors following the retirement of George Horrocks in December.

With years of association with the NADP, Mr. Quail was first named to the board of directors in 1964, and was elected vice president in 1970.

A native of Round Hill, Mr. Quail continues to live on the farm established by his family many years ago, and which is still continuing under active operation.

Active in the community all his life, his only period away from the farm was during World War II, when he served in the RCAF from 1941 until 1945. He has been active and held office in many other farm organizations, as well as contributing time and effort with community groups. After several years of service with the Round Hill Elks Lodge, he moved into office in the provincial Elks Association, and two years ago was Grand Exalted Ruler for all the Elks Lodges in Canada.

The hydro-electric potential of the Yukon and Northwest Territories is 10,000 megawatts, half of the present electric power production in Canada.

ALBERTA POOL

Half a century

50 years of membership in Melrose Masonic Lodge was marked last week when Ken Kennedy presented a specially engraved jewel to Bill Riley. The presentation marks 50 years of continuous and unusually active service to the lodge in which he was initiated Sept. 17, 1925. Mr. Riley originally joined Coal Lodge, at Bawlf, but after a number of years it merged with Daysland and was named Melrose. In spite of service as a grain elevator agent in a number of other communities, such as Viking and Alliance, Mr. Riley maintained close association with the lodge, especially during his residence of many years in Rosalind, from where he retired to Camrose in 1965. Three years after joining he lodge, he served as worshipful master, and in 1949 was elected district deputy grand master. Forty years after joining, he was named a life member of the lodge, in 1965.

COME ON INTO THE METRIC KITCHEN

It's time to think Metric in the kitchen too. If you are still confused with celsius weather reports and show and rain amounts in millimeters and centimeters, do not despair. There is no need to let the changeover to metric get you down. The old favourite recipes can still be prepared using cups and tablespoons. However, metric package sizes are cropping up in the supermarket and you will soon see new recipes written in metric.

AGRICULTURE CANADA has prepared a booklet called "Come on Into the Metric Kitchen." You may have a copy by writing to Information Division, Agriculture Canada, Ottawa, Ont. K1A 0C7

Soaps, Creams and Lotion Recipes:

Some of you have obtained this pamphlet from us. We have been informed of the following errors.

(a) The "All Purpose Cream" recipe will not form a gelatinous mass as described in the pamphlet. Melt one block (of 4 in a pkg.) of paraffin wax along with the vaseline to solidify the mixture.

(b) In the "Cold Cream" recipe, the recipe should read 3 parts (not 30 parts) borax. This recipe solidifies very nicely.

(c) All of the ingredients are available although they are not necessarily easy to find. Diepenries Ltd. in Edmonton is the core distribution to pharmacies here. Try similar avenues in other cities.

Please correct your copy, if you would like a corrected copy, please write or phone our office.

Blindness

terest the blind person.

3. No other way to say it. Do not hesitate to use words like "look, see and read."

4. Identify yourself at once. If you meet a blind neighbour on the street, do not expect him to recognize your voice. State your name at once. Put the blind person on an equal footing.

5. Do your part to keep the sidewalks clear. Cars jutting across the sidewalk, wagons, garbage cans and roller skates have injured blind persons.

6. Take this tip. You may help a blind person locate a bus stop or phone booth, find a street number or building entrance, or flag a taxi.

7. Don't pet the dog. Modern blind persons are trained to use the white cane well or to go about with a dog guide. Don't pet the dog. It will take his attention away from his duty.

8. Resist ancient attitudes towards blindness. Treat the handicapped person as any other citizen.

9. Refrain from racing your motor and honking your horn loudly at street corners. Loud noises startle the white cane user.

10. Treat blind people as the sighted. Not all blind persons are totally blind. Some blind persons see a little. Treat them as you would anyone else.

N.E. Games go Friday

Sixty-two participants from the County of Beaver will be going to St. Paul this weekend for the North East Alberta Winter Games.

Beaver participants are registered in six different sports. They are badminton (women and men), men's basketball, ladies' volleyball, cross-country skiing (men and women), table tennis (men), and ringette (ladies).

Many other events are scheduled for the three days. Officials of the Regional Recreation Department are hoping that a good number of people from Beaver will be in attendance at the Winter Games.

Beaverhills league suspends a coach

The directors of the Beaverhill Hockey League have ruled on a protest received from the Ryley Flyers, alledging the use of unregistered players by the Mundare Sabres. The league has upheld the Ryley protest after considerable investigation and review of league records.

In a prepared statement of defense, the Mundare Sabres argued that discrepencies in registrations also occurred on other teams. Investigation into this allegation revealed only two teams had seriously violated rules of either the A.A.H.A. or the Beaverhill Hockey League.

Because of the seriousness of the irregularities in the registration of the Mundare players, all games in which these improperly registered players participated, shall be forfited by the Mundare Sabres and the Mundare manager, Roy Franklin, be suspended from the Beaverhill Hockey League for a period of one year, and because some less serious irregularities have occurred in the registration of Ryley players, the Ryley coach, Vern Liknes, be placed on probation for one year, and all games in which improperly registered players were used, will be forfited by Ryley.

As a result of this decision, the standings of these two two teams have been changed to the following:

	W	L	T	Pts.
Mundare	3	21	2	8
Ryley	10	13	3	23

The Beaverhill Hockey League wishes to emphasize that no action has been taken against any player and that action taken against any team is strictly because of the manner in which the team management acted contrary to the regulations regarding the signing of players.

This protest has been upheld by virtue of the constitution and bylaws of the B.H.L. as approved by the A.A.H.A., namely bylaw number one, subsection (b) and (f).

It was decided that a cost estimate should be prepared for the possible development of 56 Avenue for town lots.

Spark research on breast cancer

A $129,000 grant for breast cancer research has been awarded to staff members of the Provincial Cancer Hospitals Board by the Medical Services Foundation of Alberta. The funds, to be spread over a 2-year period, will enable Drs. Patricia Burns, Alan Lees, and Michael Grace to continue their investigation of factors which influence the development of [illegible]

Data collected since 1971 at the Dr. W. W. Cross Cancer Institute can now be analyzed to provide accurate statistics on breast cancer for the use of both the public and medical profession. Publication of these results in the near future will inform concerned women and doctors of this work and of the diagnostic and other services available at the Cancer Clinic. In future, this research program will expand to the cancer clinics in Lethbridge and Calgary, and thus include the entire province.

Specifically the researchers will concentrate on the following areas. First, as the majority of breast patients referred to the Cross Institute are, in fact, benign, the relationship of malignant to benign breast disease will be examined. A second goal is to identify more types of women as "high-risk" for breast cancer. For high risk women regular screening, which leads to earlier diagnosis and increased survival, is practical. Thirdly, the thorough examination of all patients where malignancy is suspected helps physicians plan the initial treatment. In addition, results of treatment will be analyzed in terms of the extent of the initial disease. Finally, accurate incidence, survival and mortality rates will be determined. By comparing Alberta statistics with those from around the world, local trends (which might be unique to Alberta) may be detected and further investigations initiated which might give some clues to the cause of the [illegible]

Four new teachers inducted by ATA

Grace Phillips

At the February meeting of the Tofield sub-local, the induction ceremony of the A.T.A. was held for inductees Mrs. Jane Wall, Miss Coleen Young, Jim Bell and Bruce Fleming. President Floyd Irwin read the pledge of commitment to the values of the A.T.A. to which the inductees promised to uphold.

Curtis Hastings was elected secretary-treasurer of the sub-local to replace Mrs. Gwen Peterson who has resigned.

The annual teachers' banquet was announced for March 63 in [illegible]

The fee increase as proposed by the head office of the A.T.A. was discussed. A majority of those present agreed that the increase was justifiable.

John Blades, Tofield representative on the professional development committee gave a preview of the Professional Development Day activities set for Holden on Feb 20.

Education Week observance on Mar. 2 was discussed. Displays of the students' work will be set up in the gym in the adjacent hall and in the elementary wing. Girls' gymnastics will be displayed in the hall outside the drama room, and a P.E. display will be seen on the gym stage.

In the gym will be a Fun Carnival conducted by the Grade 10's with Verley Astley and Bonnie Watt in charge. The games, contests, card games, and lunch will be charged for by the students.

Curt Hastings reported on the results of the Education Week survey recently sent out to parents. The results showed that most of the parents answering the questionnaires felt that (1) the opportunities for parent involvement in decisions involving basic education were less than adequate (2) greater opportunities should be provided for public involvement in decisions at the school level (3) the amount of money presently being spent for basic education is about right (4) the elementary school program provides a good balance between basic skills and other subjects (5) the senior high school programs should provide more opportunities for work experience in addition to classroom instruction (6) enrolments in classrooms are about right (7) parents would vote for increase in property taxes only if better service were provided (8) have not attended meetings aimed at helping to increase children's interest in school (9) discipline in the school is "just about right, perhaps a bit too lenient" (10) when children do poorly in school the chief blame should be placed on the children's home and neighborhood.

Mr. Hastings will be on hand during the evening of March 2 to discuss the above results with any interested persons.

March is 'Canned Fruit' month. It seems to be time of year when winter menus seem to suffer from the "blahs". Try canned fruit to perk up the winter appetite.

Canned fruit is grade Canada Fancy (top quality), Canada Choice, or Canada Standard. Choose the grade that best suits your purpose.

Using the standard grade when appearance is not important, as in the following recipes, is a good way to save food dollars.

Try this jellied winter fruit salad as an alternative to fresh fruit salad.

JELLIED WINTER FRUIT SALAD

1 - 14 oz. can peaches
1-14 oz. can pears
1 - 3 oz. package lemon or orange jelly powder
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup syrup from fruit
¼ cup chopped red apple

Drain and chop fruit, reserving syrup. Dissolve jelly powder in water and add syrup from fruit. Chill until partially set. Fold in fruit. Chill until firm. Makes six servings.

Holden Beavers win Andrew tournament

On Feb. 17 the Holden Beavers hosted the Lamont Nuggets at the Holden Complex. The Beavers were defeated by a score of 5-2. The game was very close the first two periods, with Holden leading 2 - 1, but four unanswered goals in the third period sewed the game up for Lamont. The Holden goals were scored by Gary Macyk and John Campbell.

The Sandy Lake Imperials downed the Holden Beavers on Feb. 19 by a score of 8-0. This game was the only time Holden has been shut-out.

Feb. 21 was "Fan Appreciation Night" and the Holden Beavers really showed what they were made of by defeating the Islandaire Sabres 11 10. Between the second and third periods, the players presented the fans with six gifts, expressing their appreciation for all the support during their first season. This game was a give and take by both teams with the Beavers having their highest scoring game. Holden goals came from John Campbell (3), Grant Ramsey(2), with singles going to Don Gaboyah, Gary Macyk, Andy Chamberlain, Andre Siwicki, Lyle Meyers and Chris Cooper. This was the final game of the season and a crowd of 443 fans were there to cheer on their team.

The Holden Beavers won six games during the season and were tied for fifth place with the Andrew Aces.

On Sunday, Feb. 22 the Beavers travelled to Andrew where they were entered in a four-team tournament. The first game they played was against Gibbons whom they defeated by a score of 7-6. Some outstanding goal-tending by goalie Wayne Banack, and excellent team play by the Beavers, who were pretty tired after Saturday's game, qualified them for the finals. This game was very close and exciting with Holden scoring the first goal and never losing the lead till the final buzzer. Holden goals were scored by Andy Chamberlain (3), Grant Ramsey (2), with tangles notched by Gerald Lemke and Gary Macyk.

Holden then played the final game 3½ hours later against the Andrew Aces. This game was unbelievable as the long wait had really tired the players, but desire won out over weary arms and legs and Holden beat Andrew 7-6 and won the tournament. Holden left the ice after the first period holding a slim lead of 3-2. After the second period, Holden fired up and took a lead of 6-3. The third period was all Andrew, as they scored 3 goals to tie the game at 6-6. When the final minute arrived it looked as though we were going to see our first overtime game, when speedily Andy Chamberlain grabbed a loose puck, fought off a big defenseman and tucked the puck behind the goalie with just 19 seconds left on the clock. The Holden fans counted down the clock and then bedlam broke loose as fans and players were wild with joy. It was a big night for Andy Chamberlain as he scored 4 goals. The other Holden goals were scored by John Campbell (2) and a single by Grant Ramsey.

A grand end for an exciting season comes up on Saturday, Mar. 6. The Supper and Dance being held at the Community Hall at 7:00 p.m. will be Player Appreciation Night," when the players will be presented with trophies from various sponsors. The whole community is invited and tickets are available at all business centers.

UIC maternity leave flexible

Working women eligible for maternity benefit under the Unemployment Insurance Act will have a more flexible period to collect the benefit as a result of legislation effective February 1st.

It permits women to collect up to 15 consecutive weeks of benefit during a period beginning as early as eight weeks before the expected birth of the child and ending as late as 17 weeks after the actual birth.

Under the former legislation, maternity benefit was payable for 15 consecutive weeks, restricted to eight weeks before the expected week of confinement, the week of the birth and the following ten weeks. As a result, women who wished to take a shorter pre-natal leave, or who gave birth before the expected week of confinement, were unable to receive benefit for the minimum period.

Guides, Scouts fete mothers and fathers

The 1st Brownie Pack, 1st Guide Company and the 1st Boy Scout Troop of Tofield held a Mother-Daughter and Father-Son Pot Luck Supper, February 18, in the Legion Hall in Tofield.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mathison, representing the Lions Club, Mr and Mrs. Joe Kronewitt, representing the C.W.L., Jules Hall, Deputy Commissioner of Boy Scouts for The Wildrose Area, Mrs. Pam Myketyshyn, Rev and Mrs. Peter Walker and Dr and Mrs. W H Presbury, representing the Town [illegible].

The Lions Club is the sponsor of the Scouts and co-sponsor of Guides and Brownies along with the C.W.L.

Rev Walker, Master of Ceremonies introduced the speakers and the leaders of the three groups. The leaders brought the parents up-to-date on the past year's activities. Scout leaders are Dick Thomas and Don Kondrat. We have eight Scouts. Brownie leaders are Mrs Carrol Kugelstadt, Mrs Judy Fairweather, Cecil Gannon, and Mrs. Gail Druder. Brownies number 23. Guides are led by Mrs. Laura Eglauer helped by Mrs. Clara Schwab, Mrs. Rosemary Hallonquist, Mrs. Joyce Pollock, and Mrs. Sharon Moore. The Guides have just started January 29th of this year and have 12 very interested girls.

Mike Gallinger, formerly a Cub leader, explained the Cub movement had folded for the time being, as there was not enough parental leadership shown in the group and they were unable to get a Scout Master. It was expressed by several Mothers that they would gladly help any interested parties with getting this group of enthusiastic boys going again. This is a challenge to the Tofield fathers. All leaders agreed with Mr. Gallinger that there must be parental participation if these groups are to continue.

Mrs. Ann Friesen and Mrs. May Thomas looked after the organizing of the supper and the "Kitchen Detail".

Around the Town

Zelda Hallett attended the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Vegreville Association for the Mentally Retarded recently. The group's adult residence is expected to open soon and plans are being made for the holding of their annual charity auction.

In the other opening round contest, Altario had whipped Holden 63-22.

Two medals won at Winter Games

600 participants from the North Eastern Regions of Alberta were on hand to take part in such sports as ringette, badminton, volleyball, table tennis, basketball, and broomball.

From the County of Beaver, there were teams in men's basketball, ringette, badminton, ladies' volleyball, and table tennis.

The sports were not the only part of the Games, but cultural events, like square dancing at the breakfasts, displays of fine arts and demonstrations, dance groups, novelty events, beer gardens, and a banquet and dance on Saturday night.

All these, plus the medal presentations Sunday afternoon, added to the glamor and excitement of the Games. From the County of Beaver, the men's doubles team in badminton (Al ZMicklich and Wil Stefanik) came home with a silver medal. The ringette team (Viking girls), coached by Norman Greenwood, came home [illegible].

Further information will be forthcoming in the mail and in the local newspaper.

Tofield teachers organize PTA

The teachers of Tofield School are proposing the establishment of a Tofield and district Parent and Teacher Association. The public's interest and support for this endeavour will be gauged at an organizational meeting to be held at the Tofield School Library on Monday, at 7 p.m.

children, interested members of the public who feel that they could learn from and contribute to the Association are invited to join. The creation of the Association and its success depends greatly on attendance at this initial meeting.

The purposes of the Association would be many. Primarily, however, it would facilitate communication between the public-at-large and the school. Should the Association gain the support of a majority of the area's residents then subsequent meetings could deal with any issue from discipline to curriculum. An executive would be created with elected officers comprised of both teachers and parents. Special interest group meetings, comprising those members interested in a particular school course, could supplement the regular meetings. The format, however, would be the decision of the Association members [illegible].

In order for such an organization to be representative of the public all sectors should be involved. A broad spectrum of age groups, occupations, experiences, etc. would enhance the output of the association meetings.

It must be noted, however, that the association would not replace [illegible] nels between the school and parents but supplement them. Rather than a sounding board for complaints from individuals, the association's purpose would be to promote understanding and cooperation between school personnel and their employers, the public.

Radial tires are no real substitute for snow tires

Contrary to the impression of many motorists, radial tires are no substitute for snow tires for winter driving, according to new findings released by the National Safety Council.

Reporting on tests conducted by the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, Ray Fraser, the committee secretary, said, "These tests show that snow tires provide more traction over a reasonably wide range of snow-covered road conditions than conventional radial tires that do not have a snow tread."

He added that the range of performance of the radial tires was quite broad, in some cases exceeding but in some cases even poorer than some conventional highway tires.

In these tests, seven brands of radial tires were compared with bias belted highway tires and bias belted snow tires. Both peak and spinning traction were measured with the vehicle standing still and also moving forward at a speed of 5 mph. Snow conditions ranged from approximately one inch of medium packed snow to as much as eight inches of loose snow.

In an earlier test program, according to Fraser, the Committee found that radial tires offered no advantage over conventional tires in either stopping, traction or cornering performance on glare ice.

"Considering the outcome of these tests and earlier findings by the Council, it is obvious that conventional radial tires (without a snow tread) are not a substitute for snow tires," he concluded. "Motorists should still be advised to use snow tires for mild-to-medium snow and ice conditions and to use reinforced tire chains for severe snow and ice conditions."

Summarizing the Council's previous test findings, Fraser said that conventional snow tires provide only a small improvement in pulling ability on glare ice although they produce half again as much pulling ability as regular tires in loosely packed snow. Studded tires are appreciably more effective on ice, giving about three times the pull of regular tires. And reinforced tire chains provide from four to seven times the pulling ability of regular tires of loose and ice.

Oil on future menus—

OTTAWA (CP) Canada's oil deposits may ultimately be more valuable as food for man and animals than energy for machines, an internationally known biochemical engineer suggested.

Dr Murray Moo-Young of the University of Waterloo told the Canadian Chemical Engineering Conference that the world's present protein needs can be met by using 17 per cent of world oil production to produce synthetic protein using scientific methods now being developed.

Dr Moo-Young said that countries such as Canada with plentiful oil supplies might consider developing this protein-producing technology.

The protein can be produced synthetically by hydro-carbon fermentation, the action of microbes such as bacteria, yeasts, molds and algae on the high molecular weight hydrocarbons found in oil.

The complex technology for producing these synthetic proteins is already established or is developing, and several countries including England, France, Italy, Russia and the United States have built plants to make microbial protein, mainly for use in animal feeds, he said.

World shortages of protein are so acute that more than 50 per cent of industrial job openings for chemical engineers, as reported in a recent issue of Chemical Engineering Diary, were for food-related areas, he said.

Using microbes, synthetic protein may be produced from the abundant carbon-component found in carbon dioxide and carbohydrates as well as hydrocarbons.

The technology for producing synthetic proteins from carbon dioxide, present in air about .03 by volume, still is developing. Protein production from carbohydrates such as starches and cellulose still is experimental but protein has been produced from carbohydrate sugars such as molasses and waste sulphate liquor.

Use of microbes to produce protein may be highly economical, Dr Moo-Young suggested. The microbes produced protein 10,000 times faster than cattle and 2,000 times faster than poultry.

Moreover microbial protein could be more easily preserved — for instance, by drying-and its shelf life may be virtually indefinite.

Dr Moo-Young, in calling for more research in improved fermentation techniques, also said some synthetically produced proteins can be produced for about five per cent of the expense of producing meat protein.

The synthetic proteins sometimes called petro-proteins are now used mainly as protein supplements in animal diets. There has been resistance to their use in human foods.

Boxed beef

Some Canadian packing plants and supermarket chains are changing the way they handle beef.

Instead of shipping beef carcasses, they are cutting the meat into four main cuts - - hip, loin, rib and chuck - - and shipping these cuts in vacuum-packed boxes.

An Agriculture Canadian official says the boxed beef system is more efficient than the shipment of carcasses because it allows retail outlets and restaurants to order the cuts they need without automatically having all the other cuts as well.

Farmers' petition to cover province

Members of Round Hill-Dodds Farmers Protective Association are going to carry their battle against the development of a power plant in their area to all the people of Alberta.

At an information meeting in Ryley on Monday night, members of the association circulated a petition asking the Government of Alberta to preserve prime agricultural land for the sole pursuit of agriculture.

Monday's meeting in Ryley was the debut for the petition, which was a suggestion from the association's legal consultant, A.O. Ackroyd of Edmonton. Plans to get the petition into province-wide circulation will be discussed as soon as possible by members of the executive.

Monday's meeting in Ryley was an information type of affair with the association giving out information on the project to Ryley area residents in attendance. A brief question and answer period followed the various reports.

In recent weeks, representatives of the association have been attending a number of meetings. They met with Frank Belyea of the Department of Environment, presenting him with a letter outlining their concerns about the power plant project. As well, they met with Dr Prost of the Department of Environment and received a copy, from him, of his book containing recommendations on how strip mining should be carried out.

Today (Wednesday), representatives of the association are again meeting with Mr. Belyea, in Edmonton. No details of this meeting were available.

A meeting with representatives of Calgary Power has been arranged. It will be held in Edmonton on Tuesday afternoon. A meeting with the council of the County of Beaver has been scheduled for March 11th.

A spokesman for the association indicated that Monday's meeting in Ryley attracted a considerable number of new members to the association.

Around Town

Allan Dickson left on Tuesday for Malta where he will meet Grant McKernan and tour other countries. He plans on meeting his sister, Rita, in Isreal.

Mr and Mrs. Alex Steinwand are new residents in Tofield, moving into the house formerly occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Epp. They moved here from Holden.

Charles Denney, a teacher in Tofield in the 1930's, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Tofield Historical Society, to be held in the Meeting Room of the Community Hall on Wednesday, starting at 8.00 pm.

Glen and Claudia Moore and son, Kevin, of Edmonton, visited at the home of Ken's mother, Mrs. Mary Moore on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. John Reil have returned home after a month's visit with their daughters at Lincoln, Nebraska, and Thomas, Oklahoma.

Moon walk helps blind

The world famous moon walks of 1969 are helping blind people today. According to R.C. Purse, Managing Director The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the technology developed for the lunar landings has since been put to work for man on the ground. "The new focus on science resulted in the production of many electronic aids for blind persons," he said.

One of the most recent is the Phonic Ear, a sophisticated hearing aid for the training of deaf-blind children. The instrument has 36 different frequencies and enables the deaf-blind child to hear sound that normal hearing aids miss.

Another aid is the Optacon which permits a blind person to read the printed page directly. When the blind reader tracks a small camera across the print, a series of tiny rods, discernable by touch, move into play. They duplicate the shape of the type face seen by the camera.

Years away yet, but at the testing stage, is an artificial visual system that will permit a blind person to see objects and read print.

"Electronic aids are wonderful things but they will never replace human assistance so essential for blind Canadians," Mr. Purse said. He reminded readers that blind persons will always welcome assistance in the supermarket, reading the menu in a restaurant, finding the right platform at a bus station - any of a hundred and one details where sight is really necessary.

A LOOK AT "DIETETIC FOODS".

Food Advisory Services, Alberta Agriculture, sent the following information on "dietetic foods". It's a good reminder to read labels carefully a good rule whether dieting or not.

"Food lovers sometimes feel guilty after consuming rich calorie laden foods. To compensate for eating binges, they may turn to "dietetic foods" in hopes that these foods will help them slim down. Be wary that you don't fall into this trap. Read the labels carefully for all diet foods are not necessarily low in calories.

Diet foods are controlled by strict regulations. They can be labelled "calorie reduced" only if they contain no more than 50 percent of the calories found in the foods they replace. Low calorie salad dressings fit this category.

A "sugar-free" food may contain no more than 25 percent available carbohydrate. It's still a good idea to compare calories. For example, "sugar-free" ice cream made from whole milk may have more calories than low-fat ice milk that is sweetened with sugar.

Some products are simply "carbohydrate reduced". Canned peaches for instance, can't be "sugar-free" because the peaches themselves contain sugar. But if they're labelled "carbohydrate reduced", this means the sugar used in canning has been reduced or left out."

"Dietetic" peanut butter is made without salt, but it still has the same number of calories as regular peanut butter. Some diet breads contain as many calories per pound as regular white bread. Look for a label that lists calories per slice, instead of per loaf.

Certain hard cheeses made from partly-skimmed milk are no lower in calories than other hard cheeses. Most of the non-dairy creams are just as rich in calories as coffee cream.

So read the fine print on those labels. Don't pay extra pennies for dietetic foods unless you're sure of cutting calories or unless you need them for a special diet.

If you are interested in the calorie count of foods we have the "Food Calorie Content Booklet" from Home. You may have a copy by writing or phoning the office.

County senior teams will try for trophy

A new senior hockey playoff in the County of Beaver will get underway next week as all county senior teams will compete for a trophy donated by the Tofield Agricultural Society.

Following a meeting on Tuesday night, all county senior teams agreed to compete for the trophy and the county championship.

Since Tofield is presently engaged in league playoffs, the other three centers, Ryley, Holden, and Viking, will have an earlier playoff with the winner meeting Tofield for the championship.

Tofield, Holden, and Ryley have been competing in the Beaverhill Hockey League while Viking was an entry in the Battle River Hockey League.

Viking, Holden, and Ryley will compete in a double round-robin playoff schedule with the winner meeting Tofield for the championship. No games will be allowed to end in ties, and teams will go to won-lost records, etc., if needed, to break a tie for first place.

Tofield is presently playing Smoky Lake for the championship of the Beaverhill Hockey League.

That best of seven series got underway in Tofield on Tuesday night with the home team winning an exciting 4-2 victory, as they scored the clinching goal with just twelve seconds left in the game.

The two teams are meeting tonight (Thursday) in Smoky Lake, with the 3rd game set for Tofield on Saturday night, and the fourth game in Smoky Lake on Tuesday. If a fifth game is needed, it will be played in Tofield next Thursday.

Tofield gained its berth in the finals by eliminating Ryley while Smoky Lake ousted Lamont.

The schedule for the double round robin playoffs is as follows: (Note, Ryley home games will be played in Tofield.)

Having complied with the requirements as determined by the Canadian Community Newspapers Association, the Certificate of VERIFIED CIRCULATION – PAID is granted
To THE TOFIELD MERCURY and the circulation of the said newspaper under the terms, rules and regulations of Verified Circulation as being accepted as

GENERAL MANAGER PRESIDENT

Mercury joins ranks of Verified

Verified Circulation has been conferred on The Tofield Mercury. The move, by the Canadian Community Newspapers Association, recognizes the accuracy and integrity of circulation figures published by The Mercury.

Accreditation thus enrolls The Mercury in a list of select weeklies across the country, whose circulation figures have been checked by a chartered accountant who screens the mailing list for any copies of the paper going out without being paid for each week. Thus, the statement points out the auditor found 1,734 copies of The Mercury paid for as of December 24 last.

Throughout its past history over nearly 58 years, The Mercury's circulation figures have always been attested to by statements sworn before a notary public, or a commissioner for oaths, and throughout the years of the late W. Warton, and more recent Cliff Patterson down to the present day, the figures sworn to have always been scrupulously accurate.

We believe they have been accepted in that regard within the community, too.

However, as the picture at the national level grew larger and ever more impersonal, a need developed to involve a disinterested third party, ensuring completely objective, dispassionate figures.

Two such agencies which have been developed are Verified Circulation, which is Canadian, and the Audit Bureau of Circulations, whose headquarters is in Chicago.

The Mercury is proud to have been given this recognition for its efforts, and to be numbered among the members of Verified Circulation — VC for short.

Taylor challenges Wild Rose scouts

On Friday, February 20, all roads led to Hay Lakes where around 130 people gathered for Wildrose District Annual meeting and banquet.

All 12 groups from Wildrose District were represented. Hay Lakes friends of Scouting had gone all out to make the group welcome. There was a banner across the street and a big ice sculpture with the scout insignia on it. Visitors were welcomed by scouts from Hay Lakes patrol who ushered them into the hall and provided name tags. The banquet room was appropriately bedecked for the occasion with displays of various sorts. The tables had centerpieces made by the Cubs.

Hay Lakes Recreation Association served a scrumptuous meal. A large cake which had been decorated by Miss Dora Hendrickson in honor of 60 years Cubbing became the centre of attention. The Cubs lit 12 candles, one for each 5 years. Then the retiring District Commissioner, Walter Busenius was asked to blow out the candles. Just as the special candles kept relighting after being blown out, so it is with the scouting movement. It may have had its ups and downs but it cannot be extinguished. The cake was then cut and served by the Hay Lakes Cubs.

President Jens Jensen welcomed everyone and introduced the head table. Mayor John Groeller represented Hay Lakes, and Frank Jackson brought greetings from Region. Officers elected for the coming year are as follows president, Bill Harke, 1st vice- not filled; 2nd vice- Alver Person, secretary- Mrs. Lundstrom (after June) The group was sorry to lose a faithful secretary, Sylvia Clemens, but glad she will fill the post until June. Treasurer - Allan Throndson, Honors and Awards - Marilyn Andressen, Camping chairman - Wally Schultz, Public Relations - Mary Severson, Special Events - Elwood Fleming.

New District Commissioner is Jules Hall, whose appointment was approved by Region, represented by Frank Jackson. Assistant DC is Bob Screen.

The highlight of the evening was the guest speaker, Gordon Taylor, introduced by Thor Andreasen, past president. Mr. Taylor is known best for his years as Minister of Highways - a post held by him from 1951 to 1971. It is not so well known that he has spent much time working with boys, and for this received a medal from the Pope of Rome, the first protestant ever to ever receive such an honor.

He spoke of some of his experiences as leader of a scout troop in Drumheller. He remembers the thrill of seeing the Fleur de lis, the scout symbol, portrayed in human flesh by hundreds of boys, - one great brotherhood of boys symbolizing that we are our brother's keeper.

He threw out the challenging question, "Do we seek out the boys who have problems and challenge them to be brothers in this great scout movement?" "Do we make them feel needed and wanted?" Harry was a bad boy, a thief who had no friends. Mr. Taylor approached him one day to become a member of his scout pack. He couldn't believe his ears; no one had ever cared for him. Harry went to the next meeting, was welcomed by the boys, soon earned his scout uniform and became a changed boy - all because someone cared and offered him a challenge. He's a doctor today.

Mr. Taylor went on to say that we need scouting more today than in B-P's day. There are more boys today who need a standard to live by, who need to "belong".

What could be a tremendous lift to this world with its problems and intolerance?? First - Let's recognize each human being as an individual that has potential if given a chance. Let's accept people regardless of skin color, manners, wealth - whatever. Second - Let's present a positive program, not a lot of Do nots.

He wondered why it is there is so much publicity when a boy goes bad but so little when he's done something good? Third - let's give the boys a challenge. Some kids nowadays feel there's nothing to live for

Mr. Taylor threw out some challenges - - - what about the common cold? It is not conquered. How can we feed the one third of our world who every day go hungry? What about our roads that cannot withstand the wear and tear of today's traffic? He reminded us to remember that these boys are our citizens of tomorrow. Who knows? You may have a doctor, lawyer, minister or maybe the next premier of Alberta in your scout pack.

Mrs. Betty Prinson from New Norway, in very well chosen words, thanked Mr. Taylor for his very challenging address.

Honors and Awards presented by Marilyn Andressen, were as follows 15 year awards - Mrs. Wanda Grahn and Mrs. Gola Berry, both of Hay Lakes. 10 year awards - Mrs. Lois Brockhoff and Mrs. Irma Henderson from Edberg. 5 year awards - Harvey Olson, Ferintosh, Bill Paul, Hay Lakes, Jim Weldon and Ted Boden, Edberg, and Mel Kolodychuk of Camrose.

Scouters with three consecutive years of service were Rodney Pankhurst, Dorothy McKenna, Joyce Olson all of Ferintosh, Joe Bochanesky and Bill Robison of Camrose.

Past president Thor Andreasen presented retiring District Commissioner, Walter Busenius, with a plaque in appreciation for his years of service with Wildrose District 1967 - 1976. He is now happily leading a scout patrol in Hay Lakes.

President Jensen then transferred the gavel to new president Bill Harke. It was agreed that in future the annual meeting be scheduled outside of scout week so as not to conflict with local special activities.

"As I See It"

Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A.

The second session of the 18th Alberta Legislature opened with appropriate pomp and ceremony on March 4th.

Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer read the 12-page Speech from the Throne which emphasized "necessity for restraint at the individual and government level".

There is little doubt that restraint is necessary and such restraint is already being imposed on municipalities, school and hospital boards, and social service agencies. It remains to be seen whether the government will restrain itself. We'll know more about that when the Budget comes down on March 19th.

Under the threat of restraint, it appears to me that the Lougheed Government has somehow lost its enthusiasm for new programs and progressive ideas.

I look forward to debate in the Legislature on issues like the "Land Use Forum report" and the "Heritage Savings Trust Fund" legislation.

Busy Schedule

Last week was rather hectic in preparation for the legislative session. On Tuesday, I spoke to a large group of citizens in Provost.

Wednesday, an exploratory meeting was held, relating to water and sewer problems in the village of New Sarepta.

Saturday morning, I was honored to assist in opening ceremonies at the South Cooking Lake Scout Jamboree 50th Anniversary in Lamont.

A packed audience at the Lamont Rec Centre helped to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the Legion in Lamont. This event on Saturday evening was attended by many representatives from Legion branches in surrounding areas.

Sunday afternoon, the Rivercourt Lodge celebrated its 10th Anniversary. Congratulations to Mrs. Leckie and her dedicated staff on their milestone

Not just 2% foreign owned

Commenting on the report of the Land Use Forum, National Farmers Union Regional Co-ordinator Bill Dascavich said today that the report fails to come to grips with the problem of accelerating takeover of farm land by foreign interests.

The report that foreigners have acquired only about about two percent of our farm lands is misleading because the percentage is based on total area of the province rather than the percentage of prime arable land, which according to the committees own figures, comprises of only about 17 percent of total land area of Alberta.

The view that ownership by foreigners is not important because food production in Alberta is controlled through marketing boards is also misleading, because many farm commodities are produced and marketed without regulation. In light of the current attack on orderly marketing, the threat of control of food production by foreigners either through ownership of the means of production or through contracting is not acequately dealt with by the report.

Holden School has 'night'

"Education - How do you see it?" was the theme on Tuesday of last week when Holden teachers and pupils observed Education Week.

Musical presentations by grades four, seven and eight entertained parents and pupils alike. A typing competition and a video tape presentation, of what goes on in different areas of the curriculm, attracted many visitors. Continuous physical education activities in the gym illustrated various skills taught in classes.

Six elementary pupils received ribbons, for an essay competition, and the right to be "Principal for a day".

Ryley district news

Lena Reil

John and Elvera Reil of Tofield spent Sunday visiting with the E. Reil's, and the report on their months holiday to Nebraska and Oklahoma was most interesting.

Dennis Boettger was the guest speaker at the Salem Mennonite Church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Johannie Fish visited with their daughter Mrs. Joyce Patrick and family of Hinton.

Many of us will remember the blizzard we had March 16, 1951 which left huge drifts and many unable to get out on roads. Several homes had to have their steps shovelled open by neighbors so they could open their storm doors.

Mrs. Myrtle Murray of Camrose visited with her uncle, Elmer Anderson and Kathleen, on Sunday.

Mrs. G. Kast is a patient in an Edmonton hospital.

Morley Anderson is a patient in Tofield Hospital.

A very interesting interview took place on CJCA Radio last week on "open line" in the morning between Rodney Knudshen and John Hamlin, about Rodney's stay in Isreal last year.

Don Norland called on his uncle, Stan Hynko and Ida, last Saturday. He had the misfortune of breaking his arm some time ago.

The $250.00 Cash Bingo which was to be held in the Ryley School gym on March 3 was postponed to Wednesday, March 24.

It will be 66 years ago March 11 that the Reil family arrived at Tofield. They made their home on a Kallal farm, later owned by Thomas Jacobs. Then they moved to a farm southwest of Ryley.

Omitted from last week: Five ladies from Ryley, Mrs. Precht, Mrs. Sorenson, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Robby, and Mrs. Boggs enjoyed a day's retreat held in the Bardo Lutheran Church Tofield recently. Twenty-five ladies attended.

Anyone with news items, ads, etc., can phone 663-3773. News is picked up Tuesday morning.

The Ryley Bethel Lutheran Church Women met March 5th for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. L. Wickstrom presided in the absence of Mrs. H. Berke. Mrs. A Adams led in opening prayer, followed by Mrs. L. Wickstrom conducting the Bible study. Mrs. W. Pope read the offering [illegible]

Business meeting followed on March 22nd, the annual Waffle Day, sewing, and home baking sale will be held in the dining room commencing at 11:30 and serving until 5 p.m. on March 17th, a Mission Night will be held in the church with a guest missionary speaking.

Lunch will be served following the service. Mrs. C. Sorenson was hostess and served lunch.

NOTHING TO DO?

It seems that colds and flu are making the rounds once again. I have heard a number of mothers talk about the difficulty of keeping children amused when they are ill. Perhaps as winter months drag on, your children are suffering from the "nothing to do" doldrums. The following column, written by Jan Williams-Russel, District Home Economist, at Stettler may give you some good tips.

"What To Do When There's Nothing To Do" is a book written for parents by the Boston Children's Hospital Family Health Unit. When you come to the question, "What can I do with my bored child cooped up in the house when it's too cold outside to play?", here is an idea for winter [illegible]

The long waits at the dentist's office or the child sick at home in bed or even a special occasion when visiting at someone's home where few toys are available can be trying for a child who must amuse himself. How about making a surprise bag.

To make a surprise bag and comfort bag, a paper shopping bag is ideal. Write your child's name on the outside with a marking pencil and then shellac the bag inside and out to make it waterproof and more durable. Or, use an airline's tote bag or a plastic coated shopping bag. Manila envelopes of various sizes may be stapled to the inside of the bag to keep the contents from becoming a jumble. Into one of these, tuck a few jiffy towels or wash'n' dry packets. They'll be useful for sticky faces and fingers. It's best to have a special bag for each child.

What to put in: Keep the surprise bag filled and ready for service. You may want it in a hurry. It isn't necessary to buy anything; if your child hasn't seen an old toy for a while, it will be new to him. An old pocketbook filled with junk is fun, and so are sheets of unused Christmas or Easter seals to stick on blank paper. A half-used roll of scotch tape and some scraps of colored construction paper and scissors can often occupy a child for a long time, or an old pack of playing cards to sort. What you keep in the bag obviously depends on your child's age and his special interest. It is best, however, to avoid noisy toys or things that roll away or which might annoy other people. Dry finger foods like cereal or raisins are good, but chocolate smears and soft fruits get squashed. When you are shopping, keep an eye open for little surprises that you can add to the bag.

Some good things for the surprise bag:

Playing Cards (for sorting and building), bean bag, flannel board and scraps of flannel, wooden cheese boxes with lids, and something inside (empty walnut shells for instance), pipe cleaners, magic markers (washable) thick crayons and pad of paper, blunt scissors, scotch tape, magnet, miniature doll family, old pocketbook with old keys, costume jewellery, handkerchief, etc., sewing cards and yarn (unsafe for travel), magnifying glass, small animals and cars, pick-up sticks (unsafe for travel), gummed labels, stamps and paper shapes, stars, moon, etc., coloured construction paper, magic slate, colouring book, doctor or nurse kit, small boxes of raisins and dry cereal.

"Comfort toys": If you are going out, be sure to slip in one or two of your child's favourite and familiar toys just before you leave. At each age, a child will cling to some toys which he especially cherishes - - a teddy bear, an old blanket. In a strange or unsettling circumstance, these familiar things are especially comforting for they are the child's link with home. These are the "Comfort toys".

The Surprise Bag at Home: If your child is sad or seems "at loose ends", pick out one toy that might seem new and special. This often saves a blue day. Or, if you are leaving him with a new babysitter, let him close his eyes and dip into the bag for a "surprise". If he is sick in bed, pin the whole bag to the side of the bed, but keep only a few toys in at a time. You can exchange toys as the day goes on, thus producing new "surprises" throughout the day.

Gill re-elected horse club prexy

The Beaverhill Light Horse Association held their annual meeting on March 7 at the Tofield Arena with president, Shirley Gill, in the chair

The financial statement was then given by the secretary-treasurer, Vern Vatnsdrodt.

Gymkanas will be set for every second Sunday of the month. The booth for gymkanas will be run by volunteer workers again, with the secretary-treasurer doing the ordering.

New business discussed was the Agriculture Fair. Dennis Lawson moved if we were asked to participate, we should have the Horse Show the first day and our trophy day gymkana on the second day. Helen Gray moved we have the executive meet with the Agriculture Society and set up the horse show.

The club is sponsoring a Ice Carnival Queen candidate again this year, Bonnie Watt.

It was also decided a few of the members go look over the grounds to see what we have to do for improvements.

Last on the agenda was the election of new officers.

Festival plans about finalized

Much of the planning was finalized for the holding of the annual arts and music festival by the Arts and Music Committee at a meeting last week.

It was decided that the festival would be held in three locations in Ryley, at the Community Hall, Legion Hall, and Ryley School. It was also decided to check and see if the village council room was available if it should be needed

A letter from W.H. Kasna, assistant deputy minister of Culture, indicated that he would attend to present ribbons to the winners

Members were told that Madge McCready would judge choruses, and voice competitions while Jim Wesley would judge photography entries.

Deadlines were established for submission of entries in the different classes of competition.

Four more public meetings have been scheduled to discuss recreation needs of the area over the next five years.

The next meeting will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Bruce Hall. Holden's meeting will go on March 22nd, while a meeting in Ryley will be held on March 24th, and a session in Tofield has been scheduled for March 29th. for farmers who want to grow wheat barley flax rape

"As I See It"

Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A., Clover Bar

During the past week, legislative debate has centred around the Speech from the Throne.

Opposition Leader, Bob Clark, concentrated his comments on the fact the government appears to have lost its initiative. It is failing to come to grips with problems facing individual Albertans, particularly in the social field.

Mr. Clark based his comments on three major issues. They include the seeming inability of the government to practice restraint in any areas other than those where some other level of local government has to answer for it - namely, school and municipal councils, universities, colleges and hospital boards. He also the Heritage Savings Trust Fund is an admirable idea, but stresses that the Legislature - - not an investment Committee of Cabinet - - must have the authority to approve any investments made for the future. Mr. Clark also challenged the government to take action in dealing with the problems created by a huge and unwieldy bureaucracy.

Mr Clark referred to the Alberta government's lack of sensitivity to "people problems", its habit of referring to those who disagree with government policy as being "anti-Albertan" and its lack of consultation on important issues as a display of "Nixonian attitude".

Real problems within the Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institution were highlighted this week. Solicitor-General Roy Farran outlined the 2 million dollar renovation program for the jail, saying the renovations - - to be completed in a few weeks - - and completion of the Remand Centre in Edmonton in 1978 - - will alleviate the problem. What are the solutions to the problems in the meantime? In my view, we need more staff with equitable pay and a bolstering of morale, coupled with a comprehensive rehabilitation program within the Institution.

Renovations will do little to assist morale or cut down on escape attempts. Something constructive must be done NOW!

Change entry fees to national parks

Vehicle entry fees to national parks have been adjusted and others eliminated by Jodd Buchanan, minister of Indian and Northern Affairs.

William Turnbull, director of Parks Canada's western region, said the 1976 fee structure has been strongly influenced by the federal government's anti-inflation program which is aimed at encouraging economic restraint and avoiding unnecessary price increases.

Mr Turnbull said that starting April 1

, All fees for trailers have been eliminated.

Fees for commercial vehicles have been eliminated with the sole exception of charter buses which will still pay a fee

Through traffic on the Trans Canada Highway, Banff Windermere and the Yellowhead Highway will continue to travel without fees being levied.

Citizens over 65 will receive free stickers for their vehicles.

This year's $2 sticker will entitle the holder to visits lasting up to four days.

A new $1 sticker is being introduced for one-day visits.

Established fees for such facilities as camping, golfing, swimming and fishing will be unchanged.

The $10 annual vehicle permit providing access to any national park in Canada remains.

These charges will apply to motor vehicles entering national parks.

The practice of not charging visitors entering on foot, by bicycle, boat or horseback will continue, Mr Turnbull said

He added that vehicle entry fees would not apply at Pacific Rim National Park on Vancouver Island because that park is still under development.

Mr Turnbull said the one-dollar vehicle fee for one-day visitors is specifically directed at encouraging family visits to national parks. "The $2 permit is ideally suited to weekend visits and long weekend holidays."

Mr Turnbull said the government has approved free stickers for Canadian citizens aged 65 and over.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

1. Introduction to power planning

High on the list of local topics for the past 18 months, the Camrose-Ryley Project is the result of more than seven years of research into Alberta's existing and future electric power supply sources.

Agents of Alberta's electrical utilities (and representatives of the provincial government) must continually address themselves to the problems associated with keeping up to the demand for electricity by every Albertan. It's a challenge that involves new problems, requires new solutions to old problems and an innovative approach toward planning and executing orderly and timely development.

The question "Why?" has been answered by the Electric Utilities Planning Council. The EUPC is an advisory body consisting of representatives of the electric utility industry and observers from government agencies.

When the EUPC was formed in 1972, a study was undertaken to forecast the province's power needs to the year 2000. That's the first step in the long range planning process that can take as much as 13 years to completion of the first unit in a new power plant.

With the forecast estimated to the year 2000, the Planning Council proceeded to evaluate more than a dozen alternatives for new power generation. They eventually identified six sites that should receive in-depth studies.

The criteria guiding the EUPC in their assessments included the provincial government's policy preference for coal over natural gas as a fuel for electric generation, the economics of development, as well as social environmental impacts upon a given area.

In 1974, the EUPC completed the second study phase and concluded with the recommendation that the most desirable source for new power generation was the Camrose-Ryley site area of east central Alberta. The site was identified to have coal reserves to supply a generating station large enough to meet the increasing demand for power in Alberta from 1982 to 1986, and continuing to play a vital role in the provincial power supply network to the year 2015 and beyond.

Calgary Power Ltd. and CanPac Minerals limited, two Calgary-based companies with no intercorporate ties, responded to the EUPC recommendations by continuing the site studies and applying to the Energy Resources Conservation Board for approvals to develop the plant and coal mine.

The studies undertaken by both companies involve investigations into more than 15 areas of impact. These studies were filed with applications to the ERCB and form the bulk of the 11 volumes submitted.

The Camrose-Ryley Project, if approved by the provincial government, will supply power to the whole province, but due to the wide service area and large load served by Calgary Power, the company undertook the responsibility and obligations to develop and operate this project.

The project itself involves 10 years of construction on a 2,250,000 kilowatt plant (six 375,000 kw units) and a 35,000 acre coal field that will yield a total of about 300 million tons of coal. In 1986, when the plant is completed, the annual coal production of 10 million tons will match Alberta's total coal production today. The power plant will require a cooling pond and 90 miles of water supply and return pipelines.

The estimated cost of this project, that will see more than 500 permanent jobs created (mine-400 plus, plant-110) is $2.6 billion, assuming that inflation rates continue at the level being experienced today. If inflation was reduced to zero, the power plant alone would cost in the order of [illegible]

Next week, a review of the planning and regulatory processes that are involved when introducing a new development such as the Camrose-Ryley Project.

Holden Beavers have 'presentation night'

The Holden Beavers Hockey Club joined a sellout community crowd at a recent supper and dance to kick-off "Player Presentation Night."

The supper was very delicious, being catered by the ladies of the Agricultural Society. The music for the dance was provided by Johnny's Serenaders.

Ben Lutz, an excellent master of ceremonies, kept the crowd in stitches throughout supper which was followed by the presentation of trophies to the outstanding players.

The first trophies presented were to the "Old-Timers" hockey club, and went as follows: "Most Valuable Player" - John Wieb, trophy donated by Hilltop Construction Ltd.; the second category was "High Scorer" - Roger Hurum, donated by Good's Transport; the third category was "Most Dedicated Player" - Lawrence Hrabec - donated by [illegible] Welding.

The presentation of trophies to the Holden Beavers Senior Hockey Club proceeded as follows: "Most Valuable Player" - John Campbell, donated by Good's Transport; "Highest Scorer" - John Campbell - donated by the Holden Hotel; "Rookie of the Year" - Andy Chamberlain - donated by Rusnak's General Store; "Most Sportsmanlike Player" - Chris Cooper - donated by the Country Kitchen; "Best Defenseman" - Don Gabrysh - donated by Jack's Esso Garage; "Most Perseverant Player" - Gary Macyk - donated by the M and M Store; "Most Improved Player" - Gordon Puk - donated by Marg and Hilmer Olsen; "Most Dedicated Player" - Wayne Banach - donated by Lysio Motors; last but not least, the team "Mascot" Darrin Banack - donated by the club.

The players presented trophies to three men who worked very hard to keep the team rolling, and who also never missed a home or away game. The trophies were presented by Gary Macyk to Joe Komarnisky, Lud Banack and Ken Chamberlain. Just to show the extent of these gentlemen's worth to the hockey team, the club also presented trophies to Joe, Lud and Ken, as their thanks for a job well done.

The presentation ceremonies over, the party went in to full swing, and a great time was had by all.

"As I See It"

By Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A. Clover Bar

A.D.C. Loans

As attempt last week to secure information for members of the Legislature regarding loans through the Agricultural Development Corporation was unsuccessful.

It looks like I stirred up a hornet's nest on this issue. The precedent for getting information on the loans was established when identical information was supplied by the Alberta Opportunity Company. Both the A.O.C. and A.D.C. are publicly funded. Therefore I believe A.D.C. transactions should be open to the Legislature.

If there is even a remote possibility that some A.D.C. transactions may not be conducted on sound business practices, the Legislature has the right to know and make judgments on the information. I think the information should be made available to remove any cloud of suspicion from the A.D.C.'s operations.

Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institution

I have called for a judicial inquiry into operations of the Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institution. I believe the problems at the institution are of such a nature that a judicial inquiry is needed to solve them. Lack of direction from the top causing morale problems among the staff is a serious situation. The wave of liberalism has given prisoners more rights than the custodians. That is a more serious problem by far than the "lame duck" excuse of overcrowding given by some officials.

Constituents having problems or who wish to make suggestions and comments please write my office 304 Legislative Building or phone 427-2231.

PASTA PERFECT:

I've noticed when doing nutrition programs that the word 'pasta' is not familiar to many people. AGRICULTURE CANADA sent the following information on 'pasta'.

"Pasta" is a general term and is used to describe all the varieties of macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. Durum Wheat is essential to the manufacturer of quality pasta products. This variety of wheat, high in gluten, makes a product that holds its shape when cooked and gives it a delicate flavour and golden amber colour. Durum Wheat comes from the West, and when it is milled, the inner portion of the kernel breaks up into small granules similar to table salt, called semolina. Water is mixed with semolina to make a stiff dough. In the case of egg noodles, egg yolks are added to the dough in order to fulfill government regulations for 4 per cent egg solids.

Pasta products are especially helpful menu items because their calorie contribution can be varied easily. By themselves, they are relatively low in calories (the cooked product contains about 155 calories per cup). It is the type of sauce which is combined with pasta that greatly affects the calorie content of this staple food. In the dry form it contains about 80 per cent carbohydrate which is highly digestible and helps provide food energy.

Dry pasta contains approximately 13 per cent protein. When served with cheese, meat, fish, poultry or eggs, these combinations provide an excellent source of high quality protein. The low fat content (approximately 0.7 per cent) is of vegetable origin. Thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron may be added to many products to provide nutritional balance. Check labels carefully for enriched products.

Pasta products come in more than one hundred different shapes.

They can be classified in five groups:

1) long goods - such as spaghetti, spaghettini, long macaroni.

2) short goods - such as ready cut macaroni, elbows.

3) noodles - such as fine, medium, broad, with egg or plain.

4) soup base - such as alphabet, oats, stars, rings.

5) fancy varieties - such as sea shells, (maruzzelle), bows (fettucelle), rigatoni, lasagna and manicotti.

Pasta products should be stored in their original package. They will last almost indefinitely, if they are kept tightly covered and away from moisture.

Pasta products cook quickly and easily. It can be combined with many different foods and is the basis of many a casserole dish. Next time you are in the supermarket, take a look at the variety of pasta products available. Why not try a different one?

SAWDUST AS CATTLE FEED

A method of treating sawdust to make it a nutritional and edible winter feed for beef cattle is being perfected by an animal nutritionist at the Agriculture Canada Kamloops, B.C., Research Station.

The value of sawdust as feed all depends on the proper cooking method, says the nutritionist.

Boettger - DeLapp

The wedding of Marilyn DeLapp, daughter of Wesley and Diane DeLapp of Salem Oregon, to Don Boettger, son Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Boettger of Kingman, took place on Dec. 20th at Kingwood Bible Church in Salem with Rev. Harold Boettger officiating. The newlyweds are residing on a farm near Kingman.

Sirloin or sludge?

Beefsteak from sewage sludge? What a disgusting thought! But in Australia, an enterprising cattle-farm manager matter of factly recycles into food nine-tenths of the sludge produced by the city of Melbourne (pop. 2,300,000). This is the sludge that feeds the land that grows the grass that fattens the Herefords that puts steak on Australian dinner tables.

At a study day held recently in Burlington, Ontario, James McPherson described to 50 environmental scientists how on the 27,000 acre Werribee Farm just outside Melbourne the local Board of Works raises cattle and sheep on sludge-fertilized grass - - a two-and-a-half-million dollar a year operation.

The sludge goes directly onto the land without requiring costly treatment. But ... is the meat produced really fit for human consumption? "Certainly", says Mr McPherson, showing color slides of beautiful fat-marbled T bone steaks to reinforce his opinion. True there was that brief unpleasantness back in the '30s when Werribee cattle developed human-type tapeworms, but nobody's perfect. Today the cattle meet all health safety rules.

But. What about cadmium in the sludge? Environmental scientists know there is cadmium in human waste and strongly suspect it's a threat to health. Might not cadmium be taken in by the grass and concentrated in the beef?

"We're beginning to look at that", says Mr. McPherson, adding wistfully, "In the early times, everything went so well and nobody was worried."

Still, if sludge-fed sirloin should catch on in Canada in a big way, one can only hope the Australian studies will give a green light on the effects of cadmium on humans.

As it stands, some Canadian farmers empty their septic tanks and spread the human waste on their fields as a huge saving on fertilizer. Perhaps we should not leave it to the Australians to find out about the cadmium.

Jack Mitansky, of the Motor Transport Branch of the Department of Transportation attended the meeting at this time. He requested information from the Council as to how they would prefer to handle overload permits for loads hauled on roads in the County of Beaver. After a considerable discussion it was moved that the person to contact would be Gerald Allott, Public Works Foreman, who could contact the Crs. in each area as to whether or not overloads would be permitted and on which roads they would be allowed.

Moved that the membership fee to the Hudson Bay Route Association be tabled until grants for individuals be dealt with after the budget is set.

Correspondence from the Provincial Planning Branch advised that the subdivision in the N.E. 27-50-20-W4th has been refused by the Planning Branch.

A letter from Dick Wilson, of Calgary Power Ltd., in regard to the Camrose-Ryley Power Project, was read. The letter indicated that they are prepared to meet with the Council at any time. A map of the proposed site was also attached.

A report of a meeting between Calgary Power Ltd., Can Pac Minerals Ltd., and the County of Camrose had been forwarded by Torchinsky Consulting Ltd. Part of this letter referred to the Secondary Road 854 from Highway 14, south of Ryley. This road would run through the proposed power project. From the report, it appeared that the concensus of opinion was that this road should be constructed regardless of whether or not the approval for the project is given.

A letter from Mr Robertson, Secretary-treasurer of the County of Flagstaff, advised that a road study meeting would be held at the County Office in Sedgewick on March 15th. Moved that Crs. Kaudalien and Kropielnicki be authorized to be our official delegate at this meeting, and that any of the other Crs. who could, should attend.

A letter from the Provincial Planning Branch in regard to the proposed subdivision in the E½ 7-51-19-W4 had been approved.

A petition from residents of the Islet Lake Subdivision was read at this time. Several problems were outlined in the letter, in regard to roads in the area. Moved that this correspondence be received and filed and referred to Cr. Sears for his disposition of the petition.

The matter of the Preventative Social Services Program for the County of Beaver and the Towns and Villages within the County was discussed. A meeting had been held at which only the representatives from the County Council and the Town of Viking attended. The recommendation from the meeting was that the services that could be provided by a Preventative Social Service Program should be advertised, and that if there is sufficient request from residents in the area to their respective Councils, that it be looked at again. The Council felt that this is as far as they wish to go.

County Council briefs

at this time. They would do the advertising and call a meeting after some indication if people are interested was ascertained. Moved that we do the advertising in regard to this Preventative Social Service Program.

A letter from Ed Borton requested permission of the County Council to trap beaver and muskrat on roads in the County. Moved that trapping privileges on road allowances in the County be left to each individual Councillor.

A request for a powerline extension by Calgary Power in the S.W. 10-50-20-W4th was presented. Moved that we have no objection to this powerline extension.

A letter from Union Tractor Ltd. advised that a school for mechanics will be held at the Riviera Motor Hotel on March 18th and 19th. Moved that Gerald Albert and one or two of the mechanics be authorized to attend this school.

The problem of tax collection in the County of Beaver was discussed. Our tax collections at the end of 1975 were considerably less than those at the end of 1974. As a result, the County had not been able to pay off the balance of their loans leaving a fairly substantial loan outstanding on December 31st, 1975. It appeared that people were leaving their taxes until just before the penalty goes on, in order to collect interest on their accounts rather than pay the taxes. It was suggested that a change in the tax penalty would rectify this situation, and that a penalty should be applied before the end of December in the year the taxes are levied, in order to collect as much of the tax levy in the year that it is put on. It was also mentioned that the allowable tax penalty is now 12 percent. It was decided by the Council that some change had to be made in the tax penalty by-law, and that the penalty rate should be applied on the 15th of December and that the rate should be 10 percent.

By-Law No. 426 was presented. First reading Moved. Second reading Moved. Moved that third reading be given at this time. Third reading Moved and carried.

Moved that Crs. Knudslien, Brissard and Ewanuk be appointed to the Disaster Services Committee for the County of [illegible].

An account from Lamco Gas Co-op Ltd. for the cost of moving their pipeline along Secondary Road 834 North of Tofield was presented. As part of this pipeline is in the County of Lamont it was Moved that this account be referred to Torchinsky Consulting Ltd. to ascertain the amount that is required from the County of [illegible].

An account from Alberta Power Ltd. was presented. The account was for payment of moving some powerline posts in the corner of the S.W. 18-50-14 and the S.E. 13-50-15. The total bill was for $1,096.47 and the County of Minburn advised that they would pay half of this cost of moving these powerline poles as the road in question is the responsibility of the County of Minburn it was Moved that the County of Beaver not pay [illegible].

A request from Donald Tiedemann for an easement on the road South of the S.W. 18-51-19-W4th was presented. This road is unused and apparently a garage has been built on he road allowance. As the road is not, and probably will not be, required for County use the Council felt that this road should probably be closed, but in the meantime Mr. Tiedemann be allowed to keep his garage on the road allowance. Moved that the easement be granted on this road and that the Council advertise that the County intends to pass a by-law closing this road.

A letter from R.R. Erickson, Deputy Director of Planning, indicated that the Provincial Planning Branch is becoming concerned with all of the subdivision activity in the County of Beaver. They felt that as we do not have any development control that we should discontinue the approval of any subdivisions until some development control is adopted by the County Council. The letter indicated that there are a number of subdivisions already approved in the area, that have not been developed and that there is no shortage of lots for development at the present time. Moved that no subdivision approvals be given for six months in order to establish a development control by-law, except under certain circumstances, farm sites could be approved for removal from an existing farm, if these are not required in the farming operation.

Moved that the subdivision in the S.W. 13-48-13-W4 be approved, as this does not effect the regular subdivision approvals.

Moved that request for subdivision in NE 31-50-20-W4 be refused in view of the council's decision to restrict subdivisions.

Moved that the request for subdivision in N.E. 12-51-20-W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for subdivision in the N.W. 22-50-20-W4 be [illegible].

Moved that the request for subdivision in the N.W. 8-48-12-W4 be approved, as this is the removal of [illegible].

A letter from the Department of Consumer Affairs Licensing Branch requested the County Council's advice as to whether or not approval should be given to Richard Budinski to operate a retail outlet for Electric Motors. Moved that we approve the request for this [illegible].

The 1976 requisitions from Vialta Lodge was presented. The requisition was for $17,298.73. Moved that this requisition be paid.

A letter from Bryson Stone, owner of a parcel in the S.E. 31-51-19-W4th, requested permission of the Council to lease the road allowance on the East side of this parcel. Moved that we do not lease this road allowance.

A Preliminary Agreement for removal of brush in a corner of a road allowance in the S.W. 1-49-17-W4th was presented. The land being owned by S.A. Sorenson. The Preliminary Agreement indicated that we wished permission to enter the land to remove the brush and that there would be no expense either to the County or to Mr. Sorenson. Moved that this Preliminary Agreement be approved.

Preliminary Agreements on Secondary Road 854 South of Ryley were presented. Moved that these Preliminary Agreements be held until we find out from the Department of Transportation if we can proceed with construction of this road in view of the application for development of the power project in this area.

The Secretary-treasurer advised that he had been contacted by a representative from the Tofield Unifarm in regard to the conduct of the annual meeting. It was felt by this Association that rather than go through all of the financial statement reports that some discussion time be allowed for the questioning of policies of the County Council and the School Committee. They suggested that these financial statements can be discussed in a much shorter time, leaving more time for discussion. The secretary-treasurer advised that he had told these people that the annual meeting is a ratepayers meeting and it is up to the ratepayers to decide the conduct of the meeting.

A requisition had been received from Battle River Tourist Association in the amount of $261.90. The Council felt they are not getting much value from this Association. The secretary-treasurer advised that they have requested permission to attend a Council Meeting and that he has given them a time at the April meeting. Moved that this requisition be tabled until we have a chance to discuss the operation of the Tourist Association.

A request from the Municipal Financing Corporation for a representative to attend the annual meeting to be held on April 12th was presented. Moved that Cr. Knudslien be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Alberta Municipal Finance Corporation on behalf of the County of Beaver No. 9.

Cr. Knudslien advised that he had resigned from the Regional Recreation Board, and that another member should be appointed at this time. Moved that Cr. Brissard be appointed as representative to the Regional Recreation Board.

at this time. They would do the advertising and call a meeting after some indication if people are interested was ascertained. Moved that we do the advertising in regard to this Preventative Social Service Program.

A letter from Ed Boeton requested permission of the County Council to trap beaver and muskrat on roads in the County. Moved that trapping privileges on road allowances in the County be left to each individual Councillor.

A request for a powerline extension by Calgary Power in the S.W. 10-50-20-W4th was presented. Moved that we have no objection to this powerline extension.

A letter from Union Tractor Ltd. advised that a school for mechanics will be held at the Riviera Motor Hotel on March 18th and 19th. Moved that Gerald Allott and one or two of the mechanics be authorized to attend this school.

The problem of tax collection in the County of Beaver was discussed. Our tax collections at the end of 1975 were considerably less than those at the end of 1974. As a result, the County had not been able to pay off the balance of their loans leaving a fairly substantial loan outstanding on December 31st, 1975. It appeared that people were leaving their taxes until just before the penalty goes on, in order to collect interest on their accounts rather than pay the taxes. It was suggested that a change in the tax penalty would rectify this situation, and that a penalty should be applied before the end of December in the year the taxes are levied, in order to collect as much of the tax levy in the year that it is put on. It was also mentioned that the allowable tax penalty is now 12 percent. It was decided by the Council that some change had to be made in the tax penalty by-law, and that the penalty rate should be applied on the 15th of December and that the rate should be 10 percent.

By-Law No. 426 was presented: First reading Moved; Second reading Moved; Moved that third reading be given at this time; Third reading Moved and carried.

Moved that Crs. Knudslien, Brinnard and Ewasiuk be appointed to the Disaster Services Committee for the County of Beaver No. 9.

An account from Lamco Gas Co-op Ltd. for the cost of moving their pipeline along Secondary Road 834 North of Tofield was presented. As part of this pipeline is in the County of Lamont it was Moved that this account be referred to Torchinsky Consulting Ltd. to ascertain the amount that is required from the County of Beaver.

An account from Alberta Power Ltd. was presented. The account was for payment of moving some powerline posts in the corner of the S.W. 18-50-14 and the S.E. 13-50-15. The total bill was for $1,096.47 and the County of Minburn advised that they would pay half of the cost of moving these powerline poles as the road in question is the responsibility of the County of Minburn it was Moved that the County of Beaver not pay this account.

A request from Donald Tiedemann for an easement on the road South of the S.W. 18-51-19-W4th was presented. This road is unused and apparently a garage has been built on the road allowance. As the road is not, and probably will not be, required for County use the Council felt that this road should probably be closed, but in the meantime Mr. Tiedemann be allowed to keep his garage on the road allowance. Moved that the easement be granted on this road and that the Council advertise that the County intends to pass a by-law closing this road.

A letter from B.B. Erickson, Deputy Director of Planning, indicated that the Provincial Planning Branch is becoming concerned with all of the subdivision activity in the County of Beaver. They felt that as we do not have any development control that we should discontinue the approval of any subdivisions until some development control is adopted by the County Council. The letter indicated that there are a number of subdivisions already approved in the area, that have not been developed and that there is no shortage of lots for development at the present time. Moved that no subdivision approvals be given for six months in order to establish a development control by-law, except under certain circumstances, farm sites could be approved for removal from an existing farm, if these are not required in the farming operation.

Moved that the subdivision in the S.W. 13-48-13-W4 be approved, as this does not affect the regular subdivision approvals.

Moved that request for subdivision in NE 31-50-20-W4 be refused in view of the council's decision to restrict subdivisions.

Moved that the request for subdivision in N.E. 12-51-20-W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for subdivision in the N.W. 22-50-20-W4 be refused.

Moved that the request for subdivision in the N.W. 8-48-12-W4 be approved, as this is the removal of [illegible]

A letter from the Department of Consumer Affairs Licensing Branch requested the County Council's advice as to whether or not approval should be given to Richard Budinski to operate a retail outlet for Electric Motors. Moved that we approve the request for this business.

The 1976 requisitions from Vialta Lodge was presented. The requisition was for $17,291.73. Moved that this requisition be paid.

A letter from Bryson Stone, owner of a parcel in the S.E. 31-50-19-W4th, requested [illegible] of the Council to lease the road allowance on the East side of this parcel. Moved that we do not lease this road allowance.

A Preliminary Agreement for removal of brush in a corner of a road allowance in the S.W. 1-49-17-W4th was presented. The land being owned by E.A. Sorenson. The Preliminary Agreement indicated that we wished permission to enter the land to remove the brush and that there would be no expense either to the County or to Mr. Sorenson. Moved that this Preliminary Agreement be approved.

Preliminary Agreements on Secondary Road 854 South of Ryley were presented. Moved that these Preliminary Agreements be held until we find out from the Department of Transportation if we can proceed with construction of this [illegible] application for development of [illegible] power project in this area.

The Secretary-treasurer advised that he had been contacted by a representative from the Tofield Unifarm in regard to the conduct of the annual meeting. It was felt by this Association that rather than go through all of the financial statement reports that some discussion time be allowed for the questioning of policies of the County Council and the School Committee. They suggested that these financial statements can be discussed in a much shorter time, leaving more time for discussion. The secretary-treasurer advised that he had told these people that the annual meeting is a ratepayers meeting and it is up to the ratepayers to decide the conduct of the meeting.

A requisition had been received from Battle River Tourist Association in the amount of $261.90. The Council felt they are not getting much value from this Association. The secretary-treasurer advised that they have requested permission to attend a Council Meeting and that he has given them a time at the April meeting. Moved that this requisition be tabled until we [illegible] a chance to discuss the operation of the [illegible].

A request from the Municipal Financing Corporation for a representative to attend the annual meeting to be held on April 12th was presented. Moved that Cr. Knudslien be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Alberta Municipal Finance Corporation on behalf of the County of Beaver No. 9.

Cr. Knudslien advised that he had resigned from the Regional Recreation Board, and that another member should be appointed at this time. Moved that Cr. Brinnard be appointed as representative to the Regional Recreation Board.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—to assure, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

Planning future power supplies

Second in a Series

When this column was introduced last week the research and preliminary investigations done by the advisory group (Electric Utility Planning Council), were outlined. The EUPC forecasts Alberta's future power demands and assesses the potential generating alternatives to meet that demand.

This week the steps that follow as EUPC recommendation will be reviewed to give some idea of both the planning and regulatory processes that are involved in bringing a new electric generating station onstream in Alberta. Even though the Camrose Ryley Project is used as illustration, the principles generally apply for any other coal fired unit in the Province.

Once the Electric Utility Planning Council recommends the ideal site for new generation one of the member industries assumes the responsibility to conduct further studies on the site and prepare an application to the Energy Resources Conservation Board.

In this particular case both Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals Limited commissioned more than 15 studies for the Camrose Ryley Project with these studies included in the formal application to the Energy Board. These studies assessed economic, environmental and social impact.

The ERCB usually conveys the report taking with governmental departments to advise the applicants of "deficiencies", or those portions of the application and data which require further elaboration. The Energy Board will then decide on dates and location of public hearings, and publishes those decisions in the form of newspaper advertisements.

The companies who filed the application will then release complete copies of the application to groups of persons who have an interest in the project, so they may study the application with a view to intervening at the public hearings—making their views known either in favour of or against the project (some may simply wish to express reservations about certain aspects of the proposal).

Once the hearings have been held and opinions registered with the Energy Board, the Board and its staff then complete their reviews and formulate a recommendation.

Some of the activities that the Companies have undertaken and will be undertaking in 1976 to ensure commissioning of the first generator at the plant in 1982 are worthy of review. Since it is unlikely the project will be approved during 1976, these activities are being carried out at the financial risk of the two companies.

When Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals announced their respective applications to the Energy Board on November 18, 1975 the two companies decided to establish an Information Centre next to the project site in order to provide facts and background on the proposed development.

A land agent was assigned to the project to meet with landowners who would be initially affected by the early stages of the project to discuss how the project would affect them and how their individual and particular concerns could be accommodated. The land agent was also empowered to buy land and the Companies have taken the position that any land purchased would be sold back to the original landowner, or to adjacent farmers, if the project does not get the green light.

Several thousand tons of coal must be extracted from different areas on the mine this year for test burns. These tests will facilitate the orderly planning and design of the huge power plant boilers, so they can be installed at the proper time during the construction sequence once the project is approved. These tests will also affect areas of the coal field will provide coal of inferior quality to assure proper boiler designs. They will also provide the opportunity for continued practical research and development.

In closing this column which deals with 1976 activities, it is worthwhile noting that by the end of 1976 some 7 years of research and planning as well as several million dollars will have been spent on the project.

NEXT WEEK: Construction activity and employment opportunities.

The Tofield Skating Club has once again produced an example of excellent entertainment. "Alice in Wonderland", the fourth annual skating carnival, was presented March 27 and 28 in the Arena to appreciative audiences.

Over 120 children participated in the fantasy, the culmination of a winter's hard work and practice sessions.

The presentation of the Canadian flag by Tim Donnan and of the club banner by Marlin Whillans and Wayne Burton was followed by the mysterious appearance of a large white rabbit. He hurried across the ice carrying an enormous watch and crying "I'm late, I'm late!" And so he must have been, as he disappeared just as quickly and mysteriously.

The first chapters of Alice's story then began to unfold, as John Rhodes announced each segment of the program. The part of Alice was shared by different girls in each episode: Kelly Heigh, Nancy Neufeld, Rhonda Wiens, Roxy Rasmussen and Sandra Elias.

Alice followed the White Rabbit (in this case, Dane Robichaud) down a deep hole, where she found to her amazement, many smaller Alices and rabbits dancing about.

The next Wonderland creatures she encountered were charming knee-high mushrooms. As the pink mushrooms went on their way, they were followed by a very delightfully wiggly caterpillar.

Next, Alice experimented with mushroom tasting, growing larger and small by turns. She then met the eccentric Duchess (Brenda Williams) attended by her fishy footmen and finally enjoyed tea with the Mad Hatter, the March Hare and numerous small animals. Tweedledum and Tweedledee arrived to contribute a good laugh to the party. The soloists in this segment were Wayne Burton, Marlin Whillans, Darrell Schacher, and Stephen Donnan.

Just before the intermission the audiences were treated to a display of power skating.

Master of ceremonies Jack Lamplett spoke a few words of appreciation for the efforts of the club executive, the amateur coaches and the instructors. Skating Club president Mrs. Hope Heigh added her thanks to all those involved in any way with the success of the performances, before making presentations to instructors Glenis Simmons and Beverly Salomons, and to coaches Ray Brettschneider, Heather Allen, Ed Hlusiak, Linda Jensen, Kelley Heigh, Mina Krystal, Doug Naechtigall, Rhonda Wiens, Brenda Williams and Nancy Neufeld. Mrs. Heigh herself received a lovely bouquet and each of her assistants received a rose.

Next, Jack Lamplett introduced each one of the lovely Queen contestants, and their sponsor-escorts. After much suspense, he announced the winner of the Queen Contest Kelley Heigh. Last year's Queen, Dane Rose, crowned Kelley, and presented her with a bouquet and a gold necklace and bracelet. Presentations of roses and silver medallions were made to each of the princesses.

One last presentation revealed the identity of the Giant Mystery Rabbit as Ed Regehr received a plastic rabbit with carrot.

The winners in the ticket draw for silver dollars were: $15.00 - H.R. Webster, Edmonton; $10.00 - Toby Nussbaud, Tofield; $5.00 - B. Tomalcos, Edmonton.

The skating program resumed with an impressive solo performance by Gloria Sidebottom. Alice's Wonderland adventure continued in a magical, graceful garden of dancing flowers, butterflies and bees.

The dazzling Queen of Hearts then made her (their) appearance escorted by the King of Hearts and preceded and followed by lively soldiers orderly card-courtiers and big White Rabbit. Ed Hlusiak and Greg MacLeod played the parts of the royal couple.

An interesting mirror-duet followed. Alice watching her other self through an enormous centre ice Looking Glass (Linda Jensen and Judy Rudnicki). Sea-side creatures then arrived: a troupe of oysters dancing on the beach were followed by six real lobsters in a quadrille.

The finale, a colourful and flowing presentation, against the backdrop of brightly-painted Wonderland creatures, included all the Alices and other characters for the entire program. The skaters certainly did an impressive job of this adaptation of a famous children's classic.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—to ensure, as you as people live, when's looking your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

Planning future power supplies

Second in a Series

When this column was introduced last week the research and preliminary investigations done by the advisory group (Electric Utility Planning Council), were outlined. The EUPC forecasts Alberta's future power demands and assesses the potential generating alternatives to meet that demand.

This week the steps that follow an EUPC recommendation will be reviewed to give some idea of both the planning and regulatory processes that are involved in bringing a new electric generating station on-stream in Alberta. Even though the Camrose Ryley Project is used as illustration the principles generally apply for any other coal-fired site in the Province.

Once the Electric Utility Planning Council recommends the ideal site for new generation one of the member industries assumes the responsibility to conduct further studies on the site and prepare an application to the Energy Resources Conservation Board.

In this particular case, both Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals Limited commenced more than 15 studies for the Camrose Ryley Project, with these studies including in the formal application to the Energy Board. These studies assessed economic, environmental and social impact.

The ERCB initially assesses the report taking with government departments to advise the applicants of "deficiencies", or those portions of the application and data which require further elaboration. The Energy Board will then decide on dates and location of public hearings, and publishes these decisions in the form of newspaper advertisements.

The companies who filed the application will then release complete copies of the application to groups of persons who have an interest in the project, so they may study the application with a view to intervening at the public hearings—making their views known either in favour of, or against, the project. Some may simply wish to express reservations about certain aspects of the proposals.

Once the hearings have been held and opinions registered with the Energy Board, the Board and its staff then complete their reviews and formulate a recommendation.

Some of the activities that the Companies have undertaken and will be undertaking in 1976 to ensure commissioning of the first generator at the plant in 1982 are worthy of review. Since it is unlikely the project will be approved during 1976, these activities are being carried out at the financial risk of the two companies.

When Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals announced their respective applications to the Energy Board on November 18, 1975, the two companies decided to establish an Information Centre nest to the project site in order to provide facts and background on the proposed development.

A land agent was assigned to the project to meet with landowners who would be initially affected by the early stages of the project to discuss how the project would affect them and how their individual and particular concerns could be accommodated. The land agent was also empowered to buy land and the Companies have taken the position that any land purchased would be sold back to the original landowner or to adjacent farmers, if the property does not get the green light.

Several thousand tons of coal must be extracted from different areas on the mine this year for "test burns". These tests will facilitate the orderly planning and design of the huge power plant boilers, so they can be installed at the proper time during the construction sequence once the project is approved. These tests will also afford areas of the coal field will provide coal of different quality to assure proper boiler designs. They will also provide the opportunity for continuous practical research on land reclamation.

In closing this column which deals with 1976 activities, it is worthwhile noting that by the end of 1976 some 7 years of research and planning as well as several million dollars will have been spent on this project.

NEXT WEEK Construction activity and employment opportunities.

BUDGET DEBATE

Last week in the Legislature, Opposition Leader Bob Clark, responding to the Provincial Budget, called it "a confusing and misleading" document. He pointed out that the actual increase in government spending will be 16.8 percent rather than 10.7 percent.

Mr. Clark further stated that a predicted 31 million dollar deficit - - when all the expenditures are added - - will be translated into a 188 million dollar deficit.

LAND USE

Later in the week, I resumed my debate on the necessity for controls over excessive purchases of Alberta farmland by non-residents. I feel strongly that legislation is required now to keep our prime agricultural land from being usurped by non-resident owners. It is obvious that if action is not taken now, what constitutes a fairly serious problem now will become much more acute in the very near future. My stand on the matter continues to be that non-resident land-ownership should be limited to not more than 640 acres for any one non-resident individual or corporation.

ENVIRONMENT CONSERVATION AUTHORITY HEARINGS

I have again attempted to extract information from the Environment Minister as to whether he will sanction Environment Conservation Authority hearings into the Dodds-Roundhill proposed strip-mining and power generating project. We still don't have any direct answer to that question, but it appears the department might be viewing the necessity for such hearings in a more reasonable manner than before the issue was raised in the House.

If you have concerns, questions or suggestions, please write my office, 204 Legislative Building, or phone 427-2231, collect.

The Emancipation of Robert Sadler

The powerful story of a man who was a twentieth century plantation slave.

Beatings and burnings of black Americans a half century after the Emancipation Proclamation!

A not-easily-forgotten story of how a loving Christ extracted bitterness from Sadler's heart and gave him a sense of human worth and personal triumph far overshadowing the nightmare of his past.

For the last 3 weeks, the High School drama class in Tofield has been rehearsing a one-act comedy for the Play Festival in Wetaskiwin.

The Play Festival is held from April 8th to 10th, and it will have entries from more than 20 high schools throughout the northern part of the province.

At the same festival last year, Francis Damberger, one of the Tofield drama students won the Best Actor award, and this year the students hope to win other awards.

Their play entitled "Bertha, The Bartenders Beautiful Baby" will be presented in the Tofield Community Hall at 8.00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 7th.

The cast of 'stars' include Belinda Baker, Francis Damberger, Gary Milkovich, Ed Ferguson, Karen Jacobson, Wendy MacNutt, Richard Pitner and Betty Wiens.

The last hockey games of the season will be played in the Tofield arena this weekend, when teams from surrounding areas will compete in an old timers and mercantile tournament.

Hockey players who have not been in organized leagues this past season have been playing this week with the semi-finals beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday and the finals starting at 1 p.m. on Sunday. The last game on both days commences at 8 p.m.

Tofield and Ryley win hockey crowns

Tofield Satellites won their second consecutive George Orlesky Trophy signifying the championship of the Beaverhill Hockey League.

Tofield defeated Smoky Lake in the best of seven finals in five games, winning the fifth game in Tofield 8-2. The turning point of the series may well have been the fourth game which was won by Tofield in Smoky Lake, 5-4 at sudden-death overtime. The loss seemed to demoralize the Interpreds and the Satellites were very convincing in the championship clinching game.

In the semi-final series, Smoky Lake eliminated Lamont Nuggets in five games and Tofield defeated Ryley Flyers in six games in a hard fought series.

The league wrap-up banquet will be held April 10 in Smoky Lake. Anyone interested in attending should contact Leonard Stauffer to obtain tickets for the event.

Ryley Wins

Ryley Flyers won the County of Beaver hockey championship.

In a round-robin playoff with Holden and Viking, Ryley went undefeated in four games to take first place while Viking finished with a 2-2 record with Holden sliding in the basement with a 0-4 record.

The winner of this series was to have met Tofield (who were involved in league playoffs when the county playoffs began) for the county championship.

However, Tofield has decided to forfeit the series with the result that Ryley has been declared county champions and winners of the Tofield Agricultural Society Trophy.

Tourism zone best promoter

The Battle River Tourist Association has won the "GRAY LINE AWARD" in recognition of "the best zone promotion in 1975."

The award was announced during the Annual Meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Alberta held in Edmonton on March 12, 13 and 14. President John Gust of Bashaw received the trophy on behalf of B.R.T.A. at a noon luncheon on Friday, March 12 in the Chateau Lacombe.

This is the second time the local tourist association has nailed down this particular honor. It brought the award home in 1968 when Dr. Siwak of Camrose, the founding president, still held office.

The award is sponsored by three related transportation companies - Brewster Canadian Rockies, Gray Lines, Calgary Graylines and Edmonton Gray Lines; and is awarded annually to one of the fourteen tourist associations in Alberta. The announcement is always made at the Annual Meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Alberta.

The wide range of programs operated by B.R.T.A. were taken into consideration when judges were making the final decision.

In co-operation with local communities, it has placed six information centres throughout the zone; it has published four scenic post cards, and made them available to interested retail outlets and it has on hand three kinds of literature providing information about the zone - a general brochure, hunting brochure and the latest piece, a smart looking tour guide.

Last year it concluded its second "photographic contest" intended to bring in a wide selection of good pictures needed in its promotion program and designed and purchased a quantity of brochure racks for the use of any member wishing to help in the distribution of tourist information.

Annually, B.R.T.A. conducts a "Hospitality Seminar" to train people how to help visitors who visit this area, and publishes colorful place mats for use in restaurants throughout the zone.

Mail rates up to U.S.

Canadians sending mail to the United States have been having a good deal of difficulty in recent weeks, reports Camrose Postmaster Lloyd Day, who says many letter writers are not aware of steep increases in rates which became effective the first of the year.

All mail must now go to the States by air, reports Mr. Day, rather than the surface methods used by the States in the past.

The new rate is ten cents for mail up to one ounce, heading for any part of the United States. For overseas mail, the rate has climbed to twenty cents for the first ounce. Mr. Day suggests that anyone with mail over the one ounce level should probably contact the Post Office.

Where letters have been sent with insufficient postage, he says, the sender is immediately contacted when there is a return address on the envelope. However, this is not possible in all cases, and some slip through, so that the recipient has the problem of double the difference.

NATURAL GAS PAYMENTS

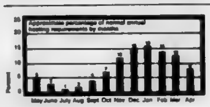
To aid with their budgeting, some customers prefer to pay their gas bills under Northwestern's Payment Equalization Plan. It is available to all customers on a voluntary basis.

Here is how the plan works:

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.



The adjacent graph illustrates how gas consumption varies throughout the year. Budget plan customers avoid the higher bills of winter by spreading their total gas bill for the year over 12 equal monthly payments.

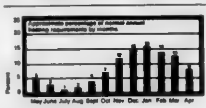
Here is how the plan works:

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.



The adjacent graph illustrates how gas consumption varies throughout the year. Budget plan customers avoid the higher bills of winter by spreading their total gas bill for the year over 12 equal monthly payments.

FATS

I've had a number of questions about fats in recent weeks. Let's look at some questions and answers.

Do we need fat?

Fats are the chief source of essential fatty acids as well as carriers of some essential vitamins, namely A, D, E, and K. Too little fat can result in a diet [illegible] A diet too restricted in fat lacks flavor and satiety value, it is bulky because a greater volume of food is needed to satisfy the appetite and meet energy needs.

What is the difference between a saturated or unsaturated fat?

Saturated fats are generally the ones that are solid at room temperature. Animal fats and some vegetable oils, such as coconut and olive oil, are highly saturated. Unsaturated fats are usually oils or liquids at room temperature. Nearly all fats from plant sources are unsaturated.

What is the connection between fats and the cholesterol level?

When you eat less saturated fat and eat more polyunsaturated fats, blood cholesterol levels may go down. In the body, saturated fat is changed into cholesterol, polyunsaturated fat is not. Exercise can also reduce the body's cholesterol level.

What is cholesterol?

It is an organic alcohol. Cholesterol is a normal constituent of blood. It is important in nervous tissue in the formation of [illegible] of bile acids. Cholesterol is necessary in the body.

If I reuse an unsaturated fat for deep frying will it become saturated?

No, the fat remains unsaturated. If the fat smoked (began to decompose visibly) when first used, it should not be used a second time. It will become rancid. Be sure to store reusable fat in the refrigerator.

As in most areas of nutrition, moderation and variety when using fat seems to be the best guide. It's following that "sensible" diet we hear so much about.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

#3 Job Opportunities

The first two columns in this series reviewed the planning and regulatory processes involved in developing a new power plant. The columns referred specifically to the Camrose-Ryley Coal-fired Thermal Power Development, [illegible]

This week, we will review some of the early activities that must be undertaken once the project receives approval and also provide some background on the employment opportunities that could be available on the project.

To be certain the first of six 375,000 kilowatt generating units is ready for commissioning in 1982 ... (the year power experts forecast it will be required) ... construction on certain aspects of the development should begin in 1977.

Initial construction activity will include site preparations and final [illegible] and the final planning and evaluations for a mining start in late 1980 or early 1981. Simultaneously, survey and preparation [illegible] rail spur from Ryley will be carried out.

Work on the cooling pond development would begin in late 1977, thus farming on these lands could continue until the end of 1977. The 3,000 acre cooling pond would be dyked on its north, south and east sides, likely with the natural higher elevation in land surface forming the west boundary. After approvals are received, consultations with the surrounding communities would take place to begin planning for recreational uses of the cooling pond.

Since mining would begin in 1980-81, the first of six draglines will be erected on-site beginning in 1979. The draglines will vary in bucket capacities from 60 cu. yd. to 80 cu. yd. Over one year is required for erection of one dragline.

As construction activity increases at the site for both the power plant and the auxiliary service buildings, the work force will steadily increase until 1984, when construction will involve more than 1100 jobs. 1984 is the year when two units will be commissioned.

Let's look at the two distinct labour forces that will be required for this project.

[illegible] the power plants.

The majority of this construction group is expected to commute daily from Edmonton, as they are doing today in building the Sundance Power Plant 45 [illegible]

Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals are committed to the policy of providing local employment wherever and whenever it is practical and possible. But one of the constraints on the local hiring policy for the construction phase is the fact that, generally speaking, contractors obtain workers from union hiring halls. Therefore, worker selection is not controlled by the two companies involved in the project. However, in the areas of the project where the companies and contractors do influence the hiring process the policy of local employment will be applied whenever possible.

[illegible] the permanent staff needed to operate the plant and the mine.

There will be more than 500 permanent jobs and both Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals hope to fill the bulk of these jobs with people currently living in the Camrose-Ryley region.

Naturally, first priority would be to accommodate persons who will be directly affected, if they wish to work on the project. In following this priority, we hope to minimize community disruption, by encouraging people to remain in the region.

In the case of permanent employment opportunities that will be available to existing population in the region, training programs would be developed to prepare those who wish to pursue a career with the project.

It should be noted that local contractors will be given the opportunity to participate in project work and all major contractors will be encouraged to use local manpower whenever possible.

Since the ERCB hearings haven't yet been held and no decision rendered on the proposed development, it would be premature and virtually impossible for either Calgary Power or CanPac Minerals to commit themselves to any actions more specific than those broad statements of general policy relative to the hiring of personnel.

Next week: The project's economic impact

Lil Van Buskirk

Another era came to a close when the Beaver Lake Mutual Telephone Co. Ltd. officially closed its books.

This was the largest mutual company operating out of Tofield, [illegible]

The company was formed and [illegible] 1935 with J.B. Warner as president and A.C. Dodds as secretary, directors were R.C. Phillips, G.O. Walker, E.J. Anderson, W.H. Anderson, J. Niemetz and E. Geoghen.

Over the years there were several changes, the most significant being the Direct Dialing System in 1963.

At the time of closing the company, Ron Geoglien was president, Lil Van Buskirk was secretary and directors were John Wood, Victor Rudacki, Glenn Jones, George O. Schroeder, Arnold Jones, Charlie Niemetz, Maurice Van Buskirk and Ralph Comey.

The final meeting was held on March 31.

Tofield rescinds 'closing' by-law

Hours of business in Tofield might change in the future following a recent meeting of Tofield Town Council, held on March 22.

At that meeting, council rescinded the town closing by-law which did not permit businesses to operate on Mondays. Council felt local merchants should be able to choose their own hours of operation.

The issue was raised by a letter from Town and Country Drug Mart which sought an amendment to the by-law which would permit drug stores to open for business on Mondays.

Council felt that tenders for providing services to the senior citizens home should be put out as soon as possible in order to attract reasonable bids, and decided to have the engineers take care of [illegible]

The cost of dying in Tofield has been increased. Due to rising maintenance costs, council decided to substantially raise the costs for lots in the cemetery to $20 for a single plot to $100 for a [illegible]

A fire phone system was again discussed by council. It was decided to get a cost estimate for installing 10 fire phones. As well, inquiries were to be made as to whether or not a fire siren was needed.

Wilde, Tretroen and Co. were appointed as the town's auditors for 1976.

It was decided, since there was a delay in processing the annual town financial statement, that there would not be an annual meeting this year.

Tofield student gets essay award

by Grace Phillips

For his essay "On Minute To Live," Billy Jensen, a grade eight student in the Tofield School has won the 1976 Provincial Essay Award given each year by the Alberta Safety Council to students in grades 5, through 8 who submit the best essays on a topic chosen by the Safety Council.

Billy and the winners in grades 5, 6, and 7 will receive cash awards of $50.00 special award pins, and plaques. These will be presented by His Honour, Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer, at a luncheon on April 30, in Edmonton given for the winners, their parents and teachers.

Billy is the eldest son of Mr. and Ms. Aino Jensen of Tofield. His essay was chosen as best in the County of Beaver Schools and forwarded to Edmonton for judging at the provincial level.

Billy is a good student who enjoys reading, model-building and bicycling. He has had a paper route for several years; he hopes to spend the money earned on his paper route in Disneyland this [illegible]

Billy's homeroom teacher at school is Brian Aubrey, his language arts teacher is Mrs. Grace Phillips.

Utility rates

There are many Albertans who will warmly support Liberal Leader Nick Taylor's call for an investigation into the rates charged by utilities in this province, whether they vote Liberal or not.

"There is something rotten in Alberta" says the Liberal leader, "when utility increases have exceeded the eleven percent guideline by two hundred to eight hundred percent."

Most Albertans know what he's talking about, and they're not happy. So many increases, some on an interim basis, have been granted utilities in the past year, that it would take an expert in the field to figure out what the actual increases amount to.

But consumers know the effect of it, even if they don't know the precise rate. Complaints started rolling in last fall that domestic gas bills had for all intents doubled from those of a year ago. Power bills charge upwards, and telephone bills also increased by healthy jumps.

One farmer this week told us he had been away for almost three months, and the only power being used in his operation was the fan to keep his furnace warming the house. Yet the bill for this period was almost a hundred dollars. Imagine what it might have been had he been house and using all sorts of kilowatts.

The same consumer produced three power bills, showing most interesting comparisons. The first, from Farm Electric Services, covering an Edberg farm home, was dated August 1974, and showed a consumption of 620 kilowatt hours, at a charge of $28.49. Second was one from a home in Hinton, for January and February of this year, where a homeowner who used 1370 kilowatt hours, was charged "only" $32.84 by Calgary Power. That's well over twice as much power, for slightly more than four dollars more. Yet Calgary Power supplies all the power used by Farm Electric Services, and was expected to supply power at cost, whatever that means.

What it means has been the subject of numerous altercations between farmers and utility officers, and there have been many occasions when urban residents, too, question whether they're getting a fair shake in the utility company's billings. The commission, of course, and the Board of Public Utility Commissioners produce figures showing the cost of similar quantities of power in Toronto, in Chicago, in New York, and so on. . . all relatively high cost centers.

And invariably, Alberta rates look good, by comparison.

Somehow they fail to compare rates in areas such as, for instance, Creston, where West Kootenay Power supplied 642 kilowatt hours to a customer only last summer for $9.66. (All figures, incidentally, are the Net Amount. But the Creston total also includes forty-six cents provincial tax.)

There's no sense in asking the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, or the Minister of Energy to look into the matter . . . they've already had lots of time to study it. But maybe we should suggest the Minister of Consumer Affairs could be invited to review the figures, on behalf of all his consumers. The only trouble is, he might have to take action against West Kootenay for selling below the cost of production.

Getting back to Mr. Taylor, we're intrigued by his declaration that "asking Albertans to pay Eastern export prices for natural gas, when the people of Alberta own the gas in the first place, is like asking a farmer to pay for eating his own potatoes."

But then, Albertans are used to that sort of thing. Don't we pay the highest price in the country for the oil that's lying in pools below us, because it would cost so much to ship it in from Sarnia if that's where we had to buy it from?

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — The Tories are well settled in under new leader Joe Clark, with most of the party's left-right division wounds bound up, if not exactly healed.

Two of the men who ran for the leadership and lost, though, have suffered considerable political damage. The thumping Paul Hellyer took, and the way he took it, have virtually wiped him out as an active federal politician. He was a broken man at the close of the convention, but he had the courage to return to the Press Gallery and write about politics.

The other big loser was Sinclair Stevens, although it may not seem as obvious that he lost greatly.

Stevens has denied that he or his organization made any deals with other leadership candidates, but at least two other hopefuls, and a fair number of Stevens' supporters, thought differently.

Hellyer's organization claimed it had an understanding with Stevens, and Hellyer himself says it was the shock of Stevens walking right past him and into Joe Clark's arms which made Hellyer withdraw from the race after only one ballot.

Claude Wagner's people, too, expected Stevens' support and didn't get it.

One unhappy Stevens supporter told me that several of the big guns in Stevens' campaign had Joe Clark signs tucked under their seats before the voting was over on ballot number one, and that indicates something.

In the event, with a poor first ballot showing, Stevens, who was billed as something of a right winger at the party, took the long walk to Joe Clark, who is considered to be left of the Conservative party centre.

The supposition that Sinclair Stevens had many options open to him, and perhaps many pledges made, has disconcerted quite a few people in the party. Joe Clark is no dummy, and he knows this by now.

Yes, Stevens backed a winner. But will he get a senior party post if and when the Tories form a government? I would doubt that he'll get anything really big from a politician who is as perceptive and as realistic as Joe Clark.

REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT HILL
by
Don Mazankowski M P

Parliament Hill has been a busy hive of activity over the past three weeks. The so-called podges' affair has escalated into a major scandal and has precipitated a major debate into what is illegal and what is improper. While Mr Trudeau has received the resignation of two of his prominent cabinet ministers arising out of alleged un proprieties involving the policy process, he firmly contends that in the case of Mr Drury while he acted improperly and while he is liable as described by the Chief Justice of Quebec were cited as grave he insists there was no illegality involved In the words of the Prime Minister because there was no illegality only an un propriety and given Mr Drury's distinguished record to Parliament and to the country his resignation should not be accepted A mere apology and a firm commitment never to do it again were considered sufficient

In the case of Mr Dupelle the former Committee and Corporate Affairs minister whose re temperate outburst against Judge MacKay precipitated the whole affair leading to a contempt of court charge against him his resignation was received and accepted by the Prime Minister on the grounds that he wished to put me his case before the courts, something which he felt he could not do effectively as a minister of the Crown This was the basis of the Minister's resignation in spite of the fact that he admitted asking Mr Drury to intervene on his behalf with Mr Justice Hogenson who was presiding over the contempt proceedings

The whole affair leaves questions unanswered and unanswer clearly questions the actions of the Prime Minister Firstly in his unexplicable delay for taking remedial action and, secondly for the apparent double standard where his handling of this whole matter implies

The Opposition insists this matter can only be cleared up through a full public inquiry Failure to get all the facts will do irreparable damage to the confidence of the courts and the confidence of Parliament Mr Clark referred to the scenario as being "a perversion of democracy and if we are to preserve the worthiness of our institution and the respect for our Canadian way of conduct there are no short cuts and no easy ways out" he said

This past week over 10,000 members of the Canadian Labour Congress stormed Parliament Hill

"As I See It"

by Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A.
Clover Bar

The Legislature Last Week

During the week, I brought forward a proposition that all members of the Legislature should be allowed to use the media facilities located in the Calgary Government offices. Premier Lougheed doesn't agree. He says the Calgary office is "an office of the Premier" and is available for use only by members of the cabinet or conservative back-benchers who are chairmen of 'select legislative committees'. I don't agree with that concept. I contend that the Calgary Government office is a public facility, paid for with tax-payers' money. Under that concept, at least the media facilities should be available to Opposition and Government members for news conferences.

Departmental Budgets

M.L.A.s have spent the past week dealing with budgets for various government departments. With the new budget form - "a modified Program Budget" - - introduced this year comparisons of expenditures from previous years is next to impossible. Opposition Leader Bob Clark has told the Provincial Treasurer that because of the difficulties posed by the new budgeting format, it will be necessary to request details on almost all spending items in every department. This will be necessary so that we, as Opposition members, can be assured on behalf of our constituents, that your money is being reasonably and responsibly spent by government departments. It's simply a matter of keeping the government accountable. That's a major part of my job as your representative.

Tofield Meeting

On Monday night I sat in on a regional facilities meeting at Tofield. The representation by individual groups and citizen participation was outstanding.

Vegreville

Wednesday night I was guest speaker at a constituency meeting in Vegreville. Representatives from the entire north-eastern area were present and made the Opposition aware of many problems in that area.

Virus research reports misleading

by Deanna P. Kaufman,
Assistant to the Executive Director,
Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada.

On Sunday Feb. 29th, and Monday, March 1st, media in Canada carried potentially misleading information about research into viruses which seemed to be linked to multiple sclerosis. Researchers in Philadelphia have been able to independently confirm the results of research initially reported in 1972.

There is no doubt that the confirmation of Dr. Richard Carp's initial experiments by the Henle research team is important, but it is doubtful that it will lead to an immediate break-through as the press reports are implying. In an interview with the New York Times, Dr. Werner Henle said, "We would not yet call it a [illegible] (to develop simpler, more [illegible]. A year from now it might be a [illegible]."

Of more immediate concern are the reactions people might have to the statements by the media that multiple sclerosis is one of the infectious diseases and that there is a factor of heredity in determining how people respond to the virus.

A number of diseases are caused by a virus, and while viruses are infectious in one sense, few are communicable in the sense of being easily spread from one person to another. Dr. Reginald Kelly, Chairman of the British Multiple Sclerosis Society's research committee said, "the virus is only one factor responsible for the development of the disease. There is no evidence that there is any risk of person-to-person infection in multiple sclerosis."

Work done in the field of immunogenetics recently has indicated that persons with particular genetic makeups may be more susceptible to various diseases such as arthritis, cancer, psoriasis, rag-weed fever, and multiple sclerosis. The research evidence gathered so far does not mean that MS is directly inherited, but that genetic predisposition may be one factor in determining who is susceptible to the disease.

Dr. William McIlroy, Chairman of the Medical Advisory Board of the MS Society of Canada, has pointed out, "it should be remembered that the familial incidence of multiple sclerosis is only six to eleven percent and that 90 percent of MS patients have no familial history of the disease. Therefore, what we are describing is only another factor which may be important in some patients with multiple sclerosis."

If you think the media in your area has included some misleading or potentially alarming statements about multiple sclerosis as a result of the article on virus research, I urge you to contact the newspapers, radio, and television stations involved with the information in this memorandum to rectify the situation. You should also call upon your chapter's medical advisor who may wish to be in touch with the division's medical advisory group for more information.

Dear Sir

It was with shame that we heard the news story over CFCW about the Shaw Community Association brief-stating that they were willing to sell their land at a fair price and would like to see the Calgary Power Plant [illegible].

I felt shame because they said the Round Hill-Dodds Agricultural Protective Association did not represent ALL the people in the immediate plant area. The Shaw group is a very small group of people in an isolated section of the proposed area. To you people I ask: Do you not CARE about your neighbour who died because of the situation - because he didn't want to sell or see his beloved land destroyed? Don't you care about your neighbours whose beautiful farm will be under water? The fourth generation is soon to be farming that land, you know.

Do you not care about whose beautiful farm is right next to yours, and whom you seem to ignore because he doesn't agree with you?

Don't you care that the land cannot yet be reclaimed? Don't you care about the other people all around you who are fighting to make sure that Calgary Power and Can-Pac can really do what they say they can?

The saddest part of this entire horrible situation of neighbour versus neighbour is the bitterness.

Please, people of the Shaw Community Association, open your minds and hearts to the views of your neighbours. Let's work together and then - if - the approval is given, we can all get a better price for our land than ———did.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Donna Kayne.

Rain won't wash it off. And it works without moisture. Two of the reasons why Carbyne outsells all other wild oat herbicides.

*Fifteen minutes after application it can rain pitchforks and baby alligators without washing away Carbyne.

On the other hand, Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

Here are other reasons Carbyne is the largest selling wild oat herbicide:

(1) Consistently good performance year after year. (2) Lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops.

The high cost of wild oats.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cut per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels, and barley 2.2. An average of 15 wild oat plants/square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5.

Multiply these yield losses by the current crop prices, and you can see how much money wild oats can cost you.

Don't gamble.

The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed.

See your dealer about Carbyne...the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited, P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

Area breeders win in Edmonton show

Area breeders made another good showing at the annual Canadian Western Stock Show and Sale which was held recently in Edmonton.

Gordon Holberg of Kingman was one of the area's biggest winners as he finished with three firsts. Gordon led the way in Shorthorn calves, led the junior open class, and topped the junior exhibitor judging competition. Two other Holbergs also made their marks as Gordon's sister, Elsa, topped competition for Limousin calves and was third in competition for boys and girls from 15 to 18 years. An older brother, Lyle, led the way for animals 1,160 pounds and up and was 9th for animals weighing between 1060 and 1150 pounds. Elsa also placed fifth in Shorthorn calves competition.

Wendy Henderson of Forestburg placed first for Hereford calves and was fifth in the junior novice class.

Allan Henderson of Forestburg exhibited the reserve champion junior calf, placed second in Aberdeen-Angus calves, and was fourth in the junior novice class.

Bradley Schacher of Tofield was the winner in the junior novice class.

Vaughn L. Hanson of Viking was second in Hereford calves and placed seventh in the junior open class.

Howard Brown of Tofield placed second with an animal in the 1060-1150 pound competition while Arnold Hanson of Viking was third and picked up a 4th place showing in steers of 900-1050 pounds.

Wesley and Dennis Lawson of Tofield were second for an animal in the 1160 pounds and up category with Allan Gill of Tofield placing fourth and Raydar Stock Farm of Viking finishing eighth.

Gordon R. Henderson of Forestburg placed fifth and sixth with animals in the 900-1050 pound competition, while Eric Boddhere of Daysland was fifth in the 1060-1150 pound class with Larry Walton of Forestburg coming in tenth.

In 4-H team judging competitions, Camrose South 4-H Beef Club recorded a sixth place showing.

Heads rally of Witnesses in Leduc

"The most effective influence for the betterment of man is applied Christianity."

This was how Walter Petterson, local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses summed up training received at a seminar recently concluded at Leduc.

Mr. Petterson also served as Convention Overseer, while another local elder, Lloyd George, was in charge of the music department.

More than 500, with 75 from Camrose, listened through two days of lectures, interviews and dramatizations, all on effective means of personal evangelism.

"Learning to do effectively what God requires," said Mr. Petterson, "was really the point of instruction from the entire two-day program."

Picasso? No, Nature

Looking for all the world like some surrealist or impressionist painting by one of the "modernists" in the art world, the figure above is actually just a potato, the way Mother Nature wanted it to grow. It looked a little unusual last fall, when it was put in the bin with other potatoes, but in recent weeks it started to sprout, adding the unusual appendages on the "head" and the "tail", as seen above. The unusual art form was recognized by Mrs. Johnnie Swere, of Hay Lakes.

58 lambs born to 17 ewes

A lambing percentage of nearly 350 has been achieved by a small flock of hybrid ewes at an English research station.

According to information received by Alberta Agriculture, the 17 ewes at the Liverpool University Veterinary School's field station have produced 58 lambs this year. Each ewe reared twins and 24 other lambs were reared on a proprietory milk replacer. The milk replacer has a fat content of 30 per cent to simulate the rich milk of a ewe.

The British report says that the Liverpool flock is one of several in that country which are being used in an experimental breeding program that was designed by Professor John Owen of Aberdeen University. The program was introduced 10 years ago when Professor Owen was lecturing in animal production at Cambridge University.

Beginning with a highly-selected group of ewes, mainly Clun Forest but including such breeds as Kerry Hill, Llyn, Llanwenog, Radnor and Ryeland, Professor Owen has now developed a hybrid strain, known as the "Cambridge" which has proved to be far more prolific than any of the traditional breeds the report says.

Recycled, shredded paper from most daily newspapers can be a safe bedding material for cattle in place of straw or shavings.

However, while newspaper may be safe enough, research by Agriculture Canada's food and fertilizer section in Ottawa indicates glossy papers printed with some inks have unsafe lead levels - considering that ruminants eat their bedding.

Freedom

How Do we prize our freedom
In this land we've learned to love
As we travel from shore to shore
And fly in the sky above?
With no guards at all our borders
Just a simple welcome sign
What is says to all Canadians
There is no border line

Oh how can we be so careless
And our hearts so thankless be
As we see so many nations
Who have lost their liberty?
So let us all remember
There is a price to pay
And keep a relentless vigil
Just to keep our land this way.
We have much cause to wonder
What the future has in store
As we think of our land of plenty
How could we wish for more?
We may have our disagreements
Which is n'er a human trait
Just ponder where we're going
Before it is too late
We deride our politicians
But we fail to understand
We have a responsibility
To firmly behind them stand.
And keep this land of freedom
That's been bought by blood and pain
So the sacrifice of thousands
May not have been in vain.
We love our country dearly
From prairie sod to mountain grand
Without passport or permission
We can roam our beautiful land
So may we be so thankful
For the privileges we enjoy
And guard with all our ardour
And guard with all our ardour
The peace we could destroy

CN urged continue Drumheller line

The Railway Transport Commission recently advised the federal government to continue support for the CNR's railway line from Edmonton to Drumheller, reports Senator Earl Hastings, in a recent newsletter.

Three other lines were included in the recommendation: CPR's Calgary to Edmonton line, and CN's line from Edmonton to North Battleford, and Edmonton to Grand Centre.

The RTC reasoned that there is no reasonable alternative to these routes, says the report, except for the Edmonton to Calgary run, which they feel could be made more competitive if the service were improved.

The Edmonton to Drumheller run has been the source of many representations to the Hall Commission in hearings held throughout the area recently.

The government has become concerned over deterioration in the quality of service offered by both railways, since passenger rail service has been an important part of transportation in the West. It is giving the railways an opportunity to develop rail passenger service to serve markets willing to pay.

Rail passenger transportation in the country at the moment is costly and inefficient. In 1974 passenger services lost $167 million, of which 80 percent were paid for out of federal funds. Passengers pay only one third of the cost of the service when they buy a ticket.

The present unreformed system could be losing $400 million per year by 1980. Rail passenger service has been allowed to deteriorate so that Canadians no longer have a fair incentive to use it.

Because railway rights-of-way have long been established in Canada, it is not necessary to use valuable urban or agricultural land to improve the system. This is a distinct advantage over further highway construction. Trains also could be efficient energy users and energy conservers, if the service attracted more passengers.

The Transportation department has suggested four functions in Canada for rail passenger transportation: commuter services in large cities, high speed short and medium distance travel in heavily populated areas, long distance (e.g. trans-continental) service where comfort levels above those on a bus are required, and service to remote areas.

For example, in Alberta, the government policy could justify continuation of both CN and CP transcontinental routes. The government has been advised to "double up" on transcontinental service only where CP and CN follows duplicate routes (e.g. Kamloops to Vancouver, B.C.).

Lea heads stabilization board

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan recently announced ten appointments to the Advisory Committee of the federal Agriculture Stabilization Board. The new members, replacing the previous committee of eight, will serve for three years.

Dobson Lea of Edmonton has been appointed chairman of the new Advisory Committee. He is second vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, president of Unifarm, a member of the Canadian Wheat Board Advisory Committee and a grain, hog and cattle producer.

Other members of the committee are Lorne Hehn, Markinch, Saskatchewan, Robert Reynolds, Delta, B.C., George Vercaigne, Brandon, Manitoba, Denise Van Broda, Blenheim, Ontario; Peter Epp, Leamington, Ontario; Armand Girard, Plessisville, Quebec, Laurent J. Morin, Grand Falls, N.B.; Howard Fuller, Wolfville, N.S. and James Mayne, Kensington, P.E.I.

The Advisory Committee members will meet at least twice a year and will advise Mr. Whelan and the Board on price stabilization of agricultural commodities included under the Agricultural Stabilization Act. The change in membership allows federal stabilization programs to benefit from producers with wide-ranging experiences.

Should Professionals Advertise

Suggestions are beginning to be heard in Canada that doctors, lawyers, and other professionals should be allowed - or even compelled - to advertise their fees and services, writes Anthony Whittingham. Inspired in part by rapid changes within the professions in the U.S. and by the potential impact in Canada of the newly amended Combines Investigation Act, professional groups here are beginning to take a hard look at their own professional rules of conduct. By tradition these rules prohibit advertising or services except under tightly controlled conditions. Advocates for change argue that consumers have a right to more complete information, that lack of advertising creates higher prices and fees (in effect, a monopoly), and that the present practice constitutes, in principle, a restraint of trade, a conspiracy to reduce competition.

ROB THE CORONARY CLUB.

Last week I answered a few questions I had been asked about fats.

That seems to lead naturally to some thoughts about heart disease.

I found the following rules which were drawn up as prerequisites for people wishing to join the coronary club:

1) Your job comes first, personal considerations are secondary.

2) Go to the office evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

3) Take the briefcase home on the evenings when you do not go to the office. This provides an opportunity to review completely all the troubles and worries of the day.

4) Never say "NO" to a request always say "YES"

5) Accept all invitations to meetings, banquets, committees, etc.

6) Do not eat a restful, relaxing meal always plan a conference for the meal time.

7) Fishing and hunting are a waste of time and money ... you never bring back enough fish or game to justify the expense

8) It is poor policy to take all the time for vacations which is provided for you.

9) Golf, bowling, cards, gardening and all other forms of recreation are a waste of time

10) Never delegate responsibility to others carry the load at all times

11) Never spend any time with your kids and wife ... spend all your time worrying about your work.

12) If your work calls for travelling, work all day and time all night to make your appointment for the next morning

If you have all the prerequisites for the coronary club, isn't it time you sat back and took stock. What is most important in life to you?

Thank about it!

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—its essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

4. Economic Impact

While the total impact of a massive development such as the proposed Camrose Ryley Project would be impossible to summarize in the few words this column permits, this week the economic impact studies will be reviewed and interpreted on a general basis.

An economic consultant was retained by Calgary Power and Can Pac Minerals to assess the effect this proposed development would have not only on the specific project area, but also the Camrose Ryley region, the province, and even nationally.

The consultant's report was based on conservative estimates and anticipates the minimum in terms of economic impact based on experience and knowledge of today's economic considerations. Economists, in the studies, often base their research on facts, on realistic calculations and carry projections forward into the future.

There has been some speculation that population centres (Holden Ryley Tofield Round Hill and Camrose) will experience growth pressures as more than 500 permanent jobs develop between 1980 to 1986 when the Round Hill mine begins operations and power plant generators are commissioned.

But since Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals have committed themselves to the policy of local employment whenever possible, the project itself will not involve 500 new families coming into the area, although a number of supervisory, training staff and trained personnel will have to be brought in. What will happen however, is that the project will create a new and larger payroll for the region with businesses in the existing population centres expanding, or establishing, as a result of the increased dollar earnings being spent in the area.

This spin-off effect will result in population expansions with in each community but it is virtually impossible to predict the degree of population increases because each community has its unique attractions for settlement. The best guess is that each of the population centres will share the expansions in proportion to it's current size.

It is estimated, using 1975 dollars, that both Can Pac Minerals and Calgary Power will be spending $.365 million in the Camrose-Ryley region over the life of the project. These funds are in the form of payrolls, taxes and service contracts to local businesses and industries. The economic consultant uses a conservative multiplier of two and anticipates that the "spin-off" expenditures will be another $.365 million ... even more money to be spent in places like Camrose, Ryley, Tofield, Holden and Round Hill.

Naturally there will be equipment or services for the project that are not available in the Camrose Ryley region and will be obtained elsewhere in Alberta Canada or even worldwide. The projected economic impact to the province, including the Camrose Ryley region, is approximately $2 billion.

When the economic consultant was retained, his terms of reference included not only assessing the positive impact, but also examining what negative economic impact the project would have on the region.

With the mining activity comes a temporary loss in agricultural production, until the land is fully reclaimed (with productions equal to or better than known yields today). The consultant found his calculations on a five year reclamation period, and uses the region's values associated with current agricultural productivity. Over the same period of time that the project will inject $730 million directly and indirectly in the Camrose Ryley region, the accumulated drop in agricultural productivity is projected to be $16 million assuming a full return to agricultural productivity five years after mining.

The agricultural lands, after undergoing the surface mining program, will return to agricultural productivity in a manner and style determined not only by the reclamation consultants, but also in concert with the desires of government and local landowners, who, hopefully will take up that land for ongoing agricultural production.

The economic impact study considered the employment and income effects, the expansions of existing service industries within the region, the creation of new primary industries and secondary service industries the taxes derived from the project, the taxes indirectly through population expansion and increases in personal income levels. The consultant's report suggests that the development of a power plant in this area will have an overall economic benefit that could never be achieved from the industries and agricultural endeavours that exist today.

Next week Reclamation for Better Yields

Tofield Hospital has accreditation

Following a survey by the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation on October 31, 1975, the Tofield Hospital has been advised that it has been re-accredited for a period of two years.

The Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation is an organization which sets standards which if met, indicate quality care in the hospital surveyed.

The program is voluntary and if the various hospitals in Canada wish to become accredited they must request a survey be taken.

If the standards as established by the Council are met accreditation status is then issued and a certificate is given to the hospital.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—its essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a guest feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

4. Economic Impact

While the total impact of a massive development such as the proposed Camrose Ryley Project would be impossible to summarize in the few words this column permits, this week the economic impact studies will be reviewed and interpreted on a general basis

An economic consultant was retained by Calgary Power and Can Pac Minerals to assess the effect this proposed development would have not only on the specific project area, but also the Camrose Ryley region, the province, and even nationally

The consultant's report was based on conservative estimates and anticipates the maximum in terms of economic impact based on experience and knowledge of today's economic considerations. Consultants, in any studies, must base their research on facts, on realistic calculations and carry projections forward into the future

There has been some speculation that population centres (Holden Ryley Tofield Round Hill and Camrose) will experience growth pressures as more than 500 permanent jobs develop between 1980 to 1986, when the Round Hill mine begins operations and power plant generators are commissioned

But since Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals have committed themselves to the policy of local employment wherever possible, the project staff will not involve 500 new families coming into the area, although a number of supervisory training staff, and trained personnel will have to be brought in. What will happen, however is that the project will create a new and larger payroll for the region with businesses in the existing population centres expanding, or establishing, as a result of the increased dollar earnings being spent in the area.

This spin-off effect will result in population expansions with in each community but it is virtually impossible to predict the degree of population increases because each community has its unique attractions for settlement The best guess is that each of the population centres will share the expansions in proportion to it's current size

It is estimated, using 1975 dollars, that both Can Pac Minerals and Calgary Power will be spending $365 million in the Camrose-Ryley region over the life of the project These funds are in the form of payrolls, taxes and service contracts to local businesses and industries. The economic consultant uses a conservative multiplier of two and anticipates that the "spin-off" expenditures will be another $365 million - even more money to be spent in places like Camrose Ryley Tofield Holden and Bawlf.

Naturally there will be equipment or services for the project that are not available in the Camrose Ryley region and will be obtained elsewhere in Alberta Canada or even worldwide The projected economic impact to the province including the Camrose Ryley region is approximately $2 billion

When the economic consultant was retained, his terms of reference included not only assessing the positive impact but also examining what negative economic impact the project would have on the region

With the mining activity comes a temporary loss in agricultural production, until the land is fully reclaimed (with productions equal to or better than known yields today) The consultant based his calculations on a five year reclamation period, and uses the cash values associated with current agricultural productivity. Over the same period of time that the project will inject $730 million directly and indirectly in the Camrose Ryley region, the acculated drop in agricultural productivity is projected to be $1n million, assuming a full return to agricultural productivity five years after mining

The agricultural lands, after undergoing the surface mining program, will return to agricultural productivity as a manner and style determined not only by the reclamation consultants, but also in concert with the desires of government and local landowners, who, hopefully will take up that land for ongoing agricultural production

The economic impact study considered the employment and income effects, the expansions of existing service industries within the region the creation of new primary industries and secondary service industries, the taxes directly from the project, the taxes indirectly through population expansion and increases in personal income levels. The consultant's report suggests that the development of a power plant in this area will have an overall economic benefit that could never be achieved from the industries and agricultural endeavours that exist today

"ALL-RISK" CROP INSURANCE

Crop insurance protects against the bad year that you can't afford — especially if you are a good farmer with high inputs.

Without crop insurance drouth, hail, frost, snow, excessive moisture — or any other natural hazard can wipe out your investment, jeopardize your credit and reduce your income so it will take years to recover.

But with All-Risk insurance offered only in Alberta by the Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation, you get an overall guarantee for each crop. If your production falls below that level, you are paid for the shortage.

If this seems like a good deal to you, find out more. Contact your local District Office now for full details and information.

But remember, the deadline for this insurance is April 30.

DOWN TO EARTH POWER

When it comes to power and the TD-25C Crawler Tractor, IH has gone that extra mile. The dozer has exclusive two-stage planetary steering. It can make turns or corner-loading cuts with full tractive power by simply gear-ing one track faster than the other. Instead of getting half a tractor everytime you steer, you get all the power you paid for. International engineering. It's one of the best reasons to consider dozers from International Harvester. DOWN TO EARTH POWER
When it comes to power and the TD-25C Crawler Tractor, IH has gone that extra mile. This dozer has exclusive two-stage planetary steering: it can make turns or corner-loading cuts with full tractive power by simply gearing one track faster than the other. Instead of getting half a tractor everytime you steer, you get all the power you paid for. International engineering. It's one of the best reasons to consider dozers from International Harvester. Here is power you can depend on, down to earth power.

Pioneer of Ryley S.N. Booth passes

He leaves to mourn, his loving wife Florence, three sons, Roland of Ryley, Martin of Ryley and Lorne of Pinebank, four daughters, Mrs. Ralph Cretney (Mildred) of Edmonton, Mrs. Gunner Osland (Beulah) of Ryley, Mrs. Jim Martindale (Marion) of Chilliwack, B.C., and Mrs. Jack Stambo (Leona) of Ryley, as well as 42 grandchildren, and 28 great-grandchildren. Mr. Booth was born in South Stukely, Quebec, on August 5th, 1889, where he lived until coming out to Western Canada in 1911. They immediately came out to Ryley to settle on the farm he had purchased, and continued to farm until 1957, when they retired and moved into Ryley.

Funeral services were conducted in the Ryley United Church by Pastor Glen Davies of Sherwood Park. Two solos, "Beyond the Sunset," and "In the Sweet By and By" were sung by Mrs. Don Corkum accompanied by Mrs. Walter Dorosh, both of Edmonton.

Pallbearers were grandsons; Dr. Gordon Booth, Byron Booth, Kenneth Cretney, Roger Osland, Jim Martindale Jr., Larry Booth and Barry Stambo.

Burial was in the Ryley Cemetery.

Level out those NATURAL GAS PAYMENTS

To aid with their budgeting, some customers prefer to pay their gas bills under Northwestern's Payment Equalization Plan. It is available to all customers on a voluntary basis.

Here is how the plan works:

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.

Amend motorbike law

Motorcyclists must now have their bike lights on when operating them in both daytime and night, announces Police Chief E.V. Christianson, as a new law in the form of an amendment to the Highway Traffic Act has been issued.

The amendment to Section 93, subsection 2, of the act reads as follows. "No motorcycle shall be in motion upon a highway at any time unless the lamp or lamps with which it is required to be equipped are alight."

Chief Christianson also reminds the public that for anyone who wishes to protect his or her bicycle with a license, the 1976 licenses are now available at the City Police office. . . . . .

Ministik news briefs

Mrs. Jim Roddick

The Easter ham bingo held Friday evening was quite successful.

Ham winners were Barbara Glinder, Ethel Carlisle, Wayne Klemmchroth, Diane Fenske, Vera Hortman, Theresa Roger, Keith Williams, Linda Carlisle, Paul Carlisle, Merta Schwuchow, Willard McHaffey and Corrine Rowland.

The blackout was won by Betty Williams. An extra jackpot bingo was won by Jeff Jeske. Lunch was served by the ladies. Margaret Jeske was convenor.

Plans are underway for an official opening of the new hall on May 1st. Guest speakers will be in attendance.

Weaving classes came to a close on Monday. Although some classes were beneficial to some, to most who attended they were of no consequence.

John Vandermeer accompanied by his daughter Wilma of Edmonton, has been enjoying a few weeks vacation in Amsterdam, Holland.

Andrew Ferguson has made a remarkable recovery after eye surgery and was visiting his specialist on Monday to see the results.

Margaret Paterson, convenor of the variety bingo to be held on May 7th, is busy making preparations for it.

"As I See It"

The Alberta Export Agency

On Tuesday of last week, Bow Valley M.L.A., Fred Mandeville, requested information regarding export contracts concluded between the Alberta Export Agency and private exporting companies in this province.

The government insisted that this information must be kept confidential to protect the private companies and individuals involved. All four Official Opposition members became involved in this debate, taking the stand that since the Export Agency is funded by public money, its transactions should rightfully be made available to the Legislature. From our standpoint, this information would allow members of the Legislature to assess the real success or otherwise of the Alberta Export Agency. This same debate occurred about three years ago over transactions of the Alberta Opportunity Company. Initially, the government refused that information, but later did in fact, make information available. Public scrutiny of the AOC's business transactions has had no ill effect on its function. In fact, I believe it has made the AOC - - a publicly funded agency - - even more accountable.

I am of the opinion that information about the Alberta Export Agency and the Agricultural Development Corporation falls into the same category as the AOC, and I'll continue my efforts - - in co-operation with my Official Opposition colleagues - - to get this information made available to the Legislature. Government secrecy in these areas leads to suspicion, which is destructive and unnecessary.

Law Enforcement

We concluded the estimates of the Solicitor-General's Department during the past week. I spoke about the problems we have at the Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institute, and was able to get a reasonably clear indication from Mr. Farran about how the 2 million dollars is being spent for renovations there. I also brought forward the recommendation of the Fort Saskatchewan Town Council that a high security wall with searchlights around the Correctional Institution complex is neither desirable nor necessary. If proper security measures are taken inside the institute, we will not need a fence around it.

I also asked the Minister to take more care and interest in assessing the proposal to construct a federal penitentiary in the Horseshoe-Oliver region. He is well aware of the protests of residents in the area through their representations, and hopefully he'll take them into serious consideration before a final decision is made.

Comments or questions on any issues are welcome. Write me at 204 Legislative Building, or phone collect to 427-2231.

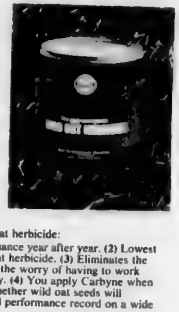
Rain won't wash it off. And it works without moisture. Two of the reasons why Carbyne outsells all other wild oat herbicides.



*Fifteen minutes after application it can rain pitchforks and baby alligators without washing away Carbyne.

On the other hand, Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

Here are other reasons

Carbyne is the largest selling wild oat herbicide:

(1) Consistently good performance year after year. (2) Lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops.

The high cost of wild oats.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cut per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels, and barley 2.2. An average of 15 wild oat plants/square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5.

Multiply these yield losses by the current crop prices, and you can see how much money wild oats can cost you.

Don't gamble.

The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed.

See your dealer about Carbyne...the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited, P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C 2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

Ryley

Lena Rud

Recent visitors with Jack and Hazel Davison of Ryley were Jack's uncle, Jack Davison of Ostrom, and Mary Baxter from Arizona.

On April 4, Harold and Clara Vargette motored to Mellet to visit Harold's sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Vargette and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Patterson and sons, David and Dennis, spent a few days in Calgary. While there, they attended the wedding of their son, John to Miss Cheryl Hargest of Calgary which took place Friday at St. Gabriel Anglican Church. Those attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Patterson, Lillian and Raymond Patterson, and Elmer Berke of Edmonton. While the Norman Patterson's enjoyed themselves for a few days, they knew everything was fine at home with Lloyd Wickstrom and Rene taking care of the farm.

Rain won't wash it off. And it works without moisture. Two of the reasons why Carbyne outsells all other wild oat herbicides.

*Fifteen minutes after application it can rain pitchforks and baby alligators without washing away Carbyne.

On the other hand, Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

Here are other reasons Carbyne is the largest selling wild oat herbicide: (1) Consistently good performance year after year. (2) Lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops.

The high cost of wild oats.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cut per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels, and barley 2.2. An average of 15 wild oat plants/square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5.

Multiply these yield losses by the current crop prices, and you can see how much money wild oats can cost you.

Don't gamble.

The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed.

See your dealer about Carbyne....the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited. P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C 2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

EASTER LEGENDS

I saw these two legends in a lit the book about Easter I hope you enjoy them these stories

Two different legends tell of the tree whose wood was used to make the cross on which Christ was crucified One such story is of the aspen tree Some say that when a tree was to be chosen for the cross, none of the others would allow themselves to be used. As soon as the axe touched one, it would cringe and fall into thousands of splinters. But the aspen permitted itself to be used. Afterwards, when it realized what it had done, its leaves began to tremble And from that time on, aspen leaves have never ceased to quiver

The second legend is of the dogwood tree Many years ago, when Jesus lived on the earth, the dogwood tree was tall and stately like the oak Because of its great strength it was selected as the one from which the cross that was to bear Jesus would be made The dogwood was very distressed when it heard this and grieved deeply Jesus was sensitive to the sorrows of all persons and things, and He understood the dogwood's grief So He told it that because of its pity for Him, nevermore would it be put to such use again. Henceforth it would no longer be rugged and stand straight It would be instead crooked and slender

It would bear delicate blossoms which would be in the shape of a cross.

On each petal at the sides would be dark red stains resembling nail-prints. The center of the flower would be marked as though with a crown of thorns And the dogwood tree would hereafter be a remainder to all people of Christ who died for them on the cross.

Just a Reminder

Once again, we take great pleasure in inviting all citizens of the county of Beaver No. 9, to participate in our Annual Arts and Music Festival.

This year, some new classes have been introduced in the Syllabus, and we hope to see entries in these, as well as greater participation in all classes. We offer those of you who participate in Artistic and Cultural Activities the chance to compete. For those who do not wish to compete, this is an excellent occasion to exhibit your creative endeavors and to provide the opportunity for others to come and see what individuals are doing — and perhaps to awaken an awareness of the Fine Arts. This is also a superb opportunity for students to enter/display their school projects.

The Members of The Beaver Regional Arts Committee would like to take this opportunity to express an appreciation to the many people throughout the County for their valuable assistance. We are indeed indebted to these sincere people.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—its owners, its give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

5. A Commitment To Reclamation

A priority commitment by industry to the public-at-large is the proper and adequate reclamation of agricultural, recreational or wildlife lands when those lands are disturbed in the mining of coal by surface mine operations.

In the case of the Camrose-Ryley Project the commitment by industry is to return mined land to a productivity level equal to or better than that which existed before the land was mined This is a requirement of Alberta legislation and is a sincere corporate objective

It is expected that good yields of forage can be obtained in the third year after mining. It may be preferable to work hold the return to cereal and oilseed crops until they follow about five years of forage crop production. In accordance with the mixed farming recommendations for the region a final cropping program should be a rotation of forage, cereals and oilseeds. Legumes should be included in the forage phase

As mentioned in earlier column as a complete environmental impact assessment must be done prior to the development of a major project of this kind In the way problems are identified long before they are encountered, and solutions are developed well in advance of the actual need

In the case of the Camrose Ryley Project, and in relation to proper and adequate land reclamation, CanPac Minerals and Calgary Power retained McAllister Environmental Services Ltd. to undertake the assessment of the situation and develop recommendations that will enable the land reclamation objective to be met

The three consultants involved in McAllister Environmental Services are Ern McAllister M Sc P.Ag., Fred Bentley Ph.D., P Ag and Earl Bowser M Sc., P Ag

Ern McAllister is an agrologist with valuable experience established through years of practical application of research in agricultural productivity

Dr Bentley, a former Dean of Agriculture at the University of Alberta, is recognized internationally for his work in expanding food production through improved soil management

Earl Bowser for 20 years was Senior Pedologist of the Alberta Soil Survey in charge of soil classification, soil mapping and land use capability evaluations. In addition he has had international assignments on soil projects.

These three men form the nucleus of the consultant force in land reclamation for the Camrose-Ryley Project In addition the program involves staff agronomists from CanPac Minerals and Comineo These groups will be formulating the detailed programs to guide the return of mined land to agricultural productivity equal to or better than its original productivity

Proper and adequate reclamation of agricultural lands cannot be achieved by armchair farming" The correct procedure involves a combination of scientific research and practical experience along with financial and human resources. These resources include the input of professional personnel in government service as well as that of the people who live in or near the project area

The financial resources necessary to achieve the goals will come, as it is needed, through your electric power bill

This ongoing process must be flexible in order to adapt to changes in public requirements as well as to the adoption of improved techniques The reclamation objective is expected to continue to require the reclamation of agricultural land for the production of food

Betty Birch, District Home Economist at Stettler is doing an interesting series of articles on housing alternatives. These will be shared with you during the next five weeks.

Housing is a concern of almost everyone especially if you are considering a change in your present housing. With housing costs being so high it is important to consider [illegible]. Housing in Alberta ranges from highly industrialized units to on site custom built homes. Each type has its own advantages, disadvantages and costs to take into consideration. In the following weeks we will be taking a look at four types of housing. Mobile housing referring to one or more units delivered and placed or secured to a prepared foundation. Sectional housing also can be described the same way but is always two or more sections usually placed permanently on a foundation. Prefabricated package housing means prefabricated pieces are delivered to a site for assembly on a prepared foundation. Custom housing refers to housing built on site from bulk raw materials.

Rene Marier, Architectural Technologist with Alberta Agriculture has prepared a lot of information on Alberta's housing alternatives. He suggests that before any type of housing is selected, a lot of background information should be considered. First it is important to check with municipal authorities regarding regulations. Usually on farm homes no problems would be encountered unless future roadways or utility expansion is planned, or the area is subject to acreage developments. Urban areas always have by-laws regulating distances from streets and adjoining lots.

The rural home builder because of a choice of locations has many things to consider in siting the home as the farmstead, prevailing wind, access to roads, utility supply, sewage disposal, slope of site, existing trees and landscape features, access to various parts of farm yard, and summer and [illegible].

The next step in selecting the housing alternative is evaluation of specific family needs and resources. The needs, wishes, lifestyle and goals of the family will determine the character of the home and of course financial and labour resources are crucial in establishing the size of the home. When all decisions have been [illegible] the type of housing you want, financial arrangements are made [illegible].

The type of foundation the house is put on can vary irregardless of the type of house it is. Soil conditions, water level, frost line [illegible] deciding whether the foundation would be a crawl space, concrete slab, concrete basement or pressure treated wood.

The utility servicing of a home is another aspect to be taken into consideration regardless of what type of home it is. An approximate cost for utility service installing services were at an existing farm [illegible] a new one would be about $2500. This would be much greater if utilities needed to be completely brought in to your property. The [illegible] involves quite an amount of money no matter what the cost of the home itself is.

Next week, we will discuss mobile housing cost involved, advantages and disadvantages.

"TEACHERS CONCERNED"

Dear Sir

It is common knowledge that the Provincial Government has made provisions for an 11.2 per cent increase in the School Foundation Program Fund However, it may not be common knowledge that the rural school districts are in actuality receiving considerably less than this.

The greatest proportion of increased provincial funding is in the area of per pupil grants for elementary schools. This is disturbing news for the County of Beaver because our elementary enrollments are decreasing yearly The declining enrollment grant and the small school assistance grant have in the past compensated for a declining elementary population The year however, these grants are not being increased at all. Then we as a rural community are not receiving an 11 percent increase

We feel that since provincial funding is not adequate for our School Board, it will be difficult to maintain the quality of education we are presently enjoying.

Mrs. Anne Taylor

Summer jobs for students

Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde has announced details on two student employment programs for the summer.

Approximately 510 students will be hired at a cost of $1,177,000.

A Health Activities Summer Employment Program for Students, with $660,000, will provide jobs for about 300 post-secondary students of health and other disciplines needed in the health field. It offers financial assistance to voluntary health and health-related organizations administering summer projects.

Students should apply to Canada Student Manpower Centres. Voluntary organizations will be required to contact these centres to obtain candidates for projects.

Voluntary health and health-related organizations may obtain additional information and project application forms from Canadian Public Health Association offices in Halifax, St-Laurent, P.Q.; Ottawa, Saskatoon, Vancouver and Yellowknife.

The Support to Community Agencies Program (Non-Medical Use of Drugs) with $517,000 in funds provides support to community groups or organizations involved directly or indirectly with drug, alcohol and tobacco related problems. It will offer summer employment for 210 students through direct services to selected clientele in the community and information gathering on attitudes to and patterns of use of chemical substances.

The program is administered by the regional offices of the Non-Medical Use of Drugs Directorate located in Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

1976 summer farm employment program

Alberta's minister of agriculture, Marvin Moore, has announced a Summer Farm Employment Program which will accommodate approximately 1,150 students compared with last year's enrollment of over 6,000. The program will operate only during July and August.

All Alberta farmers are eligible to participate in the program, but this year a farmer will not be permitted to hire a member of his immediate family. Employer applications will be considered on a first come first served basis but priority will be given to those farmers who did not participate in the 1975 program.

To qualify students must be Alberta residents and at least sixteen years of age. All employees will be required to attend a farm safety seminar which will be provided by Alberta Agriculture.

Under the Summer Farm Employment Program, the Alberta government pays one-half of the employee's salary up to a maximum of $200 per month. The objective of the program is to provide farmers with summer labor and to provide farm work experience to Alberta youth.

Farmers who hire students under the program are required to make every effort to provide the employee with a variety of farm tasks so that he becomes familiar with general farming operations.

THE VETERINARY

For the first time, there may now be enough veterinarians in Canada to move into new areas of veterinary medicine such as fish diseases, ecology and wildlife, and herd health preventative medicine programs.

More extensive use of veterinarians in these fields would improve the health and welfare of Canadian society, says Dr. Ian Sutherland, director of education and development for Agriculture Canada's Health of Animals Branch in Ottawa

Rain won't wash it off. And it works without moisture. Two of the reasons why Carbyne outsells all other wild oat herbicides.

*Fifteen minutes after application it can rain pitchforks and baby alligators without washing away Carbyne.

On the other hand, Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

Here are other reasons Carbyne is the largest selling wild oat herbicide: (1) Consistently good performance year after year. (2) Lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops.

The high cost of wild oats.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cut per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels, and barley 2.2. An average of 15 wild oat plants/square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5.

Multiply these yield losses by the current crop prices, and you can see how much money wild oats can cost you.

Don't gamble.

The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed.

See your dealer about Carbyne...the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited, P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

Marken retires

Professor Ed Marken will be retiring from teaching this year after 36 years of dedicated service to Camrose Lutheran College.

A reception in his honour will be held on April 23rd in the Convocation Centre beginning at 8:00 p.m. Friends and former students are invited to attend this reception.

President Glen Johnson is "compiling" two presentations, which will be made to Mr. Marken during the April 23rd program. First will be a scrapbook full of letters and messages of congratulations, while the second will be a gift obtained with funds contributed by many of Mr. Marken's old-time friends, pupils, and associates. Anyone interested in contributing to either may do so through Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Marken, who has been teaching since 1932, moved to Camrose Lutheran College in 1936, and taught at the college for 36 of the years since that time. He taught briefly at Lacombe from March until June of 1941, after taking a term off to attend the University of Alberta, where he received a senior diploma from the College of Education. Then for three years, from 1961 to 1964, he was vice principal at Round Hill. Before and after, his service with CLC, mainly in the fields of science and mathematics, has been unbroken.

In addition to his classroom duties, he was for many years leader of the college choir, and helped pilot it from very humble beginnings to become a central force in developing school spirit, and undergirding the academic program.

Gordeykos win in Manitoba

The Gordeyko Bros. of Ohaton made an impressive showing at the Royal Manitoba Winter Fair in Brandon earlier this month.

The Gordeykos had the best dressed and managed team of horses in competition for all breeds. As well, they exhibited the Reserve Champion in all breeds.

In Clydesdale competition, the Gordeykos had the best light draft, were third in heavy draft, topped the unicorn (three horses) competition, had the best four-horse hitch, and the top six-horse [illegible].

The Royal Manitoba Winter Fair opened in Brandon on March 29th and ran through until April 3rd.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

6. Continuing Reclamation Research Programs

Last week, this column introduced the subject of proper and adequate reclamation of lands temporarily disturbed by the surface mining of coal deposits associated with the Camrose-Ryley Project.

Since space limitations prohibit a detailed description of the agricultural reclamation studies programmed thus far, this week's column will summarize the nature of research underway.

As with much agricultural scientific research, theories are first applied on a small scale, usually in laboratory work or field plot tests, or combinations thereof.

Following laboratory analyses of many samples of the materials above the coal seams, the project's reclamation consultants established test plots at the former Burnstad Mine site that will provide a flow of information for many years. These test plots simulate several conditions expected to be experienced in actual mining. In this initial small scale field research, the consultants have blended various materials, both favourable and unfavourable to plant growth, that will assist in the development of final recommendations on the actual reclamation procedures.

While these test plots will be seeded to legumes and grasses as the basic 'starter crop' in reclamation, the production of cereal crops at an appropriate time is the major objective.

Erin McAllister, president of the consultant firm McAllister Environmental Services, says he expects some test plots to do very well, while others may demonstrate undesirable situations that should be avoided in the handling of mine overburden.

While the test plots are small in size, in comparison to farm fields, it is noted this type of test is widely used in agricultural research in evaluating grain varieties and fertilizers. Precise comparisons can be made with a saving in both costs and time.

The field research program is scheduled for expansion this summer with the reclamation investigations at pits that would be mined to provide coal for furnace tests. These investigations will not only provide checks on the techniques employed in the initial small test plots but also provide further information on handling mine overburden materials.

Conservation of topsoil is recognized as being a major interest of landowners and environmentalists who concern themselves with this proposed development. As making the most appropriate use of this upper soil layer is an objective of the research programs, its use is included in the field research trials.

The research studies include crop comparisons on levelled land both with and without topsoil applied as surface materials. It is anticipated that this upper surface materials will be carefully removed and transferred to form the new surface of levelled mined [illegible]

While it is appropriate for individuals to opinionate on matters that concern them and suggest best alternatives, it is essential that corporations thoroughly research, evaluate and test all theories before implementing a specific plan of action. Such investigation is necessary if efficiency is to be maintained in fuel production.

Since mining activities are not expected to begin until late 1980 or early 1981 if government approvals are received, a full five years would be still available for intensive research and evaluation of the most efficient methods for reclamation and mining.

But even after the mining would begin, the assessments would continue and ongoing research would be as much a part of the area activity as the mining itself.

Next week, a look at the recreation potential of the cooling pond.

LETS BE FAIR

Dear Sir,

At the risk of going against popular opinion, I would just like to state that I cannot agree with the attitude expressed in the recent editorial, "Utility Rates" Being closely associated with the Tofield Rural Electrification Association for 25 years, I have yet to experience any kind of unfair practice by Farm Elec. Services. In fact, logic tells us that anything like that would merit the Company nothing and would be avoided at all cost.

Accusations seem to come readily but, generally there is a logical explanation if one only goes to the trouble of scratching beneath the surface.

Menaces is made of the consumer who had a power bill of almost $100.00 for close to a three-month period when he was away. There is the possibility that, due to his absence, the meter card was not returned and that he received an estimated bill which is based on one's consumption of power in the past. If this was the case, the matter would be rectified in the next billing.

Also, there is the possibility of computer error which is also subject to correction. One can rest assured that little would be said if an error was made the other way. In rate comparisons we also have to keep in mind that there are three in effect - farm, domestic and commercial and the rate of consumption and transformer size have a bearing on the cost per KWH. Those who finance the cost of installing power through 25 year lien notes pay $15.00 extra per billing but surely no one would confuse the tow payments.

Naturally, no one likes to see an increase in utility rates but power has to come from somewhere and as the cost of generating and distributing it increases, someone has to dig down a little deeper

If the Company shareholders are receiving dividends that are out of line with comparable investments, then we know that power rates are too high

Ministik

Mrs. Jim Roddick

A most successful upholstery class concluded on Friday with 8 ladies and 1 man taking the 4-day course. Besides their own pieces of furniture to be re-covered, a chesterfield and three chairs were done for the centre. Michael Highes was their instructor.

Margaret Paterson has plans completed for the variety bingo to be held on May 7th at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Swabey was a patient in Tofield Hospital for 2 days last week, taking treatment for her arthritis.

Mrs. George Kleinschroth was also a patient in Tofield Hospital, having varicose veins removed.

A grass fire of unknown origin took place east of the local store on Saturday to which fire trucks from South Cooking Lake and Sherwood Park responded.

Several people from the community turned out on Saturday to sand and re-paint the local skating rink.

John Vandermeer and daughter, Wilna, returned home on Tuesday from a most enjoyable visit in Holland. They were busy and kept on the go by relatives and friends, every moment, returning home needing a rest.

Many from the area attended the joint auction sale of the Cooking Lake Lions Club and the Colchester Agricultural Society.

Student minister Catherine Waldie of Winnipeg will be on the field of the Ministik and South Cooking Lake United Churches on May 9 at 10 a.m.

Donald McCrae who has been lay minister for the winter months, took his last service on May 2nd.

Nature's oddity

Far from the ordinary Grade A Large egg, the specimen above being held by Mrs. Don Waterston must be unique in barnyard production. Extremely small to begin with, the egg was still open at one end, and the white seemed to have filled the end, like a tapered point, and sealed it as it dried. Mrs. Waterston, who lives about nine miles northwest of Camrose, says she only has a small flock of chickens, no particular breed, but it seems they come up with real fancy work.

Canadian Comment . . .

by Peter Ward

OTTAWA — SF — So we're finally going to have a by-election in the riding of St. John's West. There'll be plenty of time for a campaign, because the election won't be held until Oct. 18 which happens to be Prime Minister Trudeau's birthday, a fact of which he reminded us.

The law states that a by-election must be called within six months of a Parliamentary seat being declared vacant. Walter Carter resigned the St. John's West seat to run for the Provincial Newfoundland Tories last September, and Mr. Trudeau waited until the last possible day before announcing the date of the by-election. He also broke accepted practice by failing to call a by-election in Ottawa Carleton riding, the seat let vacant by John Turner's resignation.

Yet when Gerard Pelletier resigned from cabinet and the House of Commons, a by-election was called in his Hochelaga riding, and the election held six weeks after the seat was declared vacant.

The difference, of course, is that St. John's West, is traditionally a Tory seat; and the Liberals are in real danger in Ottawa Carleton.

Hochelaga, on the other hand, was considered a safe Liberal seat - although Pierre Juneau got clobbered by the Tories in the by-election. Mr. Trudeau himself admitted that it was party politics which made him decide to hold off on the other two by-elections as long as possible.

Meanwhile it matters not to the Trudeau government that the people of St. John's West must go without Parliamentary representative until Oct. 18 - a total of 13 months unrepresented; or that the people of Ottawa Carleton must wait in limbo, not knowing how long they must wait before being granted the right to vote for the elect of a new Parliamentary representative.

The name of the game, in Mr. Trudeau's terms, is hanging onto power, and to blazes with the rights of anyone who might get in the way.

Plant opposition continues to grow

Support continues to build for the Dodds-Round Hill Agricultural Protective Association in their effort to prevent Calgary Power and Can-Pac Minerals from constructing a power plant in their area.

The Western Canadian Chapter of the Sierra Club of America has announced that it will assist the Dodds-Round Hill group in their battle to keep their farms in agricultural production.

The Sierra Club will lend assistance in two ways. Experts from the United States are prepared to come to Canada to assist the association in drafting their briefs opposing the power plant project for presentation to the Energy Resources Conservation Board at forthcoming hearings.

As well, the Western Canadian Chapter is prepared to help publicize the efforts of the Association in their attempts to gain backing from other groups across the province.

The head of the Western Canada Chapter is Mrs. Pat Kariel of Calgary who is also a member of the strip-mine committee of the U.S. organization which is reported to have 1,200 members in Canada, one-half of whom are living in Western Canada.

In a meeting in Partridge Hill, south of Fort Saskatchewan, members of fifty farm families have decided to support the association.

Farmers in the Fort Saskatchewan area are concerned about encroaching industrial and pipeline development in their area, which they feel is also taking good farm land out of production.

The Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund

Last Friday debate in the Legislature centered around the massive multi-billion-dollar Heritage Savings Trust Fund, priority legislation at this session. I personally, have never had any real objection to the basic idea of putting aside money for the future gained from the sale of our non-renewable resources. However, we in the Official Opposition strongly believe that the Legislature should have control [illegible].

Under the proposed legislation, the Legislature after 1978 will have a say, under special legislation, as to whether 30 per cent of resource revenue is put into the fund each year, but will not have any control as to what form investments in the majority of the fund will take.

In my view, the Legislature, and not an "Investment Committee" of the Cabinet, should have the control over investment of these huge sums of money. Perhaps the people of Alberta are quite prepared to trust the present government to make sound investments with these public funds. When one considers the secrecy which has been prevalent in areas where public money is used by this administration in the Alberta Energy Company, the Alberta Export Agency and the Agricultural Development Corporation, I'm not so certain that trust is well [illegible].

The Heritage Trust Fund idea is not one originated by this government. On December 14th, 1973, Opposition Leader Bob Clark talked about the responsibilities of legislators, local governments and, in fact, all the people of this province, to deal directly with the "Heritage" we'll be leaving to future generations of Albertans. What he really was saying is that more than a "chosen few" should be involved in determining Alberta's "heritage".

Albertans can only be involved in determining our future through their elected representatives. We will be making our position clear in future debate on the Heritage Fund Bill, determined that the people of Alberta will have complete control over the heritage of our future. Next week, I'll outline some of the basic priorities I see, along with my colleagues, as absolute requirements within the framework of the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund.

If you have suggestions, questions or concerns please contact my office, 204 Legislative Building, or Phone 427-2231, collect.

Mail rates up to U.S.

Canadians sending mail to the United States have been having a good deal of difficulty in recent weeks, reports Camrose Postmaster Lloyd Day, who says many letter writers are not aware of steep increases in rates which became effective the first of the year.

All mail must now go to the States by air, reports Mr. Day, [illegible] used by the States in the past.

The new rate is ten cents for mail up to one ounce, heading for any part of the United States. For overseas mail, the rate has climbed to twenty cents for the first ounce. Mr. Day suggests that anyone with mail over the one ounce level should probably [illegible].

Where letters have been sent with insufficient postage, he says, the sender is immediately contacted when there is a return address on the envelope. However, this is not possible in all cases, and some slip through.

Pensions discriminate, declares Mazankowski

Once again, as old age pensions are adjusted on a quarterly basis to reflect increases in the cost of living, we are sadly reminded of the grave injustice and outright discrimination levelled at more than 200,000 Canadians. Discrimination because they are single, widowed or [illegible].

Effective April 1, the basic old-age pension was increased to $135.43. This is applicable to all Canadians who are 65 years of age or over. For those without other income, the guaranteed annual supplement is also increased. For a married person, living with his or her spouse, the new maximum supplement is $84.35.

This is where the discrimination comes in. Should the pensioner be married, with his or her spouse being past 60 years of age but not yet 65, that spouse is entitled to the old-age pension of $135.43 per month and a maximum supplement of $84.35. This couple would then be entitled, between them, to a maximum of $439.56.

As was pointed out when this legislation was going through the House of Commons, single persons, widows, separated or divorced spouses and couples who are past 60 but not yet 65 will receive nothing under the present old-age security scheme. Should they be in want, and many of them are, they will have to apply - on a much more rigorous means test - - - for welfare.

Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde was wholly unfair, last year, when he decided to extend old-age pension and supplement payments, on a means test basis, to pensioners' spouses who were aged between 60 and 65. This unfairness grows each quarter year, as the pensions and supplements are increased with the cost of living and welfare is not. Special benefit is available to married couples when one of the pair is 65. It is available to common-law couples who are not married to anybody else and who have been living together for a year. It is available to common law couples who are married to somebody else and who have been living together for three years.

In my opinion, there is no just or rational explanation for such blatant discrimination. Yet, while the Minister of Health and Welfare was piloting the bill through the House he endeavoured to explain why the Government could not afford to make old-age pensions available to everyone at 60. It would add $1.3 billion annually to the pension bill.

Mr. Lalonde may make a number of valid arguments against a universal old-age pension at 60. But if the pension is going to be paid to persons aged 60-65 on a needs basis, then it should be paid to all those in that age group who can prove need.

The Minister has created and continues a serious injustice and it is a sad, sad case, which cries out for action.

Waldrose District Council met at Chester Ronning School on April 12. In the chair was president Bill Harke, and filling in for the secretary was Mrs Baasch. District Commissioner Jules Hall reported the annual Cuboree will be held this year June 11 - 13 at Trautman's campgrounds. Since this is the 60th anniversary of the Cub movement, he suggested that each group should plan some special project to commemorate it, plant trees for example. Mr. Hall also made known his suggestions for commissioners and co-ordinators as follows. Bob Screen, Deputy District Commissioner, Harvey Olsen, Assistant District Commissioner, Joyce Olsen, Beaver Co-ordinator, Ed Nuremburg, Cub Co-ordinator, Duff Franklin, Scout Co-ordinator. These names were accepted by the meeting.

The Scout Camporee will be held at Trautmans Campgrounds, May 28-30.

Walter Busenius is the leader for a troop of scouts going to the Jamgatta at Camp Woods on Sylvan Lake this summer. He read the names of those registered and was pleased to announce that over 50 percent of Scouts in the district are going to the jamgatta.

Bawlf reports a train trip to Edmonton for all boys. 4th Camrose had a skateathon and plan to buy a tent with the proceeds. The Beavers are planning to take part in the Beaveree. Edberg reports their Cubs visited the fibreglass plant in Meeting Creek. The Scouts have put up partitions in the Scout hut. All three groups took part in the variety night. They have also designed and made a Beaver flag. Ferintosh plan to take a trip to Camrose to visit the Greenhouse, a newspaper shop and HomeCo. Walter Busenius will be showing his Nordjam slides. Hay Lakes scouts have had a fishing trip. They have also had a bottle and battery drive. Kingman reports having one parent to assist the Cub leader each night. They have also had a battery drive. New Norway Scouts are working towards Citizenship badges. The Beavers visited a farm and the fire hall. The Cubs are working on codes and communications. They had an Easter party and a bottle and battery drive.

Beaver Co-ordinator Joyce Olsen received permission to hold a Beaveree on May 16th from 12 - 5:30 p.m. in the Ferintosh park, and hall if necessary.

The next meeting will be held in Bawlf on May 10th at 8 p.m.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 17, from the Bardo Lutheran Church, Tofield, with Pastor O. Lokken officiating. Interment followed in the Tofield Cemetery.

Serving as Honorary pallbearers were C. Boschmann, Pete Otubko, George Lust, John Langkaas, and Gunval Nerland. Socreds hold Ryley meeting

A Social Credit public meeting was held in Ryley Legion Hall on April 14.

Orvis Kennedy, as a senior organizer and past executive director of the League was the guest speaker, and A. Kurpjuweit from the League executive also spoke at the first part of the meeting.

It was stated by the speakers that the four Social Credit M.L.A.s were very busy covering the province in other places with such meetings as this one.

The meeting was quite well attended, and much interest was shown as Mr. Kennedy, very ably, related to Social Credit principles as would apply in the present-day run-away economy of debt and soaring prices. The Heritage Fund and also the Round Hill coal development by the Calgary Power was among the issues which brought a very lively discussion during the question period.

Albert Johnson, Social Credit president for the Constituency, chaired the meeting which finished with lunch and coffee prepared by the local ladies.

"What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women"
—Dr. James Dobson
American women are facing a severe crisis of identity, brought on by persistent challenges to everything feminine. Suddenly, many women have begun to question who they are and where they are going in this rapidly changing world. This upheaval has strained members of both sexes and undermined the foundations of the home. In an effort to understand the specific causes and treatment for feminine unhappiness and dissatisfaction, Dr. Dobson identified ten "Sources of Depression".
This book is devoted to those problems with solutions and suggestions he has found to effectively deal with them.

Reil - Rowland vows exchanged

On March 20th, St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church in Tofield was the scene of a lovely wedding uniting in marriage Miss Theresa Anne Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rowland of rural Tofield, to Derrill Dennis Reil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Reil of Tofield. Father Carswell officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies, and her long white gown was trimmed with daisy applique.

Maid of honor was Gayleen Neufeld, and bridesmaid was Kathy Reil. Lorne Lehman attended the groom as best man, and Greg Reil was groomsman. Ushering the guests in the church were Trevor Teed and Dave Coleman. Doris Fouts played the wedding music.

A reception was held at Tofield Community Hall, with Keith Williams as master of ceremonies. Lloyd Grummett proposed the toast to the bride, and a toast to the couple was proposed by Edward Stewart.

Coming from a distance to be among the guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hall and family, cousin of the bride, of St. Helens, Oregon, and Mrs. Mildred Morrison, aunt of the bride, of Vancouver, B.C.

Following a honeymoon at Vancouver, the couple is now residing in Tofield where both are employed.

What you have may change your life!

Rain won't wash it off.* And it works without moisture. Two of the reasons why Carbyne outsells all other wild oat herbicides.

*Fifteen minutes after application it can rain pitchforks and baby alligators without washing away Carbyne.

On the other hand, Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

Here are other reasons Carbyne is the largest selling wild oat herbicide:

(1) Consistently good performance year after year. (2) Lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops.

The high cost of wild oats.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cut per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels, and barley 2.2. An average of 15 wild oat plants/square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5.

Multiply these yield losses by the current crop prices, and you can see how much money wild oats can cost you.

Don't gamble.

The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed.

See your dealer about Carbyne...the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited, P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

Housing Alternatives: Mobile Housing

Mobile homes usually bring thoughts of a "trailer" to most peoples minds.

However, the cramped trailer type of unit is a thing of the past. The vehicular concept has changed as most units are permanently located and not moved around as they once were.

Construction of mobile homes on an assembly line basis in a factory allows a high degree of control over production. The unit is not subject to weathering while being built but the assembly line method of buildings does limit floor plans available. The homes are usually built in cycles. That is, one plan is made several times, then another and so on. It could take two or three months to get a model that is out of stock.

Any mobile homes made or sold in Alberta conform to C.S.A. standards.

Options such as extra insulation, larger capacity furnaces, etc. make some models more suitable than others for some families.

The reputation of the dealer is extremely important in buying a mobile home. He is responsible for seeing to setting the unit up, making sure everything is working and repairing any transportation damage. Don't be afraid to enquire of previous customers, consumer agencies, and the Better Business Bureau in making a decision about choosing a dealer. He is the one who will handle any problems you have.

Proper blocking is a major concern for mobile housing. It can be either accepted pile footings and beams or a full basement foundation. Blocking has to provide a rigid foundation, a level floor so all utilities function properly and must prevent sagging which results in expensive repair costs.

Construction of mobile homes vary with the manufacturer. All of them have warm floors and adequate structure using 2x8, 2x6 or truss joist construction.

In the heat register layout, more efficient air circulation is effected if there are branch ducts to outer walls rather than a single duct down the centre of the unit.

Wall studding requirements are 2x3 or 2x4. The narrower wall only offers insulation value of R6 or R7. Options of up to R12 insulation are available in some models. Some manufacturers use plythene vapour barrier, others use only the vapour barrier provided by the insulation.

Roof construction is usually prebuilt bow trusses with one piece galvanized roof on single wides or half trusses with asphalt shingles on double wides. Some manufacturers offer single wides with gable roof construction. Interior finishing is usually good quality and requires low maintenance. Furnishings offered are adequate quality and usually a choice of price ranges is available. Kitchen appliances and cupboards are good quality. Draperies are included in the furniture package.

Shopping around is important to get the best deal. Cost will depend to some extent on the dealers policy. Generally up to ten per cent savings can be made for cash deals with no trade-in.

Cost-wise, mobile housing break-down per square foot is as follows: Foundation, (full basement) - $4.00; Utility hook up $2.50; Furniture $1.00; Mobile section itself - $16.00 to $19.00. This makes for an approximate total cost of $23.50 to $26.50 per square foot. If pile footings instead of a full basement were used this cost is reduced to $21.00 to $24.00 per square foot. This cost will vary somewhat in different areas and [illegible].

Generally, the advantages to mobile housing are low cost per square foot, housing is available very quickly (no contractor needed), the product is uniform because it is built in a controlled environment, low interior and ex-[illegible].

Some disadvantages: Entry area and bedrooms are small in single-wides, interior finish is all wall paneling, shorter term financing is usually available, and floor plans are limited and unalterable. There is also a problem of matching roof and exterior with porches or any addition. A porch is often added to give extra storage space and a larger entry. Depreciation of a mobile home is a factor to consider but at present time, not a disadvantage because the cost of housing is increasing at such a rate that resale value of mobile homes is generally as good or more than purchase price. In new double-wides, long, narrow hallways are no longer a problem. In two weeks, we'll take a look at sectional or modular housing.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

7. Recreation Aspects of a Cooling Pond

When the Camrose-Ryley power development proposal was first announced, one of the benefits outlined was the recreation potential for the region associated with the multi-use aspects of the cooling pond.

The 3,000 acre pond is an integral part of the proposed development. A continuing supply of fresh water is circulated through the cooling pond, coming from the North Saskatchewan River upstream from Edmonton, with the discharge from the pond into the Battle River system at Dried Meat Lake.

The cooling pond would be formed by dykes on the north, south and east edges, with natural elevation and slopes providing a shoreline on the western perimeter. Average depth of the pond would be about 15 feet.

Although the pond would be constructed for the primary purpose of plant operation, this man-made body of water lends itself readily to other multiple uses which would not conflict with its prime function.

These secondary multiple uses are recognized as having great potential to improve on the recreational facilities for the region. Calgary Power and CanPac have committed themselves to a community consultation process that will identify and evaluate these recreational potentials with the local population, the local municipal governments, and of course, the provincial government.

Calgary Power is prepared to initiate studies to determine what fish species could thrive in the pond's environment. As well, there would be studies undertaken to determine the feasibility of allocating a portion of the pond's perimeter for wildlife sanctuary, with the balance allocated to recreational pursuits.

The Company is reluctant to initiate any formal planning on recreational aspects until a decision is reached on the project itself. Should the project receive the go-ahead, Calgary Power would then initiate the community consultation process so that the people of the region – the people who would use, and benefit from, the facilities most directly – can assist not only in the joint planning of the recreation facilities, but also in the development.

This type of community consultation would be one of the early formal activities in order to come up with a master plan before the pond construction is completed. It is much easier to incorporate ideas prior to, and during construction, than it is after the pond is completed and is operational.

The community consultation process, a relatively new concept to both industry and the public generally, would involve several workshops in various areas of the region, and will require almost full-time attention on the part of a few local residents to serve as co-ordinators.

Service clubs, known for their enthusiasm and constructive contributions to community projects in the past, would no doubt play a key role in such recreational developments, as would county recreational boards, government departments and of course local [illegible]

Some of the recreational pursuits that could be given close scrutiny include beach facilities for swimming, sailboat docking facilities, picnic areas for individuals and groups, and sports facilities.

As with other power development sites in the province, a Visitors Information Centre would be established adjacent to the public recreation area, which, through community initiative, could be expanded to house community facilities for the area.

It is obvious that further discussion on these recreation alternatives associated with the development's cooling pond cannot be undertaken until there is a definite direction on the proposed development. However, Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals have stated from the outset that the potential recreation possibilities would be explored in-depth, but can only be done properly if there is constructive input from the community itself.

Next week, a look at another role local residents would have in reshaping the agricultural community after the mining activity.

Ministik officially opens new hall

by Mrs. Jim Roddick

The new Ministik Community Hall was officially opened on Saturday evening, May 1st, with highlights including a pot luck supper, messages of congratulations to the community from various guests, the ribbon-cutting, and a dance.

Reeve of the County of Strathcona, J. D. Morrow, cut the ribbon to officially declare the hall open. Standing with the reeve on stage were Karl Schwuchow, president of the Ministik Community League, John Heitman, past president, and John Vandermeer, building committee chairman.

Prior to the ribbon-cutting, several head table guests spoke, with Duane McPhail, recreational director for the county, as master of ceremonies.

Congratulating the community for their efforts and achievement were M.L.A. Walter Buck, former M.L.A. Floyd Baker, Mr. Morrow, Don Charlston, representing Associated Engineers, and M.L.A. for Edmonton-Ottewell, John Ashton.

On behalf of the Community League, Mr. Schwuchow thanked those who gave of their time and talents to complete the project. Mr. Vandermeer said the blessing before supper, and following the speeches, Mr. Morrow proposed toasts to the community and hall.

Mrs. Bruno (Margaret) Jesko, convener of the affair, was thanked by members of the community with the gift of a red carnation corsage presented to her by Diana Fenske. Artistic talent in the community was put to use in decorating the hall for the occasion, which drew many comments of admiration.

A capacity crowd attended the dance which followed the official program, with the Primos supplying the music. Andrew Ferguson won the draw in the raffle for a grandfather clock, and the door prize was won by Miles Rose.

Declared open

Question postponed

The question of whether or not the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board will be dissolved won't be decided until the board's June meeting.

A move to have the board dissolved originated in Viking as both the Viking Town Council and the Viking and District Recreation Board proposed such a move, which was then discussed by the board at its April meeting. After discussion, the matter was tabled to the June session.

Valerie Charteris is the new Program Supervisor. Ms. Charteris is a native of Kerrobert, Sask., and recently graduated from Lethbridge Community College. She replaces Marie Kurylo who left the middle of last month to move to Edmonton, where she'll be getting married in the near future.

Ms. Charteris will assume her new duties on Monday.

Minutes of the board's March meeting were received by The Mercury this week. However due to the Viking motion and the staff change, news from that meeting was outdated and the minutes were discarded.

Canadian Comment . . .

by Peter Ward

OTTAWA — (SF) — Well in advance of producing the legislation we've been promised to reform Canada's jail, bail and death penalty laws, Solicitor General Warren Allmand promised that the contentious death penalty legislation would be separated from other measures designed to reverse Canada's trend toward violent crime.

Allmand also said that when Parliament is ready to vote on the issue of abolishing the death penalty, there will be a "free" vote to allow members of all parties to vote according to their consciences, instead of along party lines. Only cabinet ministers will be obliged to vote for the new law.

It's public knowledge that nearly every cabinet minister and a majority of Liberal backbenchers, plus a large number of Conservatives, and virtually all the NDP members, are in favor of abolishing the death penalty

The law now provides that killings of policemen and prison guards, who are performing their duties, is the only hanging offense in Canada. However, not since 1962 has the death penalty been imposed. Every time a case has gone to cabinet for final appeal, the death sentence has been commuted. Allmand has said openly that if a death sentence is ever carried out, then he will resign.

We can now add to that promise from the Solicitor General, the statements made by Prime Minister Trudeau, who also makes no secret of the fact that he, too, opposes the retention of the death penalty

Mr. Trudeau said he would resign if the death penalty is [illegible] he felt it his duty to convert those who differed from him on the capital punishment issue.

Without taking sides on the issue of executing certain types of killers, I would say that the statements of both Mr. Trudeau and Mr. Allmand make the coming vote in Parliament anything but a "free" vote.

The official party whips may be sheathed in public, but there's no question they'll be used psychologically. So why not call a spade a ruddy shovel? The government should not seek to make the country think the vote will be really a matter of conscience.

Charities and churches

Some interesting figures crossed the desk recently, having to do with the collections of charitable organizations and churches in Canada during the years 1972 and 1973, the latest information available from Statistics Canada, even though it does seem a bit dated.

Charity is a bigger business in Canada than the church is, according to the figures, with Canadians turning 912 million dollars over to some 8,772 recognized charities during 1973, as compared to 688.5 million to churches.

The funds turned over to charities, too, soared by more than twenty-seven percent, while those provided for the churches climbed by only a little less than eleven percent. An interesting point for conjecture shows up in the fact that charitable spending rose by only nineteen percent, about two thirds of their increased receipts, while church spending actually went up by more than the nearly eleven percent received. Either reserves were being raided, or they were depleting the future.

The charities averaged more than $104,000 each in 1973, while the 21,695 establishments operated by religious organizations managed to get by on average receipts of less than $32,000.

Incidentally, the number of religious establishments, 21,695, means there was a church for just over every thousand people across the country. And while we wouldn't say that Camrose has more than its share, it does indicate the city has a pretty high batting average in this respect.

Ontario studying Alberta check stop

A report suggesting Ontario adopt a check stop program similar to Alberta's has been tabled in Queen's Park in Toronto.

Dave Hieatt, a systems research analyst with the Ontario ministry of transportations and one of the report's writers, said in Toronto that Attorney-General Roy McMurtry is enthusiastic about the report and that legislation on its recommendations may be prepared for the spring session of the House.

"What we've recommended", Mr. Hieatt said, "is something similar to the Alberta program but with a few wrinkles."

Those wrinkles include a more effective data system - possibly in a central registry more sophisticated that Alberta's - by which Ontario hopes to monitor the success of the proposed [illegible]

"Alberta did it all. They had the stops, 24-hour licence suspensions and public information programs . . . they collected data that showed how to guide the program, but what wasn't done was the collection of data on how to measure effectiveness," he said.

The report, compiled after four senior Ontario civil servants [illegible] this summer, also calls for more teeth in the enforcement of 24-hour licence suspensions.

On of the methods being considered is impounding car keys for a day, plus putting the offence on a driver's record, neither of which is done in Alberta. Mr. Hieatt said. If a driver is caught impaired at a check stop twice within a 12-month period, it is also recommended he appear before ministry officials and argue why his licence should not be suspended.

Metropolitan Toronto police have run something similar to check stops during the Christmas season, he said, but added that Ontario police forces will need extensive training in manning check stops and detecting alcohol offences.

Ontario's aim in adopting such a program would be to keep impaired drivers off the road. Already, more than one percent of the province's driving population is charged every year with a liquor offence while driving, Mr. Hieatt [illegible]

Lowest beef prices

The Beef Information Centre in Toronto thinks it has something to talk about in the recent prices of beef, which, they maintain, have hit rock bottom. And they urge consumers to take advantage of the situation and stock up for freezers.

The first week of April, they point out, the average price of all cuts of beef was $1.24, which is the lowest price that beef has seen since the end of April, 1973.

And that is worth talking about. . .how many other products are the same price as three years ago? We don't have the figure for wages handy, but in the same period per capita disposable income has increased approximately 29 percent.

The figures being quoted, we think, were those which apply to the markets in Eastern Canada, and do not reflect, unfortunately, the somewhat higher prices Western Canadians have to pay for the beef which is raised right here. But even then, prices can't be as far different from those of three years ago as the disparity in disposable income.

Now, do we hear all that talk again about the need for increased wages and salaries to meet the exorbitant prices of meat? Rather let's hear a little cry for a surge in the price the farmer gets, so he'll hang in there, and keep producing beef so we'll be able to indulge ourselves in the future.

Quebec City for Olympics?

Quebec City seems to be a leading contender for the Olympic gold coin in optimism. Or, here we go again, according to a report in the Signs and Portents column of The Financial Post recently.

Lake Placid, New York, which was awarded the Winter Olympics for 1980, has given the United States government a summer deadline to come up with the funds promised to help finance the games. If it doesn't get the money, it intends to withdraw from staging them.

Now, (are your eyes closed?) readying to leap into this potential breach, Quebec city already has someone warming up its pitch. At least, this is how unconfirmed reports in the province have it. And Quebec City can't be too rusty, since it will be remembered that it tried for the Winter Olympics that went to Innsbruck.

If Quebec does in fact make the pitch, it had better set up a special bureau to handle groans, and categoric refusals of other governments to provide support.

Some critics say that Mount Ste. Anne would not be big enough in any case for ski events. But then, perhaps by that time Mayor Jean Drapeau may be available to oversee construction of a self-financing mountain for them.

"As I See It"

-- by Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A.
Clover Bar
Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund

Last week in this column, I stated I would indicate to my readers why we in the Official Opposition have taken a strong stand against the passage of Bill 35, The Heritage Savings Trust Fund Act, unless it is amended.

Let me state again that we have no quarrel with the principle of setting aside some of the revenue from non-renewable resources (oil, natural gas and coal) for future generations of Albertans. That principle is reasonable and sound. The reason we voted against second reading of the bill is simply because we object -- with good reason -- to the fact that 80 percent of the money in the Heritage Fund will be invested by an "investment committee" from the provincial cabinet.

These investments -- comprising literally of billions of dollars -- will be made without the Legislature having any prior control over them. What will really happen is that each year, the Legislature will be asked to approve investments only after they have been made. That means the Legislature, the representatives of the people in Alberta's highest court, will be relegated to nothing more than a "rubber stamp".

An editorial in one of Alberta's daily papers calls the lack of independence by Conservative back-benchers in voting unanimously for legislation of this type, a "black day for democracy". The paper says -- and I agree -- that M.L.A.s who are prepared to give the cabinet almost complete control over the Heritage Fund, have made themselves basically indespensible and have given up much of their responsibility for decision-making within the [illegible] process.

As far as we in the Official Opposition are concerned, we feel that priority for investments through the Heritage Fund should be set by all the people's representative in the Legislature, not exclusively by those blessed by ministerial titles. Quite frankly, when one realistically reflects on some investments already made by the Tory government, including P.W.A., I.P.S.C.A., Syncrude and others, one might quite reasonably question the business and in-[illegible] Would it not safer and wiser the long run to have the legislature approve investments before they are made, rather than after these huge sums of money are committed?

As we move into committee to discuss the bill "clause-by-clause", it will become evident to all Albertans that the Official Opposition does not quarrel with the principle of the Heritage Savings Trust Fund. However, we will attempt to get some legislative accountability built into it! As well, we will show clearly how we feel the money should and could be invested in the best interests of Alberta citizens, present and future.

Questions, concerns, or suggestions may be directed to my office at 304 Legislative Building or phone 427-2231 collect in Edmonton. We would be pleased to hear from you

Charities and churches

Some interesting figures crossed the desk recently, having to do with the collections of charitable organizations and churches in Canada during the years 1972 and 1973, the latest information available from Statistics Canada, even though it does seem a bit dated.

Charity is a bigger business in Canada than the church is, according to the figures, with Canadians turning 912 million dollars over to some 8,772 recognized charities during 1973, as compared to 688.5 million to churches.

The funds turned over to charities, too, soared by more than twenty-seven percent, while those provided for the churches climbed by only a little less than eleven percent. An interesting point for conjecture shows up in the fact that charitable spending rose by only nineteen percent, about two thirds of their increased receipts, while church spending actually went up by more than the nearly eleven percent received. Either reserves were being raided, or they were depleting the future.

The charities averaged more than $104,000 each in 1973, while the 21,695 establishments operated by religious organizations managed to get by on average receipts of less than $32,000.

Incidentally, the number of religious establishments, 21,695, means there was a church for just over every thousand people across the country. And while we wouldn't say that Camrose has more than its share, it does indicate the city has a pretty high batting average in this respect.

Lowest beef prices

The Beef Information Centre in Toronto thinks it has something to talk about in the recent prices of beef, which, they maintain, have hit rock bottom. And they urge consumers to take advantage of the situation and stock up for freezers.

The first week of April, they point out, the average price of all cuts of beef was $1.24, which is the lowest price that beef has seen since the end of April, 1973.

And that is worth talking about. . .how many other products are the same price as three years ago? We don't have the figure for wages handy, but in the same period per capita disposable income has increased approximately 29 percent.

The figures being quoted, we think, were those which apply to the markets in Eastern Canada, and do not reflect, unfortunately, the somewhat higher prices Western Canadians have to pay for the beef which is raised right here. But even then, prices can't be as far different from those of three years ago as the disparity in disposable income.

Now, do we hear all that talk again about the need for increased wages and salaries to meet the exorbitant prices of meat? Rather let's hear a little cry for a surge in the price the farmer gets, so he'll hang in there, and keep producing beef so we'll be able to indulge ourselves in the future.

Quebec City for Olympics?

Quebec City seems to be a leading contender for the Olympic gold coin in optimism. Or, here we go again, according to a report in the Signs and Portents column of The Financial Post recently.

Lake Placid, New York, which was awarded the Winter Olympics for 1980, has given the United States government a summer deadline to come up with the funds promised to help finance the games. If it doesn't get the money, it intends to withdraw from staging them.

Now, (are your eyes closed?) readying to leap into this potential breach, Quebec city already has someone warming up its pitch. At least, this is how unconfirmed reports in the province have it. And Quebec City can't be too rusty, since it will be remembered that it tried for the Winter Olympics that went to Innsbruck.

If Quebec does in fact make the pitch, it had better set up a special bureau to handle groans, and categoric refusals of other governments to provide support.

Some critics say that Mount Ste. Anne would not be big enough in any case for ski events. But then, perhaps by that time Mayor Jean Drapeau may be available to oversee construction of a self-financing mountain for them.

Canadian Comment . . .

by Peter Ward

OTTAWA — (SP) — Well in advance of producing the legislation we've been promised to reform Canada's jail, bail and death penalty laws, Solicitor General Warren Allmand promised that the contentious death penalty legislation would be separated from other measures designed to reverse Canada's trend toward violent crime.

Allmand also said that when Parliament is ready to vote on the issue of abolishing the death penalty, there will be a "free" vote to allow members of all parties to vote according to their consciences, instead of along party lines. Only cabinet ministers will be obliged to vote for the new law.

It's public knowledge that nearly every cabinet minister and a majority of Liberal backbenchers, plus a large number of Conservatives, and virtually all the NDP members, are in favor of abolishing the death penalty.

The law now provides that killings of policemen and prison guards, who are performing their duties, is the only hanging offense in Canada. However, not since 1962 has the death penalty been imposed. Every time a case has gone to cabinet for final appeal, the death sentence has been commuted. Allmand has said openly that if a death sentence is ever carried out, then he will resign.

We can now add to that promise from the Solicitor General, the statements made by Prime Minister Trudeau, who also makes no secret of the fact that he, too, opposes the retention of the death penalty.

Mr. Trudeau said he would resign if the death penalty is [illegible] He added that he felt it his duty to convert those who differed from him on the capital punishment issue.

Without taking sides on the issue of executing certain types of killers, I would say that the statements of both Mr. Trudeau and Mr. Allmand make the coming vote in Parliament anything but a "free" vote.

The official party whips may be sheathed in public, but there's no question they'll be used psychologically. So why not call a spade a ruddy shovel? The government should not seek to make the country think the vote will be really a matter of conscience.

Ontario studying Alberta check stop

A report suggesting Ontario adopt a check stop program similar to Alberta's has been tabled in Queen's Park in Toronto.

Dave Hieatt, a systems research analyst with the Ontario ministry of transportations and one of the report's writers, said in Toronto that Attorney-General Roy McMurtry is enthusiastic about the report and that legislation on its recommendations may be prepared for the spring session of [illegible]

"What we've recommended", Mr. Hieatt said, "is something similar to the Alberta program but [illegible]"

Those wrinkles include a more effective data system - possibly in a central registry more sophisticated that Alberta's - by which Ontario hopes to monitor the success of the proposed [illegible]

"Alberta did it all. They had the stops, 24-hour licence suspensions and public information programs . . . they collected data that showed how to guide the program, but what wasn't done was the collection of data on how to measure effectiveness," he said.

The report, compiled after four senior Ontario civil servants [illegible] bia this summer, also calls for more teeth in the enforcement of 24-hour licence suspensions.

On of the methods being considered is impounding car keys for a day, plus putting the offence on a driver's record, neither of which [illegible]

If a driver is caught impaired at a check stop twice within a 12-month period, it is also recommended he appear before ministry officials and argue why his licence should not be suspended.

Metropolitan Toronto police have run something similar to check stops during the Christmas season, he said, but added that Ontario police forces will need extensive training in manning check stops and detecting alcohol offences.

Ontario's aim in adopting such a program would be to keep impaired drivers off the road. Already, more than one percent of the province's driving population is charged every year with a liquor offence while driving, Mr. Hieatt [illegible]

Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund

Last week in this column, I stated I would indicate to my readers why we in the Official Opposition have taken a strong stand against the passage of Bill 35, The Heritage Savings Trust Fund Act, unless it is amended.

Let me state again that we have no quarrel with the principle of setting aside some of the revenue from non-renewable resources (oil, natural gas and coal) for future generations of Albertans. That principle is reasonable and sound. The reason we voted against second reading of the bill is simply because we object - - with good reason - - to the fact that 80 percent of the money in the Heritage Fund will be invested by an "investment committee" from the provincial cabinet.

These investments - - comprising literally of billions of dollars - - will be made without the Legislature having any prior control over them. What will really happen is that each year, the Legislature will be asked to approve investments only after they have been made. That means the Legislature, the representatives of the people in Alberta's highest court, will be relegated to nothing more than a "rubber stamp".

An editorial in one of Alberta's daily papers calls the lack of independence by Conservative back-benchers in voting unanimously for legislation of this type, a "black day for democracy". The paper says - - and I agree - - that M.L.A.s who are prepared to give the cabinet almost complete control over the Heritage Fund, have made themselves basically indespensible and have given up much of their responsibility for decision-making within the democratic process.

As far as we in the Official Opposition are concerned, we feel that priority for investments through the Heritage Fund should be set by all the people's representative in the Legislature, not exclusively by those blessed by ministerial titles. Quite frankly, when one realistically reflects on some investments already made by the Tory government, including P.W.A., I.P.S.C.A., Syncrude and others, one might quite reasonably question the business and investment acumen of the cabinet. Would it not safer and wiser the long run to have the legislature approve investments before they are made, rather than after these huge sums of money are committed?

As we move into committee to discuss the bill "clause-by-clause", it will become evident to all Albertans that the Official Opposition does not quarrel with the principle of the Heritage Savings Trust Fund. However, we will attempt to get some legislative accountability built into it! As well, we will show clearly how we feel the money should and could be invested in the best interests of Alberta citizens, present and future.

A TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

The following article is Erma Bombeck's famous tribute to a mother.

How well it sums up "mother".

When the Good Lord was creating Mothers He was into His sixth day of "overtime" when the angel appeared and said, "You're doing a lot of fiddling around on this one."

And the Lord said, "Have you read the spec on this order?

"She has to be completely washable, but not plastic.

"Have 180 movable parts .... all replaceable. "Run on black coffee and leftovers.

"Have a lap that disappears when she stands up. "A kiss that can cure anything from a broken leg to a disappointed love affair. "And six pairs of hands. "The angel shook her head slowly and said, "Six pairs of hands. . . .no way."

"It's not the hands that are causing me problems," said the Lord.

"It's the three pairs of eyes that Mothers have to have."

"That's on the standard model?" asked the angel.

The Lord nodded. "One pair that sees through closed doors when she asks, "What are you kids doing in there?" when she already knows. Another here in the back of her head that sees what she shouldn't but what she has to know, and of course the ones here in front so that she can look at a child when he goofs and say, "I understand and I love you" without so much as uttering a word."

"Lord," said the angel touching His sleeve gently, "come to bed. Tomorrow ...."

"I can't," said the Lord, "I'm so close to creating something so close to myself. Already I have one who heals herself when she is sick .... can feed a family of six on one pound of hamburger .... and get a 9-year old to stand under a shower."

The angel circled the model of a Mother very slowly. "It's too soft," she sighed. "But tough!" said the Lord excitedly. "You cannot imagine what this Mother can do or endure."

"Can it think?"

"Not only think, but it can reason and compromise," said the Creator.

Finally, the angel bent over and ran her finger across the cheek.

"There's a leak," she pronounced. "I told You You were trying to put too much into this model."

"It's not a leak," said the Lord. "It's a tear."

"What's it for?"

"It's for joy, sadness, disappointment, pain, loneliness and pride."

"You are a genius," said the angel.

The Lord looked somber.

"I didn't put it there."

Mr. McAdam and daughter Sandra were visiting from Marwayne, other guests at the birthday luncheon were Ronnie and Barb Googlien and daughter, Sydney and Cheryl Mazuer, as well as Deanna's sister, Gail and Ron McAdam.

Mrs. Ellen Eaton returned home from the Tofield Hospital Thursday after spending 4 days there having a check-up.

Mobikes must have light ON

Because it's spring and motor cycles are on the road again I want to remind all motorcyclists that effective January 1 1976, headlights must be turned on at all times when the cycle is in operation said Dr Hugh M. Horner deputy premier and minister of transportation

Dr Horner stated that headlights definitely make vehicles more conspicuous and felt that this new legislation will greatly reduce motorcycle accidents in the future

Federal legislation requires that all motorcycles sold in Canada on or January 1 1975 be wired so that the headlight is on at all times the motorcycle ignition is on and the vehicles in gear

Dr Horner reported that a study conducted in 1970 on headlight usage showed the motorcycles that ran with their headlights on were noticed to be between 44 percent and 142 percent more drivers than the cycles that ran with their headlights off

Solar energy . . .

Solar Energy on the farm may be a future source of economical power to dry grain, writes Basil Jackson. The savings in the consumption of fuel oil and electricity could be substantial — the Canadian agricultural industry (including manufacturers of artificial fertilizers) consumes 12 - 15 per-cent of all energy used in Canada. Farmer George Rosenheart, at his farm near Olivia, Minnesota, uses his barn roof as a solar-heat collector. Fans and ducts blow the warm air over the grain, to dry it. Dr. Timbers of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa believes that waste heat from thermal electric power stations in Canada could also be channeled into agriculture. "There is quite a lot of heat wasted by thermal power stations - especially nuclear stations - that could be ducted to greenhouses," he says. "Unfortunately, while other forms of energy-saving have been looked at thoroughly - in industry, in transportation, commercial buildings - the potential savings that could be made in agricultural applications have not been given enough attention.

Making yogurt

by Jan Williams-Russell
Alberta Agriculture's District Home Economist at Stettler

Yogurt has recently achieved widespread popularity and acceptance as a nutritious food.

It is a cultured milk product that has a mildly acid flavor and is made by innoculating milk with a mixed culture of lactic bacteria and then letting it ferment. During the fermentation period the milk changes into the thick custard-like product that is known as yogurt.

The nutritive value of yogurt is almost the same as that of the milk from which it is made. It is a good source source of calcium, protein and riboflavin. However, because it is usually made from partially skimmed milk with added nonfat solids, it is lower than whole milk in fat, calories and vitamin A.

In addition to being used as a snack or dessert, plain yogurt can be used instead of sour cream or salad dressing on chopped vegetables, in cream sauces and as a marinade for meats.

Keep a small quantity of yogurt from your first batch to use as a starter for a second batch. Preferably, the starter should not be older than five days when used for the next batch.

Milks for Making Yogurt

Milk in any form can be used to make yogurt. It can be pasteurized whole milk, 2 per cent milk, skimmed milk, powdered milk mixed with water, evaporated milk or any combination of these

An inexpensive combination is one part evaporated milk to 3 parts milk made from powdered skim milk and water. Do not use unpasteurized milk.

You can use a container of plain commercial yogurt for your yogurt culture or a package of culture from a specialty store.

To make the yogurt use 3 tablespoonsful of commercial yogurt to 1 quart of milk or one teaspoonful of the culture per quart of milk.

Heat the milk to 180 degree F. and then cool it to 110 degree F. Stir the culture into the milk and pour the mixture into a glass or ceramic container with a cover leaving a space at the top. Put the jar into a water bath in a cool oven (115 degree F.) Be careful not to jostle the yogurt while it is growing! Check it in seven to eight hours to see if the contents have reached a thick, custardy consistency. If not, check every half hour. Refrigerate the yogurt when it is ready. It will keep for about a week.

Tofield approves of "power plant"

The Town of Tofield has come out in favour of the proposed power plant project in the Dodds-Round Hill area.

At a meeting of Town Council held last week, a resolution was passed urging the Provincial Government to commence the necessary hearings so that Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals might proceed with plant construction.

Following is the resolution passed by council, which was forwarded to the Honorable Dan Getty, Minister of Energy and Natural Resources for the Province of Alberta.

Whereas, lack of Government action with regard to hearings by the Energy Resources Conservation Board concerning the Camrose-Ryley power and coal mining project is causing grave uncertainties in the minds of area land owners regarding future plans and is also making it very difficult for Municipal officials to do any meaningful forward planning, and

Whereas, we feel that, due to lack of control of utilities rates by the Anti-Inflation Board, it is incumbent on the Provincial Government to ensure that utilities are developed in the most orderly and economical manner, and

Whereas, a project of this magnitude would produce tens of millions of dollars accruing to the local municipalities in particular and hundreds of millions of dollars to Albertans and Canadians in general, and

Whereas, Alberta laws governing reclamation of land are among the most stringent in Canada or even North America, this Council has the utmost confidence that these laws would be most stringently enforced,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this Council assembled, go on record as being in favor of this project, and urge the Provincial Government to take immediate action to commence the necessary hearings by the Energy Resources Conservation Board so that these companies can commence construction on this project to the ultimate benefit of all Albertans.

IN MEMORIAM

KRAEKER—In loving memory of Leslie Ernest Kraeker who passed away May 7th, 1974:

Time speeds on, two years have passed
And death its gloom its shadows cast,
And took from us the shining light.
We miss that light and ever will,
His vacant place there is none can fill.
Down here we mourn but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we shall meet again.

—Always remembered and sadly missed by Mother and Harold, Brother Harry Kraeker and family. 38c-1664

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

8. Reshaping A Community With Public Input

An earlier column suggested that "the correct procedure for proper and adequate reclamation of agricultural lands involves a combination of scientific research and practical expertise, along with financial and human resources. These resources include the input of professional personnel in government service as well as that of the people who live in or near the project area".

Since the proposed Camrose-Ryley project was first announced, some area landowners, who intend to stay within the existing community have expressed the quiet fear that when the lands are returned to agricultural productivity, they and area residents will not be consulted, and thus would not be able to have any impact on determining the end use of the lands after mining.

Both CanPac Minerals and Calgary Power have publicly stated that it will be the community itself that will help determine its future. The vehicle for such planning would be the community consultation process, which involves industry consulting with local residents and local government.

Last week, this column discussed the process involved in having the communities surrounding the project assist in planning the secondary, multiple uses of the 3,000 acre cooling pond so that it will have a maximum benefit to the region. The same process is a valid vehicle for reshaping the agricultural community itself, as local residents and industry work together for optimum results.

The establishment of a community planning committee would have to be an early move by government, industry and local residents once a decision is reached on the project. This committee would include subcommittees to deal with consideration of the many aspects that go into community planning. The re-establishment of farm home sites, roads, utility servicing, etc., can be effectively implemented if co-operatively plan-[illegible].

Tofield favours recreation board

Councillors felt they should take a stand on the proposed Camrose-Ryley power plant project proposed by Calgary Power.

After some discussion, council passed a resolution in favour of the project going ahead. (Details of council's resolution may be found in last week's issue of The Mercury).

Council decided they would retain the radar gun for its own use in catching speeders after county council had decided they were not interested in renting the machine, although they were interested in paying a share of the machine's cost. After discussion with representatives of the Fire Department, council decided to notify AGT to install ten fire telephones in the town. Firemen are to notify the town where the phones should be installed.

Councillors were told that the county school requisition for this year amounted to $37,605. This is up over the 1975 requisition of [illegible]

A letter from Alberta Environment asked if the town was interested in a mosquito control program, as financial assistance was available. After some discussion, council decided not to participate as they felt it was not a major problem.

Mrs. Nahiralak was hired as the new office assistant. She was selected from a total of seven applicants.

Mayor Dr. W.H. Freebury chaired the meeting which was held on April 26. Councillors in attendance included Christensen, Nachtigal, Watson, Lampitt, Tessier, and Pittet.

Information for this news story came from the unapproved minutes of that meeting.

Other items of any importance brought up at this meeting were printed in a news story in last week's issue of The Mercury.

Alberta Export Agency

During the past three weeks, the Standing Committee on Public Accounts has spent several hours discussing the affairs of the Alberta Export Agency. The Agency was established to deal with private organizations in efforts to set up export contracts, mainly in the area of agriculture.

As the study into the Export Agency continues, it is becoming more and more evident that the efforts of the Agency have been less than successful. At least one contract — a hog contract with Japan — has required a 1.6-million-dollar subsidy to keep it viable. That subsidy involves taxpayers money.

Opposition responsibility in the Legislature compels us to ensure that the public's money is wisely invested. It is evident — in a number of cases cited in Export Agency involvement — that this criteria of prudent investment has not been followed. Examples include Canadian Livestock Import and Export, Canadian Stock Breeder Services International, and Canadian Cane, to name just three.

Western Canada Lottery

The four western provinces have about 600,000 dollars in a fund derived from 5 percent of the gross profits from Western Canada Lotteries. The fund is known as a "[illegible] fund".

On Friday of last week, an attempt was made to determine [illegible] the fund, to be devoted to financing sports and cultural activities in the four western provinces.

Culture Minister Horst Schmid was asked whether there is any legislative control over the fund, or if responsible ministers in each province must report on the fund to their legislatures. Schmid says the Provincial Auditor has the power to monitor the fund to be sure the expenditures from the fund are properly accounted.

It is my opinion that proper accountability would be desirable through a direct report from the minister responsible for the fund to the Legislature.

The UFA gas card comes with a money back guarantee
Here's the way it works. You buy retail gas a hundred gallons at a time. And you buy it at a discount. At the end of the year we pay you a dividend on all the gas you bought. Because yearly dividends have always been a big part of what the UFA is all about. You don't, of course, have to worry about storing it. We take care of that.
You see, with each purchase you get a card showing the number of gallons purchased. An identical card is kept by the people at your UFA outlet. So everytime you gas up it's marked on your card and ours. And at the end of the year you get some money back. So you can see that it really does pay to buy your gas from us. We guarantee it.

HOUSING ALTERNATIVES: SECTIONAL HOUSING

Last week we talked about the pros and cons of mobile housing. This week we're going to take a look at sectional or modular housing. You may also hear these homes referred to as pre-built, or factory built. Sectional housing simply means that the home has been constructed in a factory in a similar way to which a home is built on site. It is made in 2, 3 or 4 sections and then moved to the site and set up on the foundation - usually a basement. The amount of on-site finishing work to be done varies from company to company and with each homeplan.

A sectional home is built individually to a specific floor-plan. It is not constructed on an assembly line basis. Each company has their own floor-plans in a range of square footage and these can be altered to suit your requirements.

The units are completed in the factory to a near finished stage - usually the prime coat of paint is put on iterior drywall. They are then trucked to the site on low-boy transporters and joined together on the prepared foundation.

Finishing to be done on site includes shingling the roof ridge and putting the exterior finish on the ends of the house. On the inside, door frames and arches at the joining point must be finished and usually the final coat of paint is applied.

Since sectional homes must withstand transportation hazards, their construction generally exceeds that of a site built home. Sections are bolted together on the center beam and supported by steel teleposts - as in site built housing.

It is possible for a buyer to purchase a home that is not complete, that is, without furnace, hot water heater or cupboards for less than a complete package if he desires.

Almost every option available to the site-built home-owner, such as fireplace, sunken living room, third gables, split level, bilevel, etc. can be incorporated into a sectional home.

Site preparation is important for sectional housing. The basement must be ready when the home arrives or the home must be held on the trucks which is very expensive. There must also be room for the truck to unload the house - a level area in front of the foundation and about 20 feet at one end of the foundation.

Cost-wise the sectional home compares quite favorably to other modes of housing. The foundation costs would be similar to any other - about $4.00 a square foot. Utility hook-up - about $2.50 per square foot. Transportation and set-up is a major cost factor in sectional housing - $1.00 to $1.50 per square foot should be allowed. The interior finishing could cost about $1.50 per square foot. The section home itself may cost about $17.00 to $20.00 per square foot. (These costs are only an approximation) This gives a total cost of $26.00 to $29.50 a square foot.

Manufacturers generally require one-third of the cost to start construction, one-third when 50 percent complete and one-third when complete. Of course you should always have some hold back until you are sure the house is completely satisfactory.

Advantages to sectional homes are speed of erection (houses can usually be completed in 4 - 6 weeks from start of construction) there is little chance for weather to influence construction and therefore the product is uniform, they are over-built to withstand hauling, unlimited selection of floorplans, and the appearance of the house inside and outside is no different from a site-built home.

Disadvantages are high transportation costs, importance of site preparation, high initial down payment required, possible problem of transportation to outlying areas regarding roads and bridges.

Next week we'll talk about prefabricated package housing.

Doris and Howard Brown entertained the following, Doris's parents, Howard and Mae Ferguson and their granddaughter, Wendy Weir, and their son, Nelson Ferguson and friend, Re-Nai Olson, also their daughter and Doris's sister, Mrs. Loretta Weir and her friend, John Lamour and their grandmother and Mae's mother, Mrs. Roberts, all of Tofield, and Doris's aunt, Marguerite and Don Bailey and their son, Brent and Barb Bailey, all of Edmonton, at a birthday supper on Friday evening in honor of both Mae's and Loretta's birthday which were the first part of this month.

Members of the Lars Olson family are receiving the sympathy of their friends and neighbours in the sudden death of Lars at his home in Holden on Sunday. Lars was well known to many around Tofield and especially to those in the Lakeshore McKenzie district, where he taught in the McKenzie school, and where the family lived and the children attended school several years ago before moving to Holden.

On Tuesday morning we received some rain and cooler weather with high winds after having several day of hot sultry summer like weather with hot drying winds which has dried up the sloughs and water in the small creeks. Pastures have been slow in growing so the rain has been a blessing to farmers and gardeners. Wheat has been sown in some places so the rain will help the growth and stop soil blowing if we get sufficent to do any good.

Holden and district news items

Mrs. G.H Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Warwa and daughter of Edmonton were visitors Sunday of the past week with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Chomic, also with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Chomic.

Mrs. Beatrice Diniuyk of Edmonton was visiting with her mother, Mrs. Mary Hooper, sister Ruby and brother Melville, for a few days the past week.

A.L. Gibson and Lars Ritland of Viking Lodge were Wednesday afternoon visitors the past week, calling on friends. Mr. Ritland called on Mrs. Frances Hanson and both the gentlemen were guests with Mrs. Beth Campbell.

Miss Ethel Brown with relatives from Tofield were in Edmonton on May 1st attending the wedding and reception of a niece.

Gordon McFadyen and his sister, Donna and friend of Rimbey were weekend visitors calling on friends and attending the Spring Prom held at Holden School Friday night, and visiting with Miss Ethel Brown. They were overnight visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Fredricks at Bruce.

Chris Christensen who had been back at Parkland nursing home for a few days after being a hospital patient had to return to Viking hospital with a bad attack of pneumonia. But, is now back at the nursing home.

Mrs. Tillie Komarousky is a patient in the University Hospital in Edmonton having a check-up and treatment and hopes to be able to get back home during the coming week.

The Pioneer Group met for their regular monthly meeting on May 5th at the home of Mrs. Mary Hooper. Mrs. Edith Carlson was in charge of devotions. The minutes of the last meeting held at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell on April 1st were read and approved. There was no business from the meeting. A short reading from the Readers Digest was read by Mrs. Campbell. A chapter in the study book "A Man Called Peter" was read.

The meeting was closed with a hymn and the Mizpah benediction. The next meeting, June 3rd, will be at the home of Mrs. Mary Zwiernchke with Mrs. G.H. Taylor in charge of devotions.

A lovely shower was held in the Holden United Church parlors on April 30th when 65 ladies, relatives and friends gathered to honor Debra Marrie Semotuik, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Semotuik who will become the bride of Paul Halvorson on May 22nd.

On entering the room, corsages were pinned on the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs. Mary Semotuik and grandmother, Mrs. Hunka of Vegreville. Seated at the head table, which was centered with a bridescake and tappered pink candles, was the guest of honor, her mother, two bridesmaids, Brenda and Susan, her grandmother and great aunt. After painting tea towels and viewing the scrap book, "History of Debra's Life," Mrs. Pearl Allan made the presentation of many lovely and useful gifts, which were loaded on a decorated wagon with a goalie net, a replica of Paul Debbie's future husband, and wheeled in by Debbie's nephew, Trevor Wade Semotuik. After opening the gifts, Debra graciously thanked all the ladies for the lovely gifts.

A stag party was held in the Legion Hall the same night for Paul Halverson and on behalf of all present, Don presented Paul with a purse of money and the good wishes for future happiness.

CAMROSE-RYLEY PROJECT

This column is a weekly feature in this newspaper to provide you with background on a major coal-fired electric power development in the Camrose-Ryley area—in essence, to give you an insight into what's behind your light switch. As a paid feature, this column does not necessarily reflect the opinion or editorial policy of this newspaper.

9. The Evaluation Process

For the past two months, this column has published summaries of aspects of the thermal power development proposed for the Camrose-Ryley region, which might be of interest to our readers.

The key word is "proposed".

When the Electric Utility Planning Council recommended this site as the source to meet the increasing power needs of the province, they, in effect, triggered several processes to evaluate the validity of the recommendation and also of the separate applications for development that were filed with the Energy Resources Conservation Board by Calgary Power and CanPac Billingham.

In order to reach a decision for the next source of power for the provincial system after 1980, the Electric Utility Planning Council had to examine several alternatives to determine the best one for the province. The Camrose-Ryley site was deemed the best one.

That recommendation initiated a series of studies to determine what impacts such a development would have in the immediate and adjacent areas. That information has been included in the applications to the Energy Resources Conservation Board.

The ERCB and the Department of Environment began to view the applications soon after filing. Evaluation by government, industry and the public on future electrical supply sources is an ongoing process. Several alternatives must be viewed as options to any development that is specifically proposed.

The electric utilities have an obligation to their consumers — the total population in the province — to furnish an adequate and reliable supply of electricity at the lowest possible cost.

If the Camrose-Ryley development is not approved, it will be necessary to have a combination of two or more smaller sites to provide the required power. Any economic penalty that results from the selection of smaller plants as the alternative, must be borne by the consumer.

The belief that this proposed development is a "fait accompli", or inevitable, is an inaccurate assessment, since the review process is still underway. This review process will continue with a public hearing by the Energy Resources Conservation Board.

Head of the giant Rheinbraun Coal Works in West Germany, Dr. Gartner last Thursday told a regional audience of more than 100 that his company spends 40,000 deutschmarks per hectare in its reclamation program after the land is stripmined for the coal. With the mark at forty cents, and a hectare about 2.4 acres, it works out to about $6,666 per acre, or $1,066,666 per quarter section. Dr. Gartner and a party of his associates were looking at potential power sites in Alberta, including the Dodds-Round Hill area, and comparing them with German operations, which, naturally are very different, in that they are vastly deeper, with different soil conditions.

Teachers feted on retirements

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

A memorable event was held Sunday afternoon when a Retirement Social was held at Holden School to honor Mrs. Pearl Annan and Mrs. Doris Ogrodnick of Holden School, and Mrs. Ellen Doris of the Bruce School.

Doris retired from teaching in March and Pearl and Ellen will retire from teaching at the end of the school term in June.

Approximately 300 guests attended the event, relatives and residents from far and near, all towns in the County of Beaver were represented as well as Edmonton, Vegreville, Irma, Sherwood Park, and Camrose.

The three honored guests had the pleasure of their immediate families being present along with a number of the first pupils taught over the many years.

Mrs. Earl Hardy and Mrs. Olive Good were in charge of the guest books.

Superintendent, Dr. N.C. Gannon, presented the three honored guests with engraved plaques from the County of Beaver. William Ogrodnick gave a resume of the teaching career of Mrs. Pearl Allan, Earl Hardy the resume for Mrs. Doris Ogrodnick, and George Pon of Bruce School for Mrs. Ellen Doris. Each of the ladies made suitable replies, telling of their early experiences.

A musical number sung by Christine Macadonic was then enjoyed, after which more presentations were made to the ladies.

Checks were presented from the County of Beaver School Committee by representatives of the committee, Eugene Ewasuk to Doris Ogrodnick, Nestor Semotiuk to Pearl Allen, and Mr. Sears of Tofield to Ellen Doris. Dixon Morris, president of Beaver Local A.T.A., presented engraved watches to all three ladies.

GET SOME ANSWERS

May 17, 1976

FROM THE MAIL BAG,
Tofield Alberta.

Dear Sir

There has been a lot of opinions expressed, both pro and con, regarding the proposed Camrose Ryley thermal power plant. However, these opinions raise some very important questions which we feel must be fully and totally answered before a final decision is given.

First of all, is the opinion that the Camrose Ryley site is the most economical to develop? We severely question the moral right of society to impose its wishes on the farmers of the area purely on economic grounds. Until it has actually been proven, on test sites within the proposed mine area, that reclamation of the soil to capability of growing cereal crops is possible, we feel that no consideration to approve the project should be given.

Another opinion expressed by some is that there is a vast amount of information lacking on a multitude of questions such as: since the proposed thermal plant is so much larger than any presently in existence in Alberta, is the full effect of the vapor in winter months properly assessed? Has the effect of mineral residue in the ash fall-out been fully documented and considered? What will happen if de-watering of the area for mining also de-waters surrounding water bearing soil strata? Will there be actual risk to human health and domestic animal health in areas surrounding the mine and plant site? We think the above listed questions and many more need to be more fully answered before any decision can be honestly made.

We are also concerned that some of the towns and villages have already endorsed the project, while so much information is still lacking. This gives the public the impression that the rural areas surrounding these towns and villages also endorses the project, when in fact much of the rural population is opposed to the project itself as well as being opposed to the principle of placing such an industrial complex on prime agricultural land.

Yours truly,
Tofield Women of Unifarm.

PAY OUR WAY

May 13, 1976.

Dear Sir,

We have been informed that the Honorable Dave Russell, Minister of the Environment made a statement in the Legislature this week that he would like people of our area to go to Germany to see first hand the reclamation that has been done there after strip-mining.

The members of our association would be pleased to go to Germany because we would be most interested in learning more about the following:

1. Their long term planning which gives the people who will be affected by the mining a minimum of eight years to plan their futures.

2. Their system of setting up a 27 member board, consisting of farmers, local government, federal government, three members of the coal companies, university experts in soils, sociology, agriculture, etc. who are responsible for planning and policing the mining and reclamation.

Our association feels that since there are so many differences in the physical aspects of the two locations, the reclamation practises in Germany would not work here, for instance, they have 30 feet of top soil - we have 8 to 12 inches; they get 30 - 45 inches of rainfall a year, we get 15 inches, they have no salt in their sub-soil - we have high accumulations of salt, and many more.

If Mr Russell, Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals are anxious that we visit Germany, we would be pleased to go, at their expense, of course.

"As I See It"

— by Dr Walt Buck, M.L.A. Clover Bar

Ministerial Accountability

During last week in the Legislature, Opposition M.L.A.s spent several hours attempting to determine the ethical standards which Premier Lougheed demands from his cabinet ministers.

During the debate on the Premier's estimates for this fiscal year, we discussed issues over the past three years where cabinet ministers had been involved in something less than acceptable ministerial functions. The examples I cited were the former Attorney-General's handling of the Dr. Craig case and the use of the R.C.M.P. to "collect information" about three people in the Slave Lake region, the Legg inquiry into the Purnell case, and the well-documented Auditor's report into the grant's policies of the government with emphasis on the former department of Culture, Youth and Recreation.

The response to these issues from the Premier was less than satisfactory to us. He stated he was of the opinion that his cabinet colleagues had "made errors in judgment", but certainly were above reproach since they had apologized for their conduct. It is my opinion that there must be a more acceptable manner of handling this sort of situation. Surely, if such incidents are to be avoided in the future, we must know what the premier expects in the way of conduct by his ministers. It appears now that no such "quality of service criteria" exists. A statement that ministers are responsible to the Legislature for their actions, and that the Premier - the individual who appointed them - - is responsible to the people of Alberta, is not really good enough. I take this stand mainly because of the evidence which comes from the Auditor's report of last December. The conclusions there clearly show that basic ministerial accountability was not exercised in establishing and operating the Office of Special Programs.

I still believe that the "standards of conduct of cabinet ministers must be established by the Premier". In my opinion, those standards have not been spelled out by the present Premier!

[illegible] Herb Garden

Growing houseplants can be an interesting and rewarding experience The easiest way to do it, and a very attractive one as well, is to make a terrarium. A terrarium is like a miniature greenhouse It overcomes the hazards of drafts and low humidity so often found indoors. Because it acts like a mini-environment a terrarium can be quite educational for children.

Here's what you'll need to make your own terrarium.

Container Use a clear glass (or plastic) container that can be sealed to ensure proper moisture for growing plants. Tinted or colored glass will obscure the light.

Gravel and Charcoal Cover the bottom of the container with about 1 inch of gravel mixed with a few pieces of charcoal. The charcoal sweetens the soil and helps to purify it against bacteria (Charcoal from the fireplace works well or you can buy it at the flower shop.)

Soil Cover the gravel with a layer of peat or sphagnum moss to help retain moisture then fill the soil in. If you use natural woodsy plants, take the soil from where you get the plants. Potting soil is best generally for most other plants. If you have a desert terrarium with cactus you'll need sandy soil.

To add interest you could make little hills and valleys with the soil.

Plants Any kind of plant will do well in a terrarium. You probably want to choose small or slow growing ones so they don't outgrow the container too quickly. Use a variety of sizes and colors of plants to make it interesting.

If you're gathering your own plants, moss or lichen make good ground cover Add clover, ferns, wild flowers and ivy.

Water The soil should be fairly moist when you put it in your terrarium Once the plants are planted, spray them with tepid water melted snow or rain water is best and cover the terrarium. For the first few weeks, watch the moisture level carefully. A fine beading of moisture on the walls of the container, particularly in the mornings indicates the right amount of water. Dense fog or water running down the walls means too much moisture. No moisture in sight means not enough water.

Temperature A woody Terrarium will need a cool, room temperature A house plant one will tolerate house temperatures between 10 and 21 C

Light Terrariums need to have bright light, but it's important to keep them in a location where they do not get direct sunlight as it would be too hot

Problems White or brown spots on the plants are mold and indicate too much water Remove plants that are affected and allow the terrarium to dry out. Leaves that are wilted or shrivelled indicate a need for more water

A variety of types of plants create some very attractive [illegible]

Flowering Plants African violets, miniature begonias. Chinese Strawberry Begonia. Cape Primrose

Ground Covers Creeping Charlie, Baby Tears, Creeping Fig

Little Tree Forms Parlor palms, artillery plant, podocarpus.

Larger Leaf Plants Prayer Plant peperomias. ferns. elephant plant.

Exotics Sansevi, venus fly trap, pitcher plant

New road to Elk Island

A new $2 million road is carrying visitors from the south gate into the core of Elk Island National Park.

"Bottomless potholes, clouds of dust and the jolting of visitor's cars are things of the past on the new road leading into the park from Highway 16, 25 miles east of Edmonton," said Harley Webb, park superintendent.

"The smooth paved surface - completed late last fall - and 40 mph speed limit signs will be welcome sights to visitors familiar with the old road."

The more comfortable ride gives travellers a chance to see the bison, elk, moose and deer that wander freely throughout the park and drivers should watch for those that stray onto the roadway.

The wedding of Joan Rowland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland, and Rene Taylor took place on Saturday afternoon at Highlands United Church in Edmonton. A family reception followed at South Cooking Lake Community Hall with a dance [illegible]

All persons interested in "Summer Sunshine for 1976" are to contact either Hastings Lake or South Cooking Lake Community Leagues.

The May lakes club meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon with roll call being the exchange of a plant or a package of seeds. In the business session, a donation was made to Camp He Ho Ha, to send a child to camp, this summer.

Mrs. A. Ferguson distributed tickets on a raffle of a calculator and a macrame hanger. She also gave the ladies their duties at the annual Strawberry Tea being held on June 12th at 2 p.m.

The June meeting was put back to the 16th due to the nearness of the regular date, to the tea.

Betty Williams was the recipient of a box of chocolates and a birthday card, she having a May birthday.

Lunch hostesses were Mrs. Gladys Swabey and Dolly Roddick.

Karl Schwuchow, president informed those present of the installation of dusk to dawn lights on two corners of the hall.

A most favorable report was given by Margaret Jeske, social convenor, of the official opening dinner and dance.

Beverley Heitman treasurer of the Teen Group told the meeting of their purchase of 2 Ping Pong tables and 2 Badminton sets out of their skatathon funds. She also thanked all who had generously supported their club.

Mrs. G H Taylor

Holden Lodge OORP held their regular meeting on May 11th with H.R.L. Christine Mackay in the chair. A letter was received from Viking Day Care and members decided not to take any stand on this at the present time. The secretary gave her semi-annual report showing that the Lodge had been active during the past six months in many Lodge and community activities. The treasurer also gave her semi-annual report showing the Lodge finances to be in good standing and making donations to various projects in the community and otherwise. A report of May Chamber of Commerce supper was given by HRL Mackay with a progress report on the cancer campaign, which had gotten off to a late start as supplies had not been received until late May. Members were reminded that the installation of officers for the term 1976-77 would be held on May 17th and will be installed by District Deputy Lady, Nancy McAfee. The committees to convene the June Chamber of Commerce supper and the booth on Sports Day, June 11th, were appointed, also several ladies to look after decorating a float for the sports' day parade, the Elks also assisting with this.

It was decided to observe Royal Purple Day on Wednesday, June 2nd by entertaining senior citizens to a social afternoon in the Community Hall. A committee to plan this was appointed.

At the closing of the meeting, lunch was enjoyed with hostesses being Lady Pauline Benach and Lady Emily Ogonoski.

Mrs. Beth Campbell returned home Friday after spending a few days visiting with her daughter, Marjorie and Ken Campbell of Leduc, and grandson, John Campbell of Vancouver.

A.L. Gibson of Vialta Lodge, and a former councillor for County of Beaver, drove up from Viking to attend the retirement social for Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Ogrodnick, and Mrs. Doris.

Ryley district news

Lena Reil

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bruce of White Rock, B.C. were Friday night guests of their very good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris in Ryley.

So far this spring we have not had our much needed rain. Seems to stay so windy each day.

At the annual meeting of the Ryley Cemetery committee which was held at Willie Pope's recently, those elected to office were: president - Eric Munkedal; vice-president - Stan Hnatko, and secretary - Beulah Oslund.

The truckers are busy hauling dirt for lots and building up roads.

On Thursday, May 6, the Catholic Women's League held a supper meeting and awards night. Supper guests that evening were Mrs. Gertie Slavik of Killam and her travelling companion, Terry Rombough, and nine members of the Holden Ladies Aid, and Ryley members and their guests.

Mrs. Olga Manderson said Grace and the ladies then enjoyed a very delicious meal.

Following supper, Mrs. Bernice Kondrowski, the Ryley CWL president, introduced Mrs. Gertie Slavik who was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Slavik's talk was on what it means to be a member of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. She also told the ladies some of the aims of the CWL. Following her talk she opened the floor to anyone wishing to ask questions.

The next speaker for the evening was Mrs. Olga Manderson. Mrs. Manderson's talk was on how the CWL was started in Ryley 13 years ago.

Following the speeches, Bernice Kondrowski then presented the awards.

Rece'...ng the Maple Leaf Service pin for outstanding service in the CWL were Mrs. Olga Manderson, Mrs. Mary Podrusny, and Mrs. Tessie Kolodychuk. A certificate of Merit was presented to Mrs. Rosemarie Kurach.

Mrs. Heddy Glover was then presented with an attendance gift as she had not missed one meeting all year. A farewell gift was then presented to Mrs. Rosemarie Kurach.

The final presentation was made to Mrs. Gertie Slavik to thank her for taking time to come and talk at the meeting.

A short business meeting then followed to discuss any business that needed to be cleared up before the next meeting.

Coffee and cake were then served and the ladies paid up their membership fees at this time.

JOHNSRUDE, CARL

Carl Johan Johnsrude, formerly of Ryley, passed away in an Edmonton hospital on May 15, 1976 at 87 years.

He was predeceased by his wife in 1951. He leaves to mourn his passing, one son, Frank of Edmonton, a niece, Mrs. Agnes Hagen of Ryley, four grandchildren, Debbie, Della, Dennis and Doreen, and a brother in Norway.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 19 from Ryley Lutheran Church. Interment in the Ryley Cemetery. McLaughlin Funeral Home was in charge.

Is your 53¢ LOST in a Bushel of Wheat

When Tartary Buckwheat contamination cuts the grade of wheat you're selling, you can figure you're probably losing up to 53 cents on every bushel*. That's $13.25 an acre if your crop averages 25 bushels to the acre — plus a substantial loss of yield due to weed competition.

Buctril 'M'

puts that 53 cents a bushel back where it belongs — in your own pocket. Spraying with Buctril M combats tartary buckwheat, green smartweed, lady's thumb and many other weeds in wheat, oats, barley and flax crops. It's safe to use. And cheaper than harvesting weeds.

More phones for Killam

Alberta Government Telephones installed a $30,000 equipment addition in the Killam exchange to accommodate growth in the community. "The project provides 120 lines," said Art Parsons, AGT Foreman responsible for telephone construction equipment in communities in the Camrose area. "The additions expands the capacity of the exchange to a total of 920 telephone numbers, which should satisfy service requirements in Killam until 1983."

Within the past five years the number of business and residential telephone customers in the community grew approximately 25 per cent. There were 649 customers on individual and multi-party lines as early 1971, compared to 557 today.

Testing of the new equipment should be completed by mid-May and according to Bob Ley, AGT technician in Killam, "Some lines have already been assigned to customers in town."

County Agricultural News

From the Office of the Agricultural Fieldsmen.

A great number of inquiries from residents of Rylay and Tofield indicate that fairy rings are becoming an increasing nuisance in this area.

Fairy rings, a mushroom fungus disease, causes circular and sometimes crescent-shaped patches of dead grass on lawns, golf courses other ground areas.

In the early stage, the disease shows up as a dark green ring. Later the grass becomes thin, turns yellow and eventually dies. The affected area encroaches to one from the outside.

The turf around the dead grass is a darker green and grows faster than the rest of the grass because it is stimulated by the protein compounds in the dense mycelial mats in the soil. These protein compounds are changed by soil bacteria into nitrates and ultimately into nitrates, which are an available form of plant nitrogen.

The bands of stimulated grass can range from four to 12 inches in width and the diameter of the circle can vary from two to over 1,000 feet. The presence of mushrooms like fungi in the band of stimulated grass is a characteristic feature of fairy rings.

According to Dr. J. Horricks, plant pathology specialist with Alberta Agriculture, fairy rings can be controlled by thoroughly drenching the affected area with water every day for at least a month. Holes at least 12 inches deep and two inches apart should be made in the turf with a fork or other sharp instrument to ensure adequate water penetration. It is important to stress that complete drenching must occur and be maintained in order to achieve results. People who have tried this method and have failed, usually have not supplied enough water for the required period of time. In some cases it would be of benefit to add a penetrating agent to the water to speed absorption of the water by the soil. These penetrating agents are usually sold in seed and garden stores as an aid in fairy ring control. Regular fungicides simply have no effect on this fungus.

In cases where drenching is not practical, the infected sod can be removed and replaced with sterile sod.

Offensive odors in dugout water

A high concentration of organic matter will cause the water in a dugout to turn black when it is frozen over and will cause the water to develop an offensive odor.

Don Johnston water and sewage specialist with Alberta Agriculture explains that the water turns black and develops an unpleasant odor when a dugout with a high organic content freezes over because the ice prevents oxygen from coming in contact with the water. When the oxygen in the water is used up the organic material breaks down without oxygen and produces hydrogen sulphide gas. In addition to smelling like rotten eggs the hydrogen sulphide reacts with the organic matter in the water turning the water black.

The problem is not encountered on the summer because the water is exposed to the oxygen in the air which breaks down the organic matter without producing an odor. Any hydrogen sulphide that is produced is soon dissipated.

What is the solution to the problem? According to Mr. Johnston there is no economical way of resolving the problem at this time of year. It will usually clear up by itself within a month after the ice has melted. "The water" he says, "is safe to use for livestock."

However, you can prevent the same situation from occurring next year by controlling the algae and aquatic weed growth before it becomes established this spring.

Once you can see the algae in the water it is too late to take effective action." Mr. Johnston says. "There will already be enough organic matter in the water to cause a problem next winter."

He recommends using copper sulphate to control the algae and a chemical like Diquat to control the aquatic weeds.

Other control measures include removing any trees growing around the dugout, to prevent their leaves from falling into the water, and diverting away from the dugout drainage water from a barnyard or feedlot. Apart from causing bacterial contamination of the dugout, the water that drains from these areas contains nutrients which promote the growth of algae and aquatic plants.

"Anyone who is planning to make a dugout should always choose a location that will not be affected by the drainage from barnyards or feedlots," Mr. Johnston adds.

Information on building a farm dugout and on the use of chemicals to control weed growth in an existing dugout can be obtained from your local agricultural engineering technologist. He can be contacted through your district agriculturist.

The UFA gas card comes with a money back guarantee

Here's the way it works. You buy retail gas a hundred gallons at a time. And you buy it at a discount. At the end of the year we pay you a dividend on all the gas you bought. Because yearly dividends have always been a big part of what the UFA is all about. You don't, of course, have to worry about storing it. We take care of that.

You see, with each purchase you get a card showing the number of gallons purchased. An identical card is kept by the people at your UFA outlet. So everytime you gas up it's marked on your card and ours. And at the end of the year you get some money back. So you can see that it really does pay to buy your gas from us. We guarantee it.

No more Imperial Oil on NHL hockey night

Few television advertisers achieve the almost generic association with a program that was gained during the 40-year relationship between Imperial Oil and Hockey Night in Canada, reports Anthony Whittingham. Imperial thought long and hard before announcing last week that it would cease to be a sponsor of Canada's national sport at the end of the current hockey season. With a current Hockey Night budget of more than $1 million annually, Imperial was a 25 percent backer of the $14 million package sharing equal time with Molson Breweries of Canada Ltd. and slightly ahead of other major sponsors including Ford of Canada, Bank of Nova Scotia and Mutual Life. Imperial's advertising Manager Donald Ewart, says the decision was based on a growing and the audience profile of the hockey program. Because Imperial has diversified its advertising messages away from gasoline sales and more into heating oil, home comfort products, garbage bags, and other petroleum products, the predominantly male audience of Hockey Night no longer fills the company's marketing needs, he says.

From pull-tabs to push-tabs

"Push-in" cans to be used in Alberta as used in B.C., but no detachable parts.

The pull tab soft drink can will be obsolete in Alberta in 1976 according to representatives of the soft drink industry.

Pull tabs have, in the past, constituted a hazard to wildlife and increased the litter problem.

The new can to be used in Alberta will be similar to the one used in British Columbia where pull tab containers were banned in 1975. The new can has "push in" openings with no detachable parts.

In October Outdoors Unlimited directors approved a study of hazards to wildlife and the amount of litter created by pull tabs after Litter Indexes held in August 1975 on 1 dimension showed pull tabs to represent more than 50 percent of total litter.

Dodds probable states Russell

No decision whatever has been reached in connection with an application from Calgary Power and CanPac Minerals to develop a power plant at the Dodds-Round Hill area, Environment Minister Dave Russell assured a meeting of about 120 held last Thursday at the Crystal Springs Motor Hotel.

But he went on to add that the Camrose-Ryley project, Shanenes, Keep Hills and others, including hydro projects, would all probably have to go ahead in the next few years.

Mr. Russell was speaking during a question period following a presentation by Dr. Gartner, Chairman of the board of directors of the Rheinbraun Coal Works (RBW) of Cologne, West Germany. RBW is the largest surface mining company of lignite coal in Europe, and Dr. Gartner and a number of his colleagues were making a tour of Alberta at the invitation of Premier Lougheed, following a provincial government tour of the area last fall.

Dr. Gartner and his party, including a number of government representatives, flew into Camrose, after a flying inspection of a number of sites in the province, including Forestburg. Other inspections included the Grande Prairie Forestry area, Clear Hills iron ore and the McIntyre Porcupine coal operations at Grand Cache.

Present for the meeting were four cabinet ministers, including Graham Harle, Minister of Consumer Affairs, Dallas Schmidt, Minister Responsible for Rural Affairs, Dr. A. A. Warrack, Minister of Utilities and Telephones, and Mr. Russell. Three other MLA's present included Gordon Stromberg, John Batish, and Dr. Walter Buck.

Dr. Gatner pointed out their operations in Germany takes place in densely populated areas, where the population runs to 410 people per acre. Mining 110 million tons of coal per year, over an area of 1500 square miles, the company makes the biggest open cuts in the world, nearly 2,000 feet down. Huge machines developed by the company handle 500,000 tons in 19 hours, he told the meeting.

In these circumstances, he said, it is essential to work well with the people affected, and reclamation has been a major concern since operations first started. 6,000 hectares (14,400 acres) have been reclaimed, he said, and farmers have been moved onto this reclaimed land from land yet to go under the shovel.

Intensive planning is a prerequisite, said the speaker, since millions of cubic feet of earth have to be moved, water is diverted, and in the end new landscapes are created.

Asked about restoration of water flows after the land is restored, Dr Gartner said much of the soil quality depends on the groundwater, and often the groundwater levels had been improved to the point where superior crops were being grown to those possible beforehand. So much depends on the rain, he pointed out, which in their country averages 450 millimetres a year (about 25.6 inches).

Asked his opinion about soil reclamation in the Dodds-Round Hill area, Dr. Gartner said he had little knowledge of it, having only flown over it. When the soil was described however, as averaging from 6 to 18 inches of topsoil, with high levels of salts in the subsoil material, which has been proved many times by pipeline construction, Dr. Gartner suggested that it sounded bad. You can't mix topsoil with subsoils, he said, you must mine so as to avoid that situation.

Questioned about the extent and cost of reclamation efforts, Dr Gartner pointed out there is no human in the newly established soils at first, and this is built up with two or three years of planting gregarious root build back the

for all the comforts of home.

Have you ever stopped to think of what single commodity costs you and your family less than 50¢ a day? Every day?

You might say milk — providing your family uses less than a quart a day, priced anywhere from 51¢ to 57¢. But in general, a family with two or more children requires more than a quart daily — for cooking, baking and as a beverage.

If you drive a car, you might say gasoline. This could be true if you used less than a gallon a day. But how far will three-quarters of a gallon of gas take you? And you can't buy a gallon of gas for 50¢.

You might have come up with several answers. But if you said electricity, you were right on!

During the past few years everything has risen in price. Electricity is no exception. In 1975 the average residential customer on the Calgary Power system paid $139.47 — or 38¢ a day. In January, 1976 the Public Utilities Board granted an interim rate increase of approximately 14%. This means that residential customers now pay on the average 44¢ a day — a rise of only 6¢.

Think about that for a minute. For only 44¢ a day, you and your entire family enjoy light, cooking, refrigeration plus radio and television entertainment — not to mention the other electrical conveniences you may own. We think 44¢ is a very nice price for all the comforts of home. Don't you?

unit, he said, with specially trained farmers working at it

Dr Gartner drew a great deal of interest when he declared his company spends forty thousand D-marks per hectare for fertilizer, (thirty-six per acre) to reclaim the land.

Questioned on how tough Alberta's requirements would be, compared to Germany's, Mr Russell declared that our laws are pretty strong at present. Enforcement and laws is pretty new, he said, and Alberta has one of the best programs, but it is still developing, being only about five years old

Mr Russell told his hearers they should not make any assumptions about the development of any plant, that there have been no recourse—actions to the government from Energy Resources Conservation Board, and that the government will move very much as it did in the past, but is keenly interested in the European model of involving many sides of the community in planning and rehabilitating areas.

Earlier Mr Russell declared that the application to develop the Camrose-Ryley project is probably not in its final form yet. Applicants must apply to the ERCB, he said, which assesses the submission then usually asks for amendments, calls hearings at which it decides on the truth of various claims, and after possible further change and amendment, forwards it to the government with its own recommendation. The government, he pointed out, is then perfectly free to accept the proposal, to reject, or to modify it.

Mr Russell expected public hold "somewhere around September" hearings in the matter would be number."

Winning essay

Billy Jonnes of Tofield School took first place for grade eight students in a provincial competition with his essay entitled "One Minute To Live".

Billy's teacher is Mrs. Grace Phillips. Following is his complete winning composition.

ONE MINUTE TO LIVE

In jhe next 7.4 minutes, I will die. I do not know exactly how I will die, however, I do know that I am going too fast, just a little too fast. I also know that the dangerously icy curve that killed two people last winter and three people this winter is just up ahead. But I'll have time to slow down.

Now I have just 6.7 minutes to live. Something is rattling. I think it's my handlebar bolt. It's been loose for a long time. My engine is quite hot now. I can feel it against the inside of my leg.

The handlebars are vibrating. Oh, I know that bolt has become very loose. I don't like this. I don't like this at all. The handlebars are vibrating terribly, and that curve that killed two people last winter and three people this winter is just a few seconds away.

Now only 2.8 minutes of life are left in my body. I'd better try to tighten the bolt before I reach that deadly curve. I'll let go of the handlebars with one hand and reach for the bolt. My arm isn't quite long enough and I have to lean forward to reach it. Now I am trying to turn the bolt. I have reached the dreaded curve.

Now, only one minute to live! Now it's happening. If I had been holding on to the handlebars with both hands, this could have been prevented. The wheels go out from under me, and the motorcycle lands on top of me. I go sliding and spinning around on the curve, and then slam into a tree.

Here I lie at the end of a bloody trail, at the base of the tree, on the curve that killed two people last winter, and four people this winter.

Viking tops county in track and field

Viking came out on top when the County of Beaver track and Field meet was held recently.

Viking racked up a total of 452 points for a huge lead over Tofield who came in second with 295 points. Holden was third with 123 points, followed by Ryley with 91 points, and Bruce, with three points.

Four records were broken. Mike Warner of Tofield established a new mark of 13.7 metres in the shot put for 16 and 17 year old boys; Andy Chamberlain of Holden set a new record with a heave of 39.50 metres in the 16 and 17 boys' discus, while Victor Roth of Tofield broke the mark in discus for 12 & 13 year old boys with a throw of 32.3 metres; and Neil Rokos of Ryley established a new record for 10 and 11 year old boys with a ball throw of 50.3 metres.

Because of the change to metric, all running events set new records.

Holden Chamber backs power plant

Holden and District Chamber of Commerce has thrown its support behind the Dodds-Round Hill power project proposed by Calgary Power and CanPac [illegible].

At a meeting held earlier this month, the project was thoroughly discussed, and a resolution was brought forward, which received unanimous approval.

Following is the resolution as passed by the Holden and District Chamber of Commerce.

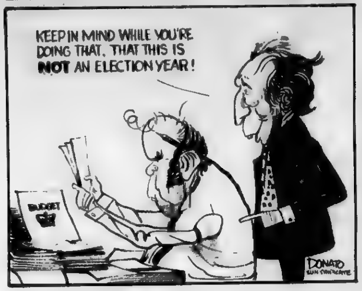
Whereas the future growth and prosperity of the Village is of concern to the citizens of Holden, and

Whereas the proposed Calgary Power Ltd. Camrose-Ryley power project could ensure a growth in population and a stimulus to the economic and social life of the community.

Be it resolved that the Holden and District Chamber of Commerce go on record as favoring and endorsing the proposed Calgary Power Ltd. Camrose-Ryley power project, and further

Be it resolved that the secretary communicate the intent of this resolution to Calgary Power Ltd., Premier Peter Lougheed, John Batiuk MLA, The Tofield Mercury, The Viking News and the Edmonton Journal, and

Be it resolved that the secretary write a letter to the Village Council recommending passage of a resolution with the same intent and communication of that resolution to the same parties as outlined above.



General strike looms

With labor organizations militant against price and wage control legislation, there is every indication of a general work stoppage affecting Canadian industry, from one end of the country to the other. A shut-down of airlines may affect us even before this paper is published, but that will be for an entirely different reason, that being the protest of the air traffic controllers over the insurgence of the French language into air traffic control towers, a move which is not in the best interests of air safety, according to the controllers. Economics, in that instance, is not involved.

In the field of the labor organizations, however, the problem is that the government's new laws have tended to slow down the rapid gains unions were making in income, and union bosses can't have this appearance continue for long before their membership. It doesn't matter, apparently, that the same legislation is responsible for a slowing down in the rate of inflation. That was to be desired, but wage control is not.

So militant has the move become that one spokesman at the conference in the East described Trudeau as the enemy, and urged his associates to fight "the enemy" with every available tool, because he had subverted the mandate given him in the last election, introducing controls against all his promises.

This paper has often been critical of Mr. Trudeau, for a variety of reasons, but facing up to the fact of intolerable inflation, even if it took until after the election for him to do so, and then doing something definite and positive about it, is not one of the things over which we would be critical. Far from it; we applaud the political courage it took, and is taking, to introduce and maintain such drastic controls.

Removal of the controls, or giving in to organized labor, now, would be tantamount to bringing the country to ruin. Already we are facing the situation where in a number of commodities we are pricing ourselves out of world markets, either by high wage demands, or by low productivity, or both.

Numbers of travellers returning from British Columbia comment on the disastrous situation developing in that highly unionized province, as more and more workers fall under the union frame of mind. Reasonable levels of production from laborers, normal customer service from clerks, are disappearing as unit after unit unionizes. And prices are rocketing up, to the point where thousands of shoppers make weekly pilgrimages across the nearby U.S. border to pick up their needs at prices reported to be from a quarter to a third, and even a half, lower.

Slow-downs and indifference are almost as bad as a stoppage, though not quite, and each of them do incalculable harm to the whole country. Probably the fact that as a nation we have been so rich in resources has protected us for some time from suffering the natural effects of such interruptions, however the effect can't be stalled forever.

Forgetting the past

We've been interested at the number of comments we've heard recently about farmers who have forgotten the lessons learned forty years ago, in the dry years of the Dirty Thirties, and whose land is this spring showing all the same effects of those years.

Not only in Southern Alberta, but right here in this rolling area, soil is blowing from many fields. As one farmer remarked on Monday, "That's alright, I get some of my neighbor's farm every year. . .he lets it blow over to me."

The long dry spring, following a dry winter, aren't very reassuring to the farmer, but this is definitely one season cultivation slow enough to avoid huge dust clouds, strip farming, even with its inefficiencies, high stubble, and ridging fields, would all pay off.

We even heard one elected official, looking at a number of properties in the district which are being allowed to deteriorate seriously, express his feeling it's too bad government authorities don't have the power to step in and order that certain fields just be ridged for the complete year. "Better to lose a crop than to lose the whole farm," he commented.

Much and all as we deplore the concept, it's this type of soil culture that gives greater support to the growing feeling that there should be no absolute titles to land, only trusteeships during a period of good husbandry.

All the farmers of forty years ago had to learn the lessons the hard way. . .why should it be necessary to learn them all over again the same, hard way?

Report from Parliament Hill

by
Don Mazankowski, M.P.

The Government's Peace and Security measures have dominated the Parliamentary scene over the past two weeks. Specifically, there are two bills, one which deals with the abolition of capital punishment and the other dealing with amendments to the Criminal Code.

The bill to abolish capital punishment is presently being debated at second reading stage in the House of Commons. Meanwhile, the Gun Bill, as it is commonly referred to, is being considered by the Standing Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs. It is currently hearing witnesses which will in all probability, total close to thirty-five or forty groups. It has been objected to most vigorously by Gun Clubs, Fish and Wildlife Associations and various hunters groups. In my view, it is an offensive piece of legislation which will do absolutely nothing to prevent guns from getting into the hands of criminals. To that extent, it is nothing but a bureaucratic nightmare and monstrosity, thrust upon the law abiding citizens of Canada.

Upon completion of the hearings, the Committee will then proceed to clause by clause study during which time amendments will be moved and voted upon. The Progressive Conservative Party will be moving some forty am[illegible]

It should be recalled that the Government moved closure on second reading of this Bill after only sixteen hours of debate and, while many Government members expressed serious reservations about the widespread powers granted, only one Liberal M.P. voted with the Progressive Conservative Party, that the Bill be not read a second time.

The position of our Party is that unless substantial changes are made to the Bill we will be voting against it on third reading.

Bill C-84 which proposes to deal with the abolition of the death penalty will be in for lengthy consideration at second reading debate. It appears that this debate will run through to June 15th or 20th all owing, of course, for time to debate the budget which is due to be brought down on May 25th.

All Parties have declared a free vote on this legislation, hence the outcome could be very close. I would predict, however, that the Commons will approve the Bill, in spite of widespread objection across the country. As for myself, I will be voting against the measure, as well as all but two of the Alberta members of Parliament. As you are no doubt aware, I did conduct a survey of my constituents on this very important matter and, based upon the returns, 83 per cent support the retention of the death penalty while 72 per cent oppose this particular bill.

Turning to other activities since I last reported to you, Joe Clark the new leader of the Progressive Conservative Pary, has appointed new caucus spokesmen for the various departments and has rearranged the seating plan in the House of Commons. My new responsibilities have to do with the Treasury Board which is the central government authority for disbursement of all government expenditures. I am now chief opposition spokesman for Treasury Board which includes in addition to Government expenditures, in itself a very complex department, all matters pertaining to the Public [illegible] ingualism program. In addition, I have been asked to Chair a Government Operations group which involves the co-ordination of activities of the Department of Supply and Services and the Department of Public Works with Treasury Board.

It is all a new field for me, however most challenging and something I look forward to in the days ahead.

I will, of course, continue to play an active role in Transportation and Agriculture since those two areas are of vital concern to me both from a western and constituency point of view.

One Liberal holdout

Don Mazankowski, M.P.

The logic of suggesting that the gun owners of Alberta who find the Trudeau Government's gun legislation offensive, should engage in a massive campaign to join the Liberal Party and work from within to defeat Bill C-83 in my view is sheer lunacy.

I believe the citizens of Alberta realize it is the Liberal Party of Canada which has presented this legislation to Parliament, moved to restrict debate because it could not stand up to the scrutiny of the House of Commons and, in the final analysis, will ramrod the legislation through with its majority.

Surely no one will be hoodwinked into believing that Liberal M.P.'s will fight the Bill from within.

The vote on second reading gave ALL M.P.'s a chance to express their opposition to this controversial measure. Only one Liberal M.P., Ian Watson of Laprairie (Quebec), had the courage to vote against having the Bill read a second time. Some Liberal M.P.'s in fairness, expressed reservations about the Bill throughout the course of debate but when the vote was called they fell into line and voted in favour.

If the Liberal Party boasts about an increase in membership of over 1000 percent, all of them rural firearms owners, I hasten to suggest that these owners have been betrayed.

CARING FOR LEATHER

Leather is one of the most durable, long-lasting and universal clothing materials. It has been popular since the day of the cave men and doesn't show many signs of losing popularity. Naturally, it's a little more expensive than it was for our ancestors, and because of that it deserves special care to maintain it's appearance and durability.

The March issue of Consumer Contact provides some good advice for caring for leather. Suede should be brushed frequently with a bristle brush or dry rubber sponge to keep dust from settling in the nap. A wire brush should never be used to do this. If suede has become wet, when it is thoroughly dry it should be rubbed with terry towelling to bring up the nap.

On grain or smooth leather, spots and surface soils may be washed off with a soaped cloth (mild soap, not detergent) then wiped with a clean cloth and patted dry. Because leather is so supple it should be hung on a padded hanger in order to prevent misshapen shoulders or marks left by wire hangers. Heavy objects in pockets could stretch the leather out of shape as well.

Most wrinkles in a leather garment will hang out if it is left in a damp area like a steamy bathroom. Leather can be pressed by using the rayon setting on the iron (don't use steam) and heavy wrapping paper as a press cloth on the top side of the garment. Use a light, quick stroke.

If a leather garment gets wet from rain or snow, hang and dry it away from all forms of heat.

A scarf worn at the neckline of a leather garment protects it from hair and body oils. But if a leather garment gets soiled, cleaning fluids, sprays, saddle soap and shoe creams should never be applied.

Leather garments should be professionally cleaned before they become heavily soiled, even though it is an expensive process. They should be taken to a specialist in suede and leather cleaning and a note identifying the soil will help the cleaner in his job.

Because all animal pelts are different, changes such as colour change, spotting, shrinkage, or cracking can occur in cleaning. Because of this, cleaners usually won't accept responsibility for them.

Two-piece outfits should be cleaned together to avoid noticeable colour difference. Once your garment is cleaned, and you're putting it away for the season, never store it in a plastic bag. A leather garment has to breathe, so it's better to cover it with a cloth and hang it in a well-ventilated closet.

Money put into a leather garment is well worthwhile if it is properly cared for, so that it lasts for many years.

"As I See It"

Spring Session Ends

Members of the Opposition are reasonably satisfied with the business conducted during the 51-day spring session of the Legislature.

It is true that we were more than a little disappointed that the Heritage Savings Trust Fund became law without amendments which would have made the investments from the fund subject to prior Legislative approval. However, if future events should prove that the Cabinet Investment Committee makes some imprudent investments, history will record the votes of Opposition members who asked that the M.L.A.'s who make up the full Legislature, be allowed to make investment decisions.

Not one week of the session went by without the government being forced to defend itself against legitimate criticisms. Examples include the questions of ministerial accountability, the Energy Agency and its dealings, the Alberta Agriculture Development Corporation, the "double-standard" whereby municipalities, hospitals and school boards are being told to maintain spending guidlines (80 percent to 11 percent) while [illegible] spending increases were to be in the percent to 25 percent range, and others, tocluding NO action on land-use policy!

I trust you will have a good summer, that you will enjoy a relaxing vacation, and that you will keep in mind my desire to serve my constituents and other residents of Alberta. If you have problems, concerns, suggestions or questions, write my office, 304 Legislative Building, Edmonton, or phone 427-2251 collect.

County Agricultural News

From the office of the Agricultural Fieldman

Watching those tender delicate green, wild oat shoots poking up through the dark soil makes it difficult to believe they can cause so much trouble

In fact, these little shoots look so much like the vulnerable seedlings of wheat and tame oats, one could almost feel some remorse about ripping them out or poisoning them

But the appearance is where the similarity ends. For example, cereal crops of wheat, barley and oats exhibit a unique feature - uniformity. Seeds sown at the same time in the same soil, in the same area, at the same depth will produce plants almost identical to each other that will mature at the same time

These crop species were designed that way, otherwise harvesting and marketing would be a real nightmare

But the wild oat is unique for its lack of uniformity. In fact, it seems to have maximum genetic variability

It's one of the crucial characteristics - more important than any other factor - that ensures the survival of the wild oat

Let's look at some specifics.

The wild oat shows a maturity ranging from about 60 days on up. What's more, the variability occurs within each plant. Often the top of the panicle will shatter when seeds at the bottom aren't filled yet

So once the wild oat plant reaches the seed set stage, it's almost impossible to prevent an accumulation of seeds on the ground

(Researchers have found as much as 50 bushels per acre of wild oat seeds in the top four inches of soil.)

Everyone has heard stories of how th wild oat seed can survive in the soil for 15 years and still grow.

(Research at the Regina Research Station shows seven years to be about the maximum time in that area.)

Dormancy thus can be expected if growing conditions aren't favorable However, research shows that even with ideal germination conditions, some wild oat seeds will stay dormant, at Regina eight percent after two years and about one percent after five years.

Again, genetic variation must account for such differences.

Like other plant seeds, the wild oat seed won't germinate if exposed to light The wild oat has a special gadget to get around this problem - a long bent awn that bends and twists with changes in moisture, turning the seed into spaces in the soil surfaces. With a little help from the wind, it is soon hidden and ready to germinate

If the seed sprouts and then runs into a dry spell, it will wait until there is a supply of moisture Seedlings can live for at least seven days at 22 degree C without water

If a dry spell comes before germination, seeds farther down will germinate - as far down as eight inches in the soil

Even with good conditions, emergence will be spread out. Data collected by the Regina Research Station shows an average germination of 36 percent in May, 40 percent in June, 10 percent in July, 2 percent in August and 12 percent in September, on

If a wild oat seedling is damaged before it reaches 32 days of age, it can start a new plant from one of the nodes

To sum it up, the wild oat has a survival plan for every kind of situation that could develop in a field, for any kind of season, or for any kind of cropping program.

In a practical sense, eradication becomes almost impossible, although it has been accomplished on an experimental basis.

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendship Group met Thursday afternoon May 20th at the home of Mrs. George H Taylor with Miss June Clark in charge of devotions. The minutes of the meeting of April 15th, held at the home of Mrs. Edith Carlson, were read and approved. Letters of thanks were read from the missionaries in Hong Kong for the continued sponsorship of children attending the Mustard Seed schools. A letter also read from Miss Sadie McCloud and Miss Blanche Pardoe who had visited with us, telling of the recent meetings held in Hong Kong by Billy Graham. Recreation Report

"Recreation - Is It a Myth or For Real?"

Everyone has their own idea of what Recreation is. Many can see no value in it, some say "Ah, it's O.K.", while others would be lost without it.

The technical definition of Recreation is Any activity done in one's leisure time engaged in for it's own sake, which brings in-[redacted]

So, what do you consider your recreation activities? Or better yet, what do you do in your leisure time? We have all heard the line: "The average 60 year old Swede is in better shape and sounder physical condition than the average 30 year old Canadian". When we hear this, we say "Yeh, I better start getting in shape tonight." But chances are the beer, cigarettes and good food are much more pleasing and relaxing than a bicycle ride or short jog

But, maybe Recreation and its activities are not publicized enough. Did you know that you can go to your local recreation board or the regional recreation office and request practically any activity you wish? That's right - - and we will try to satisfy your requests as best we can. Talk to others and get them interested, as most programs require a minimum of 8 applicants.

The following is a list of all the Recreation Boards, their contacts. (We are open for suggestions)

Tofield Henry Nachtigal, Chairman, John Blades, Secretary

Ryley Tom Kerlee, Chairman, Mrs. Eveline Baker Secretary

Holden Charles Mathews, Chairman, Joe Fornal, Secretary

Bruce Henry Field, Chairman, Mrs. Sonja Bablitz, Secretary.

Viking - Al Willmott, Chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Lang, Secretary.

Kinsella - Mrs. Evelyn Beeton, Chairwoman, Mrs. Irene Findlay, Secretary.

Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Dept. - Dennis Cooper, Chairman.

Also, please remember that once a month, a representative from the County Recreation Department will be in your town to answer your questions and discuss your ideas.

Tofield - 2nd Wednesday of every month.

Viking - 3rd Wednesday of every month.

Holden - 2nd Thursday of every month.

IN MEMORIAM

BILYK—In memory of husband, father, who passed away May 26, 1973
A silent star shines on a grave,
Not very far from here,
Where sleeps the one
We miss and love so dear;
We mourn for him in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.

The UFA gas card comes with a money back guarantee

Here's the way it works. You buy retail gas a hundred gallons at a time. And you buy it at a discount. At the end of the year we pay you a dividend on all the gas you bought. Because yearly dividends have always been a big part of what the UFA is all about. You don't, of course, have to worry about storing it. We take care of that.

You see, with each purchase you get a card showing the number of gallons purchased. An identical card is kept by the people at your UFA outlet. So everytime you gas up it's marked on your card and ours. And at the end of the year you get some money back. So you can see that it really does pay to buy your gas from us. We guarantee it.

Beaver won't oppose power plant project

The Council of the County of Beaver No. 9 considered the proposed Calgary Power Can Pac development known as the Dodds Round Hill Project.

While there appears to be some conflict in statements from different sources there are a number of positive and negative considerations that are known at this point.

In considering the proposal the Council took into account the brief from the Round Hill Protective Association and the brief from the Shaw Community Association.

The following are the items the Council felt are known at this time.

[illegible]

1. Dislocation of the Farm Population

We realize there are a number of the farmers living in the area of the development who are opposed to because of the fact that they would be required to relocate. Their opposition is to be expected and we sympathize with them. There is a community spirit in the district that we feel will be destroyed if the development proceeds. We, as representatives of the rural area, do not like to see our friends and neighbors be forced to leave their farms which they and their families have built up. There are also a number of farmers in the area of the development who do not object to the project provided reclamation can be assured and provided a fair price will be paid for land involved.

2. Loss of Agriculture Products

There will be a certain amount of loss of Agricultural Production on the land on which the plant and cooling pond are situated and also on the land which is being mined and reclaimed. While there is a great deal of controversy on the reclamation program and the value of the land after it is reclaimed and, while we are aware that agriculture is important not only to the County but to the province and the world, we do not feel this is within our field of expertise. This is a matter of Provincial Government control in consultation with experts in this field.

3. The Possibility of Air Pollution

We are proud of the fact that we have no air pollution and are concerned that this plant may change this situation. However we realize that our Provincial Government has very stringent legislation to control this problem. If Provincial Government legislation is enforced the problem may not exist.

Choice of highways

Announcement last week that fourteen miles of Highway 21 will be rebuilt came as rather a surprise, and a source of wonderment in this area.

The section runs from Hay Lakes south to the Junction with Highway 13, and it seems to our mind that Highway 13 needs a good deal more attention than does Highway 21. This fact would even seem to be borne out by the minister of highway's chopping of the speed limit from the Junction west to Gwynne Hill, on the far side, to fifty miles an hour at any time.

To be sure, Highway 21 probably carries more traffic, and it may be a case of repairing before the road breaks up and the investment is lost, so that a complete rebuilding job becomes necessary, but beyond that, it's hard to understand why the choice was made to go north rather than west. After all, Highway 21 seems in better shape than many roads are.

"New" concept

Hooray for Mr Justice W. A. Schultz of Vancouver, who delivered from the bench a few days ago the kind of pronouncement that thousands of Canadians have been waiting to hear for several years.

Responding to defence counsel requests for leniency in the treatment of his client who would probably be subject to cruel and unusual punishment, Mr Justice Schultz declared "The victim, too, is subject to cruel and unusual treatment when the crime against him is committed."

He quoted from a United Nations document saying that no man shall suffer inhuman treatment. If that applies to those who commit crimes and go to jail, said Mr Justice Schultz, it also applies to the victims of those crimes.

At last! Someone to speak out on behalf of the victim. For the most part the poor victim has been forgotten as various community agencies sought to rehabilitate the criminal, to mitigate against the hardships he might otherwise face and to soften the kind of punishment he might receive as well as to shorten its duration.

Witness the case last week in Edmonton where a young man who brutally stabbed and killed an old man with his own butcher knife, received a life sentence, which could legally be remitted in as little as fifteen years.

Nothing, of course, will bring the older man back to life, and nothing will reduce the suffering and the trauma of his wife, who was forced not only to witness this crime but to submit to another against [illegible]

And whereas the defence counsel in this case sought for a shortening of the term when probation might be considered, the judge instead moved to increase it.

Again the need of the victim, and of society, moved the judge to use as stern punishment as it seemed in his capacity to do.

Thousands of neglected and long-suffering victims will respond in appreciation of these moves to consider them at least equally with the accused.

Is our affluence showing?

Sales of Made-in-Canada television sets have fallen off quite dramatically in the past couple of years, reports Statistics Canada, from 800,000 in 1973 to only 500,000 last year. Last year surprisingly was the lowest for an eight year period while '73 was best, with '72 trailing only very slightly.

What is equally interesting, however, is the relationship between color and black and white.

1970 was the last year when black and white sets, made in Canada, outsold color units. By last year color sets accounted for almost 85 percent of all made in Canada sales. It's possible, of course, that black and white continues to be a big seller but consisting mainly of some of the much lower priced import sets, while emphasis on the higher priced Canadian sets turns to the color range.

Without having more complete figures on total sales, its hard to read too much positive information into these figures, but it does appear that the overall trend pictures a rising level of affluence over most years, with a slight slump during recent years of unemployment, even though the same basic trend to higher priced sets continues.

WHY THE RUSH?

June 1, 1976

[illegible]

[illegible] some towns have endorsed unconditionally the proposed Dodds-Round Hill Power project begs for comment.

The evidences given in the companies own studies shows that wells in the mine area will be dewatered and the extent of dewatering beyond the mine area is unknown. The reclamation consultants data given in the environmental impact assessment prepared by the companies shows the highly alkaline nature of the overburden between the thin topsoil layer and the coal which warns [illegible] such a large scale mining operation. Dr Robert Curry, soils reclamation scientist, advisor to the United States government on reclamation and contributor to reclamation laws in the State of Montana, tours the area, sees evidence of the excessive salt character of the overburden by the numerous white patches appearing in the fields this spring and warns that reclamation as proposed would be a disaster. Toxic materials would have to be buried deeply and top soil and root zone removed in a number of thin layers and replaced in the same way as it was originally. The greatest hazard was the saline overburden the salts of which would be mobilized and brought to surface by mining greatly reducing productivity even if surface soil were judiciously [illegible]

We were startled to learn that we were neutralized. Sulphur dioxide, selenium and molybdenum pollution would reach distances of 50 to 100 miles beyond the plant site. We would get acid snow in the winter time as the water vapor rising from the cooling pond absorbed the sulfur dioxide from the power plant exhaust and formed sulfuric acid. As our soils are already tending to be acid on the [illegible] wherever fallout occurred. The proposed plant was a filthy plant and mining such a site would not be permitted under United States guidelines because of coal sulfur content and special and critical nature of topsoil and subsoil composition.

We believe strongly that the government should go further and hold Environment Conservation Authority Hearings but at least they are not prepared to make a decision on the project until after the Energy Resources Conservation Board hearings. We think the German experience may not apply here because of vastly different soil and climate. At least the government supports [illegible] the German group shows that they are willing to learn. This could be important in the area of involving farmers and local government in reclamation planning and policing. The government is just now formulating a coal policy which may protect No 1 and No 2 soils from strip mining at this time.

Why then would some towns make such rash decisions? Does it reflect a breakdown in the long standing relationship and interdependence between farmers and towns or does it reflect a willingness to grasp for a fast buck at any cost to land, people and environment. Perhaps it means that people believe the warnings of dangers are not to be taken seriously and they would rather believe the enticing reports of company representatives who paint such a beautiful picture. If anyone is under the illusion that their version is true I refer you to the articles appearing recently in the Outdoor Life magazine outlining the devastation wrought by strip mining in Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and revealing the long and difficult struggle to beat the mine company lobby with its falsehood to come up with more effective reclamation laws. Two state governors and an old lady who refused to move from her home were involved in that struggle against the [illegible]

According to the companies, we can have our electricity and the agriculture of Dodds-Round Hill both. That's like having your cake and eating it too. Who are they to say they could build up the organic content in several years [illegible] grass to form the existing soil that is it is? It would take a dedicated farmer indeed to stick around after ground water resources have been destroyed and soils have been made unproductive by mining with overburden and up- [illegible]

A blanket endorsement of the power project as it looks from here like "insanity". There are alternatives, such as using other coal sites first where impacts to soil, plants, people and environment would not be serious. The best and cheapest alternative at this time is conservation. For the time being it seems reasonable and responsible that we should be considering seriously every negative impact of the mine and power plant and express our concerns so that if and when we must have the coal the project design will be such that the least possible pollution and environmental damage will result.

By the same token we should be studying the Alberta reclamation laws. I have a copy of these laws.

In my view they have loopholes such as investing too much authority and responsibility in the minister of env. almost all, not spelling out end use of mined land or defining top soil or how much should be replaced. It does not make provision for a citizen to bring the company to court if he believes the company is not abiding by the law. The Montana laws, by contrast, have legislation in these areas.

Yours truly

FAMILY STRENGTHS

The following article was in a newsletter for young homemakers published by the Extension Service Oregon State University No author is cited

Families build strength in a place where expectations are in keeping with reality This value is becoming harder to achieve

In today's world families find themselves at the mercy of a society that imposes pressures and pressures that allow little time and place for meaningful activities or interactions between parents and children The role of the parent and the functions of parenthood are downgraded when they cannot do the things they want to do as a guide friend or companion to [illegible]

A recent study reveals that increasingly our children have little contact with those older than themselves and those younger than themselves In our modern way of life we are losing the ways in which children are deprived of but people in general The demands of a job that claims mealtimes evenings and weekends trips or moves necessary to get ahead or build one's ego increasing time spent on commuting parties social and community events often produce a situation in which children spend more time with passive caretakers in front of the television or with their age mates

The vacuum created by the withdrawal of parents and other adults has been filled by the peer group Children are essentially rearing the twelves This attachment to age mates seems to be influenced more by a lack of attention at home than the charm of the group These youngsters are pessimistic about the future rate lower in responsibility and leadership and are more likely to engage in antisocial behavior

Strength is discovered in families where children have an anchor of true authority and deep affection

Wheat strain resists rust

Three summers have threatened to wipe out the prairie grain industry during this century, says federal Minister Of Agriculture, Hon Eugene Whelan

But scientists always found ways to stave off disaster and save western agriculture

The culprits were drought wild mustard and rust In the 1930s workers at Agriculture Canada's western research stations developed machinery and farming methods to beat drought Her berides came along in the 1940s to control wild mustard and other weeds Successive rust outbreaks have been defeated by breeding rust-resistant plant material

Rusts change easily, or mutate to form new strains known as races. As new races appear resistant plants must be developed to withstand disease attacks.

Sutton, a new resistant hard red spring wheat was licenced by Agriculture Canada late fall after 12 years of research. When crop losses from leaf rust were as high as 10 per cent on some parts of the eastern prairies, the need for a rust-resistant wheat became urgent Seed increase was speeded up by growing a winter crop in California last year.

Simon, developed at Agriculture Canada's Regina, Sask., Research Station, was named for Robert Simon, former owner of the land the station stands on.

The typical person spends 70 percent of his waking hours in communication, according to Dr Paul Rankin of Ohio State University Writing accounts for 9 per cent of this communication reading 16 percent speaking 30 percent and listening 45 percent

International exchange program makes more responsible citizens

More than 600 students from around the world participated in the International Agricultural Exchange Program last year.

This fact was announced at the annual evaluation meeting of the International Agricultural Exchange Association (IAEA) which recently took place in Denmark. It was attended by representatives from those who participated in the program last year, host families, colleges involved in the exchange and departments of agriculture from all participating countries.

The exchange program provides an opportunity for European, Australian, New Zealand and Canadian farm men and women between the ages of 18 and 25 years to work in each other's countries.

Walter McNary of Camrose who represented Alberta Agriculture at the IAEA meeting, reports that the study-evaluation committee (made up of representatives from last year's exchangees) was unanimous in its opinion that the exchange program broadens the agricultural and world outlook of those who participate and makes them more responsible citizens.

Following is a breakdown by countries of the number of students who participated in last year's program.

Australia - 43; New Zealand - 41; Canada 83; Switzerland - 83; Germany - 38, Denmark - 169, France - 6, United Kingdom - 76, Ireland - 2, Norway - 6, Holland - 10, Sweden - 58, Finland - 5.

Australian, New Zealand and most European exchangees leave for Canada in April of each year and return to their own country in October However, some European exchangees leave for Canada in July and return in October.

Canadian and European exchangees go to Australia and New Zealand in November and return to their own countries the following April Canadian, Australian and New Zealand exchangees go to Europe in April and return home in October

All those who take part in the program have to have an agricultural background and many of them have attended an agricultural college or university in their own country. They pay their own way and are placed on approved host farms where they live and work with the family. They receive the regular farm wage of the country in which they are living and are given time off to learn about their host country.

Canada, Australia and Europe all have host family associations which determine the eligibility criteria for host families to take respective countries and generally oversee the operation of the exchange program.

Upon arrival the other countries the exchangees spend five days at an orientation conference These are held at the following locations.

Canada Olds College Olds, Alberta and the Brandon Extension Centre, Brandon, Manitoba Australia Marcus Oldham College, Geelong, Victoria New Zealand Lincoln College, Canterbury, Europe Lyngby Landbrugsskole, Denmark

Sawfly is back

The wheat stem sawfly, apparently absent from the prairies for 20 years, seems to be making a comeback, reports Agriculture Canada

Western wheat growers need to know the sawfly only too well. Fields of wheat flattened by the insect were a common sight. But many farmers have forgotten about the sawfly, as crops hovering in the background ready to menace wheat stands.

The sawfly ceased to be a hazard when favorable weather conditions in the mid-1950's allowed its natural enemies - parasites - to multiply and almost wipe out the pest.

The only effective control in areas where sawfly infestations showed up this year is growing a solid stem wheat next year. The best available sawfly-resistant wheat is Cutnick. Cutnick has been grown for the purpose, but it [illegible]

If 25 per cent or more of a wheat crop was infested this year, control will be necessary in 1976. A 15 per cent infestation may increase to 90 per cent the following spring.

The female sawfly deposits her eggs inside the stem of hollow-stemmed wheat in June The larva lives in the stem until the wheat begins to ripen Then it moves to ground level and girdles the inside of the stem. The wheat falls to the ground and the larva seals the exposed end of the stem stub and overwinters underground inside the stub

When a crop is infested with sawfly, the only solution is to swath early This won't kill the insects, but it will save the crop

Sawflies can be detected in a wheat field early in the season by breaking the stem of a plant Telltale "sawdust" along the stem cavity indicates the presence of sawfly Infestations are heaviest along the edges of fields.

Silence is golden says Arizona paper

Canadians have long complained that they are little known and less understood in most parts of the United States. So it was with keen interest that Isobel Nelson of Hardisty discovered the following editorial appearing in The Arizona Republic while she was on a holiday in that area recently. Mrs. Nelson turned it over to her daughter, Mary Broen of Camrose, who wondered if The mercury would be interested. We're grateful to both Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Broen for the opportunity to share this with our readers...who we are sure will appreciate the sentiment warmly.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

The United States has long taken pride in the fact that its border with Canada is the longest undefended border in the world.

Not a single gun points in either direction. Americans can freely cross into Canada and Canadians into the United States without even a travel card. For a century, relations between Canada and the United States have been as amicable as relations between Arizona and New Hampshire.

In recent years, however, an undercurrent of tension has developed. It started in Canada with a growing realization by Canadians that, in many respects, they are almost a U.S. colony. Americans own Canada's automobile industry. They own nearly all of the country's petroleum industry. They own more than 60 per cent of its manufacturing enterprises.

Even more irritating, the United States dominates Canada culturally. Most of the books Canadians read come from American publishers. The leading magazine is Reader's Digest. The only news magazine is the Canadian edition of Time.

The growing realization of the nation's economic and cultural dependence on the United States has led to a growing nationalism. And this, in turn, has led Canada to adopt policies which irk the United States.

The situation broke into the open when the departing U.S. Ambassador to Ottawa, William Porter, gave a farewell dinner to himself, to which he invited several Canadian newspapermen. Over a couple of beers, he delivered himself of several grievances.

Among other things, he complained of Canada's efforts to restrict U.S. investments, of the sharp rise in the price of natural gas and oil that Canada sells to U.S. companies, of limits set on the export of natural gas and oil, of the ban on American commercials in television programs relayed to Canada from the United States by cable TV, of a plan to make it uneconomic for Reader's Digest and Time to publish in the country; of another plan to nationalize the potash industry.

As the Washington correspondent of The Ottawa Journal later pointed out, all the complaints Porter made were based on fact.

Nevertheless, they created a furor throughout Canada. Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau rebuked Porter on the floor of Parliament. The Canadian ambassador to Washington filed a protest against his remarks with the State Department. The department, in turn, said that Porter had spoken without authorization.

Porter should have kept his mouth shut. The Canadians have good reason to raise the price of natural gas and oil, and to limit exports; they are running short of both resources. They have a right to screen foreign investments; the United States does, too. The restrictions on TV commercials and on Reader's Digest and Time are arguable, but it's their country.

Nationalization of the potash industry does raise a problem for the United States, because two-thirds of this country's potash comes from the Province of Saskatchewan. However, that is a problem which properly should be discussed behind closed doors.

Porter has been assigned to Saudi Arabia. Let's hope that he speaks more diplomatically there.

County Agricultural News

From the Office of the Agricultural Fieldman

Do you have a surface water drainage problem? Do you know the procedure to follow to correct it?

The Alberta Water Resources Act states that a person may obtain a license to divert water to control flooding or water erosion providing it does not interfere with the water rights of others.

The procedure is as follows:

- The landowner must submit a request in writing to the regional administrator of the water resources management division for technical assistance to construct a drainage system.

- The regional administrator will send a fieldman to inspect the problem and to advise the applicant on whether or not a drainage project to correct the situation should be investigated.

- If a diversion project is feasible, the applicant must then get preliminary survey consent forms signed by other landowners who may be affected by the proposed project.

- Upon receipt of these consent forms, the regional administrator of the water resources management division will arrange for a survey of the area and to have a design and cost estimate of the project prepared.

- Next a meeting of all the landowners who will be affected must be called by the applicant to discuss the possible effects of the proposed project. This meeting will be attended by a representative of the water resources management division.

- The applicant must obtain a written agreement from all the affected landowners giving him permission to go ahead with the project.

- The applicant must then apply to the administrator of the water resources management division for permission to proceed with the construction of the project.

- The water resources management division will send out engineers to carry out a construction survey, after which construction can proceed.

- The applicant will be issued a license when construction is complete and the project has been inspected and approved by the water resources management division.

The applicant is required to pay for all construction costs related to the project unless the project involves a number of farmers and benefits the whole community. In such cases a cost-sharing agreement may be negotiated with the province.

Recreation Report

By Val Charteris
(Program Supervisor)

It was once thought that children were the heart and soul of a happily married couple, children were the result of true, devoted love. But, as times are changing, so is this concept. Now, I am not really sure how the child fits into marriage, in this day and age.

This may be disheartening to many parents, as they really do love and care for their children, but sometimes it does not really show.

Referring to Recreation, how many recreational activities do you participate in with your children? A sports program is great to enroll your 'kids' in, but who is left to manage, coach and care for these youngsters? A child's life is very precious and must be handled with extra T.L.C (tender loving care.)

I am therfore appealing to all parents to take not: do you really want to help your child in his most precious time of life? If so, the County of Beaver Recreation Dept. is waiting to hear from you. Your local Jr. sports group needs coaches, managers, umpires and drivers for the Minor League Baseball Teams in the county. We will also be looking for drivers for the Summer Camping Program, then there's the Hockey Program in the winter.

We also need feedback on each program, if we are to change it and make it better.

So, parents, please consider your children. A little bit of love and care does wonders, and you'll be surprised that it also works both ways.

Citizens of Tofield

Due to the very early run-off we find our water level lower than usual at this time of year. Because of this situation Council has passed a by-law allowing watering of lawns to the following:

All even-numbered houses will be allowed to water lawns on the even-numbered calendar days.

All odd-numbered houses will water on the odd-numbered calendar days. New lawns are exempt from this ruling.

We urge every good citizen to abide by this ruling.

Thank You!

A city that has ups and downs

By Barry Baniulis
Editor, The Whitecourt Star

"I left my heart in San Francisco"

Remember that tune by Tony Bennett in the 60's.

Well it's not difficult to do.

San Francisco is a city that's different. Not only in topography but in its physical layout.

During the Christmas holidays this writer had the opportunity to visit that city courtesy of Air Canada.

The company put up two first class return tickets to anywhere in its flight operations at the annual convention of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association held last fall in Calgary.

It was my good fortune to have my name drawn. Air Canada operates daily flights to San Francisco from Edmonton with a short stopover in Calgary. In a 727 at a speed of 560 mph it only takes a short four hour till you land in that northern California city.

And the Air Canada service makes those hours a pleasant relaxed luxury.

Green grass, trees, flowers, light blue skies, and 70 degree weather greeted us upon touchdown at the San Francisco International Airport.

That's some climate change after leaving snow and a thermometer hanging around the 0 degree mark.

SUBURBAN San Francisco proper (46 square miles) has a population of about 800,000 plus while the suburbs in the greater San Francisco Bay area bring the population up to the 4 million [illegible]

That's a lot of people but surprisingly there wasn't that much traffic congestion noted. The Bay Area has several high speed freeways, a Bay Area Rapid Transit System (BART) and a Municipal Railway system but more about that later.

In April 1906, San Francisco was struck by an earthquake that completely tore the city apart. Fires burned out of control for three days, levelling much of the port city.

The city survived, rebuilt itself but now experts are saying its only a matter of time until another quake strikes.

San Franciscans, however, seem unconcerned despite the doomsday cries of self professed [illegible] prophets.

While in the state an earthquake did strike southern California registering 3.5 on the Richter scale but no major damage was repor[illegible].

Besides contending with the fear of earthquakes citizens have to endure the wacky goings on of the SLA and Patricia Hearst, the attempted assassination of President Gerald Ford by both Sara Jane Moore and Lynette (Squeaky) Fromme, police strikes and the ups and downs of living in a city built on rock.

And speaking of ups and downs, if you want to lose weight fast just walk around the city. The hills are something else.

If you want to cheat the weight loss grab a cable car.

TRANSPORTATION

The cars operated by the San [illegible] Municipal Railway are an excellent mode of transportation and are heavily patronized.

The City only charges 25 cents fare, no charge for transfers and if you're 65 or more the cost is just a nickel. And those fares apply equally to the bus and trolley car system.

The BART system which was just instituted several years ago is slightly different. To ride on the subway the further you travel the more you pay but the cost is still reasonable.

And if you want to see the city on the cheap, just take a $1. excursion ticket and you can ride the whole system.

Which was done by this writer on two different occasions.

San Francisco is relatively pollution free serving as a banking and insurance center.

But on the other side of the Bay, Oakland and the surrounding communities are often covered by a pall of polution.

Paper pollution was noted in San Francisco Dec. 31. That's when office secretaries gathered up the years desk calendars and office memos and dropped everything out of the window.

It was a blizzard of paper. It's a tradition that makes everyone happy except the city workers have to clean up the mess.

MONEY

For those of you contemplating a shopping trip to this city take plenty of money.

Prices, especially in women's clothing are fairly steep. Men's clothing however compared very reasonably to Canadian prices.

San Francisco is a shopper's dream with hundreds of small boutiques and then of course Macy's, I. Magnins, Liberty House, Ross Atkins, Saks Fifth Avenue, and the Emporium.

Another favorite shopping haunt is the Fishermans Wharf area with Ghiradelli Square and the Cannery offering hours of shopping pleasure.

Both the Cannery and Ghiradelli Square are warehouses that have been converted into multi-level shopping areas with plenty of small shops and restaurants.

San Francisco is now the leading number two tourist city in the United States. Miami Beach still is the favorite number one tourist haunt.

One could go on indefinately about the beauties of the city, the places to see and visit but rather than read about it why not go yourself.

A man is getting well along in years when an old flame doesn't seem so hot.

County for our young people who leave our school system. They are forced to seek employment elsewhere, usually in the cities. Many who come from a rural background are unable to cope with a city environment and would prefer to work in a rural area. A plant such as the one proposed could provide this type of employment, both skilled and unskilled.

2. A Substantial Increase in Tax Revenue to the County

We have looked at municipalities who have a large proportion of industrial assessment with a certain amount of envy. Our mill rate has had to be raised considerably to offset the cost of providing the services that are necessary. Even with this increase we have had to curtail our road improvement program in order to recover past deficits. We need more industrial assessment if we are to be able to provide the services to this County that we feel are necessary.

3. An Increase in Business Opportunities in the Towns and Villages adjacent to the Plant Site

With the addition of approximately 500 new jobs the resulting payroll will result in business expansion in the towns and villages near the plant site. While we realize not all the employees will live in the area and, as local people who are employed by the plant will not increase the population of the area, a substantial number will want to live near their place of employment. The resulting payroll and population increase will certainly benefit these areas. This will also increase the job opportunities in the area.

4. Increased School Population

We are experiencing a loss of pupils in our school system as are most other rural areas. The additional employees who would be working at the plant would add a certain number of pupils to our school system. As most Department of Education grants are based on pupils, and additional pupils will assist in financing our school operation.

5. Increased Recreational Area

The cooling pond that will cover approximately 3,000 acres will provide a recreation area that could be planned from the beginning.

6. A Source of Electrical Power that will be Required in the Near Future

We have read and heard reports from a variety of sources that by 1981 or 1982 the supply of electrical energy will be critical. This will not only affect the lives of people in the immediate area, but the province as a whole. If the supply is not available the province will not be able to industrialize to the extent possible with an ample supply. With the prospect of dwindling oil and natural gas resources the total economy of the province could suffer if we cannot provide other sources of income and energy.

Conclusion

As the County Council represents a large area only a small part of which is involved in the proposed project, they have to consider whether, in their opinion, the benefits of the development for all of their electors outweigh the negative effects.

As a result of their deliberations the following motion was passed:

"The Council of the County of Beaver No. 9 will not oppose the proposed Calgary Power Can Pac development in the County."

Martens-Grey vows exchanged May 8th

Dixie Gray and Dwayne Martens were married on May 8, 1976 at Tofield United Church.

Rev. Walker performed the ceremony and the nuptials were Sharon Rudecki.

Dixie, daughter of Robert (Bronk) and Elsie Gray of Tofield was radiant in traditional white gown and floppy-brimmed white hat with veil attached.

The gown, sewn by Dixie's aunt, Pearl Thompson, was beautifully made with a long train extending from the skirt, a tight bodice with lace insert and long bell sleeves. She carried yellow roses and white delphiniums.

Her maid of honor, Kelly Blackstock, and bridesmaid, Carolyn Gray (cousin), wore long yellow gowns with leg of mutton sleeves. Their floppy brimmed hats were yellow and they carried white delphiniums.

Dwayne is the eldest son of Frank and Gloria Martens of Red Deer. The best man, Greg Martens and groomsman, Ned Martens are brothers of Dwayne. The groom was in white and his attendants and ushers were dark pants, formal attire. Kris Grey, brother of Dixie, and Terry Martens were ushers.

Dixie's Gray took care of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were from Alta., Barrhead, Chauvin, Edmonton, Ryley, Red Deer, Sherwood Park and Viking as well as from British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

The reception was held in the church basement. A lovely cake decorated by Joan Myers, cousin of the bride, was adorned by all with its lighted water fountain. Master of ceremonies was Art Tiedemann from Fabyan, Dixie's uncle.

In the evening a dance was enjoyed by friends and relatives in the Tofield hall with music by the Lillo Combo. Gary Gray and Don Gray served the refreshments.

The happy couple honeymooned at Las Vegas and Disneyland and will reside in Edmonton where both are employed.

"Miracles Happen in Small Group Bible Study"

Pastor A. J. Wollen of Cedar Mills Bible Church, Portland, Oregon watched his people attend services regularly, but he knew they were doing little to really know, or care about one another. Much to his amazement he discovered there were times he could minister most effectively by letting believers dialogue with each other over the Bible, without his leadership! The result was a church "in Community". Christians came alive. Body life actually happened. Through an expanding network of small groups, led by laymen and women meeting regularly in homes, lives were changed. People were called to the church and members learned how to minister to each other.

"All Originality Makes A Dull Church"

Don Baumann believes that our church does not have to learn everything from experience. He says "Lessons learned by any local fellowship of believers ought to be the common property of the entire body of Christ. "Some churches have pioneered certain truth that others can now follow. In this book he relates current "success stories" and places effective churches into categories identifying three essential ingredients and pointing out transferable characteristics.

Ministik district notes

Mrs. Jim Reddick

A class re-union of Ministik school pupils in the years from 1920 - 1931 was held on Saturday at the hall.

Many pupils were able to be present with Nell (Davenport) Armstrong coming from Surrey, B.C., Maggie (Murdoch) Hamilton from Fort Macleod and Frank Grummett from Calgary. Others were from shorter distances, out of Edmonton and Ministik.

Each came with an incident they remembered while attending Ministik school, these being many and varied.

A buffet luncheon was enjoyed and many pictures taken, while lunch was enjoyed.

A unanimous decision was made to hold another re-union in 1978.

After a most enjoyable afternoon, each departed to their respective homes.

Mrs. Nell Armstrong returned to her home in Surrey, B.C. on Sunday after spending 10 days with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Leech, her brother, Joe Davenport, and her dad, Bill Davenport of Tofield, as well as spending some time with her many friends in the area, and being present at the Ministik class re-union.

Bella Boss of Central Park Lodge, Edmonton is spending a few days with Violet and Michael Nasichuk. She also attended the class re-union on Saturday.

Several ladies and two gentlemen once again were guests at Strathcona Place in Edmonton on Thursday where they enjoyed luncheon then, glazing their pieces of pottery, they had made some time ago after which they enjoyed tea and a snack before departing for home.

George Rogier passed away in an Edmonton hospital early Thursday morning, at the age of 93. He is survived by two daughters, Theresa Rogier and Olivine Sears, also two grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren; a sister, Madame Martha Rouyer also survives.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at Resurrection Church with Rev. Floyd as celebrant. Cremation followed.

Miss Margit Lee and Miss Ruby Shantz and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Usher, all of Edmonton, were Monday holiday guests of Mrs. S. George.

Greg and Leanne Thor were weekend guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Peurice.

Win tourism awards

Round Hill sets ball tournament

There'll be lots of ball action and other sports activities in Round Hill on Sunday as that community holds its annual Sports Day.

Eight teams have been confirmed for play in the Indian' tournament, with another two to four teams being sought. Definite entries have been received from Rosalind, Camrose Canadians, Camrose Canucettes, Tofield, Ryley, Fort Saskatchewan, Gilten, and Round Hill.

Three teams have been confirmed for play in the men's tournament with officials trying to line up another three teams, if possible

Because the teams haven't been finalized in either category, a draw could not be finalized, and a definite starting time could not be confirmed. They will likely start at nine o'clock, and definitely not later than ten o'clock.

Contests on a ball diamond will be organized when two indipole ten-ball teams take the field in an exhibition game. The two teams playing will be from Kingman and Round Hill.

School teams will also be playing, in different categories, divided by grades.

There will be races for the kids, and attempts are being made to line up horseshoe pitching competitions.

Officials, of the day-long tournament in Round Hill are putting forth considerable effort to make sure the tournament runs smoothly, and have extended an invitation to all ball fans to attend.

Meeting set in Round Hill

A general meeting of the Dodds-Round Hill Agricultural Protective Associations will be held at the Round Hill High School auditorium on Monday almost 2 years following the Calgary Power - CanPac announcement of a power plant proposed at the same location.

The meeting is open to members of the Association and their neighbors, the media and the general public.

Dr. Marvin Nyberg, a soil scientist on staff at the University of Alberta, specializing in soil testing and recreation, will speak on these subjects as well as the impact of sulphur emission on soils in agricultural areas.

Also speaking to the meeting will be Dr. L.V. Hills, an associate professor of geology at the University of Calgary who, during the past few years has made several public presentations concerning coal development in Alberta.

The information prepared by both speakers is intended to be current and of significant interest to both urban and rural dwellers in the Camrose area.

STOP DECAY IN SMALL TOWNS

Dear Sir:

Last weeks' letter was an angry response to the apparent lack of concern for loss of agriculture land and for pollution which would result from the power plant and strip mine and also to the blind faith that existing regulations and government would protect us from any eventualities.

I realize that the basic reason we are facing this project is our rapidly escalating power consumption and also that, to be consistent in opposing the project, one must practise conservation and also be supportive of towns so that they don't need a power plant to keep them viable. I have felt for [illegible] that the final solution to the decay in rural towns would be a reversal in the movement of farm people to the cities. Since returning to the farm in 1966 from an engineering occupation, I have tried to do most of my buying in local small towns because I didn't like driving any further than necessary for parts, groceries, etc. As machinery companies centralized their dealerships much of my trade followed them since I stayed mainly with the same make of machinery. Though it is an oversimplification, that is probably the story of the decay in business and social life of small towns, the depopulation of rural areas due to the greater attractiveness of other occupations and the centralization of businesses.

There is now support for my idea that a return of people to the land would improve the health of [illegible] of the Country Guide, page 44, written by Elva Fletcher. She tells how there is renewed interest in farming in Ontario resulting in provision of courses at the University of Guelph for educating novice farmers, people from every segment of society including teachers, librarians, engineers, doctors, lawyers, policemen, truck drivers. Though the fantasies and romantic ideas about farming of some of these part time farmers has suffered a letdown as they realize farming experience is the best teacher, the benefit to local communities is plain to see. Gary Hutchison, who coordinates the education program says "The farm production of these people may not be significant in feeding the world nor is their involvement of sufficient size to affect the prices of farm commodities, but on the other hand, it doesn't take a computerized survey to see what has happened in many communities with the influx of part time farmers. From an economic standpoint everyone from carpenters to store keepers to antique dealers have benefited from their buying power. With many rural communities dying out as farmers got older, some of those same communities are alive and well today because there's a better balance of younger farmers and older ones."

A monumental obstacle to return to the land is the soaring price of land and other costs above the productive ability of the land to pay. If this trend is not stopped and no policy established to agriculture the decay in small towns will continue. The question is, "Will we restore the life of towns by renewed emphasis on agriculture, small industry and small business or, will we try to shore it up artificially by industry which destroys agricultural land and pollutes soil, water and air for miles around?"

I fear our government is leading us down the second path.

Yours truly,
Calvin Lauber

Ryley district news

[illegible]

Gymkhana Trials were held Sunday afternoon at Ryley.

Ernest Brown's and Art Anderson were to Meadow Lake Provincial Park in Sask., fishing for a few days. On the way back, they stopped at Mann Lake for lunch. They report a lovely holiday.

Monica Knudslien is enjoying herself with her folks after spending a few months travelling in Europe.

Open house was held on Sunday afternoon in the Legion Hall in Ryley for Raymond Hjelter who is spending three weeks with his relatives. Some of the baseball players who he played with a number of years ago attended, Arnold Chappell of St. Albert, Edward Vergette of Edmonton, and others, also the coach, Elmer Anderson.

The Ryley Auxilliary served at Diane Hillerud's wedding on Saturday night. A large gathering attended the reception.

Many from the district attended the Camrose Jaywalkers Jamboree.

All Anderson left for Grand Centre on Monday to visit his daughter, Myrtle and family.

Grades 3 of Ryley School attended the Shrine Circus in Edmonton last week.

The Sea Cadets are finished with their meetings for the time being.

Visitors at the Bert Kirkeland and Gerald Owen homes over the weekend were relatives Vernie, Marion and Fletcher of Toronto.

Thistles tough to control

It is a small wonder Canada thistle is hard to control. Recent studies at the Agriculture Canada Research Station at Regina would convince anyone of the thistle's will to live.

A seeding was placed in a root box, and the box buried in a field last summer. It was dug up five months later, with all the roots contained in the box. The root system would have astonished any farmer.

Jim Hunter, research scientist who carried out the work, carefully removed the main root system from the box and measured it. It was close to one-eighth of a mile long. And that didn't include the plant's fibrous roots.

In another test, newly-planted root fragments from a Canada thistle plant grew from five inches long to more than 13 feet in the first year. A subsequent study showed that the primary root system of plants established in an open area spread as much as 41 feet in a single year.

The thistle's ability to grow from its perennial root system and its tenacious resistance to herbicides make it a menace on cereal lands.

Dr. Hunter has worked to find an effective and economical way to control Canada thistle.

The best control system yet devised involves consistent programs several consecutive seasons. This begins with summerfallow tillage early enough to control annual weeds and volunteer grain. Spraying with recommended herbicides when the thistle re-growth reaches the bud stage is then advised. Intensive tillage should start three weeks after spraying and continue until freeze up. It is important not to neglect the fallow during and after the harvest season.

Early post-harvest spraying is also recommended if there is active thistle growth, with the same herbicides at higher rates. This should be followed by intensive tillage.

The following spring farmers should prepare the seedbed with sharp discs to cut off thistle shoots at least three inches beneath the surface. This allows the crop to emerge first and get the edge on competition with the thistles.

"It's a system that works," Dr. Hunter says. "But even then, more than one cycle of this program might be needed to eradicate Canada thistle."

Background information on cancer

Every day people take steps to safeguard the health and happiness of themselves and those who depend on them. They put savings in the bank to ensure their future welfare, they take out life insurance to protect their families and elect governments to provide for national and local security.

Yet often they forget about the simple, routine and necessary steps to health and security that take little time to learn and practise. For example, for women - BSE - Breast Self-Examination. According to the Canadian Cancer Society, this simple monthly examination is the best screening test available for detecting changes in the breast. Yet a large percentage of Canadian women don't practise Breast Self-Examination.

For some, fear and ignorance lead to "denial" of the simple BSE technique. Unfortunately, doctors agree, many women are panic-stricken at the discovery of a lump. Their fear is compounded by delay - the worst action that anyone can take.

The best hope for healthy, and medical problem is to catch it at an early stage so that proper diagnosis and treatment quickly follow.

Here are some reassuring facts (for the fearful or unknowing):

As many as 85 percent of lumps in the breast are benign and not a serious health hazard.

Through routine practise of BSE women can learn to detect changes in their breasts themselves.

the earlier a breast lump is detected, diagnosed and treated the better is the chance for full recovery.

When any abnormality is reported to a doctor, there are several modern techniques which can be used as diagnostic tools. 'mammography' or 'xerography' is an x-ray technique which outlines the breast tissue & highlights problem areas. 'thermography' measures the heat output of the breast. 'biopsy' refers to the removal of tissue from the lump area, for microscopic examination.

Yet of all the detection devices, the one which is least costly, does not require any medical equipment or personnel and can be performed monthly in the home is BSE, the Cancer Society says.

Early detection through BSE, diagnosis and treatment are the best safeguards to health. They make sense - like taking out life insurance or providing for a child's future. BSE is life protection.

The Canadian Cancer Society sponsors films and circulates pamphlets on the BSE technique. Contact the local unit of the CCS for further information.

All You Wanted To Know About Vegetarian Diets But Were Afraid To Ask..

There seems to be an increased interest in Vegetarian diets. The following article by Margaret Lewis, Extension Nutrition Specialist, Oregon Cooperative Extension Service may answer some of your questions.

People in many parts of the world have been successful vegetarians for centuries. If you have chosen to follow a vegetarian eating pattern, you will need to choose your food carefully. Meat, fish, and poultry supply important amounts of protein, calories, and vitamin B. If these foods are eliminated, you must choose other foods that will supply these important nutrients.

What is a vegetarian? Let's define...

Total - one who eats only plant foods such as vegetables, fruits, legumes, cereals, and grains. A total vegetarian eats no foods from animal sources such as meat, fish, poultry, eggs, milk and cheese.

Lacto-Ovo-one who drinks milk and eats milk products and eggs as well as plant foods.

Semi - one who eats fish and poultry as well as milk, milk products, eggs and plant foods.

Wise - one who eats a variety of foods and follows the basic four food guide.

To be a wise vegetarian follow these principles:

Lacto-Ovo Vegetarians should reduce all empty calorie foods. Especially eliminate those high in sugar or fats such as candy, soda pop, snack foods and pastries. You must eat a larger amount of vegetarian foods to meet the body's need for protein, calories, vitamins and minerals.

Increase intake of all four food groups. You need an adequate supply of calories that also contain the nutrients needed for good health. Delete meat from the meat group and increase meat substitutes. Meat substitutes such as dry beans, peas, lentils, soybeans, peanuts, almonds, cashews, peanut butter, tofu, eggs, and meat analogs. Textured vegetable protein (TVP) and simulated meat products can be used in place of meats, fish, and poultry.

Vegetable proteins are used more completely by the body if you eat them in combinations. For example, if you eat beans and rice at the same time, the proteins from both foods are used more completely than if you eat only beans or only rice. You can eat several vegetables and cereals by choosing combination dishes or by selecting a variety of foods for each meal.

Increase intake of milk and milk products. The milk is important because of the protein and vitamin B12 that it supplies when meat is removed from the diet.

Increase intake and variety of vegetables and fruits. Green leafy vegetables are particularly important because of the vitamins and minerals they contain. Increase the intake of breads and cereals. Whole grain products are especially important because they supply B vitamins and iron.

Total vegetarians should increase foods that supply the calcium, protein and riboflavin found in the milk group.

Increase variety and amount of vegetables, fruits, breads, and cereals. Supplement your diet with vitamin B12. Because vitamin B12 is found only in foods from animal sources, you need to get the needed B12 from a supplement, or by using a soy product that is fortified with vitamin B12.

$400, and a gold medal is yours if you can write the best essay on what the Tofield Mercury means to you.

"This is a unique award made to the reader of a CCNA member paper who best describes in his or her own words just what the weekly paper means to him or her. It is not open to the paper's staff or regular contributors.

The objective is to encourage the readers of weekly papers themselves to think about what their newspaper means to them, their families, their lives and their communities and to set these thoughts down in straightforward language. Polished literary expression is not sought."

This written expression of frank opinion should be at least 250 words, and not more than 700. Judges will not look for excessively high praise of the weekly; they will study the judgement and understanding by readers of the paper's function. This could come from a paper of any size - large or small.

This award is made possible by the generosity of Target dates for metric conversion

Some of the target dates for metric conversion have come and gone.

Metric measurements are now being used to identify the contents of [illegible] packages, soft drink bottles and toothpaste tubes. The temperature is measured in degrees Celsius, rain in millimetres and snow in centimetres. Clinical thermometers in degrees Celsius are being promoted for use by the general [illegible].

The Canadian Government Standard Board's specifications for cooking measurements is now available to the public. It sets out the measurements that will replace the teaspoon, tablespoon, cup, etc.

Alberta began introducing SI (International System of Units) at the elementary school level last year and is expected to have completed the project by June 1978.

Following are the proposed target dates for introducing metric measurements in to various sectors of industry. It is possible that some of the proposed dates may be changed later.

Early 1976 - Automobile speedometers will start to be marked in kilometres.

March 1976 - Most toilet goods will be packaged in metric sizes.

April 1976 - Atmospheric pressure will be given in SI units (kilo pascals), visibility will be given in metres and wind speeds in kilometres per hour.

Spring 1976 - Conversion to metric packaging of sugar will be completed.

Summer 1976 - Events held at the Olympic Games in Montreal will be announced in metric measurements.

September 1976 - The [illegible] industry has recommended September as the date for converting to the metric system.

January 1977 - Car speedometers will be calibrated in metric units. Odometers and trip record counters will be calibrated in kilometres by September 1977.

January 1977 - Conversion of retail milk packaging to litres will be complete in Quebec. Other provinces are scheduled to follow.

February 1977 - All grain sales will be conducted in tonnes.

May 1977 - Textile orders will be booked in centimetres and metres.

September 1977 - All road signs in Canada will be converted to kilometres and kilometres per hour.

December 1977 - Completion of metric conversion in the wine industry.

January 1978 - Government building tendering will be done in metric units.

January 1978 - Beginning of conversion of edible oil products to metric packaging.

January 1978 - Conversion of ice cream packaging to metric units will be completed.

January 1978 - Metric weighing scales to the retail trade will be introduced in three pilot conversion areas. These areas will be Kamloops, B.C., Peterborough, Ontario, and Sherbrooke, Quebec.

January 1978 - All metric-sensitive statistics of Statistics Canada will be published in metric units, and where user-demand still warrants it, in Imperial units as well.

July 1978 - Weighing scales will be converted to the metric system in the food retail industry.

January 1979 - All wine sold in the U.S.A. will be bottled in metric sizes. Seven metric sizes will replace 16 U.S. and 27 other imported sizes.

April 1979 - Completion of design conversion to permit construction of roads in metric units.

January 1980 - Completion of conversion of biscuit packaging in metric units.

The Depression Years

No matter what era in history, in the years that follow, some advantages come to light among the disadvantages. Who would ever believe that the depression years had any worthwhile contribution to make to the world.

Historian and author James Gray stated, "We have a great deal more to be proud of than we often realize."

The depression, which lasted from 1929 to 1943 on the prairies, was a disaster. It reduced the population of the three prairie provinces by 200,000 in ten years. But those who stayed helped make the world what it is today. The farmers of the depression era knew little more than grasshoppers, drought, dust and rust.

But out of the farmers' efforts to combat the elements came such things as rubber-tired tractors, the chisel plow, the one-way discer, the Noble blade, the practice of summerfallowing to curb wind erosion, the world's first wind tunnel to study wind erosion, and a means of poisoning the hordes of grasshoppers.

Mr. Gray told an audience of about four hundred at the University of Calgary, "If it hadn't been for these developments of the prairies, much of our wheat producing country would be desert today. In 1961 the moisture conditions were worse than in 1937, which had been the driest year ever. But in 1961 prairie farmers produced 100 million bushels more wheat than in 1937 and they did it without dust storms and grasshopper infestations."

Mr. Gray, who recently received an honorary doctorate degree from the University of Calgary, was the final speaker in a Distinguished Lecturers Centennial Series.

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

Holden Lodge Order of the Royal Purple observed Royal Purple Day on Wednesday, June 2nd by entertaining senior citizens to a social afternoon and tea, with a very good turn-out of senior citizens. Several games of bingo were played with prizes given to the winner of each game after which lunch was served by O.O.R.P. Ladies. Lloyd Clark, on behalf of the guests, thanked the ladies for a pleasant afternoon.

Sam Black of Edmonton was a Wednesday evening visitor in Holden, attending the meeting of Holden Masonic Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiedemann were to Camrose Wednesday afternoon, June 2nd attending the funeral of a long-time friend, George Lomay. Mrs. Christine Mackay also attended the funeral.

Mrs. Mary Hooper had her granddaughter, (daughter of her son, Milton Hooper of B.C.) visiting with her and family for a couple of days last week.

Mrs. Clara Armstrong of Penticton, B.C. spent a few days with Mrs. Ethel Brekstad recently, also visiting with other friends and relatives in Holden. She also visited with relatives and friends in Bawlf, Camrose and Edmonton before returning home.

The Pioneer Group met for their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Zwierschke on Thursday afternoon. Devotions were in the charge of Mrs. G.H. Taylor. The minutes of the May meeting held at the home of Mrs. Hooper were read and approved. A financial statement to date was also given. The ladies were advised that the only brother of Miss Sadie McLeod, missionary in Hong Kong, who had visited at our meetings, and Mrs. Mildred Brekstad of B.C., a former Holden resident for several years, had passed away May 31st at the age of 86 years. A card of sympathy was to be sent from the Group to both ladies. They were also reminded that clean-Up cemetery day was to be held on Saturday. A short reading was then given on the work of the Bible Society. The meeting was closed with a hymn and the Benediction. The group will recess for the months of July and August. Lunch was then served by Mrs. Zwierschke and her friend, Marjorie, who was visiting, and an hour of fellowship enjoyed.

The Friendship Group will hold their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell on Thursday, June 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Taylor were Sunday guests with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Viking.

Surprise Sunday afternoon callers on Mrs. Beth Campbell were Ted Bertsch his wife and three sons, who were on their way to Rimbey to visit with relatives of his wife. Ted, and his parents and brother were long-time residents of Holden. His mother, the former Florence Wohl, was agent at the old A.G.T. office for several years where they resided before leaving to make their home in Dawson City. They also hoped to stop off at Camrose to see his great-aunt, Mrs. Laura Christenson, at Bethany Nursing Home.

Word was received Monday morning by Mrs. Beth Campbell that Ed Erickson of Calgary, a former Holden resident when he was Superintendent of School in the former Holden School Division, now the County of Beaver had passed away.

The funeral was held Friday, May 28th in Calgary. He is survived by his wife, Evelyn, one son, Allan of Edmonton, one daughter, Diane in B.C., and several grandchildren. Both Mr. and Mrs. Erickson were very active in many community affairs when residing in Holden. Ed was a member of the Holden United Church Board, and belonged to the Holden Masonic Lodge and B.P.O. Elks before leaving Holden. He took a very active part in all the affairs of Holden United Church.

A former resident of southwest Holden, the Talbot district, Wilfred Adolph Tangen of Edmonton passed away on May 29th in Edmonton at the age of 56 years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary (Austin) Tangen of Edmonton; three brothers, Carl, Paul and Ernest, all of Edmonton; three sisters, Mrs. Edward (Esther) Pederson of Edmonton, Mrs. Archie (Marion) McLeod of Abbotsford, B.C., and Mrs. Marjorie Rand of Vancouver, B.C. The funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon from Howard and McBride's Chapel with the Rev. Carl Wolski officiating, followed by cremation. The Tangen family were pioneer residents of the Talbot district and farmed for many years.

Mrs. Mavis Walker and boys of Drumheller visited for the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Jack Keith.

Bilingualism going too far

We, like most of the Canadians we know have tolerated the "bi-lingualism, bi-culturalism" bit for the past decade or so, not necessarily because we agree that the principle is good, but more likely for the simple reason that since it was rammed down our throats by the federal government, we would rather go quietly along with it than risk the chance of being branded "subversive-type" citizens.

Perhaps too many people have accepted the idea that government is God, and if the government introduces it, it must be good and it must be right.

Many of these people, however, became more than a little rankled a couple of years ago when, after the rest of Canada had accepted the idea of bi-lingualism, the government of Quebec decided to go a hundred per cent French in such areas as road signs and in their schools.

But the promoters of bilingualism have really taken it in on the chin in recent weeks, as the Quebec government began agitations to have the French language used by all pilots when conversing with the air controllers at Quebec airports.

That tears it!

English is the language used all over the world for pilots and airport control towers. Why should the little province of Quebec be treated any differently? Just because it has been the privileged province, the catered-to-province in Canada, does not mean the rest of the world should cater to it as well.

At the risk of being branded bigotous, we would suggest that perhaps it's about time we got a little bit realistic about bi-lingualism and bi-culturalism. After all, we are a multi-cultured people, we Canadians. We would be willing to bet that about a third of the people living in Taber are bi-lingual — but this doesn't count with the federal government, because their second language isn't French. That's a lot of bunk!

The mightiest nation in the world today — the U.S.A. — got to be that way without bilingualism and bi-culturalism, and certainly the U.S. had its French minority, the same as Canada, and a Spanish minority as well. Yet they were not catered to, nor were they allowed to have a second "official language" as the French in Canada are privileged to have.

Why, in all fairness, do we Canadians not give other minority groups their right to their official language, too, and become the multi-lingual, multi-cultural nation which we — in all truth — are?

The reason, of course, is that it would be unwieldy, unmanageable and impractical.

And for these same reasons, we suggest, we Canadians already have gone too far.

Why do we have to be "bi-anything"?

Why do we have to be English speaking and - or French-speaking Canadians?

Why can't we just be Canadians?

The Taber Times.

Where do paper clips go?

The subject of office paper clips is much too lightly dismissed. Start a conversation over coffee about paper clips and repartee somewhat bogs.

This should not be. Paper clips can give any chat a new twist.

As part of our way of life, they've held together more ideas than a bevy of computers. But one mentally disturbing aspect of paper clips is this: where do they vanish?

Theoretically, any office in business for a few years should by now be up to the average-funny in paper clips. Obviously this doesn't happen despite heavy use. This poses the question: is there a graveyard for paper clips somewhere in the great desk drawer up there?

Personally, we can't stand to see a paper clip lie idly by. It must fulfill its designated role, or be put back, neatly, into the box from whence it came. Maverick paper clips - those that merely hang around atop desks doing nothing - are a bane to both eye and efficiency.

It can be truly amazing how many of these "lost" clips can be found. Try scouting them out some quiet day. Staggering through offices it has sometimes been our misfortune to clip the files. I think it strikes a nice balance to file the lost clips.

In this manner you can create your own paper clip graveyard.

You perhaps immediately assume this is a quaint hobby indeed! Not really. Know a chap who saves 19th century rectal thermometers.

Appeal of the paper clip is based on service ability, plus a clean, hard, geometric look. There are no funny little attachments. Morally sound persons enjoy them.

Thus paper clips should never be deformed.

There exist, however, individuals with minor mental aberrations who, wittingly or thoughtlessly, deface this simple purity by twisting them into ugly forms, ostensibly to aps eyeglasses, or wire question marks.

Such people should be clipped!

There're many alternate uses for paper clips such as to mark where one has left off reading in a book; as fences for cockroach farms, crossed, as grills for mini-steaks; to replace pull-tabs on zippers; to clean pipes.

See if you can assemble enough clips from the office to dangle down to the street. It would make a great conversation piece for observant passers-by, especially if you're around the 40th floor.

Put one in your lapel. People will think you are a technocrat executive, or at least a physics minor.

So, with all the foregoing, it is not difficult to realize that paper clips are, without doubt, staple commodities, even if they do leave us in a bit of a bind.

Tony Dickson.

Recreation Report

by Val Chartoris
Program Supervisor

Dear Parents and Kids

Hiking, Swimming, Campfires and Roasted Marshmallows . . . what does this remind you of? If you guessed camp . . you're right!

Right here, in the County of Beaver, we have a wilderness camp at Camp Lake.

It's the kind of camp that lets you find out what nature and camping in the wilderness is all about.

At this camp, you'll not be bored. Instead, you'll learn about nature archery, canoeing, . . go hiking, play games, do arts n' crafts, have fun with people your own age, and sleep under the stars.

You'll have camp leaders that will show and teach you how to do new and more interesting things everyday. There's a new camp director, Laura Lee Afdahl, who will also be there to see that everyone has a good time.

In the next couple of weeks, you'll be receiving our new Summer Program. As soon as you receive this booklet, pick the camp that you would like to go to, and REGISTER IMMEDIATELY!

Any ideas that you have for the camp, will be welcomed, so please feel free to write us.

See you there!
Barney Beaver.

Holden homesteader passes on May 13th

Christen Anders Christensen of Holden passed away on Thursday, May 13, at Viking Hospital.

A member of a well known pioneer family, Chris was born in Denmark in 1886, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Christensen. With the rest of the family he immigrated to Wisconsin in 1903, and later to Alberta, where homesteads were established three miles northwest of Holden.

Chris made his home on the family farm, living in what was the first house in that area constructed of home-sawn lumber. This building is still standing today. The early years were full of hardships, but the Christensen family came through as well as most. After the Grand Trunk Railroad was built in 1907-08, conditions improved, and during the First World War and in the twenties, the borders of the farm extended, and it became one of the most progressive in the district.

Early in 1949, he retired and moved into Holden.

During his twenty-three years in the village, he and his camera were a familiar sight to young and old alike. He was much respected as a citizen, and was a good friend and neighbor to all, and they to him. All members of the Christensen family had great respect for "Uncle Chris" and held him in high regard.

He was very fond of travel, making trips to Europe as well as to many other places.

Chris was ever involved with the Danish community, and was a guide and friend to many a Danish newcomer. He attended the Danish church services held in private homes, and was also a member of the United Church at Holden.

In 1967, Canada's Centennial Year, he commenced writing his memoirs. A copy of these is now in the Archives at Aalborg, Denmark, as well as in the Provincial Archives in Edmonton.

His last two years were spent in the Parkland Nursing Home at Viking.

He leaves to mourn his loss, one sister, Mrs. Kenneth (Signe) McLennan, of Killam Auxiliary Hospital, and numerous nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by three sisters, Mrs. Neal (Helen) Crimmin, Mrs. Anton (Anna) Nielsen, and Mrs. Elna Parsons, and two brothers, Thomas and Magnus.

Funeral services were held from the Holden United Church on May 15, with Rev. Peter Walker officiating, and interment was in the Holden Cemetery.

Mercury's pages now have colour

The Mercury is continuing its attempts to be one of the more progressive weekly newspapers in Alberta.

This issue of the paper will see colour being used for the first time. Any colour used in the past occurred when a different colour of paper was used, but, in today's case, the ink is coloured.

Demand for use of colour is increasing as advertisers attempt to make their message to the public more evident, and it is expected to be used on a pretty regular basis in the future.

In addition to colour, The Mercury is making major advances in two other areas, since changing its method of printing just over a year ago, when the move to offset from letterpress methods of production was made. Offset has done away with the smudges that could mar pages, and especially pictures.

The circulation of the Mercury is showing a steady increase and is expected to pass the 1,800 mark in the near future.

In recent months, the size of the paper has increased dramatically, jumping from an average of twelve pages per issue to an average of eighteen pages.

Up until this year, The Mercury published an average of about three sixteen-page issues per year. In recent months, the smallest paper has consisted of sixteen pages with most issues, including this one, totalling twenty pages.

With the sudden increase in size, comes the problem of news. In the past, all of the news couldn't be used each week but now there often is a shortage. Clubs and organizations are urged to forward all news of happenings to their local correspondent.

Tofield Sports Day plans are finalized

Plans are in the process of being finalized for the holding of Tofield's annual Sports Day, on July 1st.

One decision that was made was to change the parade route, so that this year's parade will follow the paved streets.

The Tofield Historical Society are in charge of this year's parade. Information about entering the parade may be had by contacting either Harold Schultz or C. Patterson. The parade will break-up at the Fairgrounds where the judges will make their announcements regarding the different competitions.

There will be three bands entered in this year's parade. Leading off will be the Irma High School Band, who will also be appearing in the Calgary Stampede Parade later in the summer. The other two bands will be the Tofield High School Band and the Ryley High School Band.

After the parade has been completed, Tofield Mayor Dr. W.H. Freebury will officially open the Sports Day program, during ceremonies at the Fairgrounds.

Immediately following the opening ceremonies, the Irma Band will present a program of band music. This will be followed by a program of the two school bands from Ryley and Tofield, starting at two o'clock.

The Agricultural Society, under the chairmanship of Arne Klammn, will be in charge of parking and advertising while the Firemen, headed by Bill Friesen, will look after gate admissions.

Tofield Garden Club will have displays from their gardens on exhibition and will look after the booth in the arena, while the Tofield Legion will be running a bingo on the grounds.

A special attraction will be a demonstration of weight-lifting by a club from Edmonton under the direction of Tofield's own Rolf Kugelstad. This demonstration will run from 3.15 - 6.00 p.m. in the arena.

Serving of a delicious beef barbeque will begin at 4.30 p.m. [illegible] and the Men's Fastball Club. [illegible]

Beaverhills Light Horse Association will stage a gymkana during the afternoon, and other forms of entertainment, such as rides, will be available for all the youngsters in attendance.

The feature attraction will be a [illegible] clubs in the Powerline Baseball League competing. As well, there will be an eight-team men's fastball tournament, and an eight-team ladies' fastball tournament.

CREDIBILITY QUESTIONED
June 9, 1976

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

We are appalled by the recent announcement by the Minister of the Environment, the Honorable Dave Russell, that a permit to excavate as much as 25,000 tons of coal from three test pits in the [redacted] approved. This is a gross insult to the rights of farmers in this area and in general terms an insult to the rights of individuals everywhere in this province.

The announcement was made by the Minister of the Environment, a Cabinet Minister who has constantly denied that approvals for the strip mine have been given. We have received information from a competent source concerning burn tests usually required only when boilers are in the last stages of being ordered.

The information given to the Round Hill group is that core samples, which provide a complete range of coal values, could be used in a series of laboratory tests to determine the necessary data for final boiler design. (Core samples have already been taken) We have a great deal of difficulty in imagining how samples made on the quantitative basis of 25,000 [redacted] coal field could possibly be representative of coal value and burning potential over the entire field.

As laymen, we understand that the efficiency of a burn test for purposes of boiler design must include a complete sampling of the entire field. We pose, therefore the following questions.

(1) Having been told by the owners of the coal and their related company, Calgary Power where the coal is - are we now being told by the same group how it is to be tested?

(2) Is there someone in Alberta who could give independent information on burn testing procedures to the appropriate cabinet minister instead of depending on information only available via the utility company?

(3) Is this burn test really for the purpose of developing final design - or is it an effort on the part of Environment to do further research on the effects of trace elements in the effluent as well as scientific fact finding regarding surface and groundwater disturbances as well as a more realistic approach at reclamation evaluation?

Lacking answers to these questions we must assume lack of confidence by the proponents of this project which now appears to be the Minister of the Environment and a total disregard of any obligation to reliably carry out a creditable information program with the people who have the most at stake. We also include a large populance in the radius of the proposed project who have so far been led to believe that [redacted] with - but only have proof while using examples like Forestburg and Wabamun.

The credibility gap appears to be widening!

Holden's cadets hold inspection

Parents and friends viewed the annual inspection of the Sea Cadet Corps "Nootka" at the Holden Community Hall on May 28th.

Fitting in between rain showers, the inspecting cortege headed by Lieutenant Commander Wally Love, accompanied by the area officer, Capt. R. Stewart, his assistant, C.P.O. C. Underwood and Capt. Wm. Koch, all of C.F.B. Griesbach, Edmonton, along with representatives of the Northern Alberta Navy League, E. Silvers of Edmonton, local Navy League member Neil Reid, and the Ryley Canadian Legion president, E. Brown.

LCDR Love inspected his guard, and then moved on to inspect the ship's company and band, composed of both boys and girls this year, as girls have now become a part of the Sea Cadet program.

The band was from Sherwood Park, RCSC Campbeltown, under the direction of Lt. Price and Lt. Smith.

Parents and cadets then moved indoors to view the demonstrations and displays. The gym group entertained with tumbling and vault horse movements ending with a pyramid. During this exercise, the first aid group rushed to treat a simulated accident. Following this, the survival group demonstrated the actual building of a hutch, fire and cooking, just as you might in a bush survival situation.

The inspecting party and parents then viewed the various displays and were encouraged to ask questions. The displays endeavored to illustrate, Bends and Hitches, the tieing of knots. Some of the cadets made their own knots boards, which were very illustrative. The assembling of the running parts of the sail boat and setting sail was a distinctive setting. The first aid display illustrated mouth to mouth resuscitation, and the survival group showed the survival and rations kits. The range group illustrated the safe use of fire arms. These groups demonstrated the training they receive throughout the year as well as endeavoring to learn discipline, responsibility, respect and punctuality.

The evening closed with the cadets receiving their awards and promotions, based on attendance, general department, accepting responsibility, and completing requirements on time, and the ability to pass their examinations.

The Best All-round Cadet award was presented by the inspecting officer, LCDR Love, to Leading Cadet, Gary Moore. The cadet showing the most advancement, Leading Cadet Dale Stenerud, was presented his award by the area officer, Capt. R. Stewart. The Best New Entry Cadet, 1st year only, was Ordinary Cadet, Robert Fjellstrom, and was presented by Capt. Wm. Koch. The Northern Alberta Navy League Bos'n Pipe was presented to Chief Cadet, John Rokos. One hundred percent attendance awards were presented by Navy League president, Neil Reid to the following: Daniel and Melvin Zenuk, Robert Kropielnicki, Brian and Doug Stefura, Barry Strilchuk, Bryan Baranuik, Scott Bell, and Neil Shiblenski. There were 38 parades during the course of the training year. The first aid certificates were also presented to all cadets who took the training and passed their examinations.

The evening ended with refreshments being prepared and served by the cadets' mothers.

Reclamation raises questions

There isn't enough research and what has been done is not long enough or detailed enough, declared Dr Marvin Weberg as he addressed a meeting of the Round Hill-Dodds Agricultural Protective Association on Monday evening concerning the proposal of Calgary Power to build a large new power generating plant in the area.

One thing imperative, the speaker stressed, is that the topsoil must be saved. It's not enough [illegible]

A very successful "Clean-up Day" was held at Holden Cemetery on Saturday, with all the hedges being trimmed and graves cleaned up. The gates at the entrance to the cemetery were fixed. After the lunch hour, a business meeting was held with the minutes of the previous annual meeting read and approved, also the financial statement was given. Election of officers was held, and after serving as secretary of the cemetery committee for 32 years, Mrs. Beth Campbell regretfully resigned this office and Mrs. Ethel Brekstad, a long time director, was elected to the office. The previous slate of officers was re-elected, Lyle Gronland as president and Algot Hultholm resigning as vice-president and Mr. Chetney being elected to the office. FATHER'S DAY

This week we remember Dad's special day and include:

A NOTE TO DAD

What sort of father are you to your boy?

Do you know if your standing is good?

Do you ever take stock of yourself and check up

Your accounts with your boy, as you should?

Do you ever reflect on your conduct with him?

Are you all a father should be?

Do you send him away when you are anxious to read

Or let him climb on your knee?

Have you time to bestow on the boy when he comes

With his questions to tell him the truth?

Or do you neglect him and leave him alone

To work out the problems of his youth?

What memories pleasant of you [illegible]

In the years that are certain to [illegible]

Will he look back on youth as a season of joy,

Or an age that was woefully glum?

Come, father, reflect! Does he know you today?

And do you know him as you [illegible]

Is gold so important to you that you leave

It to chance that your boy will be good?

Take stock of yourself and consider the lad,

Your time and your thought are [illegible]

How would you answer your God should He ask,

What sort of a father are you?

Ministik district notes

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Saturday was the first time the annual Strawberry Tea sponsored by the Ladies Club was held in the new Ministik Hall. Visitors came from all the surrounding districts and as far away as Tofield and Edmonton. They enjoyed their tea at tables centered with wild roses.

An arrangement of spring flowers from the garden of Joyce Bowerman centered the table where ladies poured tea and coffee.

Club members were assisted by many of the younger set who served the tables.

The raffle of a calculator was won by Mrs. Irene Zimman of Looma Vista while the Macrame hanger and plant went to Mrs. M Cole of South Cooking Lake. Mrs. A. Ferguson was again convenor of this affair.

All interested people are invited to attend a general meeting at the Lakes Craft Centre on June 21st at 8 p.m. One item on the agenda is to discuss the fall program for the centre.

Sixteen chairs have been purchased and more are on order, so bit by bit, the centre is gathering furniture and improvements are being done.

Several from here attended the Hymn Sing at South Cooking Lake Church on Sunday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Ralph Leach were guests at a wedding and reception, along with daughter, Donna, in Camrose on Saturday.

The June meeting of the Community League was held in the hall on Wednesday evening with ten members present.

Several chairs are on order also a battery operated clock for the hall.

A motion was made that in future meetings commence at 8.30 p.m. sharp and at 10 p.m., the president notify members that by 10.30 the business is to be completed and meeting to adjourn. It was felt that meetings drag on too late and discourages members from attending, especially at this busy time of year. Coffee and cake were served.

Mrs Ellen Eaton

Archie Damburger while in the hospital recently was playing cribbage with Henry Theroux and Pete Kuc and was lucky enough to get what is known as the perfect cribbage hand, a 29 count.

Sharon, eldest daughter of Arnold and Deanna Nelson returned to the Tofield Hospital on Monday for further treatment after having been home only a week, after a siege with pneumonia.

Christine Ray spent the weekend with her friend, Susan, youngest daughter of Deanna and Arnold Nelson.

Carl and Mavis Jacobsen and daughter, Karen, motored to St. Albert on Friday to the home of their daughter, Clarice and Peter Andersen, to help their little grandson Leif, celebrate his first birthday.

Several families from the district attended the get-to-gether and farewell tea for Rev and Mrs. Peter Walker held in the Tofield United Church basement on Sunday, following the Sunday morning service. The Walkers are leaving soon for southern Alberta where Rev. Walker has accepted another church position.

Sunday visitors at the home of Carl and Mavis Jacobsen were their daughter, Clarice and Peter Andersen and little son, Leif of St. Albert, and Carl's parents, Hans and Martha Jacobsen of Edmonton who accompanied Clarice and Peter down to spend the day with the family.

A real good rain fell on Sunday, after several rain showers during the past week has helped break the dry spell and give fields, gardens and pastures a real boost for the time being. Most farmers have finished seeding.

Ryley

Lesa Bell

Mrs. Nancy James is home from the hospital, after spending two weeks.

Ryley's annual Sports Day is scheduled for Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Peter Jensen and Kristian Jensen from Denmark are visiting in Ryley with the Herman Jensen family, for 3 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burton and Mr. and Mrs. John Fish motored to Hinton and Grand Cache, and report a very pleasant holiday enjoyed by all.

Denzil Solberg and friend, Nick Robert, spent a few days fishing and came home with some lovely big trout.

Elston Solberg spent a few days in hospital after he had the misfortune of getting his nose broke in a little football game.

The farmer's were truly happy to wake up Sunday and find it had rained over an inch, which will help grass land, etc.

Garden Club has meeting

By Doris Brown

[illegible] Club met at the home of Irene Warner on Tuesday, June 8th.

It was decided that the club would have a float in the July 1st parade, a display of cut flowers and plants on the grounds that day, and also that the Garden Club would run the concession booth in the arena on July 1st.

Members are to meet on June 30th to decorate the float for the parade.

The Provincial Horticulture show to be held in Tofield on August 14 and 15th was discussed. It was decided to canvass all business places in Tofield for donations or prizes for the show.

The next meeting of the Tofield Garden Club will be held on July 12th at the home of Audrey Brown.

Scandia plans

Plans have been finalized for the celebration of the 75th anniversary of Scandia Lutheran Church in Armena.

The congregation has planned a three-day celebration which will be held on June 25, 26, and 27.

An old-time picnic will start Saturday off. The picnic will start at noon on the Armena School Grounds. If the weather turns out to be unfavourable, the picnic will be held in the school gym. A musical program will be held in the evening.

Sunday's activities will begin with a Cemetery Decoration Service at 10.00 a.m., followed by a worship service at 10.45 a.m. Dinner will be served in the church at noon, and the Anniversary Service will be held at two o'clock, followed by a coffee hour.

Conferred with the degree of Bachelor of Education were Gail Patricia Booth of Ryley, William Kenneth Simon of Tofield, and Ruby Gay Wilmer of Viking.

Government testing in Round Hill

Farmers in the Round Hill area were urged to co-operate with the Department of Environment workers making test bore holes in the area, at a meeting of the Dodd-Round Hill Agricultural Preservation Association Monday evening.

The matter was brought to the attention of the meeting by Bucky Strickrod, who said the association had written to the minister of environment and the premier asking to be informed what the testing was all about. So far no letter has been received, she said.

Association president Fred Gotheridge explained that the government department will be drilling two holes on each of 37 quarters, one 20 feet deep while the other will drop to 300 feet. Pointing out the government will make no payment to the farmer unless damage has been caused to the property, Mr. Gotheridge urged co-operation.

For some time, said Mr. Gotheridge, the board has urged the government to do something on its own, rather than just relying on information fed to it, and now they're doing so. The information will be available to the farmers after it has been gathered he said.

Not only that, but the government will also be provided with much of the information gathered by Calgary Power / CanPac in its testing program, and this information, too, will be made available.

Remember 1962?

Grapefruit 10 FOR 69¢
MARGARINE 1 lb pkg 5 for $1
CAULIFLOWER California each 25¢
Ground Beef 1 lb. 39¢
Chicken trash-made, lean lb. 45¢ cut up for frying lb.
PINK SALMON 16-oz tins 59¢
GRAPES California Emperor 2 lbs for 29¢
CHEESE 2 lb pkg. 99¢

It's interesting to take a new look at these food prices from 1962. And we think it's just as interesting to look at what has happened to your Calgary Power bill during the same period.

In 1962, the average Calgary Power residential customer used 3230 KWH in the year at an average cost of 2.38¢ per KWH.

In 1975 the same family used about twice as much power but the cost per KWH was 2.30¢.

Although the overall bill is larger, the "unit cost" of electricity is slightly lower.

It's worth thinking about.

Killam Lions plan tourney

Killam Lions are finalizing plans for the holding of their ninth annual baseball tournament.

This year's tournament has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July third and fourth.

Four teams have already been accepted. They are Red Deer Generals, Unity Cardinals, Berkeley (California) Bears, and Edmonton Cardinals. Red Deer are the defending tournament champions as they won the 1974 tournament, with last year's tournament being rained out.

The team selection committee will meet again this Friday to choose the other four teams for participation in this year's tournament.

Camrose Cubs will not be in this year's tournament. The Cubs lost a number of veterans, and are in the process of rebuilding, and team officials did not feel they were strong enough to submit an entry this year.

Teams will be competing for a total of five thousand ($5,000) dollars in prize money with the top team winning twelve hundred ($1,200) dollars.

As well, the winning team will also receive the Labatt's Challenge Trophy.

Following the choosing of the final four teams on Friday, the draw will be made and the schedule for the two-day tournament will be released.

Officials of the Killam Lions are expecting the 1976 tournament to be the "best ever", both in terms of calibre of competition, and in fan attendance.

IN MEMORIAM

POOKE: In memory of Wayne Pooke, who passed away June 15, 1975.
This month comes with deep regret,
It brings a day we cannot forget;
In our hearts you'll always stay,
Loved and remembered day by day.
No birds, no flowers, no tears can say
How much we miss you along the way.
You left so suddenly; without a goodbye.
But memories of you will never die.
Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, Dennis, Della and Greg 44p-2862

WESLAKE: In loving memory of our dear Mother and Grandmother, Elsie May Weslake, who passed away June 9, 1969.
As times goes by, memories stay,
As near and dear as yesterday;
No verse, no flowers, nor tears can say,
How much we miss her everyday.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by her loving family. 44p-2848

ZOWTUK: In loving memory of our daughter and sister Betty Darlene, who passed away June 21, 1971.
Her charming ways and smiling face
Are a pleasure to recall.
She had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved of all.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by Dad, Mom, brothers and sisters. 44L-1709

Tofield PTA hears Pollock

by Doris Brown

The Tofield Parent and Teacher Association met on June 15th in the library of the Tofield School.

This was the final general meeting before the fall meeting scheduled for September 21st.

Al Pollock, principal of the Tofield School, spoke on school policy and philosophy.

In a very interesting and informative manner, Mr. Pollock discussed such things as school enrolment, number of staff employed, the curriculum, pointing out some of the special classes to be offered Junior High next year, the band and the opportunities it has to offer, playground equipment, discipline in the school with special mention of the smoking problem, family life, the importance of parents and teachers working together, and many other points of interest that concern both parents and teachers alike.

Mr. Pollock stressed the importance of people who have questions or complaints regarding their child's education, coming to him and talking things out.

Mr. Pollock ended his speech by reading a letter which was printed in the Edmonton Journal on May 5th, 1976. It left all present in a very serious and thoughtful frame of mind.

Everything is go for "Sports Day"

Officials of Tofield's annual Sports Day announced yesterday (Wednesday) that everything was in readiness.

The big day will kick off with a giant parade at 11.00 a.m. with 13 different catergories of competition.

The parade will assemble at the Tofield Municipal Hospital at 10.30 a.m., leaving there at 11.00 a.m. for Kallal's Corner, then one block south to the hotel, and then two blocks north to the Freebury Clinic, then going one block east, and south again to the United Church, and from there to the Fairgrounds.

Parade officials have already received quite a number of entries from Ryley and Holden, and were a bit concerned about the number of entries being received from the business firms in Tofield.

Baseball will be the feature attraction during the day with a five-team tournament, which includes all entries from the Powerline Baseball League.

At 9.00 a.m., Ryley will meet Holden while Tofield tangles with Round Hill at one o'clock. The winner of the Ryley-Holden game will meet Bardo at three o'clock with the finals scheduled for six o'clock.

There will be an eight-team men's softball tournament played. Tofield Kallal Motors meets Camrose Windsor Hotel at 9.00 a.m. while Tofield Toros play Wetaskiwin Sport Shop at 10.45 a.m. Other opening round games will see Lindbrook face Fultonvale at 12.30 p.m. while Ryley plays Rosalind at 2.15 p.m. Action continues all day with the finals set for seven o'clock.

There will also be an eight-team ladies' softball tournament. As well, minor ball games will be played throughout the day.

The Tofield Teen Club will operate a penny carnival throughout the day for all the kiddies.

Various displays will be on view in the Arena, which is also to be the gathering place for oldtimers in attendance.

A beef barbeque will be served, starting at 4.30 p.m.

CGIT grads are honored

Graduation exercises were held recently at Laurier Heights Baptist Church in Edmonton for twenty-five senior girls from CGIT groups from Edmonton and district.

Sherry Wickstrom of Ryley and Wylde Magneson of Edmonton, formerly of Ryley, were among the graduands.

Sherry Wickstrom is president of the Ryley CGIT.

Wylde Magneson had joined the newly formed CGIT group in Ryley five years ago when Mrs. Beth Kope was the leader, and has continued her association with CGIT being on the Edmonton Girls Council for two years. Wylde's home congregation, Beverly United, held a recognition service for her, presenting her with a poster signed by the whole congregation.

Attending the CGIT graduation from Ryley were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wickstrom and Tracey, Ivan Busenius and Marlene Magneson.

SHOT PUT

Sell more gas?

An unusual number of interventions opposed the application of Alberta Gas Trunk Lines recently in its bid to install 11[illegible] miles of additional 36-inch pipeline to bring Alberta gas from the western foothills north of Edson to markets being developed.

So far as we know however there have been no interventions on the part of Alberta consumers to ensure expansion of our supply of gas.

Rudely shocked only a few months ago into realization that we had been grossly misled as to the reserves of gas in store for Albertans and rudely confronted with the probability of shortages of crude oil, it seems that one of the first considerations in respect to these untold gas fields would logically be to sequester them for Albertans and to increase if only ever so slightly the length of time we can expect to enjoy this great natural resource.

[illegible] is going and will go up faster both as population increases and as industry requires more. Indeed, Premier Lougheed is even right at this moment busy trying to arrange expansion of industry in Alberta based on refining and processing of the higher level of products such as plastics coming from the petrochemical industries.

And one of the ingredients essential to this development is natural gas.

AGTL president S. R. Blair told the Energy Resources Conservation Board recently that the expansion is necessary to transport anticipated new gas sales from the Edson area, but he was not reported as indicating where those sales were to be made.

The pipeline may be necessary to get the gas even to the place where it could be used by Edmontonians but surely the government should intervene before permits are issued to sell more of this rapidly depleting natural resource out from under us. [illegible] a little closer to the concept of the rolling thirty years supply.

Fly the flag

The following editorial appeared in the last issue of The Legionnaire, official magazine of the Royal Canadian Legion. Since this is Canada Week, we're delighted to carry its message not only to members of the Legion, but to all our readers.

FLY THE FLAG

The Council for Canadian Unity, a non-profit, non-political organization with headquarters in Montreal, has called our attention once again to Canada Week, which will be observed across the country from June 25 to July 1. As a member, the Royal Canadian Legion supports its principles and asks its branches to help the Canada Week Committee in its program of sponsoring a host of activities. Thousands of Canadians, anxious to manifest a desire for community of spirit, values and ideas, will be involved.

Canada Week should be an occasion to learn more about ourselves. How little Canadians in different parts of the country know about one another. How little we seem to care at times. Yet, if we expect to maintain even a semblance of stability amidst the demands of our constituent regions, we must make an effort to understand the aspirations of each element of the population. Canada Week is an ideal occasion to make this effort.

Legion branches can participate by flying the Canadian flag on all occasions, holding special parades and associating themselves with local programs.

Let's all sing out in English, French, Cree, Inuit, Italian, Polish, Hebrew, Greek, German and Ukrainian that we love Canada.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — Canada has come a long way in the Fisheries Department since Romeo LeBlanc took over that responsibility nearly two years ago.

Romeo is a one-time newsman and former press secretary to Prime Minister Trudeau. He is certainly the most effective Minister of Fisheries for Canada in the past decades, but he could be heading for trouble.

The problems facing Canadian fishermen in recent years have been endemic. Our coastal waters - particularly on the East - have been overfished and subjected to tremendous pressure from foreign fleets. The catch has been diminishing steadily leaving progressively less room for the independent operator and making it necessary for big fleet organizations to work twice as hard for the same catch.

LeBlanc has nearly succeeded in getting recognition from all the nations which fish in our coastal waters to a 200-mile-plus offshore jurisdiction for Canada. He has succeeded in having catch quotas imposed and he has made improvements in how foreign fishing fleets can be monitored to ensure that they stay within agreed catch quotas.

At one state, federal fisheries policy was so badly coordinated with the rest of the government that despite diminishing catches, the Department of Regional Economic Expansion was doling out grants to establish new fish processing plants where while the quantity of fish caught was continuing to diminish. Established processing plants were closing down, but that didn't matter to DREE.

Government cooperation between departments is one of the aspects of fisheries policy which Romeo LeBlanc outlines in his White Paper on Canadian Fisheries released in May.

He makes several dozen proposals for revitalizing the Canadian fishing industry and he holds out high hopes for the establishment of a solid income base for Canadians in the fishing industry.

Many of the proposals are excellent; all make sense from a business point of view. The trouble is, there doesn't seem to be nearly enough concern for the independent nature of Canadian Fishermen and LeBlanc's regulatory approach to a new Canadian fisheries policy could spark a virtual revolution.

Canadian Comment . . .

by Peter Ward

There is a new cutting edge to the combative atmosphere between Liberals and Tories on Parliament Hill. Joe Clark has made great strides during his first three months as Progressive Conservative leader, but the new challenge has sharpened up the Liberal government, too.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau hasn't been a darling of the Parliamentary Press Gallery since the late 1960s. The bloom went off the Trudeaumania of 1968 before the decade turned, and since then Mr. Trudeau has made it plain he doesn't particularly like the press. The guys and gals of the media — most of them — have reciprocated.

Press coverage of the Prime Minister has been so bad of late that major changes have been made. For months in late 1975 and early 1976 Mr. Trudeau didn't even have a press secretary. The staff in the East Block press office slowly diminished until it became virtually impossible to man the phones with people who knew answers. Mr. Trudeau didn't talk to his press officers the way he should, and often they didn't know the answers.

When the Anti Inflation Board was formed, the government called press relations veteran Dick O'Hagan back from his senior diplomatic post in Washington. O'Hagan had been something of a miracle worker as press secretary for Prime Minister Lester Pearson, and he was obviously the man to set the AIB on the right road.

With the Prime Minister's Office itself singing the PMO blues, O'Hagan was called again. He arrived in Ottawa again in early April, and set to work. Results began to show almost immediately.

O'Hagan, as director of communications for Prime Minister Trudeau, is going to need much greater trust from the PM himself if he's going to be successful in his assignment. We can take it for granted that he'll receive that cooperation, because he would have come back to Ottawa under no other terms.

Ryley district news

Lena Reil

Many of the old timers played ball on Sports Day including Eric Hohn of Camrose, Raymond Hjelter of England, Albert Bruce of Calgary, Edward Vergette of Edmonton and Lorne Gudmundson, etc.

A very nice parade started out the Ryley Sports Day with the RCMP leading, followed by the Scottish Band from Edmonton. Bardo won the last game of baseball against Holden 9-8. A delicious barbecue was served at the Community Hall, followed later on by a dance.

Shirley Jensen of Edberg visited with her folks, the Herman Jensen's in Ryley, and her uncles, Kristian, Lars, Peter, and aunt, Elsa Jensen of Denmark who are enjoying their visit. They also motored up to Elk Island on Sunday.

Visiting with Don and Gwen Campbell recently were Gunhild Antonson from Oslo, Norway and Martha Dretvik from Hamer. Don's and their friends went on a motor trip to Jasper and B.C., also visited at Grande Prairie. They also enjoyed fishing at Sturgeon where a 20 lb. 2 oz., fish was caught.

Ron and Irene Peake and children called on the Elmer Anderson's during the weekend.

On Monday, Oscar and Geneva Kvenildsen of Lethbridge visited with Elmer and Kathleen. Other visitors were Irene Hafso of Viking and Henry and Laura Podrusny and boys of Camrose.

A nice crowd turned out for Mrs. Harriet Ruddy's retirement party.

Visiting with Doris Gardeski on Sunday were Larry Gardeski and wife of Edmonton.

A ball tournament was held in Holden last week. The Ryley grade 7 girls won a trophy.

The grade 6 class are going to Elk Island to spend a couple of days.

1st Tofield Scouts end successful year

The 1st Tofield Scout Troop brought their year's activities to an end last week with a wind-up weiner roast, as they concluded a successful season.

Their final big event of the season was a paper drive which was held earlier this month. The Scouts are still willing to pick up paper from anyone who has a quantity, if they will telephone Don Kondrat at 662-3126.

To kick off a new season in the fall, the Scouts plan a combined paper and battery drive. Details of this drive will be announced when the Scouts begin operations again in September.

Members of the 1st Tofield Scout Troop attended a rally at Trautman's Farm, south of Camrose near the end of May, with other Scouts from various troops in the Wild Rose District also attending.

During the two-day camp, Tofield Scouts competed against others in various competitions, making a very good showing.

They were second in camp clean-up, while Patrol No. 1 was first in "be prepared", first in rifle range competition, and third in hiking which consisted of canoeing, tracking, and "enemies". Patrol No. 2 was third in "be prepared" competitions.

The Scouts held a pot-luck supper on Sunday with a number of their parents in attendance.

Come on People - Get Involved!

In the past few years, the 10-speed craze has boomed - - kids as young as 8 or 9 yrs. and people as old as 45 or 50 are bicycling for pleasure. This is great to see: it preserves our environment, our bodies and even our gas and oil bills. So, why not form a bicycle club in each of the major centres in the County of Beaver - Viking, Tofield, Holden, Ryley and the Hamlets of Bruce and Kinsella. If a bicycle club can not be formed in the County, how does a bicycle tour to Camp Lake sound? This year, we are planning two (2) tours to Camp Lake - they can be overnight tours or just a day tour. The dates which have been set are from August 16th to August 20th.

So, if you're a bicycle fan, and if the idea of a bicycle club appeals to you, let us know and we will be happy to have an organizational meeting.

Watch for the Summer Program Calendar, which will be in your mail box soon!

With information about the bicycle tours and much more.

Grade Nine grads feted in Tofield

By Grace Phillips

With Melody Hearthen president of the Big 3 in charge the annual banquet for the Tofield grade nine graduands was held in the school library on June 16.

The grade eight girls had placed on the walls the theme "Do You Know Where You're Going?" with a memento, in the shape of a question mark, for each student. Place cards on the tables were in the form of graduation hats.

After grace by Rachel Collins, and the toast to the Queen by Kim Price, the banquet served by the grade eight girls was enjoyed.

The toast to the graduands was proposed by Sue Warner representing grade eight, and accepted by Sheila Lehman. Julian Koozera's toast to the school was accepted by the principal, A. Pollock, who urged the graduands to decide on an answer to the question posed by their theme Dr. W.C. Gaucan wished the grads success in their future endeavors.

The grade eight girls were thanked by Melody for the time and trouble they had given to supplying arrangements for the banquet.

No comparison between Montana and Round Hill

...DECLARES GRUNDBERG

Showing a number of slides of strip coal mining and reclamation operations in the States, Vern Grundberg Monday night held the close attention of nearly 150 farmers from the district and beyond. Mr. Grundberg and District Agriculturist had only recently returned from a tour of the Power River Basin in Montana-Wyoming, and made a number of interesting comments.

Declaring that Montana has the best reclamation laws on the North American continent, Mr. Grundberg said they are actually improving the reclaimed land to three or four times its quality prior to mining. On the other hand, he said, it is impossible to compare this region with Montana, because the two are completely different situations. There is no such condition here to start with.

His comment was later supported by Fred Gotheridge, president of Round Hill-Dodds Agricultural Protective Association, who toured the area last fall, and who added his own comment that the Montana situation was far more like the Sheerness situation, in low quality of land, or possibly the Fox Creek quality.

Mr. Grundberg pointed out the situation there is completely different, causing mining companies to grumble sometimes over inflexibility. The law compels them restore the original contour as closely as possible, and forbids building new water ponds, even when ranchers may want them for cattle watering. And whereas grass was originally grown with oats as a nurse crop, now the state forbids the use of oats, so the thistle moves in, and crowds out everything.

Mr. Grundberg also pointed out many differences, in that Montana has a sandstone subsoil, whereas here there is glacial till. Montana offers grazing land at best, compared with land here capable of mixed cereal production. There is little solonetz there, here it is a major problem. Land there is capable of grazing about one cow to 50 or 60 acres, whereas here it would be one to 10 or even fewer acres.

Mr. Williams was asked to show a number of graphs and charts they collected there, showing that the state collects a royalty of thirty percent of gross selling price, on coal mined, planned forward to 1979, whereas Alberta collects a royalty of only ten cents per ton.

Both speakers agreed, however, and were later supported by Dr. L. V. Hills, associate geology professor at the University of Calgary, that the economic situation also varies vastly, in that CanPac estimates 8,000 tons of coal per acre, whereas in the Montana-Wyoming basin, the figure is 40,000.

Mr. Williams showed a graph indicating revenue from the coal severance tax, for the year 1976-7, estimated at $46,866,300 to the state. This was broken down on the basis of 40 percent for general revenue, 27.5 percent for education (ten per cent going into a long-range trust account) 10 percent to a foundation program, 10 percent to highways, and smaller amounts designated for parks, development of alternate energy sources, county land planning, and several other aspects.

Completing his presentation, Mr. Grundberg, who is reeve of the County of Camrose, said the tour proved to him the soundness of the county's position in a recent brief demanding proof of reclamation capabilities before approval was given the huge development program.

He complimented his colleagues on the county, and the farmers of the Round Hill-Dodds area for the job they were doing, then warmly applauded MLA Gordon Stromberg for having the courage to stand alone, and to ask the sort of questions he had done in the Legislature in regards to the issue. The tribute was given a hearty handclap, received with appreciation by Mr. Stromberg, who was present at the meeting.

Minister sees controls extended

Economic controls can be expected to extend for some time in the future, more than 80 Camrose and district residents were told Monday afternoon by Hon. Neil Crawford, as he chaired a three quarter hour meeting in the Legion Memorial Hall.

Mr. Crawford, who is Alberta Minister of Labour, headed the six-man cabinet representation in Camrose, as small segments of cabinet ministers toured a large number of centres throughout Central Alberta. The whole program culminated in a two-hour cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon, when the premiers reviewed with his ministers the results and responses of the visits.

The meeting in Camrose was comparatively low-key, with a number of questions being asked from the floor, on which either Mr. Crawford, or one of the other ministers present offered comment, if not answers. In addition, three briefs were filed with the committee, two of these being read, while the third from the Chamber of Commerce, and dealing with highways, was to be turned over to the Minister of Highways for further study.

Briefs read included one from the public library board and one from the Battle River Tourism Association. Beyond this, questions centered on economic controls, the Camrose-Ryley coal power project, and freight rates.

LIBRARIES

The library brief pointed out that government grants to libraries had not increased for at least twenty years, and that while costs had increased many times, during that period, the government's maximum grant is still seventy five cents per capita. Only by solid assistance from the City, the brief pointed out, could the library carry on, but this meant there was no money to provide new facilities or move from the "historic site" in which they are now housed.

The brief pointed out that library users are generally not as classroom as some other segments, in asking for a greater share of funds, but that a recent community wide canvass here had put a new library right at the top of the list, with a covered swimming pool, of priority needs for the city.

The brief lengthily concluded with the remark of a local service club member that perhaps the government should provide libraries in each community equal to the facilities of the local liquor store.

In response, Mr. Crawford said he was aware of the strong views held by a growing number of people for library support, and suggested that if government had handled the library question differently in the past, the additional support would have been easier to achieve now. In this period of restraint, however, he felt it was definitely not in the cards. The government has adopted a stance of simply maintaining, but not expanding, all programs, and the reverse, he thought, was the situation. This would be the worst year to try to break the pattern, he said, but added the government is aware of the growing concern for libraries, and this will force a review of the situation.

Education minister Julian Koziak augmented his comment with the statement that Culture Minister Horst Schmid does recognize the problem, and added that the 75 cents imposed in the Library Act of 1906 was eliminated in amendments passed just at the last session.

The Battle River Tourism Association also presented a brief, dealing mainly with highways and tourist facilities.

Improvements are sought by the association to parts of Highways 36, 41, 13 and 26. Additional markers are also sought in a number of areas, such as the boundaries of the tourism zones in the province, and the Anthony Henday route, as well as additional tourist information booths.

The report was received by Mr. Crawford, who commented he would turn it over to Highways Minister Hon. Dr. Hugh Horner, and to Gordon Stromberg, both of whom were much more familiar with the situation than he could be expected to be.

CONTROLS

Asked to expand on Premier Lougheed's recent comment that this would not be the last year of controls, Mr. Crawford pointed out that one year under controls was really not going to change the course of events, nor to make major changes in projections such as wage expectations, business investments, government or commercial services, and so on.

The minister commented that federal and provincial governments, in fact, have been spending approximately $1400 to $1500 per year for every man, woman and child in the country, and so far back as the fall of 1975 the premier announced, even before Ottawa did, that it was instituting a

APPRENTICESHIP OPPORTUNITIES with ALBERTA TRANSPORTATION

There are many jobs available in Alberta's growing industry, but not enough qualified tradesmen to fill them. Heavy duty mechanics, welders and machinists are among the trades in short supply.

In an effort to help alleviate this critical shortage, Alberta Transportation has created 48 openings for apprentices in 1976.

This program, including on-the-job training, and classroom and shop instruction, is conducted under the Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower Apprenticeship and Tradesman's Qualification Branch. It is for training purposes only, but most applicants, upon receiving their Journeyman papers, will be able to seek employment in the private sector, where job openings will continue to exist.

Following are the apprentice openings available, and the locations:

program of controls to dampen the pressures on rapid inflation.

"Somebody had to do something," declared the minister, adding that the four year period prior to the controls being imposed showed a pattern of growth of 22 percent each year. It became obvious this could not continue, he said.

Mr. Crawford felt a return to the 22 percent level would be a serious mistake, and forecast the continuance of controls for some time.

This is only the beginning of the treatment of the problem, he said.

A number of questions centered on the Camrose-Ryley proposal, and drew answers from both Mr. Crawford and Hon. Marvin Moore, Minister of Agriculture.

The government bounds to study all aspects of plains coal use in the Camrose Ryley project, said Mr. Moore, and a decision review will be made of the social, economic and environmental impacts, in addition to the normal aspects of Energy Conservation Resources Board hearings.

The government's coal will definitely show concern for all these inputs, the gathering was told, and it was emphasized twice during the meeting that no decision has yet been made by the government in relation to the Camrose-Ryley project, nor will a decision be made until there has been a better assessment of all factors involved.

Tests are to be carried out shortly, it was reported, using a small area for a test burn of the first seam of coal. This will also produce more information about reclamation possibilities.

A member of the Dodds-Round Hill Protective Association, Bernie Von Tetenborn pointed out it would be necessary to use all three seams, to a depth of 125 feet, to obtain complete information on test burning, and suggested the techiques for reclamation need more than just one year to establish. It would appear development should be in poorer land areas, while testing proceeds, he said, especially in view of Calgary Power's statement that it would be moving into the Sheerness area before the last unit of the Dodds-Round Hill project was installed. A switch in program would give more test time, and would cost no more, since the company says a kilowatt from either plant would cost about the same, and the transmission line would be no further to the company's load centre. . .about twenty miles north of Calgary. . .than the line from this area.

Answering a question from Lester Milberg about using western resources to bargain for more favorable freight rates, Mr. Crawford indicated the solution would take years to achieve. We thought we had made acceptable arrangements in the 1973 conference, he indicated, we expected it would take time to correct the problems of the past, but the federal commitment seemed to be agreeable. A great deal of rate information was to have been provided by the railways, but he said [illegible] by successive federal ministers have not been met.

Zellers bankrupt

"Definitive purchase agreement" concluded by Fields Stores Ltd., Vancouver, to take over Zeller's Ltd. is based on a significantly better offer than that rejected by Macleod - Siedman Stores Ltd., Winnipeg.

Zellers was one of the firms which had been expected to move into the new shopping centre, Downs Village Mall, in Camrose's west end, when it is built. So also is Fields.

Zeller's is on the market because its U.S. parent, W.T. Grant Co., is now bankrupt. It is now up to a U.S. bankruptcy court judge to choose between the two offers, writes John Schreiner in The Financial Post from Vancouver. Fields has offered $32.7 million for 50.1 percent of the common shares of Zeller's and $6 million for 51 percent of Zeller's convertible debentures. Macleod-Siedman, a subsidiary of Gamble-Skogmo Inc., Minneapolis, has offered $30.8 million for the control block of common shares, and debentures, subject to approval by the foreign investment review agency.

Fields' executives, who are confident their offer will be accepted, particularly as no Fira approval will be necessary, say the national retail chain that would result by merging Fields and Zeller's would have sale exceeding $450 million. But the "definitive purchase agreement," announced the day after Macleod-Siedman had upped its original offer by $1.75 million, is simply an agreement by the trustee to present Fields' bid to the bankruptcy court. Nothing is settled yet, and it's not clear whether the agreement precludes presentation of the Macleod-Siedman offer.

The annual community picnic was held on Saturday at the local school ground with a good attendance.

Youngsters and oldsters alike enjoyed the different races and sports events, at the same time, the portable booth was kept busy selling hamburgers or whatever was a customer's desire.

Rain threatened at supper time so supper guests moved to the hall for their repast.

In the evening, the hall was filled to capacity for the dance. Convenor was Mrs. Margaret Jenks.

Debbie and Jim Holmes narrowly escaped serious injury on Saturday afternoon as they were on their way to attend the picnic. Their small car was almost a total loss, after being hit from behind by a pick-up truck.

Debbie had several abrasions and many pock marks from windshield glass on her left arm, while Jim came out unhurt.

There will be a hymn sing at Ministik United Church at 8 p.m. on Sunday.

The baseball wind-up party will be held at South Cooking Lake campgrounds on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. All children who played ball in Strathcona County leagues are invited to attend.

Super flywheel could transform energy picture

Berkeley, Calif. - A simple device that keeps potter's wheels and toy tops running smoothly is being viewed by many engineers today as a possible broad-range solution for some of America's critical energy problems.

The device is called the flywheel. And although it has been around for centuries, modern materials and design have transformed it into a new entity with many exciting possibilities. If the new flywheel technology works out, according to proponents, the super-flywheel could transform America's energy picture.

The first national symposium on flywheel technology met recently at the tr Lawrence Hall of Science here. The conference was sponsored by the Energy Research and Development Agency and the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

The principle of the flywheel is simply that a spinning wheel stores mechanical energy. This energy can be put in and taken out, like money in a savings account.

Flywheels are used in sewing machines, spacecraft, automobile engines, airplane landing gears and thousands of other applications. They are made of metal and basically work to smooth out a cycle by providing a large amount of momentum.

Recent developments in materials science and mechanical design have made it possible to use flywheels to store inertial energy on a large scale. The super-flywheel is made of fiber composites, which are lighter and stronger than metal. Such fibers have been developed by the aerospace industry for use in spacecraft nose cones.

A superflywheel works on the same principle as the old flywheel, in that the amount of energy stored depends on the mass of the material and the rate of rotation. The new fibers, however, have great strength-to-weight ratios, being 10 to 20 times stronger than steel and much lighter.

Since the storage capacity of a flywheel varies as the square of the rotation speed, the faster a flywheel spins, the more energy it can store. The limit is on the tensile strength of the material used.

The lightweight fiber flywheel, therefore, can be spun faster to store money energy per pound than can the conventional metal flywheel. It also costs less to build. Some superflywheels might spin at 100,000 or even 200,000 revolutions per minute.

There is considerable activity in the development of such flywheels in the Soviet Union, according to Dr. David Robenhorst of the Applied Physics Laboratory at Johns Hopkins University.

American industry is also interested, he said, since it appears that the super flywheel could earn business many billions of dollars. The firs' application will probably be in running automobiles, he said.

Powering vehicles with flywheels is nothing new. But fiber composite flywheels hold out promise for designing new vehicles. Rabenhorst and others said. Consider, for example, an automobile that used flywheels as its primary power source. It could have two counter-rotating flywheels in the back, sealed in a vacuum. The flywheels would rotate from 20,000 to 40,000 revolutions per minute. The owner would charge the flywheels at night from a home electric outlet.

The stored energy would then run the car by using the motor as a generator to supply power to smaller motors on each wheel.

Such a car would produce no polution on the road. And it would be safe, since fiber flywheels simply disintegrate when they fail.

Modern flywheels may also be used to run buses, trains, tractors, liftrucks, postal vehicles, golf carts and tanks. They may also be used as back-up energy systems for homes that tap solar energy and windmills for their energy needs.

However, several problems must be solved before there are a dozen flywheels in every home, one scientist said. "One, we don't really understand these materials all that well," he said. "We need time to evaluate their behavior. Such stress-rupture testing is being conducted now at the Larence Livermore Laboratory and elsewhere."

William Fontaine was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Ellen Eaton and Mervin Ross on Friday evening.

Rain that fell Saturday and Sunday was the most rainfall so far at one time and was a real help to the crops and pastures but, more is needed to keep them growing and help replenish the moisture that had gone with the long dry spell.

Tofield track club vies in provincials

By Grace Phillips

Competitors from the Tofield School Track and Field Club distinguished themselves at the Provincial Track and Field Meet held in Red Deer on June 20. Competitors were present from Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Okotoks and Hanna.

Representing Tofield were: Gary Quiring, Wanda Weir, Linda Jensen, Barry Reinhardt and Calvin Goertz.

Coach Larry Watson reports that the competition was of a very high calibre and that the Tofield entrants were very successful considering this was their first experience in the Provincial Meet.

In the Bantam class, Wanda Weir, got into the final 200-metre race, by virtue of placing second in her heat. Her time was 29.0 sec.; the winner's time was 26.9 seconds.

In the Midget class, Gary Quiring obtained third place in the Javelin Throw with 36.44 metres; the winner's record was 41.36 metres.

Gary also ran the 100-metre race placing 4th in his heat with a time of 13.1 sec. The winner's time was 11.7 sec.

Linda Jensen, in the Bantam class, placed 5th in the 800-metre race and got into the final jump-off in the Long Jump, where she placed seventh. Her time in the race was 2:45.9 sec. The winner's time was 2:32.4 sec. In the Long Jump Linda jumped 4.14 m. as against 4.65 m. by the winner.

Calvin Goertz participated in the 400 - and 800 - metre race.

Brion Aubrey of the Tofield School staff participated in the Edmonton Journal road race on June 19.

In the race of nine kilometers, Mr. Aubrey placed 62nd in a field of 109 competitors, in the men's class.

Also in the Journal race Tim Donnan of grade eight, Tofield, in the 5 - kilometre placed 34th out of 101 competitors. This was the novice men's class.

In the Eastgate Marathon (5-kilometres) on Sunday Brion Aubrey placed 8th out of 300 in the all-age class.

YELLOW—HEADED SPRUCE SAWFLY CONTROL

Many younger shelterbelt spruce trees are severly damaged every year in Alberta by yellow-headed spruce sawfly larvae. Most species of spruce, including Colorado blue spruce, are susceptible to sawfly larvae damage. Ornamentals and shelterbelt trees that are less than 10 years old are particularly vulnerable.

The first sign of damage appears in early June and is caused by the small larvae eating portions of developing needles. As the larvae increase in size during the next 30 days they eat entire new needles and eventually attack the old needles as well.

By mid-July heavily infested trees start to become ragged looking, especially near the top, and take on a yellowish-brown color, which is visible for a long distance. In extreme cases, the trees may be completely stripped. Continuing infestations reduce the trees' annual growth, leaving them susceptible to attack by other insects and making them unable to withstand adverse weather conditions. In fact, two or three consecutive years of moderate defoliation is enough to kill a tree.

Control

Picking the larvae off when they first appear by hand and destroying them is effective in controlling sawfly larvae on a few small trees. Another effective method is to hose the larvae off with a garden hose.

Chemical control is recommended for large trees and for a large number of trees. Malathion is the only insecticide that is presently approved for controlling sawfly larvae on spruce. However, it should not be applied when the temperature is below 20 degrees C.

With a hand pump sprayer, spray the trees thoroughly (without actually drenching them) with a solution made up of one tablespoonful of 50 per cent malathion emulsifiable concentrate in each gallon of water (6 millilitres per 5 litres).

Infested trees should be sprayed before damage becomes noticeable from a distance which is usually about mid-june. If the first spraying is done after this date most of the current year's damage will probably have already occurred. If larvae are still present after the first chemical application, the trees may be sprayed again in two or three weeks.

Anyone with young spruce trees should check the new growth, particularly towards the top of the tree, at least twice a week until early July.

The County of Beaver does have equipment that can be rented for spraying trees that are too tall for spraying with normal garden sprayers.

Fifty Tofield grade three students escorted by their teachers, Mrs. Astley and Mrs. Fairweather, and driven by Ben Thiessen, enjoyed an afternoon visit to the Hutterite Colony at Holden. The teacher of the Hutterite school, Mrs. Hammer, and the twenty-one school children showed the Tofield students around the farm where the visitors saw a way-of-life very different from their own.

Mrs. M. Scott and son, Archie, of Kamloops, B.C. were visitors with Joe and Helen Murray during the past weekend.
